

DEVELOPMENTS POLITICALLY.

No Startling Changes During the Past Week.

HOW BOTH SIDES VIEW IT.

Democrats and Republicans Claim
Benefits from Bryan's Tour—What of the Result?

As far as the week's developments are concerned, the political horizon remains practically unchanged. While it is true that the six days last past have produced added activity in the way of speech-making, no new scenes have been enacted and the situation, to all appearances at least, is just as it was a week ago.

The coming of Col. William J. Bryan on Tuesday last created something of a stir among Democrats, and by them his speeches are said to have done much to increase the number of the party. On the other hand, content that his visit did them good also, as they argue, his deliverances throughout the state demonstrated conclusively that the Democrats are in a sorry straits for live issues upon which to wage a campaign. There is no denying the fact, however, that Mr. Bryan's visit, if it did no other good to the Democracy, stirred them up to a sense of the position they occupy and was the means of injecting new life into many who have been dormant for a good while.

Perhaps the banner event of the week among Republicans was the reception in honor of Senator Clark on Wednesday night. That was a "swell affair," cannot be gainsaid, for the club under whose auspices it was given had spared neither time nor means to make it the crowning event of the campaign. The speeches of Gov. Wells and Senator Clark were well received and the points were well punctuated with applause.

As stated in last evening's "News," from this on the campaign will take on new life. For a good while past the respective managers have been feeling the pulse and now that they have the situation pretty well sized up, they propose to make the weak places strong and the strong places, if possible, still stronger.

As to the state ticket there is a decided feeling of uneasiness although on the surface conditions appear all right. Both Republicans and Democrats assert that things are coming their way but the conservative element shakes their heads when questioned closely as to the final results of the campaign. Meanwhile meetings are being held and speeches are being made, all for the purpose of inducing voters to vote right.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

Tuesday is the last day for registration.

H. H. Harder has been substituted for William Reed as representative from Washington county on the Republican ticket. Mr. Reed having withdrawn after receiving the nomination.

The death of E. Y. Bolton of Granger will necessitate the appointment by the county commissioners of a new registrar for the six districts.

George M. Cannon and Russell G. Schuler addressed a meeting of Republicans in the Seventeenth ward last night. Music was furnished by the Winter and Summer quartet.

Chairman Elchorn and a number of others addressed a meeting of the McKinley Republican club last night.

Ben E. Rich spoke at Lehi tonight, this being his last speech during the campaign.

The Democrats will hold a rally at Kamas Monday night, the speakers being A. J. Weber and C. M. Jackson.

The Republicans will hold a rally at Hunter on Thursday night. The speakers will be George Westervelt and E. A. Leatherwood.

Hon. George A. Smith spoke at Beaver last night. Judge King will speak at the same place tonight.

Judge King and Maj. Young held a meeting at Deseret last night.

Last night's rally at Sandy is said to have been a hummer. The speakers were Congressman Sutherland, Chairman Anderson and a number of candidates.

The campaign is said to be waxing warm in Utah, both Democrats and Republicans leading their best efforts to win out.

James A. O'Brien, Socialist candidate for assessor of Juab county, has withdrawn his name and declared in favor of the Democrats.

Owing to indisposition Senator Rawlins will be unable to speak at Gunsberg, Sanpete county, as expected. The meeting will be addressed by local candidates instead.

Hon. James H. Moyle speaks at Lake Shore tonight.

Secretary Daily of the Democratic state committee was at headquarters for a short time today. He is not yet able, however, to assume the duties of his office.

RUBBER POSSIBILITIES.
Mr. R. F. Grant Finds Them Great in Southern Mexico.

Mr. M. B. Howard of Grant & Howard today received a telegram from Mr. B. F. Grant now in the City of Mexico en route home from an official inspection of the Chapas Rubber plantation in the extreme southern part of Mexico whither he went with Mr. J. W. Ellsworth the manager of the Chapas Rubber company, known in the commercial world as the "Great American rubber king."

Mr. Grant wires that he found the possibilities of rubber culture there very great and is decidedly enthusiastic over the prospects of the company, which he says has 9,000 acres planted, and in fine growing condition and that the land is all that it has been represented as being. Mr. Grant will be home in about a week.

OPINIONS FROM SUPREME COURT

Lower Court Reversed in Case of State vs Candland Et Al.

