

DESERVED PUNISHMENT NEWS.

TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

VOL. XVI.

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH TERRITORY, TUESDAY EVENING, MARCH 6, 1883

NO. 97

CHICAGO TRADE.

KEITH BROTHERS,
MADE AND JOBBERS OF
MEN'S FURNISHING GOODS,
HATS, COATS, ETC., ETC.
116, 118 and 120, Madison Street,
CHICAGO.

JOHN C. NEEMES & CO.,
MANUFACTURING
CONFECTIONERS

28, 30, 32, & 34 MICHIGAN AVENUE, CHICAGO.

Our Goods are kept by Z. C. M. L. in Branch Stores and Dealers generally in the Territory.
4103 17

ESTABLISHED 1850.
Palmer, Fuller & Co.,

Wholesale Manufacturers of

Sash, Doors & Blinds,
MOULDING,
Mantels, Plinths, Church Finials, Stairs,
State Railings, Balusters, Noses, Etc.
CHICAGO, ILL.

Our Goods are constantly kept in Stock by the Western Lumber Dealers in Salt Lake City. Prices Lists and Moulding books sent free upon application.
4103 17

STAR HORSE NAILS!

POLISHED OR BLEED
Will hold on longer than any other. We guarantee our Nails to be Equal in Quality and Durability to any made.

Made from the Best Norway Iron, Finished Already to drive, by the

UNION HORSE NAIL COMPANY,
CHICAGO.

For Sale by Z. C. M. L. and its Branch Stores.

AN ARTICLE OF WORLD-WIDE RENOWN IS FAIRBANK'S PURE REFINED LARD.

Once used always desired in the Future.

TRY IT.
N. K. FAIRBANK & Co.,
CHICAGO.

For Sale by Z. C. M. L. and its Branch Stores and Dealers Generally.

HARDWARE

Do you want the best AXE in the west? Ask for E. C. SIMMONS' BEER KUTTER.

Do you want the best SHEEP SHEARER made? Ask for KEEN KUTTER HORSE ARCH SPRING and take no other.

The best sold "74" SHEEP and SHEARERS are made by SIMMONS HARDWARE CO. ST. LOUIS.

Send $1.00 to call for Specimen of "LICKEN" or "WIND" SHEARER. It is the "FUR" to anything on the Market.

ALL AXES, HATCHETS and other EDGE TOOLS, POCKET KNIVES, SCISSORS and BUCKS, bearing the Trade Mark of SIMMONS' HARDWARE are SUPERIOR to any other.

The above Goods can be Purchased of the Wholesale Hardware Dealers in Salt Lake and Ogden.

HAZARD POWDER!

Contains lead & complete stock of this well known and justly celebrated BLAZING, EXPLOSIVE POWDER,
BLACK POWDER, etc.

For Sale by Z. C. M. L. and all the
Branch Stores in the Territory, and by
H. M. CLEAVELAND, Agent.

HATHAWAY'S PEERLESS GLOSS

FOR
BLACKING & POLISHING
LADIES' & CHILDREN'S
Boots & Shoes.

THIS REMEDY. The Bottle is supplied with a Sponge and a
Brush, with which the Gloss may be used
without soiling the hands.

Without the use of HATHAWAY'S
PEERLESS GLOSS
has brought forward many testimonials which show that it is superior to any other.

For Sale by Z. C. M. L. and all the Branch Stores in the Territory, and by
H. M. CLEAVELAND, Agent.

SAPONIFIER

GARDEN AND FLOWER
SEEDS.

I AM NOW PREPARED FOR THE SPRING Season to receive orders for GARDEN SEEDS, IN BULK, as well as in small quantities. I have on hand the largest stock in the city.

GREEN-HOUSE, BRIDGING and BASKET
MAKING. I have also on hand EVERLASTING FLOWERS and GRASSES
which will last for years.

For Sale by Z. C. M. L. and all the
Branch Stores in the Territory, and by
H. M. CLEAVELAND, Agent.

NEW YORK TRADE.

ROYAL
BAKING POWDER

ROYAL
BAKING
POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness.
No other name on the outside of the tin. It is sold in quantities with the guarantee of low cost, purity, strength and wholesomeness.

Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER
CO., 100 Wall Street, New York.

