WHAT ARE NECESSITIES?

"The Learned is Happy Nature to Explore, The Fool is Happy That He Knows no Mors." POPE.

NO. 1. MONKEY. NO. 2. MISSING LINK. NO. 3. MAN.

Personal Bulletin.

Extravagant luxury for one may be an absolute necessity for another. It depends on what you aim at. What would an ape care about opportunities to improve his mind? The want MAN means to THINK, which is the opposite from BEAST. Thus, we cannot classify No. 2, as he does not look like a BEAST, and does not think like a MAN. We must call him the "missing link." If you are a man you think. If you think you are constantly coming in contact with questions. If you supply yourself with the correct answers to these questions you become a success in life, and you honor yourself and your family. This is true no matter what your calling. If you answer your questions you must do it right when the question comes up, so it will be a pleasure, and you can not forget it. This is true education. If you answer your questions when they come up, and answer them correctly, you must have the best Encyclopedia in print right in your home. The whole world is agreed that the Encyclopedia Britannica is the best in print. THE NEWS edition of this great "NECESSITY" is brought down to date and supplied on terms which could not be expected from people in the book business; but our pride is to supply the best newspaper in the territory, and we sustain the enormous expense and perform the vast amount of labor necessary to give these books to our friends simply to broaden and deepen the interest in education, and to extend our acquaintance among the children of today, who are to be the men and women of the future.

The great work of 25 Volumes, contains 22,500 Pages, 10,000 Illustrations, 671 Maps and Plans costing $30,000 to produce; New, Large Type, Wide Margin, and is Printed on a Fine Quality of Paper, and is Elegantly and Substantially Bound with Flexible Back. The lettering is genuine gold leaf. It is an actual fact that this book is more strongly bound than the expensive, which is sold at $3 per volume.