AFFECTS MORLEY SENTENCE

Decision of Lower Court Affirmed in Case of Gustin, Trustee, vs Abigail L. Matthews.

The supreme court today handed down two opinions, one a reversal and the other an affirmation of the judgment of the lower courts. The first opinion for this term of court was a reversal of the judgment of the lower court in the case of the State of Utah vs W. D. Candland and Webb Green, appellants. The records of the case show that one S. P. Morley was convicted of an offense before Judge Johnson in Sanpete county and sentenced to imprisonment in the state prison. An appeal was taken to the supreme court and an appeal bond was filed with the defendants herein, Candland and Green as sureties. The supreme court held that the conviction and sentence of Morley was illegal and void on the ground that the trial court exceeded its jurisdiction. After the writ was returned a new information was filed against Morley and upon his failure to appear for trial, his bond was declared forfeited and this action was brought against the defendants to recover the amount of the bond. The court below rendered judgment in favor of the state for the full amount of the bond, $1,000, and an appeal was taken to the supreme court. In the opinion of the court, which was written by Justice Baskin, it is held that none of the conditions of the bond were violated by defendants, and the trial court erred in holding the sureties liable. The case was accordingly reversed and remanded, with instructions to the court below to enter judgment in favor of defendants. The opinion was concurred in by Justice Baskin and Judge Hart.

In the case of Frank J. Gustin, trustee in bankruptcy of Thomas Matthews, vs Abigail L. Matthews, appellant, the supreme court affirmed the judgment of the lower court. The action was brought by plaintiff to set aside and declare null and void a deed conveying real property in this city, executed by Matthews to his wife, appellant herein, on the ground that the conveyance was fraudulent and made for the purpose of placing the property out of reach of his creditors. The lower court held that the deed was fraudulent and directed that the property attempted to be conveyed, be considered as a portion of the bankrupt's estate.

The supreme court affirms this judgment in an opinion handed down today by Justice Baskin and concurred in by Justice Baskin and Judge Hart. In the opinion it is held that such a conveyance, under the circumstances of this case, is conclusively fraudulent, and will be held void as to existing creditors without proof of actual fraud.

COURT NOTES.

Judge Stewart today dismissed the case of David Lewis vs Martha Nelson as a plaintiff's case. The action was brought to recover possession of certain premises alleged to be unlawfully withheld from plaintiff and for $50 damages for such detention.

The Ph. Z. district court today against Mrs. Carl B. Marshall, Carl Marshall and J. H. Anderson to recover $400 alleged to be due on a promissory note executed by defendants on June 1, 1902. An attachment was issued in the case on the ground that defendants have assigned, disposed of and concealed part of their property with intent to defraud their creditors.

BIG MINING CASE.

Hearing Will Continue Well Into Next Week—Experts Testify.

The case of the United States Mining Co. vs Val, Lawson et al, representing the Neptune and Kempton interests, is still on in the federal court. The past two days have brought out considerable expert testimony, O. P. Palmer of the Ontario occupying the witness stand yesterday, and Sidney W. Taylor, an expert from Colorado, being before the court today. It is expected that the case will continue well into next week, and that a number of other witnesses will be called.

The matter under advisement, announcing his decision after he has returned home. The point in controversy involves the ownership of certain bodies of water, of which both parties to the suit claim.

DOORS CLOSED.

Affairs of Korupkat in Hands of Credit Men's Association.

The doors of Korupkat & Co., the east First Street grocers, were closed this morning, preparatory to an expected filing of petition in bankruptcy in the United States court, and E. J. Wilkinson, representing the Utah Credit Men's association, is in charge of the premises. A circular letter dated Oct. 21 was sent out by Mr. Korupkat to the creditors of Korupkat & Co., stating that Mr. Ed Korupkat had decided to state the company's condition and desired to advise with them as to the interests of all concerned. "He feels that the capital is not sufficient to carry on the grocery without some concessions on the part of those with whom he has been dealing." The letter explains that the company's indebtedness amounts to $14,000, with assets of $4,000 in stock, $2,000 in plant, and accounts due $5,000.

"The manager is of the opinion that the firm is able, if allowed to continue in business, to pay 25 cents on the dollar in six equal monthly installments, the first to be paid within 10 days of the agreement of the creditors to accept that amount as payment in full."

