

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, MARCH 28.

Sheep Dying.—By private advices from Snake River we learn that the sheep in that locality are dying off by hundreds. The cold weather freezes their feet and legs up to the knees.

Silkworm Eggs to Sell.—In answer to an inquiry made in our columns the other evening, relative to persons who had silkworm eggs and mulberry seed for sale, Mr. Sanford Bingham, of Riverdale, writes that he has 40 ounces of silkworm eggs to sell, a good article and in good condition.

Still at It.—The Junction says that the Bilk Harris has turned up in Mineral Park, Mohave County, Arizona, and is still victimizing the people in the name of that paper. The editors received a letter from that point yesterday morning, stating that Harris had obtained some $75 on subscriptions to the Junction, and was still proceeding with his thieving work.

Broken Leg.—A young man, named Joseph Corrao, a native of Sicily, recently arrived in Utah, met with a severe accident, yesterday morning, at 10 o'clock. He is a workman at the Church Quarry, in Little Cottonwood, and while engaged at his occupation at that place, a large mass of rock accidentally fell from above and passed over his left leg, breaking one of the small bones below the knee. He was brought down to the city by the superintendent of the Quarry last evening, and is now under the treatment of the Drs. Richards, and getting along favorably.

Returned.—Elder Joseph Bull, who left this city six weeks ago for the Eastern States, as traveling business agent for the DESERET NEWS, returned home last evening, hale and hearty, after a very successful trip through some of the principal commercial centres of the country. Among the cities he visited were Chicago, Council Bluffs, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Pittsburg, Philadelphia and New York. He was treated with much kindness by the merchants of those places where he had business, many of whom he had known before while traveling agent for this paper several years ago. They were very friendly and showed their kindly feeling toward the paper and its able representative by sending Brother Bull home laden with first-class advertisements. Our agent was gone six weeks to the day. Welcome home.

Ogden's First Libel Case.—The Junction of last evening has the following:

It will be remembered that about the end of January last there appeared in the Evening Dispatch, of this city, a very violent attack upon the character and conduct of Mr. John Reeve, the local agent here of the Utah Central Railroad Company. We understand that Mr. Reeve, immediately after the publication of the article, demanded of the Dispatch company the name of the author, and that the original manuscript written by the Rev. Mr. Gillogly and his name were surrendered. To-day Mr. Reeve commenced a libel suit in the District Court against Mr. Gillogly, laying the damages at $50,000.

It will doubtless be determined, judicially, in this suit, whether a man has the right in a matter in which he has no personal interests, to publish his neighbor as "a mean man," "a bloodthirsty bull dog," "an unmerciful tyrant," etc., and it will be a matter of public interest to know what the courts hold in such matters.

Mr. Reeve has not been hasty in bringing this suit, as he desired the Rev. gentleman to have ample opportunity to repair the wrong done, before appealing to the courts for legal redress.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, MARCH 29.

The Manifesto.—The address of the City Council to the citizens of Salt Lake, relative to the canal now in course of construction, will be found in other columns. It is an able document. Read it.

A Bovine Monstrosity.—A gentleman from Peoa, Summit County, recounts a strange fact that occurred there several days ago. A cow was delivered of a calf with 8 legs, 2 bodies joined at the shoulders, and one head. Neither animal survived.

Deceased.—It gives us pain to announce the death at 20 minutes past 2 o'clock this afternoon, of Sister Elizabeth Cain Richards. She has been confined to her house ever since the decease of her son, some weeks since, and her failing health is attributed by some to sorrow and despondency at his loss. The news was received too late for remarks, and we are at present in possession of no particulars. The funeral will take place on Monday.

Emigration Fares.—The Milennial Star of March 8, announces the fares of emigrants to sail on the 10th of April by S. S. Wyoming as follows:

To Ogden,	£14 14 0
North } Brigham City,	£14 17 3
of } Logan,	£15 1 9

Children between 5 and 12 years, half the above rates; between 1 and 5 years, £2 2 6; under 1 year, £1.

A Murderer in Jail.—Jesse Ewing, the murderer of a man named Robinson, at Brown's Hole, Utah County, a few weeks since, was brought to this city on Wednesday by the Sheriff of Summit County, and to-day at 10 o'clock was before Commissioner Sprague. He waived an examination and was to be taken to the Penitentiary this afternoon. He claims that the killing done was purely in self-defence, while on the other hand the man Robinson is said to have been quiet and inoffensive, and his friends assert that Ewing's character is of the worst description. The latter's capture was delayed until lately, because the county in which the deed was committed had no officers, a warrant had to be issued from this city to the sheriff of Summit County, he having no authority to make the arrest until he received the warrant. Ewing was secured without difficulty, and insists that he made no attempt to flee from justice or to conceal himself. So far as known, there are no witnesses to the deed, which took place a few hundred yards away from the camp. He states that Robinson followed him, as he was carrying some bedding, quarreled with him about a matter which Ewing will not divulge, and finally drew a knife, when Ewing stabbed him. Robinson's death cry was heard at the camp, and the boys rushed to the scene. Ewing admitted his guilt, but warned the bystanders to leave him alone, as he feared they intended to lynch him. No facts further than the above can be obtained at present. When the trial will take place is not yet known.