G. K. SHERIDAN & Co.,
68, Thomas Street, New York.

MOUNT VERNON
COTTON DUCK.

All Widths Cotton Canvas.

BATES, REED & COOLEY,
IMPORTERS AND JOBBERS OF
Silk and Fancy Dry Goods

Including a full and complete line of Prints, Ginghams, and Domestic.
843 343, 345 Broadway, 36, 38, and 40 Leonard Street, NEW YORK.

DUNHAM, BUCKLEY & CO.,
IMPORTERS AND JOBBERS OF
DRY GOODS,

NOTIONS,
WHITE GOODS, Etc.
No. 240 Broadway, NEW YORK.
J. H. BRADLEY, 27

THOS. M. ARGALL & CO.,
MANUFACTURERS OF
MENS' AND BOYS'
CLOTHING.

688 BROADWAY,
NEW YORK.
JES. E. COWLEY.

A. W. FABER'S
STATIONERY ARTICLES & ARTISTS' MATERIALS.

MAY BE HAD AT
Z. C. M. L.,
Gold Pen and Fountain Pens, Pen-holders, and all Stationery Goods, Lard, Penicils, Etc.

HEMPHILL, HAMLIN & CO.,
CARPETING,
FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, RUGS, MATS ETC.

343 & 344 BROADWAY,
NEW YORK.
For Goods see next by Z. C. M. L. and its Branch Stores.

B. W. HERRIEM & CO.,
MANUFACTURERS OF AND DEALERS IN LOOKING GLASSES
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

No. 577 Broadway,
NEW YORK.
For Sale by Z. C. M. L.

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co., MANUFACTURERS OF THE Star, "74," Sledge, Clipper, Corner Stone,

AND OTHER BRANDS OF
TOBACCO.
For Sale by Z. C. M. L. and Branch Stores.

PECK BROS. & CO.,
MANUFACTURERS OF
BRASS & PLATED WORK FOR WATER GAS & STEAM BOILERS.

JOBBERS IN
Plumbers Materials.
7 BIRKENHEAD STREET,
NEW YORK.

For Sale by permission to David James,
Salt Lake City.

BRINCKERHOFF, TURNER & CO., 100 Duane St., NEW YORK.

Manufacturers of and Dealers in COTTON YARN, DRESS GOODS, and all the latest styles in Fabrics, and all the latest styles in CLOTHING.

For Sale by Z. C. M. L. and all the
Branch Stores in the Territory, and by
H. M. CLEAVELAND, Agent.

HATHAWAY'S
PEERLESS GLOSS
FOR
BLACKING & POLISHING
LADIES' & CHILDREN'S
Boots & Shoes.

THIS REMEDY. The Bottle is
supplied with a
Sponge and a
Brush, with which
the Gloss may be used
without soiling the
hands.

Without the use of
HATHAWAY'S
PEERLESS GLOSS
has brought forward many
testimonials which
show that it is
superior to any other.

For Sale by Z. C. M. L. and all the Branch Stores in the Territory, and by
H. M. CLEAVELAND, Agent.

SAPONIFIER
GARDEN AND FLOWER
SEEDS.

I AM NOW PREPARED FOR THE SPRING Season to receive orders for
GARDEN SEEDS, IN BULK, as well as
in small quantities. I have on hand
the largest stock in the city.

GREEN-HOUSE, BRIDGING and BASKET
MAKING. I have also on hand
EVERLASTING FLOWERS and GRASSES
which will last for years.

For Sale by Z. C. M. L. and all the
Branch Stores in the Territory, and by
H. M. CLEAVELAND, Agent.

SPEECH OF HON. W. CALL.

[CONCLUDED.]

Mr. Logan. Will the Senator now inasmuch as he and I want to understand each other, yield to me for a moment?

Mr. Call. Certainly.

Mr. Logan. I understand the argument of the Senator as established in his mind the proposition at all does not concede the proposition at all that these people have the rights which belong to States and not to Territories. To take it for granted, for the argument, they have the right to regulate the domestic relations, as he calls them, does he claim that even if they have that right they have a right under the religious idea or claim to practice polygamy without subjecting themselves to punishment?

Mr. Call. Do you want to know my individual opinion on that subject?

Mr. Logan. No, but I want to know your legal opinion. You are discussing this from a constitutional standpoint.

