

FRAGMENTS.

AIMEE is coming.
 OVERCOATS were not in great demand to-day.
 The grand jury hobnob is wound up for the present.

HOLD-over venison is rapidly disappearing, and what little is left is dear. (No joke intended.)
 The trial of E. A. Box, on a six-count indictment for unlawful cohabitation, will come up in Ogden to-morrow.

The First District grand jury have ignored the unlawful cohabitation proceedings against Geo. W. Thatcher, of Logan.

Hon. F. S. RICHARDS came down from Ogden last night, and will return this evening to attend court to-morrow.

JUSTICE PERRY's court is getting to be as much a place of bribes, formalities, petty sentences and business as some of the other tribunals.

S. B. SMITH and John Andersen, who have been in the county jail awaiting the action of the grand jury, have been indicted and were taken to the penitentiary to-day.

CONSIDERABLE petty stealing has been going on in the city lately. The number of thieves arrested by the police and now in jail will probably make business dull in this line until the culprits have served out their terms.

We received to-day a pleasant call from Mr. Charles Melville, advance agent of the celebrated Almee, who appears in the Theatre on the 10th inst. in her great specialty "Ma'melle," and on the 11th (matinee) in "Di-vorces."

EX-SENATOR WM. M. STEWART, of Nevada, was in Ogden Tuesday, on his way east. He is a candidate for the Senate, to succeed J. G. Fair, before the incoming Legislature, and as John W. Mackay's money is supposed to be backing him, he will probably win.

FREEMAN, the man of fish, has opened out on a wholesale basis in Market Row. He is in the receipt of consignments of the choicest varieties of the fishy tribe, which he sells very cheap either at his stand or in the delivery wagon. Fish are good; try them.

A BUNDLE containing a feather bed, pillow and other articles was lost yesterday, between Centerville and the First Ward of this city. The owner, a widow, Mrs. S. J. Bennett, an advertisement in another column states where the finder can leave information concerning it.

LAST evening the jury in the damage suit of Wm. C. Reddon vs. the Union Pacific Railway, rendered a verdict giving Mr. Reddon $20,000. The defendant was allowed to pay, let us file statement on a motion for a new trial. The case was closely contested by the attorneys on both sides. The injuries received at the Grass Creek mine, and for which he asked damages, seriously disabled him for physical labor, and caused him considerable suffering.

RONALD SMITH, of Payson, the "World's Wonder" Panorama man, well known in the settlements from Soda Springs to St. George, is again in this city with his meritorious exhibition. He lectured in the Seventeenth Ward meeting house last evening, to an audience much smaller than the entertainment should have called out. He has improved and increased the number of paintings, which make his interesting lecture impressive and instructive. The exposition of remarkable evidences—prophetic, historical and otherwise concerning the great latter-day work, etc., are specially interesting features. The programme of singing and dancing might well be curtailed, and the time occupied would be sufficient without these inappropriate accompaniments. Some nice music, and the introduction of some witticisms in the lecture, would make it lively and attractive, without resorting to Irish and Dutch caricatures and clog dances. There should be a full attendance at the Fifteenth Ward Music Hall to-night.

RETURNED FROM ABROAD.—Yesterday Brother William A. Rosseter returned from a visit to Europe. He stopped most of the date of his absence in England, among relatives in the vicinity of London, but also enjoyed a brief sojourn in France. He would have prolonged his stay abroad a considerable time longer, but for his health, upon which the English climate had a deleterious effect. He crossed the Atlantic both ways on the Guion & Co. line of steamers.

ADDRESSES WANTED.—Wm. H. Morgan, writing from Hollis, Cloud County, Kansas, under date of November 24, 1886, says: "Will you be good enough to give my address to the many readers of your paper in Utah, as there are a great many of my old acquaintances living in that part whom I would like to hear from, but do not know where to write to, neither do they know where I am." Mr. Morgan was formerly of Dudley Fort, South Staffordshire, England.

IRON BRIDGE.—Joseph Watson, of the firm of Watson Brothers, is again in the city, having just returned from the performance of an important contract on the Utah Central Railway. The necessity for a substantial and enduring bridge on the road at the lower crossing of Sevier River has long been apparent, and after determining to have it put in, the work was entrusted to the Watsons. It is iron, imported from the east, resting upon cut stone piers, and is 100 feet long; the bridge is completed and has been accepted by the company.

