

DESPERATE FIGHT WITH TRAIN BANDITS

Two Detectives and One Suspect
Dead and Three Men Dangerously Wounded.

TOOK PLACE IN ST. LOUIS.

Men Whom It Was Sought to Arrest
Suspected of Implication in the Centralia Holdup.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 21.—Two city detectives are dead and another is not expected to live during the night, while one train robber suspect is at the morgue and two others are in the city hospital, one probably fatally wounded. The other badly beaten up, as the result of a desperate battle today between five officers and three men whom they tried to arrest.

THE DEAD.
John J. Shea, detective.
Al Rose, suspect.
Thomas Dwyer, detective.

THE WOUNDED.
James McClusky, detective, shot through stomach, critical.
C. C. Blair, detective, shot four times through body, critical.
Harry H. Vaughn, fugitive, badly hurt about head by detectives when he was about to aid his friends in the battle.

The fight occurred in the front room of a house on Pine street, and the men whom the detectives sought to arrest were suspected of being implicated in a train robbery at Centralia, Ill., a few weeks ago.

The house had been under police surveillance for several days, but today was the first time that any of the suspects was seen to enter or leave.

A few minutes before the fighting occurred Vaughn left the house and started to walk down Pine street. The detectives closed in on him and after he had gone some distance from the house he was arrested.

Accompanied by their prisoner, the detectives returned and entered the house. Shea, McClusky and Dwyer were leading. Boyd and James were behind with the prisoner.

Hardly had the detectives entered the room in which Rose and Blair were seated when they were met with a volley of shots from a heavy caliber gun. Shea sank to the floor and Dwyer followed almost immediately.

By that time the detectives had drawn their revolvers and there was a deafening exchange of shots for several seconds, each man pulling the trigger of his weapon as rapidly as possible.

During the excitement Vaughn attempted to escape from his captors and assist Rose and Blair. Boyd and James, however, clubbed their revolvers and beat their prisoner over the head until he was unconscious, and then went to the aid of Shea, Dwyer and McClusky, the latter having been slain by the machine gun.

One of the wounded detectives summoned an ambulance and the wounded officers and suspects were taken to the city hospital.

CRIME IN INDIAN TERRITORY.
Perpetrators of Assault on Col. Shepard to be Hunted Down.

Guthrie, Okla., Oct. 21.—As the result of the murderous assault, about 30 days ago, committed upon Col. Shepard, a member of the Choctaw townsite commission of the Indian Territory, accidentally coming to the knowledge of President Roosevelt, instructions have been received by Indian Territory officials directing them to immediately search out and punish the perpetrators of the crime. The assault was committed at Hartsboro, I. T., where Col. Shepard was attending a meeting of the commission preparatory to placing the lots on sale. There were no witnesses. J. C. Wilcox being the last seen with Col. Shepard. Efforts to connect Wilcox with the crime have so far proved futile.

The incident was not officially reported at the time and was incidentally mentioned by an Indian Territory man, being received this week by the president. Orders were at once issued from the White House instructing the department of justice and of Indian affairs to begin an exhaustive investigation.

Great Storm in Algeria.
Algeria, Algeria, Oct. 21.—A terrible storm burst over this region today. The river overflowed, sweeping away many houses. The loss of life is considerable, but the extent of the disaster is not known. The damage to property was enormous.

Capitalist Drops Dead.

PALACE OF PEACE.
Fund Will be Needed to Maintain the Hague Building.

The Hague, Oct. 21.—The powers signatory of the Hague peace convention are to be asked to form a fund of $100,000 for the maintenance of Andrew Carnegie's palace of peace. The cost of the building is estimated at about $200,000. It is understood that the interior will be modeled after the magnificent Palais de Justice at Brussels.

UTAH'S BIGGEST AUTO.
Now Being Set Up at the Short Line Depot—Property of C. F. Spaulding.

The biggest thing in automobiles yet to be shipped into Utah is a handsome Winton Quad, which arrived yesterday over the Oregon Short Line. It is now being set up at the depot, and Monday will make its appearance on the streets of the city. The machine is a 24-horsepower car, two feet longer than the biggest touring car now in the city.

A unique feature in its design is a side entrance door, instead of the usual rear entrance seen on the big machines here at present. The car lists at $3,500, and is built for heavy road use and cross country touring. The only car in the city at present rivaling it in beauty of build and motor power is Sam Newhouse's Pope mobile. However, Wallace Bradford is said to be contemplating the importation of a big car—probably a Peerless 24-horsepower, four cylinder machine, and friends of Col. E. P. Holmes say that he intends to bring a side-door Lamourine carriage back with him from his tour abroad this winter. The addition of these big machines to the 40 already operating in the city, will make automobiling a popular sport next season.

The machine which arrived yesterday is owned by Charles F. Spaulding, a well known mining engineer of this city.

UTAH YACHT CLUB.
One Was Organized at Geneva—Complete Crew Was Chosen.