Mr. Call. I think that whoever constitute a majority of the State of Illinois, whether they are Mormon or Catholics or Protestants or polygamist people have got the right to say whether polygamy or monogamy shall be the political right of the people, not the State, but the political power and right under the form of government, as contra-distinguished from the religious rights, whether it shall be lawful or unlawful.

Mr. Logan. We are not talking about Illinois. I do not want to go into that discussion. I am talking about Utah.

Mr. Call. Then I say that in Utah under our Constitution, the National Government has national powers. The people in the different States have the right and in spirit in the Territories to control their own affairs, and the power given to Congress to legislate in that respect does not authorize them to violate the fundamental principles of the Constitution in their respects.

Mr. Logan. That does not answer the question at all. It is more than enough.

Mr. Call. What do you want to know?

Mr. Logan. Do you believe under your theory that if the people of Utah establish polygamy we have no right to punish it as a crime, because the Constitution of the United States is a part of their religion or Christianity, that it is no offense, and therefore they are exempt from punishment, because their religious beliefs? Does the Senator say that?

Mr. Call. I have not said anything of that kind. I say as a matter of fact, as asserted in the different forms of State government, that polygamy is a crime, and almost all improper relations with a woman one woman have been asserted by the legislation of this country, by the States that had the authority to do it, to be criminal.

Mr. Logan. I want to know that the Congress of the United States has, for temporary
and necessary government in the Territories, power to say what
shall constitute crime, and would be
justified in saying that the public opinion in the different States had prescribed to be crime
should be crime in the Territories;
but as the question of crime
there is an absence of power on that subject, except as derived from the necessity for temporary government, would the Senator be aware of the long, able and full argument of the power of Congress over the Territories, which has exhausted that subject. I will say to him that the right of Congress to legislate
in that manner, that a man lives in polygamy,
that a man lives in polygamy,
upon conviction of crime, he shall
be punished, is a totally different thing from the right of Congress to legislate by law that he shall be deprived of his right to vote and his political power, because he lives or so thinks, without conviction and trial, and the positions on which our government
is based on which our system
of society rests is a declaration by law of what shall constitute crime, bearing, trial and conviction by judicial power. Freedom of speech and thought and action, except when punished on conviction on crime, is the political power of the people, and the power of the Territory must be temporary, but its power
under the restraints of the Constitution to such acts when committed
and not by a political or religious
hierarchy prescribing opinion.

Mr. Logan. Both the Senator is getting into a constitutional dis-quisition now. The Senator has repeatedly insisted that the Catholic religion could be destroyed, the Episcopal Church, the Presbyterian Church, or any other Church destroyed by legislation if this principle was enacted into a law. That was the principle that was committed to the people, and that was the principle that was committed to the people that was at the same time a crime. The question I want the Senator to answer is whether or not he believes that any religious hierarchy, whether it be Catholic, Episcopal, Presbyterian, or any other, has the right to punish a man for committing that offense which is a violation of law?

Mr. Call. I answer, that the law does not recognize any excuse or reason for disobedience. The question of the Senator is whether there is any obligation higher than the law, and this is a question as old as time and for which many men have suffered martyrdom. In the eye of the law there can be no excuse; in the eye of religion and morality there may be. "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's," and unto God the things that are God's.

For myself I do not think polygamy is right, law or no law. That would be my opinion. As to the degree of wrong whether it is as bad as murder or false witness or perjury, I do not know. The question is for the Old Testament and the New Testament to decide.
I think that our Christian religion has developed into a more essential system than existed in the days of David and Solomon in respect to marriage; but I do not think that any religion should be enforced. I think that in their day under that dispensation they had different relations from ours.
The question between the Senator from Illinois and myself is not that the question is whether a commissioner in Illinois can go to a man or woman and say, "You are a polygamist and you shall be punished." I think that the law of the Territory must be temporary, but its power
under the restraints of the Constitu-
tion to such acts when committed
and not by a political or religious
hierarchy prescribing opinion.

