THEATRE.—On Friday evening J. R. Marshall & Co's Royal Tyeon Troupe of Japanese from the Royal Tyeon Theatre at Osaka will commence a brief series of performances, and on Saturday will give a matinee at two o'clock.

GRAND CONCERT.—We have received a complimentary to the grand concert at the Institute this evening.

BANK CIRCULAR.—We have received the monthly circular of the banking house of Henry Clegg & Co., U. S. Treasury Building, 32 Wall St., New York.

STRAINING UP.—A dispatch from Stockholm last night says:

"Got up steam in H. S. Jacobs' & Co's. works today. The engine ran well; the first sound of the whistle this evening."

THE NATIONAL NORMAL MUSICAL INSTITUTE.—under the direction of the well-known composer and teacher, Geo. F. Root, we understand, is holding a largely-attended and successful session at the Chicago University, Chicago, Ill.

THE TWENTY-FOURTH is past and gone, and we can spare no more room for reports of its celebration. A report from H. A. Wallace, Goshen, comes this morning. We can only say that the celebration there consisted of guilting, music, procession, oration, speeches, songs, recitations, dance in the afternoon for juveniles and in the evening for adults.

"THE MAN OF DESTINY" The People's Candidate for President, the irrepressible George Francis, recently sent his card from New Orleans, and now he sends it from Sioux City, with a chunk of the Sioux City weekly Times chock full of Translators. George seems to be going on his campaign through the nation like a comet. With all his peculiarities there might be far worse Presidents than G. F. T. would make.

THE LAND OWNER for July, J. M. Wing & Co., Chicago. This is a 16 page quarto monthly, a journal devoted to the interests of real estate, building, and improvement. It is liberally illustrated with excellent wood cuts of new blocks and other buildings in Chicago, the finest of which is Hamlin, Hale & Co's wholesale dry goods house, a truly magnificent pile. The next in appearance, and nearly as imposing is the grocer's block or Donahue building. Both of the above are five-story buildings, betokening the live, enterprising, and energetic spirit in which the city of the Lakes is being rebuilt.

SELF-LOADING EXCAVATOR.—Mr. W. J. Hackney, of Mount Pleasant, Iowa, has imported into this territory, and has now in this city, one of Stussor's Self-Loading Excavators—a machine which we think would be very useful in some of our settlements, and which could be purchased and used advantageously on the co-operative plan. The Excavator can be used for excavating water ditches, grading railroads and any work of a similar kind where the soil does not contain large gravel. The box of the machine contains one cubic yard of earth, which it will dig and load in fifteen seconds, and by simply using a lever the dirt is dumped out in a moment. The machine is about 15 feet long and 16 feet wide, and can work the Excavator, it is so simple in construction and so perfectly under control. The cost of the machine—Messrs. H. S. H. & Co., Sidney, O.—is only $225. Mr. A. M. Burns, of San Francisco, is the owner of the patent for the several Western States and Territories. We learned from Mr. Hackney that he sold twelve of the machines in Colorado, and that he has received orders for the same number in this city, which are to be used for railroad grading and cutting irrigation ditches. Mr. Hackney is staying at the Valley House, and any further information on the subject can be obtained by applying to him.

Total interments 50. JOSEPH E. TAYLOR, Sexton.

ACCIDENT.—Last Sunday, as the freight train of the U. P. R. passed Harrisville, ascending the steep grade, where it was necessary to slacken speed, some boys jumped upon the rear car. Among them was Harvey W. Woodcock, a lad of about 11 years, who, failing to grasp the railing, was hurled off the track, and his thigh seriously injured. Dr. S. R. Woodworth was summoned to his aid, and through his skill, young Woodcock has been saved from a premature grave, and is now doing well. —Ogden Junction, July 31.

WASHINGTON.—R. F. Gould, reporter, sends a report of the doings of the 24th at Washington, Washington Co. The distance the communication has come must be the apology for publishing its contents at this late date.

The day was celebrated there by artillery salute under direction of Captain H. H. Herriman, music by the brass band led by Prof. George Staley. At 8 a. m. a procession directed by Marshal J. E. Pace, from the Bowery, through the principal streets, and back again, when, after prayer, by the chaplain, Samuel A. Orr, came an oration by W. H. Crawford, Order of a day, followed by speeches, interspersed with songs, recitations, band music and choir and glee singing. The afternoon and evening were spent in dancing.

Committee of Arrangements.—Francis Rogers, T. J. Clark, S. N. Adair, Emily H. Ford, Mary G. Ford.

TELEGRAMS at the Deseret Telegraph Office for M. C. Hillier, J. F. Evans, Charles Pixley, A. G. Innes, Geo. O. Britter, T. Weller, E. A. Wall, Thos. Williams.

THE KETTHELY-PENROSE ASSAULT CASE.—This case came up before Justice Clinton at 12 o'clock today.

Mr. Penrose was the first examined. He gave a plain, straightforward account of the attack made on him last Saturday by Kethley, his version of the affair being similar in substance to what has appeared in the News concerning it. He testified that he was still suffering from the effects of the blows he received.