At a meeting held at Geneva, Utah county, on Oct. 20, with Thomas Dallin acting as chairman, a yacht club was organized, to be known as the "Geneva Yacht Club," with the following officers: John Dallin of Springdale, commodore; Dr. George L. Smart of Springdale, captain; Oliver Stjosted of American Fork, first mate; Julian Jensen of Provo, second mate; John Hansen of Springville, purser. The home of the club will be at Geneva resort. A motion picture of the club was shown. A initiation fee be charged each member.

A committee of five, consisting of Commodore Dallin, Capt. Smart, Purser Hansen and Ship Master Thomas Dallin and Dr. Brown, was appointed to draft by-laws and rules, and report at a meeting to be held at Provo, Nov. 10, next.

Chairman Dallin, in a speech, explained that the object of the yacht club was to afford advantages to those seeking the pleasures of yachting, directing attention to the fact that Utah lake was one of the most beautiful bodies of water in the world, and with the safe harbor, splendid hotel and dance pavilion within a few steps of railroad accommodations, the club was bound to flourish. And in behalf of the yacht club, he gave a cordial invitation to all lovers of nautical sports to join in this laudable enterprise. The Geneva

NEWKIRK VS. NEWHOUSE.
"Jed," a New Record Breaker in the Automobile World, Driving His Famous Car "999."

The car is the speediest ever built, and was driven by Newkirk in world's record time of 32-5 in a mile straightaway, early this summer. Newkirk arrived in Salt Lake this morning, and tomorrow drives his car in a race at Calder's. His visit brings the first automobile racing car to Utah, and inaugurates the sport of auto-racing in this state.

This morning the young chauffeur called on Samuel Newhouse, and spent considerable time talking over the sport with him. Newhouse's Pope Toledo machine runs against Newkirk's auto in a handicap race tomorrow.

COL. WEBBER HOME.
Talks of the Wonders of the Great Exposition Which Delighted Him.

Colonel T. G. Webber has returned from his 10 days' trip to the world's fair, which he says well repaid him for the effort. The colonel says the fair is a wonderful educator, illustrating well the progress of civilization in the various departments of science, art, manufacture, agriculture, etc. He was particularly interested in the displays of textile fabrics which he pronounced the finest he ever saw. The French still manage to hold their own standards of excellence unsurpassed in the finer velvets, embroideries, ribbons and millinery; but in all the essentials of manufacture the American manufacturers are up with the foreign manufacturers. The display of silks from Paterson, N. J., were of remarkable beauty; and the cotton fabrics from the southern and New England mills were of special excellence. In machinery, too, Colonel Webber noted improvements that often excited his astonishment, and showed that the American manufacturer in this line is fully abreast of, if not superior to his European competitor.

The Salt Lake visitor gave careful attention to the mining exhibit, and says that nothing could compare with the Utah display which attracted general attention and a great deal of favorable comment. The machinery feature of the exhibit was especially valuable, with the tanks and settling vats of glass, so that the operations within could be easily seen. Everybody who saw that concentrating plant were delighted with it. Colonel Webber praised the electrical exhibits which showed most remarkable progress in that line of scientific development, and spent some time in examining the displays of the Westinghouse and General Electric companies. He visited the Philippine section of the exposition, which he pronounced an exposition of itself, and the bright, well dressed constabulary elicited his admiration. The general architectural features of the great fair were highly commended, and the colonel would advise every one who can possibly do so, to take time and visit that great exposition.

ARE BIG OYSTER EATERS.
Salt Lakers Are Heavy Consumers of The Bivalve Food Product.

That Salt Lake is a large consumer of oysters is evident from the fact that one local produce firm alone is receiving 100 gallons daily. A marked feature in the oyster carrying trade now is what is called the patent carrier system. This carries the bivalve the same as in its shell, without any ice water touching it, but with provision for ice being placed all around the immediate box holding the oysters. This arrangement is said to preserve indefinitely their health and flavor.

SEES MANY CHANGES.
Utah Pioneer Returns After an Absence of Many Years.

A Utah pioneer named Judson, who came to this territory with the 47 emigration, but moved on to California in 1852, has just returned to Salt Lake for a visit.

He recognizes the general topography of the country, and says the great mountains remain unchanged, but he doesn't recognize much else as having existed when he was here before. Mr. Judson lives in southern California.

BOY RAN AWAY.
Son of Widow Gleason Draws Money And Skips Out.

Mrs. Gleason, widow of Amassa Gleason, the streetcar man murdered by Shockey, reported to the police this morning that her 15-year-old son Merrill had run away from home, and she feared he was on his way to San Francisco.

She said that the boy had been working here in the city for some time, and that he drew his wages last night and left town about 8:30 this morning.

Mrs. Gleason is greatly worried over the matter and asked the police to do what they could to stop the boy.

The police department at Ogden was notified, and was given an accurate description of the boy, and it is believed he will be taken into custody there and brought back to this city.

WILLUMSEN ON MONDAY.
Accused Says Publication Was a Mistake and That He Is Sorry.

