EVENING NEWS.

Tuesday - August 21, 1888.

FRAGMENTS.

JOHN D. CLARK, of Pleasant Grove, has been appointed a notary public.

THE City Council meets at 4 o'clock this afternoon, as a board of equalization.

MRS. EMMA BEAN was being tried in the Police Court this afternoon on a charge of assault.

ABE HUNTER was taken in by the police last night to answer to a charge of disturbing the peace.

BY a runaway on South Temple Street last night, a horse had its leg broken. The animal had to be shot.

JAMES PAPWORTH, arrested for drunkenness, was released from custody this morning on giving $10 security.

THERE are messages at the Western Union Telegraph Office for Mrs. W. Taddenham, J. L. Greene, N. H. Neeley, E. J. Baker, and Mrs. Jane E. James.

THERE are strong probabilities of labor unions in this city moving to enforce a nine-hour rule, considering that time sufficient for a day's labor at the various trades.

TOMORROW the Seventh Ward Sunday School teachers will spend the day at Syracuse. The morning train will leave at 8:30 instead of 7:55 as previously announced.

THE Scandinavians in Utah have collected $175 to be sent to the sufferers from the recent fires in Sweden. Money is still being collected for this purpose by the committee.

MRS. HENSLEY, who was committed to jail last evening in default of a fine for taking irrigating water out of her turn, has a fifteen months' old babe with her. She is herself about 45 years of age.

YESTERDAY afternoon Mrs. Margaret Hensley was fined $10 in the Police Court, for taking irrigating water from the ditch when she was not entitled to it. She refused to pay the fine and was committed to jail.

THE cyclorama displaying the Battle of Gettysburg is receiving good encouragement by increasing patronage. The proprietors and managers intend to make such alterations in the roof, by means of extensive skylights, as to admit of exhibitions being given in the day time.

THERE was a meeting held by a number of persons last evening to organize a Young Men's Democratic Club. Commissioner Norrell presided. He and others made brief but spirited addresses. Judge Powers, S. A. Merritt, C. C. Carlton, Chester Howe and George Cullen were appointed to draft by-laws, and the meeting adjourned to August 24, at the Federal Court room

BRIGADIER-GENERAL JOHN R. BROOKE, commanding the Department of the Platte, is in the city and will remain several days. The General is accompanied by his wife, Capt. H. P. Ray, Eighth Infantry, Lieut. F. W. Roe, Third Infantry, Mrs. F. W. Roe, and Lieut. C. E. Fruit, Twenty-first Infantry. Capt. Ray is also department judge-advocate. The party will doubtless have a pleasant visit to our city.

THIS morning a lady brought to this office, in a dish of water, a hair snake. The repulsive little reptile was fully six inches long, and was the second that had come through the water tap in a house on South Temple Street. This incident should make people careful about getting a drink of water in the dark, as they might in that way get snakes in the stomach. We have heard of people getting them in their boots.

FRANK MILLER is the name of a German second-hand dealer who was tried in the Police Court today for refusing to permit an officer to examine his records of purchases. When the policeman went there the Teuton grew very angry and shouted and swore till the air was fairly blue. He didn't let the policeman look at the book, so the officer placed him under arrest. Miller's opposition then assumed a more violent form, but he had to come, just the same. When asked at the trial why he raised such a fuss he shouted, in an angry and excited manner, "Vat! You dhinks I come midout my hat und coat! He vanted to take me like a dog over." Miller was convicted, and was fined $10 and costs—a total of about $25.

FRANK ROBINSON was arrested last night on a charge of larceny. His bonds were fixed at $500, but being unable to furnish them he was kept in jail. His case was set for this morning, but owing to the length of time taken with trials that came ahead, it was postponed till a late hour this afternoon. Robinson is accused of having stolen a watch from C. F. Hamlin. The latter says that Robinson asked him to let him see it. He did so, and later missed it. Robinson's version is that Hamlin agreed to sell him the watch, and gave him till Saturday to pay for it; that he took the timepiece with this understanding and without objection on the part of Hamlin. The truth will doubtless be brought out at the investigation.

