GENERAL.

NEW YORK, 18.—The report of the increase of smallpox in this city begins to excite alarm. The number of cases have increased from sixty-eight to seventy-six. The disease seems to be confined to no section. Vaccination is rapidly progressing, but among the lower classes of Germans, who object to vaccination, the contagion makes the most marked ravages.

CHICAGO, 18.—The 29th annual commencement of the Rush Medical College was held last evening. Seventy-seven graduates received diplomas. Among the graduates were John Gardner, of Yolo county, California.

The city council held a meeting last night to take action on the proposed fire ordinance. A large force of police were in attendance to prevent the recurrence of the disgraceful scenes of Monday night, when the council was broken up by a mob of opponents to the extension of the fire limits.

A message was received from the Mayor, reviewing the facts of the riot and stating that he had requested the State attorney to bring them before the grand jury, that leaders in particular and all others who can be identified as participating may be dealt with in accordance with law. He adverted to one man, who was reported to be a ring leader in the affair, and recommended an investigation of his case by a committee. He assured the council that they should be upheld in the discharge of their duties, and the peace and good order of the city maintained at any cost, and if the police force was insufficient, the military power of the State would be promptly invoked, and pledging himself that any ordinance, whether it covered much or little ground, would be enforced.

The New York Herald's special contains a startling development with reference to the criminal court of that city, on which is known as the Court of Oyer and Terminer. It seems that a case is now pending in the Court of Appeals, the decision of which may set free every man now undergoing imprisonment, in accordance with a sentence by the former tribunal, since 1853. This court has been presided over by a Judge of the Supreme Court, sitting at one, but it transpires that the act of that year was repealed by the charter of 1870, leaving the constitution of the court of Oyer and Terminer to be determined by the act of 1847, which provided for a supreme judge and two associate judges. This curious state of things is given additional interest by the fact that if the criminal court is decided to be illegal, the indictment of Stokes by the grand jury impanneled and charged by that is powerless. It is claimed that this would grant immunity from any punishment for his crime.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, 15.—A movement is on foot to raise subscriptions for a monument to Dr. Jenner, the discoverer of vaccination, at his birth place.

The hearing of the Tichborne case was resumed to-day. Sir John Duke Coleridge opened for the defence. He said the testimony to be offered would show the claimant was a conspirator, perjurer, forger, in fact a common impostor and villain, and that Baigent and Carter, his accomplices, were simply unscrupulous and concerters of this stupendous imposture. The speech of the distinguished counsel was received by a crowded court with applause, which was immediately suppressed.

The counsel read a number of letters to show that the real Sir Roger Tichborne was a refined gentleman, the very opposite of claimant, and announced he would call among the witnesses for the defense a nobleman who had tattooed the genuine Sir Roger; and would also produce upon the stand the cousin of Sir Roger, Madame Radcliffe, who would swear to the fact that the claimant told a falsehood in asserting he had ever had illicit intercourse with her.

LONDON, 16.—While a meeting of loyalists was being held, to-night, at the Wellington Barracks, in Knightsbridge, a portion of a mob broke into the hall and behaved in an outrageous manner. They expelled the chairman of the assembly and demolished the platform and furniture. Though the policemen were gathered outside, they made no effort to prevent this behavior of the rioters, who held possession of the room for an hour, when the gas was turned off. They then retired, singing the Marseillaise.

SENSELESS CLAMOR.

About this time every year look out for a sound and general berating of the Union Pacific railroad for its lack of ability to abrogate all the laws of nature. Possibly the management of the road is not all that is claimed for it on the one hand, but it is certainly not all that is charged against it on the other. The popular impression would seem to be that the road is run in the sole interest of pure suicidal fiendishness. Its intemperate traducers appear not to have time to reflect that in all the detentions to which it is subject, it is itself the worst sufferer, and is therefore more largely and directly interested in avoiding or overcoming them than its few hundreds of delayed passengers, or even the community of which they form a part. Whatever money and foresight can do to prevent the snow blockade, the managers of the road have a direct personal and pecuniary interest in doing. It is, therefore, not probable that they would lightly overlook, or have lightly overlooked, the necessity of providing means for keeping the road open. But few consider the difficulty of the task presented. Along the entire line from Omaha to Ogden there is scarcely a tree. The tremendous expense of ties for its construction is but a bagatelle compared with what the outlay would be in order to erect a system of snow-sheds that would adequately protect the track. There is not a railway in the world that could afford to build such a length of costly works, or rather a length proportioned to its own length. As for snow-jenies, they never could be so constructed as to prevent the blocking of the road on the wind-swept plains. The complaint is made that the road is not equipped with snow-plows. This is obviously untrue; it has, according to the unanimous testimony of passengers, scores of these appliances. The difficulty is, that except in the first snow-falls, they are of but little use. They throw up banks of snow on each side of the track to a height even overtopping the cars. These pack and freeze into immovable masses, and all that falls between them must lie there; no appliance yet invented can lift it out. To this cause are owing most of the detentions of trains. In short, the managers of the Union Pacific are merely human, working by human means to overcome superhuman difficulties. We owe to them patience and encouragement, rather than intemperate censure and railery. The readiness of resource and wealth of expedient always exhibited by outsiders when any one is trying to manage a refractory horse or a wild steer, and their general imbecility when required to control their own cattle, ought to teach us to distrust the fault-finding of passengers, the growls of disappointed merchants and the scolding of the press. The true solution of this storm-blockade problem lies in the construction of a road through a less inhospitable climate. —[S. F. News Letter.

