A week or so ago he began complaining of trouble with his lungs, Dr. Bascom walted upon him and prescribed for him. He left some medi-cine which was placed on a shelf in the cupboard close to a can of lye. About a o'clock Sunday morning he arose and went to the cupboard to get the medi-cine, but took the lye by mistake and wallowed a large quantity of it before he realized what he was drinking. His cries of agony were terrible, and in or-der to get him under medical treatment as soon as possible his mother and sister sent for the patrol wagon and he wa taken to the police station. He had been somewhat delirious for several day past and was haunted with the ide that there were some men who were seeking his life. Drs. Bascom and Ben edict attended him at the station, where he was relieved from his pain and taken to St. Mark's hospital.

Came Near Dying "For three days and nights I suffered agony untold from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucum-bers," says M. E. Lowther, clerk of the district court, Centerville, Iowa. "I thought I should surely die, and tried a dozen different medicines but all to no purpose I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colle, Cholera and Diar-rhoea Remedy and three doses relieved me entirely. I went to sheep and did not awake for eight hours. On awak-ening a few hours ago I felt so gratified agony untold from an attack of cholera ening a few hours ago I felt so gratified that the first work I do on going to the office is to write to the manufacturers of this remody and offer them my grate-ful thanks and say, 'God bless you and the splendid medicine you make.'"

S. H. Auerbach Resigns as Executor-Account Approved.

S. H. Auerbach has resigned as executor of the estate of his deceased brother, F. H. Auerbach. The will of brother, F. H. Auerbach. The will of the latter among other things provided that his interest in the dry goods firm of F. H. Auerbach & Bro, should be sold within five years after his death. The sale, it is thought, will take place early next year and Mr. Auerbach, being a partner in the firm, did not wish to act in selling out the interest of his de-ceased brother, hence his resistration. Judge Hiles approved Mr. Auerbach's fourth annual account, filed ten days ago and at the same time ordered the executor discharged.