Bear Lake Items.

The canals and ditches that are taken out of Bear River in Wyoming and Utah, before it reaches Idaho, diminish the flow of water so that it is going to be quite a serious matter with our hay and stock men in the future. In average seasons it will be necessary to utilize nearly all the water in Bear River to irrigate the hay bottoms.

Rumor says that an object of pity, in the shape of a United States deputy marshal, drunk and stupid, was seen on Sunday afternoon, on the road between Ovid and Montpelier. He was unable to manage his horse, and it wandered listlessly around while the driver was in a reclining position in the bottom of the buggy. He was one of Marshal Baird's deputies.

On Sunday last there was a person at Montpelier from Eagle Rock whose name is Phelps, and who claims to be a Deputy U. S. Marshal. If that is the kind of men who represent the U. S. Marshalship of this Territory, it is no wonder that the Mormons despise such desperadoes. This man Phelps was drunk, pulled his pistol, and threatening to shoot some person whom he had a cross word with; his actions were more like those of a blackguard and villain, than a gentleman who is clothed with power from the Marshal's office. When DuBois was Marshal of Idaho, he took into his employ low and debased men, but they were gentlemen in comparison to the present appointees of Marshal Baird; when our democratic President appointed a democratic marshal and a resident of the territory, we hoped for better things, but we are grievously disappointed. Not satisfied with the brutish and drunken conduct of Phelps and Watson last week he took into his employ one Ole Hansen—a notorious horsethief—who served a term of one year's imprisonment for horse stealing in Wyoming; and three years in Idaho; and who is so drunken and debased in his habits, that a respectable person would not allow him around his premises. Now this fellow is an appointee of Marshal Baird's, and clothed with U. S. Authority. He forces his filthy presence at all hours of the night into the homes of decent people, insulting helpless women and terrifying little children.—Southern Idaho Independent.

Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon the canvass of the returns had not been completed, the board still being engaged on them. The votes of Richmond, Smithfield, Trenton, Wellsville and Hyrum precincts were yet to be examined. The vote for the People's candidates in the other precincts is: Benson 15, Clarkston 25, Coveville 16, Hyde Park 33, Lewiston 49, Logan 155, Meadon 46, Millville 13, Newton 23, Paradise 44, Petersboro 3, Providence 51.

In Peterboro Precinct, the Liberals cast 4 votes to 3 for the People's candidates. In Coveville and Hyde Park precincts there were no Liberal votes. In the other precincts the Liberals cast from 1 to 14 votes, the highest being in Logan. In the precincts counted they have a total vote of 37, to 503 cast by the People's Party. In Peterboro Paul M. Poulson was elected justice of the peace by a majority of one, he having 4 of the 7 votes cast. Peter Peterson was voted for by both parties to fill the office of constable.

A Good Entertainment.

An immense audience crowded the Theatre last evening, and expressed, in frequent bursts of delight, its appreciation of the tricks that were performed by Herrmann and D'Alvini. The former is indeed a prince of conjurers. Many of his tricks baffle all theories, and about his performances there is a rare neatness and grace. D'Alvini is probably as expert a performer in feats of skill and balancing as ever appeared here. He is quick as lightning, and performs mechanical feats with perfect ease which would at first seem impossible. The black art performance was a striking feature, and the dissolving views were very beautiful. The entertainment, with a change of programme, will be repeated this evening.

Washington.

J. H. Crawford writes from Washington, Utah:

Our town is not improving much. Our population is too small for the size of the town. What we want are more good people willing to work. The facilities are good—plenty of water, vacant lots, and land is not high. The factory furnishes labor for a good many and makes clothing easy to be got. A good grist mill is near and flour is not hard to get. Anything will grow almost with work and water. All sorts of vegetables and fruits do well. Wheat and all other grain does well. We can grow good corn or cane after small grain. We have a few cases of chills sometimes, but the settlement is as healthy as any in the southern part of the territory. If we could have about fifty families sent here we might clean out the streets, plant and cultivate our lots, build up our fences and improve our city in many ways.