Pistols and Blood.—Yesterday afternoon and evening rumors went flying around town to the effect that a shooting affair had taken place at Fort Douglas, and that two men were killed. The most exaggerated and contradictory stories were told, no two informants giving the same account. Some stated that a duel had been fought, that one of the principals was killed, and that the cause was, the murdered man had stepped on the dress of a lady in a ball room and refused to apologise for it. This story was absurd, but the others were all more or less unfounded and ridiculous. Until late last night no positive word could be obtained, and even at this time the known facts in the case are few. The generally received narration of the encounter and the causes leading to it, are as follows:

On Monday last, at a dinner party given to several officers and ladies at the Fort, a remark was made to Dr. LeCompte by one of the ladies present, which called forth, it is stated, an apology from that gentleman. The next day Captain Western, who had been a guest at the party of the day previous, met the Doctor, and demanded that an apology be made to the lady. LeCompte endeavored to persuade the Captain that he had done nothing which demanded an apology, and refused to make any further explanation than he had. The two men separated and were not seen together again until ten o'clock yesterday morning, when the shooting took place, although some say that a letter written by Western to LeCompte was delivered by the writer himself on Wednesday. This letter stigmatized the Dr. as a liar, in that he had failed to make restitution when he had promised to do so, and announced the intention of the irate Captain to apply that epithet to LeCompte whenever convenient, unless an ample apology was made within six hours. A challenge was expected as an answer to the communication, and a genuine affair of honor was looked upon as certain. The two men, however, met immediately after parade yesterday morning, and after a few angry words, drew their revolvers and fired. Both shots took effect, Western's arm being broken near the shoulder, and LeCompte receiving a slight flesh wound in the right hand and arm. The Doctor again fired, the ball hitting Western in the right side, and bringing him to the ground. He reached for his pistol, which he had dropped when first hit, but was told by LeCompte, who at this point stood directly over him, that if he moved toward the weapon he would be shot dead. In this position were the men seen by other inhabitants of the post. Dr. Hamilton was sent for and attended the wounded man, who passed a tolerably easy night and at last accounts was resting quite comfortably, though the wound is conceded to be of a dangerous nature. The broken arm was carefully treated but will, it is feared, be useless. Dr. LeCompte's wound is only a slight one. The affair will be looked into by a military tribunal.

These are the facts as near as can be learned. The friends of the wounded men are very reticent upon the subject, and it is with difficulty that anything can be ascertained of a reliable character.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, MARCH 29.

Arrested for Violence.—A warrant for the arrest of an individual named Don Fullmer, was issued from the police court, to-day. Fullmer is charged with violence and threatening, and is said to be partially demented.

Sad Soliloquy.—The climate of Ogden does not appear to be a healthy one for newspapers. In fact there are a number of localities in this Rocky Mountain region where the newspaper business does not seem to thrive.—Beaver Watchman.

Do you speak from experience, friend Watchman.

Improving.—Captain Western, who was seriously wounded in the fracas with Dr. LeCompte, at Fort Douglas, on Friday morning, is getting along favorably, or was at last accounts, our informant was Dr. F. D. Benedict, who returned from the Fort shortly before 2 p. m. to-day. The matter of the shooting and the cause which led to it, are being investigated by military authorities at the post.

Ogden's Libel Suit.—A report having been started that the plaintiff in the Ogden libel suit of Reeve vs Gillogly had attempted to effect a compromise through his attorneys, the Junction refutes it by the following:

"In order to give the public a fair representation of the case, we to-day called upon the plaintiff's attorneys, Messrs. Richards & Williams, who informed us that no such thing had been done; that they had simply notified the defendant that unless ample reparation were made in the matter their client would seek legal redress; that is all there is of it. So it appears the majesty of the law will now be invoked to settle the question."

Death and Burial.—Mr. James Toms, who was spoken of several days ago as being in a very precarious condition, from a dangerous disorder for which he had undergone a surgical operation, died on Saturday. He was an old resident of this city and well known throughout the community. The funeral was held at the Sexton's office, yesterday, at 11 o'clock, from whence a long concourse of carriages followed the remains to the Cemetery. At the grave President D. H. Wells delivered an impressive discourse on the merits of the deceased and other topics suggested by the occasion, and the body was consigned to the tomb. The deceased was a man of good qualities and highly esteemed by a large circle of friends.

Obsequies.—The funeral services over the remains of Sister Elizabeth Cain Richards, who expired on Saturday of heart disease, were held this afternoon, at the family residence, in the 14th Ward. There was a large congregation of relatives and friends present, many standing outside the house unable to gain admittance. The services began about half past one o'clock, Elder Joseph Horne offering the opening prayer;

Elder John T. Caine, an old friend of the family, then spoke briefly and consolingly to the congregation. He was followed by Apostles F. D. Richards and Joseph F. Smith, who likewise in turn delivered comforting and instructive remarks to the bereaved friends. There were also present Bishop Thomas Taylor and Counselors, and other Church authorities. The proceedings closed about three o'clock, and a large train of vehicles followed the corpse to its last resting place.