The head of the case used by Kethley in the assault was introduced in Court and identified by the witnesses. It was a heavy, knobby, mountain mahogany. The coat which Mr. Penrose wore when the attack was made on him, and which had some large rents in it, was introduced as evidence.

The witness then was examined by Judge Morgan, counsel for the defense. The name of Kethley had appeared in the Junction in an advertisement, which had never been paid for; also in another advertisement, signed by a number of citizens requesting Kethley to deliver a lecture in Ogden on the "advantages and disadvantages of burning." The persons who had the advertisement inserted paid for it, and were responsible for the same.

The defense then asked the witness whether the latter had written anything that appeared in a paper on a certain date, calling it a person's "B.L.K." Witness did not recollect whether such word had appeared in an article or not; if the article referred to was produced he would be able to answer the question definitely. The prisoner then wrote out some language purporting to have been a part of the article alluded to, and witness said he recollected something of the kind appearing in the paper, that he either wrote the article or dictated it after it was written. He believed he was responsible for what appeared in the paper. He believed the article alluded to referred to Kethley, because he thought it corresponded with his character. Another article had appeared of a similar character.

Mr. Morgan wanted to know whether the witness was much hurt, the answer being in the affirmative. Mr. Morgan intimated that he thought the case used in the affair would not hurt him much, and then held up his (Mr. Morgan's) stick saying: Do you think this would hurt you if you were struck with it in a certain position? Witness—"I think it would, and if you wish me to illustrate it on yourself I can do so."

Mr. Morgan—"I would want you to give me a chance back."

Witness—"I would give you a better chance than Kethley gave me. I would not strike a cowardly blow."

Mr. J. D. Ross testified to seeing Mr. Penrose on the ground and Kethley on top of him pounding him with his fist, and to taking Kethley away.

Mr. Smith saw Kethley strike Mr. Penrose repeated blows with a cane and, when the cane was broken, rush upon the latter and knock him down.

Mr. Penrose also testified to seeing Mr. Penrose and Kethley on the ground and the latter striking the former with his fist.

Mr. Hoge waived the opening argument in the case and Mr. Morgan read some language purporting to have been in an article in the Junction, and argued that the language used was calculated to make anybody angry. It would make Penrose angry. He said he could not justify Kethley in technically breaking the law, but under the circumstances the court should be as lenient as possible. He thought that both parties had broken the law, and that in overstepping the rules of journalism, by making a personal journalistic attack on Kethley, and the defendant in making a physical attack on the former.

Mr. Hoge said the history of the case was a peculiar one. He (Mr. Hoge) because he discharged his duty as public prosecutor, had been accused by the defendant of persecution in the case, and he had also been insulted by one of the counsel for the defense, by similar insinuations, the source from which the latter insinuations emanated was, however, too small for his notice.

Mr. Hoge sustained the part of the prosecution in an able argument. He showed, from the evidence, that Kethley did not commit the assault in the heat of passion, but the act was done coolly and deliberately. Justice Clinton reviewed the evidence, and then consulted with Justice Felt in relation to the decision, which was that the defendant be fined $100.

Notice was given of appeal, the bonds being fixed at $400.

RUN OVER.—A Dutchman after delivering a quantity of meat at the 12th Ward meat market this morning, was thrown out of his wagon and both wheels passed over his right shoulder. His injuries were not very severe. The team, which ran away, was caught and held by Brother Charles Sansome, and Mr. J. D. Ross, who was near the spot where the accident occurred, picked up the prostrate Dutchman and assisted him into the wagon, and he was able to drive off without assistance.

CHANGED HANDS.—The City Corporation have disposed of their retail stock of Liquors and Wines to Mr. T. F. H. Morton.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Brother Samuel L. Pike, writes from Almy P.O., near Evanston, U. P. R. R., July 29th:

"I regret to inform you that we have had two deaths here, on Saturday, the 27th inst., the only son of Bro. John and Sister Martha Hopkins, in his 17th year, was brought home, crushed to pieces. He descended from the top of a box car, loaded with coal, in order to make a complaint. The car was in motion and, by some means, he fell. His head was, I believe, the only part that escaped injury. The medical man in attendance rendered assistance, and Dr. Anderson, of Salt Lake City, was telegraphed for. Long before he reached here, however, the boy was dead. He survived only a few hours after the accident. His sufferings were very great, but he bore them with noble fortitude. He was a dutiful son and his loss is deeply deplored by all who knew him."

"The other death was that of Daniel Street, aged 38 years, son of Thomas and Mary Street. He was injured in the coal mines here some months ago, and had complained ever afterwards of severe pain. He had just recovered from an illness caused by the injuries above referred to, and, on Sunday, the 21st inst., was re-baptized. On the 24th he was out enjoying himself among the hay-makers, and on the 26th he died. He was a truly good boy and he is deeply mourned by his family and friends."

"These sad events have cast a gloom over our community here."
