One of the large events of the week was the Kensington given by Mrs. O. C. Beebe and Mrs. H. T. McEwen at the home of the former on G street. Large flags were stretched from the verandas to the trees as screens while numerous divans, easy chairs and cosy corners made a large reception place of the extensive lawn. The house inside was brilliant with flowers, crimson roses, pink roses and marigolds in the parlor and library. Over 50 guests were present.

A beautiful buffet luncheon was that given by Mrs. Winnifred S. Walker at her country home, Idlewild, last Wednesday, in honor of Miss Beatrice Cheesman. The guests were conveyed from town in automobiles, and upon their arrival were greeted by a scene of fairy-like enchantment. Flowers were everywhere, the rooms being artistically decorated in nasturtiums, California poppies, roses and pansies. On the picturesque verandas, luncheon was served at 1:30. Mrs. J. R. Walker poured coffee. Mrs. Ray Walker, Mrs. M. J. Cheesman and Mrs. Sprague assisted. Punch was served on the veranda by Misses Margie Walker and Mabel McClure. One of the novel features of the entertainment was the guests being given carte blanche to gather the profusion of fruits and flowers in the grounds.

A wedding of unusual interest was that of Miss Teresa Taylor and Joel Nibley, which took place in the temple last Tuesday morning. Following the ceremony an informal reception and luncheon for the families and a few friends took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor, on north State street. The bride wore a white dress with white roses, her traveling dress a handsome tan broadcloth with hat and long plumes to match. Mr. and Mrs. Nibley left in an automobile for Ogden and from thence took the train for the east, where they will visit the principal cities, the Jamestown exposition and later Europe. They will be at home on their return at 35 east North Temple street.

Last Tuesday evening an informal musicale was tendered Mrs. Kate Biddlewell Anderson at the home of Mrs. Charles H. Bodel by the Daughters of the Confederacy, of which order Mrs. Anderson is one of the oldest members. Nasturtiums and sweet peas were used in the decoration of the reception room while the diningroom was bright in the national colors, the table napery being of flags, large and small. Those who served were Mrs. J. M. Silvers, Mrs. Logan, Miss Nellie Hasbrouck and Miss Lucy Herdel. Mrs. W. D. Prosser and Mrs. R. A. Broadhurst assisted in receiving. A most enjoyable literary and musical program was given.

The largest dancing party of the week was given by Mrs. F. A. Ellis, 74 North First West on Wednesday evening. The wide lawn shaded by great trees were illuminated by colored electric lights and Japanese lanterns, rugs, easy chairs and divans made cosy resting places, while back of the east hedge a large dancing floor was laid large enough for five sets. The priestesses of the punch bowl were found in a pretty flag booth on the north lawn; inside the house flowers were everywhere, the diningroom in green and white, a pyramid of white flowers reaching to the chandeliers was in the center of the table, from which festoon of berries reached to the corners. The electric lights were shaded with large green leaves, lending a pretty effect. The hall was in red roses, the parlor in sweet peas, the library in pansies. Christensen's orchestra played, about 200 enjoying the dancing.

SHONTS GIVES DAUGHTERS SIX RULES FOR SELECTING A HUSBAND.

Theodore P. Shonts, who whipped the Panama canal situation into shape, and who is now up to his eyes in the work of unravelling the street transit problem in New York City, has his view on marriage. The views which he says has impressed on the minds of his three charming daughters were outlined in a recent interview in the form of six "don'ts." They are:

1. Don't marry merely because you fall in love.
2. Don't marry a man without an aim—a definite aim.
3. Don't marry a man who places undue importance upon dress, or looks, or position, or any superficial thing.
4. Don't marry a man for his looks.
5. Don't select a man who belittles your ability to help and inspire him.
6. Don't marry a man who lacks force of character.

In view of the fact that there is a persistent rumor that one of his daughters, Theodora, is to wed the Duke de Chaulnes, Mr. Shonts' "don'ts" have a timely interest. In the picture Miss Theodora is shown on the left.
