It is to be regretted that some of the most able teachers cannot be retained for another term; some are retiring from the profession and oth-ers are seeking new fields of labor. A general program was carried out on the last day of school, under the direction of Principal B. F. Larsen. The meeting-house was filled to overflowing in the forenoon with the four lower grades and parents and the afternoon was occupied by the four upper grades. Songs, recita-tions, etc., were the order of the day, and short addresses by County Supt. P. W. Jensen and Trusters J. M. Larsen, Wm. A. Warmeck and Walter Jones. Between 300 and 400 students were made happy on receiving their certificates of promotion. SCHOOL BOND ELECTION.

This meeting of ex-champions will furnish food for much specuation as it will give the "dope" art. 1878 a chance to do some figuring and show that because Jones beat Brown, Robinson should win over Smith. Britt and McGovern fought Nelson. The former got a hair line decision over the latter, and obsequently Nelson handed James Edward an anesthetic and then walloped McGovern all over the Queens-bury enclosure.

The Britt-McGovern match is a good one The Britt-McGovern match is a good one from many angles. In creverness the Na-tive Bon andcubtedly has it on the Brook-lynite, but the latter has Britt beaten a country block when it comes to punch-ing. McGovero has a slam-bang style about him that has a tendency to take all the cleverness out of an opponent. Ten rounds is a pretty good distance for the pair to go and should be sufficient to definitely settle the question of superior-ity.

We venture the opinion that the fight will be a lively one, and that if there is a knock out McGoveru will take the goods. Otherwise, Britt will most likely win 'on points', just as he has won all bls important 'battles.' Britt does not carry a sleep-producer with him, but when little Terry was tearing through the 'fenthers' he rocked them to slumber with punches that came so thick and fast it looked as if it were rathing gloves. Terry still has a hard punch and he can-bod change his style of milling. The fight should be a big money maker. No two boxers now before the public have proved, better drawing cards than this pair. Britt and McGovern. Recall the big houses in 'Frisco when James Ed-ward was billed for a fiesta event.