Watts Falls by the Way.—Yesterday afternoon George C. Watts, of South Cottonwood, came into the Third District Court for assignment on a one-count indictment for unlawful cohabitation. To the inquiry of the clerk as to his plea, he replied, "I am guilty, and if your honor pleases, I would like to submit a short statement." The statement referred to was read by Mr. Watts as follows:
 To His Honor, Judge Zane:
 Dear Sir.—Having been indicted to appear before your honor on the charge of unlawful cohabitation I wish to make the following statement to you in regard to my present condition and circumstances and also to my intentions as to the future. When I married my second wife, Maudie Maxwell, I did so understanding that I was breaking any law of our country, or that it was a crime in so doing, and that I continued to cohabit with her and maintain her and her family up to the present time. My financial possessions are rather limited, being confined to a homestead and some few stock valued according to present prices at about $10,000. I am at present of sixteen persons and in regard to the future it is my intention to conform to the law as interpreted by the courts. I shall be most obliged to your honor if you will inform me to what extent I may be permitted to go towards providing and assisting those who are absolutely dependent upon me for their support, there being under seven years of age, and their mother not a healthy person by any means, and you can see that none of them are of an age to be of any aid or support to her in this trying time if I am to obey the law.
 Court.—By this statement it seems to be your intention to obey the law?
 Watts.—Yes, sir, I do.
 Court.—That is to say, that you will live with your first wife and her only?
 Watts.—Yes, sir, perfectly.
 Court.—Well, you have a right to a divorce from your second wife, and you have the right to assist her by contributing to her support, but you must understand that you have no right to live or associate with her as your wife; you have better not associate with her at all. The fact that she is a plural wife will lead people to believe you are an infidel, and if you are not, you are associating with her if you support your children, but be very careful, because if you do you will be likely to get into trouble again. Do you understand?
 Watts.—Yes, sir, perfectly.
 Court.—Well, in view of your representation, I will grant you a divorce from your second wife, and I am disposed to suspend sentence. You may file your statement with the clerk.
 Watts.—Thank you, sir, for your leniency.

Police Court.—The trial of Nathan Gray, charged with keeping a gambling house, was concluded last evening, the jury bringing in a verdict of guilty. Sentence will be passed to-morrow.

To-day A. H. Martin, for assault on Frank Engles, was fined $17.50.

H. A. Bailey, "just from New York," got drunk yesterday, and indulged in considerable profanity. He was arrested, and after having become quite sober, with a few hours' rest in the city jail, was released on giving security to be ready for trial to-day. He had no sooner gained his liberty than he headed straight for the saloon, where he again indulged freely and raised considerable of a disturbance. He was again placed in jail, and to-day pleaded guilty to two charges of drunkenness and one each of profanity and disturbing the peace. He requested the leniency of the court, promising that if it was granted he would leave for New York to-night, and turn neither to the right nor the left until he reached his former home.

The case against Alfred Brooks, for stealing a couple of bridles, was expected to come up this afternoon, though an hour was named. It is understood that there are several other cases of a similar nature against the defendant, and judging by the harness, hatches, hammer, brushes, etc., which adorn the Marshal's office, all of which the defendant confesses to having stolen, his position assumes rather a serious aspect.

Business Talk.—The leading genuine Democrats of Idaho do not propose to lie supinely upon their backs and submit tamely to the state's frauds by means of which Fred Dubois was counted in as Delegate. Among those not to be brow-beaten is Jud Boykin, editor of the Democrat. He says, in his last issue:

The proprietor of the Democrat, on Friday last, regarding to District Attorney Lamb's office to consult with him in the matter of arresting Mr. Dubois, charged with having boxed stuffing and interfering with election officials in the discharge of their duties. It was told that Mr. Lamb had gone to Wood river, and that Jonas W. Brown would attend to his official business during his absence. Calling on Mr. Brown, that gentleman said he was not particularly employed to act for Mr. Lamb, but would take any small matters that came his way. Telling him the object of our visit Mr. Brown said that to effect an arrest the complaint and warrant would have to come from the county in which the crime was committed, unless it could be made under the United States laws, and that whether Mr. Dubois could be arrested under the latter was a question which he would let Mr. Lamb settle. Mr. Lamb is a well-known man, and it is to be hoped that Mr. Dubois, which would obviate an expensive trip to the adjoining county. We will comply with his request, and if it is possible to bring it about."

Valuable Mementoes.—We have been shown a very beautiful engraving which will embellish the pages of the December number of the Contributor, to be issued in a few days. The picture represents two Nauvoo scenes—Joseph's storehouse and the Mansion. They are both points of historical interest, owing to their being connected with matters of great moment associated with the rise of the Church and personal incidents connected with the Prophet. These engravings are two of a series of similar pictures whose value will increase with time. They are now esteemed as precious mementoes of the past, but, as one by one, the old landmarks are swept away by the operations of time, and changes produced by the hand of man, the estimation of these pictorial productions will be proportionately enhanced. They are executed from photographs taken specially for the Contributor by the New York Photo-engraving Company.

Incorporated.—Secretary Thomas to-day issued a certificate of incorporation to the "Price Mercantile Company," of Price, Emery Co. The officers are: D. J. Williams, president; W. F. Williams, vice-president; B. F. Cummings, Jr., secretary and treasurer; Martha A. Williams, David J. Williams, B. F. Cummings, Jr., directors. The capital stock is $40,000, divided into 4,000 shares of $10 each, subscriptions of which are as follows: D. J. Williams, of Price, $1,000; Emily W. Cummings, of Salt Lake, 140; W. F. Williams, of Price, 1; B. F. Cummings, Jr., of Salt Lake, 1; Martha Williams, of Price, 1. This is all paid up, and the new concern is therefore in sailing order; the incorporation is for twenty-five years.

