THEATRE.—There was a good house at the Theatre on Saturday evening, to witness the first presentation of the new Irish drama of, "The Blithe of the Moon." The play is one of Irish melodrama and contains the usual amount of exaggerated glorification of the Irish character and cause, it has also a fair amount of stirring incident, a very large proportion of mechanical scenes, some displays of wit, though occasionally marred by an ancient and forcible humor, and diverse opportunities for the manager's and his company's spiritual acting. A first performance is usually a fair offering of a play, and the critics said that Irish worship, so very fervid in some parts of the Union, never has been at fever heat in Salt Lake City, and therefore a heroic Irish drama of the common highly colored type might not be expected to be received so enthusiastically here as in some other cities. But nevertheless, in some small degree, Mr. Dargan played with great earnestness and power, although with prudence of the part she who appears in her representation of "Kathleen Desmond." Messrs. Cogswell and Marden played "Col. Desmond" and "Major Lindsay" with much neatness, although the former was occasionally too stagey in his style of declamation. Mr. Thorpe was a perfect villain in "Ally McGowen," Miss Adams and Mr. Harris as "Molly Malone" and "Pat O'Brien" did the comic part of the business. The John Donahue Company were better than the role themselves here. Mr. Teasdale as "General Desmond" deserves commendation. The glass scenes was startlingly effective.

The play, "Blind Tom," gives one of his wonderful and powerful voices. It is presumed that everybody will want to see him. "We shall be there and look for you" as the Methodist hymn says of a better world.

The old favorite comedian, Mr. P. Mergott, will take his benefit in a new play, on Saturday evening.

MESSAGES AT THE W. U. Telegraph office for John A. Green, James Eells, and E. O'Reilly; H. F. McCarty, Louis Levitt, and Jas. Graye.

STEREOTYPING.—Brother Richard Mathews, an employee of this office, has recently been made a master stereotyper, and his efforts have been so far crowned with success that he has produced three specimens which are far superior to those previously made, and can be taken from the market. He has accomplished this with the incomplete arrangements at his command, it is reasonable to expect that excellent specimens will be the result of future experiments when he shall have more satisfied means of operation. His efforts will be a credit to the鼻and will have the credit of being the pioneer of that branch in Utah. The hand stereotyping machine with which Brother Mathews has been at work is owned by and connected with this office, and he believes there are some other arrangements not yet completed connected with stereotyping that are necessary before an entirely satisfactory result can be obtained.

NOR SO HAWK.—It has been thought, on account of the large deposits of snow which fell in the mountains during the past winter, and even in the Spring, that the floods would be out in considerable volume this summer. Those who, from long residence in the Territory, should be informed with regard to such matters, now express the opinion that they will not be extensive as usual. They arrive at this conclusion on the basis of the weather in the Spring, the process of melting of the snow being consequently gradual thus far and preventing floods, so amount to anything, up to the present.

THREE WOMEN.—A gentleman called on Saturday and requested us to advise where the attention of the proprietors of orchards to those trees in certain localities which were hauled out in consequence of the fall of the trees. He says some people are verbal to clear their orchards of those insects, but they find it impossible to keep them in that condition as the "pests" travel from the trees of adjoining orchards, the owners of which are less careful than themselves, thus making the labor of the others of no avail. If any person, if possible, can save their trees from these worms, or if not the sake of their neighbors, for whom their own sons at least.

SUNDAY, yesterday, was one of the warmest of the season.

ACCIDENT.—We regret to learn that as Lieutenant George Jordan, who was going from Salt Lake to Laramie, last evening, was accidentally thrown out of the wagon in which he was sitting, into a ditch. He received a rather severe injury in the right leg, but, luckily, no bones were broken.

BOGES' ADVERTISING.—A lady resident of this city sends us a communication, in which she asks for information, through the news, as to whether there is any law providing for the punishment of parties who use walls, fences and other property not belonging to themselves, as mediums through which to do their advertising. We believe that we published the fact before that there was an ordinance bearing directly on this matter, but, whether we did or not, there can be no doubt that the law, and for the benefit of those whose interests are balanced by parties who take this not very reputable method of advertising their business, as well as for the benefit of the last-named class, the twenty-first section of an Ordinance Relating to Crimes and Punishments is herewith given.

"Any person, who shall print, paint, write, nail, or in any way set up any notice, easement, or other notice upon any wall, fence, tree, post, building or other property, or cause the same to be done without the permission of the owner or occupant of the property, or of any agent or servant of said owner, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty dollars, or to imprisonment not exceeding twenty days, to both fines and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court.

It is to be hoped that those who take the liberty to disfigure other people's property in the manner above described will be compelled to desist. There has been a great deal of advertising done lately in various parts of this city, and from the forward advance of some individuals in this line, it would scarcely be unreasonable to expect that the next step would be to get up behind pedestrians and stick small dodgers or bats into their coats.

Those who feel aggrieved at having their property disfigured in this manner will now see that they have a remedy, which they can apply.

The grass is leaving out nicely and the young grain is springing up, but some warm soaking showers would be welcome, agriculturally speaking.