One Charge Dismissed.

The arguments in the prosecution of Simon Bamberger and F. K. Morris, on the charge of embezzlement, closed yesterday afternoon at about 5 o'clock. After summing up the evidence, Commissioner Norrell granted the motion to dismiss the complaint This refers to the allegation of embezzlement in April, 1886. There is another similar charge, for a smaller amount of money, for January, 1887. The defendants demanded an immediate hearing, but the prosecution was not ready, and the examination was deferred until Thursday, August 30.

To Y. L. M. I. A.

To the Stake Presidents of the Y. L. M. I. Associations:

As it is very desirable that a full report of all the Societies be had for the General Conference of the Church, which convenes October 6th, will the presidents please see that the Stake Secretaries forward their reports so that they may be received here not later than the 15th of September. Direct to Miss Mary E. Cook, 325 East, Third South Street, Salt Lake City, Utah. ELMINA S. TAYLOR, President.

Prescott, A. T., August 18.—Mrs. Daniels, wife of a soldier, was found in a dying condition at her home at Cortez at an early hour this morning. It is supposed that the cause of her death was an overdose of morphine, as she was addicted to the habit. Her husband is in the Seventh Infantry, stationed at Wyoming.

San Bernardino, Aug. 18.—Benjamin F. Matthews, an old respected citizen, who was killed today by a falling tree. He was cutting timber down in the Devil Cañon mountains, twenty miles away. The deceased has lived here since 1850, and was the first sheriff of San Bernardino County, and held other public offices. He will be buried by the masonic fraternity Monday.

OGDEN ITEMS.

The Court Asked to Stop Railway Building in Ogden.

Yesterday an injunction against Ogden City Corporation was filed with the clerk of the first district court by C. R. Hank. It states that complainant is a resident on Pearl Street; owns property on that street; has expended large sums of money in laying out his grounds and improving them; has five children between the ages of 16 months and 16 years; that Ogden City has begun constructing a railway along said street; that trains will pass his place daily every half hour; that thus the lives of his children will be endangered and his property deteriorate in value. He therefore prays the court to restrain and perpetually prohibit the city from constructing said road. The law firms of Kimball & White, Smith & Smith, and Emerson & Allison, will represent the defendant. This injunction has long been talked of and meets with the support of a few residents of that street, while the majority of the people, especially those in the southern part of the city who have long suffered with bad roads, look with great distavor upon the injunction move. Alderman Reeve stated at the last session of the city council that the tramway, if laid on Pearl Street would only remain there for a year, and when taken up the street would be left graded and in good shape. The latter is certainly needed, especially east of Lester Park.

A young man in this city had a tough experience a night or two ago with a real live burglar. He had gone to bed at 10 p.m., but was very nervous waking up every few moments. His mind was on the last attempts at burglary and he finally became convinced in his sleepy thoughts that a burglar was in the room. The moon was shining brightly on a large mirror facing south. The window was open and the waving branches of the trees were painting fantastic shadows on the wall. As he rose in bed, sleeping, yet with open eyes, he saw in the mirror the open window, the shadows of the trees and his own image. The latter appeared as if on its knees on the window sill just effecting an entrance in the room. Forgetting the mirror, he only saw a burglar coming through the window, and grabbing the most handy article—a pillow—he threw it with a shout at the burglar. Crash went the lamp and a tumbler of water. Attributing the crash to the breaking of a window pane he grabbed the other pillow. By this time he became fully awake and restrained himself. Collecting his scattered senses he guessed the truth and proved it by striking a light. The joke has leaked out and his many friends enjoy a hearty laugh at his expense.