There was a meeting yesterday afternoon of the creditors, which resulted in the Credit Men's taking charge, as noted above.

PETE GETS THIRTY DAYS.
Charged With Drunkenness, Vagrancy And Resisting Officer Simpson.

Mexican Pete was certainly up against a hard proposition in Judge Diehl's court this afternoon, facing three charges, drunkenness, vagrancy and resisting Officer Simpson. Pete pleaded guilty to the first two charges, but denied resisting the officer. Pete said he just came back from Pocatello, where he was in a fight. The fact is he was in jail during the time he was charged with resisting Officer Simpson. These are the two gentlemen

EXPERIENCE WITH A BEAR.

John Richards of Wyoming Meets
One at Close Range.

IT CHEWS HIS FINGERS.

Then Leaving Him It Made Off With Its Cub—Hand Operated On This Morning.

John R. Richards, a resident of Cokeville, Wyoming, is in Salt Lake today nursing a hand that was badly bitten by a bear. Mr. Richards, who is a brother-in-law of Dr. E. S. Wright, was out hunting some time ago in company with a party of friends, when he came across a huge grizzly—just what the hunters were looking for. The scene of action was on Piny Lake at the head of Green reaver and the hunters had just bagged a couple of elk when Mr. Richards left his associates and went through the brush in quest of bigger game. He got it much sooner than expected, for in a very few minutes Mr. Bear suddenly put in an appearance and virtually pounced on top of the unsuspecting hunter, knocking his gun from his hand, rolling him over and beginning, then and there, to have a meal. In order to protect his face from the onslaughts of his vicious enemy, Mr. Richards threw his right hand up and the bear, not particular which part of his anatomy he got, bit it. Mr. Richards was not a man of a better case. When it had chewed the thumb beyond all recognition and dislocated every finger, it concluded to leave for pastures new and did so, taking his cub along with it. Nothing more was heard of the bear. Mr. Richards pursued his carnivorous friend, but his hand hurt him so and was so badly damaged that on recovering his gun he found that it was impossible to use it.

The exciting incident occurred six weeks ago, during which time Mr. Richards has been nursing his wounded hand as best he could. But learning that recovery would be impossible without the attention of a physician, he came on to Salt Lake, where he was operated on by the Keogh-Wright hospital this morning. As stated above the thumb was badly lacerated and all the fingers dislocated and it was to remedy these that the operation was performed. Mr. Richards is now considering the advisability of suing Mr. Bear for mayhem.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

What the City's Health Has Been During the Week.

For the week ending Oct. 25, there were 15 births reported to the board of health, 6 of them being males and 9 of the female gender. Of the deaths reported for the same period, 9 were males and 7 females. Of this number 11 were residents of the city. One body was brought here for burial and 2 were shipped away for interment.

There were 23 cases of scarlet fever remaining in quarantine from last week. Five new cases developed during the week and 9 were released, leaving 19 cases quarantined in 14 premises. Of diphtheria there were 4 cases in the city at the close of the last report. Five new cases were reported, 3 were released and one died, leaving five cases quarantined where three warning signs are displayed. Six new cases of small pox developed in families already quarantined, and none having been released during the week. All cases were quarantined at the close of this report. Four cases of typhoid fever and five cases of chicken pox were also reported.

LATE LOCALS.

Col. John D. Ford leaves this evening on an inspection trip of the N. G. U. companies at Provo, Mant and Nephi. He expects to be absent from Salt Lake about a week.

County Treasurer Dale today turned over to City Treasurer Morris a check for $2,283.29, being the second installment on the city's proportion of the taxes collected up to date.

The council committee on reservoir site and the special water committee appointed last Monday night will take a trip up Parley's canyon next Tuesday morning to inspect the proposed reservoir site. Instead of Big Cottonwood as was reported several days ago.

The street railway company has the tracks for four miles in the intersection of South and East Temple streets which greatly relieves uncertainties of operation that have obtained at that point.

Worthen & Thompson have the contract for the mason work on the new University city building, at $23,500, and Alex. McDonald the carpenter work at $15,000. Excavation for the fine structure begins next week.

C. B. Savare has returned from his Boise trip. He visited the Idaho state fair which was quite a creditable exhibition. He says the First Infantry band of this city did quite well. Boise has also a crack musical organization in the local Columbian band, which has been built up after hard and persistent work.