"Grand Duchess."—The dress rehearsal of this beautiful opera, on Saturday night, went off very successfully. The music was nicely rendered, band, solos and choruses working well together. The costumes of the little folks were not only elegant, but quite appropriate. The opening scenes of the first and second acts were especially beautiful, as well as the scene wherein the "Grand Duchess" gives a reception in honor of the victorious general, "Fritz." The singing and acting of several of the solo characters was remarkably good and called forth the applause of the audience frequently. A very noticeable feature was the drill of the army in the third act. Young as well as old should go to see the little folks, as we are sure there is a treat in store for all who patronize the performance. We understand there will be a reduction of prices for the matinee, to all members of day and Sabbath schools. Superintendents wishing to get tickets for their schools, should apply at once to Mr. Harris, at Dinwoodey's furniture store.

Would-be Murderers.—Another dastardly attempt at train-wrecking has lately come to light along the line of the Utah Southern Railroad. The Enquirer of Saturday says that on last Monday night a party of young men who had been hunting a mile or two west of the railroad track and near Provo city, while on their return home, found a large number of rocks systematically placed along the track running through what is known as Stubbs' Field, for the evident purpose of throwing off the night train. The gentleman who related the incident and was one of those who saw and removed the obstruction, says he is satisfied, by the size and arrangement of the rocks, that they had been put there by grown persons for a dastardly purpose and that it was not the work of children.

If kind providence, who leads to the discovery of such devilry in time to avert disaster, would only complete the work by disclosing the names of the fiends who thus deliberately commit murder in their hearts, the satisfaction of society would be increased a hundred-fold.

Serious Accident.—The Junction of Saturday has the following:

"A few days ago a two year old child of Mr. Calvert, of Lynne, while playing around the house, struck some paint left about by a man who had been doing some painting work. While playing with the paint, the unfortunate infant got the injurious coloring matter in both eyes, blinding one entirely and impairing the sight of the other materially. Mr. Driver, who was intrusted with the case, to-day thinks he can save the injured optics."

A week ago last Wednesday, a ten-year-old boy of John Royle, of West Weber, met with a serious accident. Having found a giant-powder cartridge, similar to the common cartridge used for six-shooters, he handled it somewhat carelessly, trying to clean it, when the explosive substance went off with a loud report, like that of a musket shot, injuring in a most painful and dangerous manner the thumb, index and middle fingers of the left hand, and the index finger of the right. All the skin and flesh on the inside of these members were torn away or fearfully lacerated, causing the young man great suffering. Fortunately he had not held his head down, otherwise the frightful discharge would have killed the poor lad."

There's not a charm that light's the face

With so ineffable a grace,
As sweet, pink lips and ivory teeth;
And nothing now, beneath the sky,
Can beauties such as these supply,
Save SOZODONT, that wears the wreath.

In the Whole History of Medicine
No preparation has ever performed such marvelous cures, or maintained so wide a reputation, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which is recognized as the world's remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs. Its long-continued series of wonderful cures in all climates has made it universally known as a safe and reliable agent to employ. Against ordinary colds, which are the forerunners of more serious disorders, it acts speedily and surely, always relieving, suffering, and often saving life. The protection it affords, by its timely use in the throat and lung disorders of children, makes it an invaluable remedy to be kept always on hand in every home. No person can afford to be without it, and those who have once used it never will. From their knowledge of its composition and effects, Physicians use the CHERRY PECTORAL extensively in their practice, and Clergymen recommend it. It is absolutely certain in its remedial effects, and will always cure where cures are possible. 1dsw

IT IS TRULY WONDERFUL

TO SEE what improvements now exist as compared with railway travel only a few years ago. To become convinced of this, one has only to select for his route East, the popular and well-known

CHICAGO & NORTHWESTERN RAILWAY.

You are landed by the Union Pacific R. R. in the Union Depot at Council Bluffs, where stands the C. and N.-W. Pacae train, composed of Pullman Hotel Cars, Pullman Sleeping Cars, elegant Day Coaches, Smoking Baggage, Postal Cars, etc., ready to convey its passengers through Iowa and Illinois, and into Chicago. Gliding smoothly along over the superb track of steel rail through thriving cities and villages, comfortably seated in this train, one scarcely discovers the high rate of speed which he is riding. Trains of this road are always on time, connections sure, and passengers seeking pleasure, comfort, safety and ease in traveling, will find the "North-Western" in excess of their expectations, and the greatest of all routes to Chicago and the East. Insist upon Ticket Agents selling you Tickets via this road; all Agents sell them. Examine your Tickets, and refuse to buy if they do not read over this Road. An Old Man Restored to Health.

BATAVIA, N. Y., Sept. 15, 1879.

H. H. Warner & Co., Rochester, N. Y.—Gentlemen—"For forty years I have suffered with kidney and liver difficulty, being obliged to void urine as often as once in 30 minutes, and have also been a great sufferer from palpitation of the heart. I am now using your Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, and can truly say, at 70 years of age, that it makes me feel like a new man." PETER SHOWEMAN.