Mr. Logan. I want to know that
the Congress of the United States has, for temporary
and necessary government in
the Territories, power to say what
shall constitute crime, and would be
justified in saying that the
public opinion in the different States had prescribed to be crime
should be crime in the Territories;
but as the question of crime
there is an absence of power on that
subject, except as derived from the
necessity for temporary government, would the Senator be aware of
the long, able and full argu-
ment of the power of Congress over
the Territories, which has exhausted
that subject. I will say to him that
the right of Congress to legislate
in that manner, that a man lives in polygamy,
that a man lives in polygamy,
upon conviction of crime, he shall
be punished, is a totally
different thing from the right of
Congress to legislate by law that
he shall be deprived of his right to
vote and his political power, be-
cause he lives or so thinks, with-
out conviction and trial, and the
positions on which our government
is based on which our system
of society rests is a declaration by
law of what shall constitute
crime, bearing, trial and conviction
by judicial power. Freedom of speech
and thought and action, except
when punished on conviction on
crime, is the political power of the
people, and the power of the Terri-
tory must be temporary, but its power
under the restraints of the Constitu-
tion to such acts when committed
and not by a political or religious
hierarchy prescribing opinion.

Mr. Logan. I want to know that
the Congress of the United States has, for temporary
and necessary government in
the Territories, power to say what
shall constitute crime, and would be
justified in saying that the
public opinion in the different States had prescribed to be crime
should be crime in the Territories;
but as the question of crime
there is an absence of power on that
subject, except as derived from the
necessity for temporary government, would the Senator be aware of
the long, able and full argu-
ment of the power of Congress over
the Territories, which has exhausted
that subject. I will say to him that
the right of Congress to legislate
in that manner, that a man lives in polygamy,
that a man lives in polygamy,
upon conviction of crime, he shall
be punished, is a totally
different thing from the right of
Congress to legislate by law that
he shall be deprived of his right to
vote and his political power, be-
cause he lives or so thinks, with-
out conviction and trial, and the
positions on which our government
is based on which our system
of society rests is a declaration by
law of what shall constitute
crime, bearing, trial and conviction
by judicial power. Freedom of speech
and thought and action, except
when punished on conviction on
crime, is the political power of the
people, and the power of the Terri-
tory must be temporary, but its power
under the restraints of the Constitu-
tion to such acts when committed
and not by a political or religious
hierarchy prescribing opinion.

Mr. Logan. I want to know that
the Congress of the United States has, for temporary
and necessary government in
the Territories, power to say what
shall constitute crime, and would be
justified in saying that the
public opinion in the different States had prescribed to be crime
should be crime in the Territories;
but as the question of crime
there is an absence of power on that
subject, except as derived from the
necessity for temporary government, would the Senator be aware of
the long, able and full argu-
ment of the power of Congress over
the Territories, which has exhausted
that subject. I will say to him that
the right of Congress to legislate
in that manner, that a man lives in polygamy,
that a man lives in polygamy,
upon conviction of crime, he shall
be punished, is a totally
different thing from the right of
Congress to legislate by law that
he shall be deprived of his right to
vote and his political power, be-
cause he lives or so thinks, with-
out conviction and trial, and the
positions on which our government
is based on which our system
of society rests is a declaration by
law of what shall constitute
crime, bearing, trial and conviction
by judicial power. Freedom of speech
and thought and action, except
when punished on conviction on
crime, is the political power of the
people, and the power of the Terri-
tory must be temporary, but its power
under the restraints of the Constitu-
tion to such acts when committed
and not by a political or religious
hierarchy prescribing opinion.

Mr. Logan. I want to know that
the Congress of the United States has, for temporary
and necessary government in
the Territories, power to say what
shall constitute crime, and would be
justified in saying that the
public opinion in the different States had prescribed to be crime
should be crime in the Territories;
but as the question of crime
there is an absence of power on that
subject, except as derived from the
necessity for temporary government, would the Senator be aware of
the long, able and full argu-
ment of the power of Congress over
the Territories, which has exhausted
that subject. I will say to him that
the right of Congress to legislate
in that manner, that a man lives in polygamy,
that a man lives in polygamy,
upon conviction of crime, he shall
be punished, is a totally
different thing from the right of
Congress to legislate by law that
he shall be deprived of his right to
vote and his political power, be-
cause he lives or so thinks, with-
out conviction and trial, and the
positions on which our government
is based on which our system
of society rests is a declaration by
law of what shall constitute
crime, bearing, trial and conviction
by judicial power. Freedom of speech
and thought and action, except
when punished on conviction on
crime, is the political power of the
people, and the power of the Terri-
tory must be temporary, but its power
under the restraints of the Constitu-
tion to such acts when committed
and not by a political or religious
hierarchy prescribing opinion.