Yesterday morning a fire occurred in the residence of Mr. Heber Wright, on North Main Street. Mr. Wright had left his work only a few moments when his children ran to their mother, saying that something was burning. Mrs. Wright rushed into the house and found the wall of the pantry ablaze and the flames greedily licking the rafters overhead. A five gallon can, full of coal oil, was standing near. Instead of screaming for neighbors, as many would have done, she rushed into the room regardless of the heat, which had already melted a zinc stove-board, seized the oil can and carried it out, though so hot that her fingers burned. A number of other things were taken out, and all the time the plucky woman kept dashing water against the burning walls, and sent it splashing to the ceiling, never ceasing until every spark was extinguished. Then she sat down exhausted and looked upon the ruin caused by fire and water. How she succeeded in conquering the flames she cannot herself explain. Had the oil exploded, the most fearful result can easily be imagined. The cause of the fire is inexplicable.

A letter was received yesterday by M. F. Brown from Thomas Noy, of Allouez, Keweenaw Co., Michigan, brother of James Noy, who shot himself in this city, a few days ago. He says that he can give no reason for the suicide. He has a mother living in England. He also inquires about his brother's baggage.—Ogden Standard, Aug. 21.

NEWS NOTES.

Items Gathered from Various Sources.

Tucson, A. T., Aug. 18.—A. Marshal, a boy of 18, was fatally injured this morning at the railroad depot by a locomotive running over him, and is not expected to survive his injuries.

Phœnix (A. T.), August 18.—James Dennis, an old and respected citizen of this place, met with an accident this morning which resulted in his immediate death. Dennis had gone out to shoot rabbits and quail with an old muzzle-loading shotgun, and was in the act of reloading one barrel when the other was discharged, the load entering his left side in the region of the heart. He was a native of Ohio, aged about 55 years, and brother of John T. Dennis, one of the wealthiest citizens of this county.

Oroville, Cal., Aug. 18.—A man named W. Fellner, whose cabin is near Evansville, has been a cripple for some years and was obliged to walk with the aid of a couple of canes. Yesterday his cabin was found burned down, and on search being made for his body it was found some thirty or forty feet away, where it had been dragged and partially eaten by mountain lions. He had been so badly burned that he died from his injuries, and the lions had dragged off the dead body to feed on it.

Holbrook, A. T., Aug. 18.—The outlaws of Pleasant Valley in Tonto Basin have lynched two more good men by hanging Wm. Nagler and Louis Nagler. The Nagler brothers were ranchers and stockmen and were quiet, inoffensive citizens. The origin of the Tonto Basin or Pleasant Valley feud, which started one year ago, was a scheme concocted at Flagstaff to drive out ranchmen and others holding interests detrimental to those of the sheepmen and for protection they started a hue and cry against Graham, since which time any man interested in a ranch or water has been in danger of being murdered. W. H. McRaigy, an employe of the Aztec Land and Cattle Company, stationed at the foot of the Mogollon mountains, has just arrived and reports that he was ordered to leave the ranch. He says that he was fired at two or three times.

Stockton, Cal., August 18.—The Southern Pacific added another one to the long list of its victims today. As the 11:20 train from Sacramento to San Francisco was approaching Guthrie station, a suburb of Sacramento, the engineer saw a horse and wagon about to cross the track. He whistled, but did not slacken his speed. This completely unnerved the driver of the wagon, who tried to get off the track, but failed. The locomotive struck the wagon, completely demolishing it, killed the horse and fatally injured the driver. When the engine struck the wagon the driver was thrown with terrible force upon the pilot, inflicting a frightful wound on the temple, about five inches long and three inches deep. The train backed down to the station and the hapless victim was placed on the platform. He was still breathing, but in a dying condition. The wagon belonged to a Sacramento bakery. The driver, whose name could not be learned at the time, was about 23 years old. This crossing is exceedingly dangerous, being hemmed in by trees and houses

NOTES BY THE WAY,

On a Trip to the Pacific Coast.

PULLMAN "ISTLAU," }
HUMBOLDT, Aug. 14th, }
11:45 p. m., 1888.

Editor Deseret News:

It is not often that a passenger gets the privilege of more than one berth on a passage West, but your correspondent was favored with three. My first was a "lower" on the midnight "flyer," engaged by a friend; but concluding to take the 8 o'clock passenger I presented myself at the Pullman office and requested a change. "No lowers on this train," said the somewhat crusty clerk, with a peculiar look in his left eye.