Are indorsed and prescribed by more leading Physicians than any other tonic or stimulant now in use. They are a SURE PREVENTIVE for Fever and Ague, Intermittents, Biliousness, and all disorders arising from miasmatic causes. They are highly recommended as an anti-dyspeptic, and in cases of indigestion are invaluable as an Appetizer and Recuperant, and in cases of General Debility they have never in a single instance failed in producing the most happy results. They are particularly BENEFICIAL TO FEMALES, strengthening the body, invigorating the mind and giving tone and elasticity to the whole system. The HOME BITTERS are compounded with the greatest care, and no Tonic Stimulant has ever been offered to the public SO PLEASANT TO THE TASTE, and at the same time combining so many remedial agents, indorsed by the medical fraternity as the best known to the Pharmacopoeia. It costs little to give them a fair trial, and

Every Family should have a Bottle.

We ask every one to read the following Certificates from many of the most eminent physicians in the country: ST. LOUIS, July 1870.—JAMES A. JACKSON & CO., Gentlemen.—As you have communicated to the medical profession the recipe of the "Home Bitters," it can not therefore be considered as a secret or patent medicine, no patent having been taken for it. We have examined the formula for making the "Home Bitters," and unhesitatingly say the combination is one of rare excellence, all the articles used in its composition are the best of the class to which they belong, being highly Tonic, Stimulant, Stomachic, Carminative and slightly Laxative. The mode of preparing them is strictly in accordance with the rules of pharmacy. Having used them, soon its effect in our private practice, we take pleasure in recommending them to all persons desirous of taking Bitters, as being the best Tonic and Stimulant ever offered to the public.

L. CH. BOISLINIERE, M. D. F. G. PORTER, M. D. ALFRED HEDCOCK, M. D. C. GERRICK, M. D. DRAKE McDOWELL, M. D. C. A. WANK, M. D. J. C. WHITKILL, M. D. E. A. CLARK, M. D. DR. C. W. F. LUBWIG. S. G. MOSE, M. D. W. L. CHICK, M. D. EDWARD FARRAR. U. S. MARINE HOSPITAL, St. Louis, Mo. Oct. 8, 1870.—JAS. A. JACKSON & Co.; I have examined the formula for making the "Home Bitters," and used them in the Hospital for the last four months. I consider them the most valuable tonic and stimulant now in use.

ST. LOUIS, July 6, 1870.—JAS. A. JACKSON & Co.; Having examined the formula from which your celebrated "Home Bitters" are prepared, and having witnessed the method of combining the different ingredients, we can safely recommend them as the best tonic with which we are acquainted. From the great care with which they are compounded, and from the choice materials which enter into them, we have no doubt that they will prove, as they deserve to be, the most popular tonic and stimulant in use. Respectfully yours,

T. J. VASTINE, M. D. T. G. COMSTOCK, M. D.

We cheerfully concur with every word contained in the above testimonial. JOHN CONZELMANN, M. D. JOHN HARTMAN, M. D. CHAS. VASTINE, M. D. JOHN T. TEMPLE, M. D. G. S. WALKER, M. D. E. C. FRANKLIN, M. D. CINCINNATI, Oct. 19th, 1870.—Messrs. W. B. KENNEDY & Co., Agents "Home Bitters"; Gentlemen.—Agreeable to your request, I have examined the formula of the "Home Bitters," and find the remedies it contains such as are in general use by the Medical profession. They are very substantially and pleasantly combined, and as stimulating tonics will be found especially adapted as corroborants to the treatment of low or debilitated stages of the system, whether arising from impaired digestion, or from malarious diseases.

Dr. J. L. VATTIERS. L. A. JAMES, M. D. R. S. WAYNE, Chemist. C. T. SIMPSON, M. D. W. H. BALLANTYNE, M. D. S. F. FURBER, M. D. J. W. QUINN, M. D. C. S. MURCROFT, M. D. J. H. BUCKLEY, M. D. G. W. BIGLER, M. D. W. R. WOODWARD, M. D. G. A. DORRITY, M. D. CHICAGO, Sept. 30, 1870.—J. L. SMITH, Esq.; We have examined the formula of the "Celebrated Stomach Bitters," and find it to be composed of articles that are considered the best tonics used by the Medical profession, and one of the best bitters we know of now in use. Very respectfully,

R. S. HARRIS, M. D. B. MCVICAR, M. D. J. B. WALKER, M. D. G. A. MARINER, NORMAN S. HARNES, M. D.