Mr. Logan. I want to know that
the Congress of the United States has, for temporary
and necessary government in
the Territories, power to say what
shall constitute crime, and would be
justified in saying that the
public opinion in the different States had prescribed to be crime
should be crime in the Territories;
but as the question of crime
there is an absence of power on that
subject, except as derived from the
necessity for temporary government, would the Senator be aware of
the long, able and full argu-
ment of the power of Congress over
the Territories, which has exhausted
that subject. I will say to him that
the right of Congress to legislate
in that manner, that a man lives in polygamy,
that a man lives in polygamy,
upon conviction of crime, he shall
be punished, is a totally
different thing from the right of
Congress to legislate by law that
he shall be deprived of his right to
vote and his political power, be-
cause he lives or so thinks, with-
out conviction and trial, and the
positions on which our government
is based on which our system
of society rests is a declaration by
law of what shall constitute
crime, bearing, trial and conviction
by judicial power. Freedom of speech
and thought and action, except
when punished on conviction on
crime, is the political power of the
people, and the power of the Terri-
tory must be temporary, but its power
under the restraints of the Constitu-
tion to such acts when committed
and not by a political or religious
hierarchy prescribing opinion.

Mr. Logan. I want to know that
the Congress of the United States has, for temporary
and necessary government in
the Territories, power to say what
shall constitute crime, and would be
justified in saying that the
public opinion in the different States had prescribed to be crime
should be crime in the Territories;
but as the question of crime
there is an absence of power on that
subject, except as derived from the
necessity for temporary government, would the Senator be aware of
the long, able and full argu-
ment of the power of Congress over
the Territories, which has exhausted
that subject. I will say to him that
the right of Congress to legislate
in that manner, that a man lives in polygamy,
that a man lives in polygamy,
upon conviction of crime, he shall
be punished, is a totally
different thing from the right of
Congress to legislate by law that
he shall be deprived of his right to
vote and his political power, be-
cause he lives or so thinks, with-
out conviction and trial, and the
positions on which our government
is based on which our system
of society rests is a declaration by
law of what shall constitute
crime, bearing, trial and conviction
by judicial power. Freedom of speech
and thought and action, except
when punished on conviction on
crime, is the political power of the
people, and the power of the Terri-
tory must be temporary, but its power
under the restraints of the Constitu-
tion to such acts when committed
and not by a political or religious
hierarchy prescribing opinion.

Mr. Logan. I want to know that
the Congress of the United States has, for temporary
and necessary government in
the Territories, power to say what
shall constitute crime, and would be
justified in saying that the
public opinion in the different States had prescribed to be crime
should be crime in the Territories;
but as the question of crime
there is an absence of power on that
subject, except as derived from the
necessity for temporary government, would the Senator be aware of
the long, able and full argu-
ment of the power of Congress over
the Territories, which has exhausted
that subject. I will say to him that
the right of Congress to legislate
in that manner, that a man lives in polygamy,
that a man lives in polygamy,
upon conviction of crime, he shall
be punished, is a totally
different thing from the right of
Congress to legislate by law that
he shall be deprived of his right to
vote and his political power, be-
cause he lives or so thinks, with-
out conviction and trial, and the
positions on which our government
is based on which our system
of society rests is a declaration by
law of what shall constitute
crime, bearing, trial and conviction
by judicial power. Freedom of speech
and thought and action, except
when punished on conviction on
crime, is the political power of the
people, and the power of the Terri-
tory must be temporary, but its power
under the restraints of the Constitu-
tion to such acts when committed
and not by a political or religious
hierarchy prescribing opinion.

Mr. Logan. I want to know that
the Congress of the United States has, for temporary
and necessary government in
the Territories, power to say what
shall constitute crime, and would be
justified in saying that the
public opinion in the different States had prescribed to be crime
should be crime in the Territories;
but as the question of crime
there is an absence of power on that
subject, except as derived from the
necessity for temporary government, would the Senator be aware of
the long, able and full argu-
ment of the power of Congress over
the Territories, which has exhausted
that subject. I will say to him that
the right of Congress to legislate
in that manner, that a man lives in polygamy,
that a man lives in polygamy,
upon conviction of crime, he shall
be punished, is a totally
different thing from the right of
Congress to legislate by law that
he shall be deprived of his right to
vote and his political power, be-
cause he lives or so thinks, with-
out conviction and trial, and the
positions on which our government
is based on which our system
of society rests is a declaration by
law of what shall constitute
crime, bearing, trial and conviction
by judicial power. Freedom of speech
and thought and action, except
when punished on conviction on
crime, is the political power of the
people, and the power of the Terri-
tory must be temporary, but its power
under the restraints of the Constitu-
tion to such acts when committed
and not by a political or religious
hierarchy prescribing opinion.