After importuning on the ground of sickness, as if I was pleading for an alcoholic refreshment in Kansas, and found that it was impossible to change the mind of the gentleman in charge, I said, "Well, I'll take the upper, but I don't want a lady in the lower one." He kindly consented to give me a gentleman, and with check in hand and a NEWS in my pocket, entered the "Santa Clara," and enjoyed an hour's reading. Pretty soon after that a gentleman with a semi-trunk appendage came, and with eye-glasses began scrutinizing the numbers on the sections. At last he says, "I think this is ours." "I suppose it is," said I, thinking him to be my nether co-partner. Well, it was, but I soon found out that the clerk had not only furnished me with a gentleman as promised but a lady as well, for in she followed accompanied by 1442 parcels, consisting of valises, satchels, lunch baskets, bags, bundles and babies. I at once put on my most fascinating smile of self-sacrifice and volunteered in view of the lack of room to take another section and happily surrendered my seat to the happy pair and their multitudinous parcels. The porter whom my sagacity had prompted me to fix with a silver token, said he'd "fix me all right," but I happened to know a white friend who came to see me off—the same that had secured my midnight berth, and he found the manager—not the crusty clerk aforementioned—and I was sent for, my check changed to another car—"Istlau," an elegant, new palace, upholstered in peacock green, high backs, patent arrangements everywhere, electric bells, smart porter, "and," said the manager, "this is a lower berth and there'll be no one above you." So I soon found myself conveyed from figurative terrestrial to celestial heights in point of comfort and elegance, and without having found any fault or done any growling, except a mental squirm or two, wrung from me by the sight of the bundles before mentioned.

At Ogden everybody is cautioned about the intense heat crossing the desert. "Thermometer 106 in the car, alkali dust an inch thick," says one; "eyes, nose and everything stopped up," says another. Fans sell rapidly, and we lay in a stock of fruit and pickles, lest the water should wane and we die of thirst, and we supply ourselves with caps and cotton to keep our heads from getting bald and our mucuous membrane from becoming excoriated.

We start and we have a most delightful night, sleep soundly and wake up feeling as though we can stand a simoon. Along about noon we ask "when will the worst come," and learn that about 2 o'clock we reach the real test of the journey. It is pretty warm with some dust, but nothing to what I have stood in crossing the eastern plains with teams seven times before. And when evening comes we are all alive; no death by drouth, no sacrifice of a soul by suffocation having marred our peace, we sit and sniff the balmy air, until we arrive at this oasis, for supper. This is a delightful spot. Unlike the great American desert of sand and soda and sagebrush, we are now in the midst of delightful verdure. Fertile fields send forth their fragrance. Grand old trees shoot upward and cut the clear blue starlit sky with their stalwart branches and waving foliage, typical of earthly surroundings which often come between us and heavenly things, and serve to draw our admiration in spite of ourselves from the eternal to the evanescent. Yet can we be blamed for admiring nature in her greatest beauty; when we compare such scenes with the barrenness which for ages has cursed so much of the land once gifted with paradisical glory? I guess not. GALLIC.

WILHELM'S NASALINE.

Trade Mark.

The Sure Catarrh Cure.

Affords instant relief in all cases of Catarrh Hay Fever, Cold, Sore Throat, or any kind of Inflammation. Testimonials of hundreds of citizens of Colorado furnished on application. From Ex-Congressman Belford:

To whom it may concern:

I take great pleasure in commending to those afflicted with that terrible disease known as the catarrh that most excellent specific known as Wilhelm's Nasaline. I have used it myself with most beneficial results. Its use must shortly establish its great value. JAS. B. BELFORD.

From a prominent Denver lady:

To whom it may concern:

I have used a part of one bottle of Wilhelm's Nasaline and have derived more benefit from it than I did from medical treatment during a six months visit among the celebrated catarrh doctors of the east. I can recommend it as being just what is claimed for it—a catarrh cure.