A motion for a new trial will be made in the Brown polygamy case.

THE GRAND JURY

FOR THE SEPTEMBER TERM CLOSES ITS LABORS AND IS DISCHARGED.
 Yesterday afternoon the grand jury for the September term of the Third District Court made its final report. Thirteen indictments were filed, one of these being for stealing government property, one for polygamy, four for unlawful cohabitation, and even under the laws of the Territory.

The following is the report, which includes the findings of the committee who visited the penitentiary and the city jail:
 To the Hon. Charles S. Zane, Judge of the Third Judicial District, Territory of Utah:
 The grand jury engaged at the September term of court, at its first session, twenty-seven cases, and have examined eighty-seven cases, including fifty-seven cases under the laws of the United States, and thirty cases under the laws of the Territory. These have been ignored twenty-two cases and found returned indictments in forty-eight cases, under the laws of the United States, and seven under the laws of this Territory.

The cases of George W. Goetz, charged with grand larceny, and of the People vs. William Hood, charged with an assault with a deadly weapon, were not submitted to us in time to be examined.
 We recommend that said cases, together with the cases of the United States vs. W. E. Barker, and the United States vs. S. R. Marks, and the United States vs. Gideon Mumford, all charged with the crime of unlawful cohabitation, be submitted by the court to the next grand jury.

Committees of your grand jury have examined into the condition of the City Jail at Salt Lake City, and the reports of said committees showing the results of such examination are herewith appended to this report. We have returned indictments against the principals in ring or prize fights, but have failed to indict any of the other parties implicated for the following reasons: The law under which these indictments were found has been heretofore enforced, and we believe there was, very generally, a misunderstanding in the community as to its application to public exhibitions of prize fights. We deem it sufficient by indicating the principals to direct attention to the existence of a law which has been enforced, and we have failed to appear before us as a witness. He has failed to appear, and we request that he be attached and dealt with as the facts may warrant.

Having concluded our labors we ask to be finally discharged.
 RICHARD MACKINTOSH, Foreman.

THE PENITENTIARY.
 Richard Mackintosh, Esq., Foreman of the Grand Jury, United States District Court.

DEAR SIR.—The undersigned being a sub-committee appointed by you to report on the condition of the Penitentiary, beg leave to report that in company with other members of the grand jury, we visited the Penitentiary on November 28th, and found everything in as good order as could be expected under the circumstances. Many of the jury visited the place for the first time and we are empowered to make the statement that we did not find the United States appropriation had been made which is expected to place the penitentiary on a much better, more modern and more civilized basis—we would feel like making very strong criticism on the accommodations provided and the general antique look of the place. We desire it to be understood, however, that this statement shall not be held as reflecting on the present management of the institution. For as far as our investigation extended, and as carefully as we could examine into the state of affairs, the present managers and officers are doing every thing in their power to utilize the poor accommodations after to look after the welfare of the inmates and to give a modern look to what is really a relic of barbarism. We examined into the question of clothing, food, kitchen and bunk arrangements, and found no complaint to make beyond what is implied in the above limitations.

We were happy to find a school under way inside the prison walls, conducted by a Mr. Johnson, a convict, and largely attended by the convicts. We cannot speak too highly of the value of such a school, particularly to the young convicts. The United States has a just pride in the fact that measures of prison reform and prison discipline are being carried out in this country. And we trust that the school and other similar arrangements for food will be fostered and maintained as far as may be possible.

We were advised of the case of a Richard Hood, now awaiting trial and temporarily lodged at the penitentiary, who is a terrible sufferer from epileptic fits. He has had eighteen inside of a month and it would seem that an asylum was a more fit place for him than a prison. The warden concurs in this idea; but what asylum could receive him, or what relief could be extended him, we are not prepared to say.

Repeating that we find everything at this penitentiary in as satisfactory a condition as the limited, semi-barbarous style of the institution permits, we remain,
 Yours, etc.
 MARK S. SEVERANCE,
 JOSEPH E. GALLAGHER,
 JAMES ANDERSON.

THE CITY JAIL.
 To the Foreman and Members of the Grand Jury:

We, your committee appointed to investigate the condition of the Salt Lake City Jail, would respectfully submit: That the cells are kept in good condition as the character of the inmates and ventilated, and the food given the prisoners of good quality and sufficient amount.

The request of the grand jury with reference to Hyrum Newton, the defendant in the case of S. B. Smith, who is in custody on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, was granted, and an attachment issued returnable to-day.

The jurors were then discharged from further service.

Some of the persons at the top let the bucket fall, and Brother Lindberg was struck a very severe blow on the head. The wound, though painful, is not dangerous, and he is receiving proper attention.

Court Notes.—Proceedings in the Third District Court to-day:

At Liberty.—Ludwig Berg, of the Eleventh Ward, was sent back to the penitentiary last night, as the Commissioner was in doubt as to a mortgage on his house, and was ordered down again to-day, and was ordered released yesterday, having paid the fine assessed against him and served two terms in the penitentiary for living with his wife.