Mr. Logan. I want to know that
the Congress of the United States has, for temporary
and necessary government in
the Territories, power to say what
shall constitute crime, and would be
justified in saying that the
public opinion in the different States had prescribed to be crime
should be crime in the Territories;
but as the question of crime
there is an absence of power on that
subject, except as derived from the
necessity for temporary government, would the Senator be aware of
the long, able and full argu-
ment of the power of Congress over
the Territories, which has exhausted
that subject. I will say to him that
the right of Congress to legislate
in that manner, that a man lives in polygamy,
that a man lives in polygamy,
upon conviction of crime, he shall
be punished, is a totally
different thing from the right of
Congress to legislate by law that
he shall be deprived of his right to
vote and his political power, be-
cause he lives or so thinks, with-
out conviction and trial, and the
positions on which our government
is based on which our system
of society rests is a declaration by
law of what shall constitute
crime, bearing, trial and conviction
by judicial power. Freedom of speech
and thought and action, except
when punished on conviction on
crime, is the political power of the
people, and the power of the Terri-
tory must be temporary, but its power
under the restraints of the Constitu-
tion to such acts when committed
and not by a political or religious
hierarchy prescribing opinion.

Mr. Logan. I want to know that
the Congress of the United States has, for temporary
and necessary government in
the Territories, power to say what
shall constitute crime, and would be
justified in saying that the
public opinion in the different States had prescribed to be crime
should be crime in the Territories;
but as the question of crime
there is an absence of power on that
subject, except as derived from the
necessity for temporary government, would the Senator be aware of
the long, able and full argu-
ment of the power of Congress over
the Territories, which has exhausted
that subject. I will say to him that
the right of Congress to legislate
in that manner, that a man lives in polygamy,
that a man lives in polygamy,
upon conviction of crime, he shall
be punished, is a totally
different thing from the right of
Congress to legislate by law that
he shall be deprived of his right to
vote and his political power, be-
cause he lives or so thinks, with-
out conviction and trial, and the
positions on which our government
is based on which our system
of society rests is a declaration by
law of what shall constitute
crime, bearing, trial and conviction
by judicial power. Freedom of speech
and thought and action, except
when punished on conviction on
crime, is the political power of the
people, and the power of the Terri-
tory must be temporary, but its power
under the restraints of the Constitu-
tion to such acts when committed
and not by a political or religious
hierarchy prescribing opinion.

Mr. Logan. I want to know that
the Congress of the United States has, for temporary
and necessary government in
the Territories, power to say what
shall constitute crime, and would be
justified in saying that the
public opinion in the different States had prescribed to be crime
should be crime in the Territories;
but as the question of crime
there is an absence of power on that
subject, except as derived from the
necessity for temporary government, would the Senator be aware of
the long, able and full argu-
ment of the power of Congress over
the Territories, which has exhausted
that subject. I will say to him that
the right of Congress to legislate
in that manner, that a man lives in polygamy,
that a man lives in polygamy,
upon conviction of crime, he shall
be punished, is a totally
different thing from the right of
Congress to legislate by law that
he shall be deprived of his right to
vote and his political power, be-
cause he lives or so thinks, with-
out conviction and trial, and the
positions on which our government
is based on which our system
of society rests is a declaration by
law of what shall constitute
crime, bearing, trial and conviction
by judicial power. Freedom of speech
and thought and action, except
when punished on conviction on
crime, is the political power of the
people, and the power of the Terri-
tory must be temporary, but its power
under the restraints of the Constitu-
tion to such acts when committed
and not by a political or religious
hierarchy prescribing opinion.

Mr. Logan. I want to know that
the Congress of the United States has, for temporary
and necessary government in
the Territories, power to say what
shall constitute crime, and would be
justified in saying that the