The painter who manipulated the new Z. C. M. L. sign covering the entire width of the remodelled front, raised his reckoning for today's work at $100.00. The legend suffered from a telescopic outlook. The matter was straightened out today.

The office building at the federal site has been completed and Engineer Ash moved into it today. The concrete for the foundation of the great structure has been practically all laid.

Large meat handlers in this city believe that the meat trust set forth in the dispatches relative to the organization in the east is "a go," and that it is but the matter of a short time before the Salt Lake agencies of the packing companies will be consolidated into one office.

The Colorado Aggies and the Ogden football teams are registered at the Xenon. The Aggies brought 23 men with them, so that they will have fresh men to play with when they go to Logan Monday.

E. L. White of Boston and O. F. Weller of New York who are interested in the Bingham Gold and Copper company are guests at the Knutsford, having come out here on a trip of inspection. These are the two gentlemen with whom a tramway car ran away with over a year ago when they were out before, and they were badly bruised. Mr. Weller has just been on a trip around the world.

The Monarch Oil company of this city filed articles of incorporation today in the county clerk's office. The capital stock is $50,000, divided into 50,000 shares of the par value of 10 cents each. N. Clayton is president, J. A. Young, vice president, and I. A. Clayton, secretary and treasurer. The company owns 1,250 acres of oil lands located in Colorado.

The Crystal Carbonate Mining company, limited, of Ogden, filed a copy of its articles of incorporation in the secretary of state's office today. The capital stock is $250,000, divided into shares of the par value of $1 each. The company owns the Crystal Carbonate, Gold Dragon and May Queen lode claims, located in the Lava Creek mining district, Blaine county, Ida. T. G. Burr is president, J. M. Walker, vice president, J. H. Knauss, secretary, and T. D. Ryan, treasurer.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Columbian club will give a grand concert and ball in the Harmonie hall on State street next Friday night. The affair will be in the nature of a Halloween party and a good time is assured all who attend.

Henry Thayer Safford, an old time conductor with the Thomas Cook & Son Tourist company, is at the Knutsford with a group of around the world tourists.

There was something of a spell of weather last night, the rain continuing to fall, so that by this morning, the total for the storm amounted to 1.5 of an inch. However, the precipitation at Modena was much less, and there was something of a phenomenon there this morning, when the mercury stood 21 inches colder than in the more northern part of the state. The meteorology of the section in the vicinity of Modena appears to be a law unto itself.

C. E. Flynn, a noted mining expert from Monterey, Mex., is a guest at the Knutsford, and was around town today with Clarence McCormick. Mr. Flynn will look over certain properties in state with a view to recommendation to investing parties.

One real estate dealer sold seven cottages in the last 10 days and could have sold more had they been obtainable.

There will be an interesting ordination service tomorrow evening in the First Presbyterian church, when Assistant Pastor Lincoln and Mr. Britain of Salt Lake will be ordained ministers, and be allowed to prefix "Rev." to their names. Up to this time they have only had licenses to preach. Rev. Dr. McNeice will preside, and Rev. Dr. Wishard will preach the ordination sermon. Dr. Faden delivering the charge.

Both the citizens living on east South Temple street, and the street car company, unite in registering a large and healthy kick against the geological slowness with which the contractor who has the job of moving Mrs. Dundard's house at 2 and east South Temple streets, is getting that house across the street on its travels up to Second street. For several days the house has been squarely across the railway tracks, and the street car company is complaining of the delay. The street car company is compelled to transfer its passengers at that point. At best the transfer is a nuisance, and now that it is muddy weather, it has become a hardship for the street car traveling public to tramp around from car to car through the mud. Unless that contractor gets on a large sized move, he is likely to find himself served with peremptory orders from the city to cease obstructing the public highway.

There was one of the most unique smash-ups of the season this morning in front of the Z. C. M. L. One of the Salt Lake Ice company drivers named Swenson, left his horses unhitched, and the team passed over the curb, and ran into the side of a car, which was standing near the Z. C. M. L. interior and rushed frantically to the rescue, but too late. However, he nabbed the ice car man as the latter came running after the wreckage, got his name, and will present a bill to the ice company for damages. Mr. Walk's horse never budged an inch. He "slept through it all."

CHURCH NOTICES.