The case of the United States against Editor Willumsen of the Murray American Eagle for violation of the postal laws, comes up before Commissioner Twomey for preliminary hearing Monday at 2 o'clock. Editor Willumsen, it is claimed by his friends, regrets as much as anyone the publication of the offensive article in his paper, and will make no attempt at defense except on the grounds that it was printed without his knowledge, and during his absence from the office on account of illness. He depends on his long record as editor of the paper, free from any tendency toward vulgarity, to clear him from this charge. He refers to the matter in an editorial in his paper as "an unintentional mistake" that has given his enemies a chance to "jump on him with both heels." In the same editorial he denies having made remarks about the American party, as the source of the case against him, or having authorized his attorney to speak for him in the matter. His closing sentence is a threat in which he says: "We will have more to say about this matter later on. Don't get impatient." What he will have to say, it is thought, will be directed against a complaining witness, who once ran against him for the office of mayor of Murray, and was defeated by a third candidate.

SALISBURY IS MARRIED.
Former Weather Clerk in Salt Lake Here With Bride.

Weather Director George N. Salisbury of the government office at Seattle is in town today with his bride, en route back to the coast from a world's fair trip. Mr. Salisbury was the sergeant in charge of the Salt Lake office in 1896, when the service was connected with the war department, and was succeeded by Director Smith, who in turn was followed by Mr. Murdoch. Mr. Salisbury is much pleased with the development of the northwest.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.
Mrs. Parratt Thought Desk Sergeant Was a Bartender.

Mrs. Parratt, a character well known to the police of Salt Lake, called at the station and "registered" at noon today. She was given an escort to headquarters by Officer Charley Evans, and was hailed from the west gate of the Temple grounds in the patrol wagon.

Mrs. Parratt was distinctly not "on the water wagon," a fact made plainly evident by the further fact that she mistook Desk Sergeant Smith for a bartender, and asked the officer if he would not kindly let her have 10 cents worth of whisky.

Then singing softly she was gently led to the woman's ward in the drunk house, where she will remain until her brain is cleared to the extent that she can distinguish the city jail from a saloon.

AFTER IDAHO CONVICT.
Got Away With Handcuffs on, but Probably Got Rid of Them.

C. S. Ferrin, warden of the Idaho state penitentiary, is a visitor in Salt Lake today. He is out in search of an escaped convict named Harry Dougherty, who broke away from his keepers at the Idaho prison while at work in the stone quarry, and was afterwards apprehended in Las Vegas.

Warden Ferrin says that Dougherty is a clever man at jail breaking, and it is due to his skill in that line that his capture has not been effected. When caught at Las Vegas he was taken to Caliente, and placed in jail to await the coming of Warden Perrin. The warden left at once upon receipt of the news of his capture, but had to go by a round about way to Carson to get the proper requisition papers. When he arrived at Caliente, the man had made his escape from the jail in a most novel manner. With a pair of handcuffs on his hands he had succeeded in loosening a nail from a slop bucket which stood in the cell. With this weapon he had gouged out the cement and lime from a stone in the prison wall, and had finally removed enough stone and cement to crawl out, and make his escape.

The warden said this morning, when asked if he had any trace of the man yet: "Yes, we have, and I expect to locate him very shortly. When he escaped from the Caliente jail, he had on a pair of handcuffs, but I suppose he had no trouble in getting rid of them, as the country down there is full of new hunting for him on the trails leading into Goldfield, as it is supposed that he headed in that direction across country. He is about 25 years old, stoop shouldered, weighs about 160 pounds, has a sallow complexion, grey eyes, dark hair, and has a slight dimple on his chin. While at Caliente I met a railroad detective from Ogden, who said that the man was wanted there for a burglary committed before the offense for which he was arrested in Idaho. A daring robbery occurred near Caliente since he escaped, and he probably is guilty of that crime, too. There is a standing reward of $50 offered by the state for the apprehension of escaped convicts, and I should have endeavored to have a larger reward offered in this case had the governor of Idaho not been absent when I left."

Warden Perrin is in touch by wire with the officers searching for Dougherty, and hopes to receive favorable reports from them in the near future.

HARLOW S. BURCH, BINGHAM JUNCTION, UTAH.

Now after waiting so long I am positive my cure is complete and permanent, and I voluntarily add my word of praise to the skill of these great specialists. I will be pleased to tell anyone interested more about my wonderful cure." (Signed) HARLOW S. BURCH, Bingham Junction, Utah.

Miss Sadie Peterson says: "I have suffered for three years with a terrible Stomach trouble, which nothing seemed to help. I could not eat anything without distress, felt like I had lead in my stomach, was short of breath, my heart pained me, and I had constant and severe headaches."

"Two months ago I came to Drs. Shores, and began their treatment. In two weeks I felt better—since then I have steadily improved—gained twelve pounds in weight, and today I can eat what I want to, without distress, and feel all right in every way. The relief has been so wonderful that I must give Drs. Shores credit for their splendid work, and I am feeling better today than I have for years. Gratefully, (Signed) "MISS SADIE PETERSON."
