AT A STANDSTILL

Contractors Agree to Suspend Operations Indefinitely.

UNIONS THE CAUSE OF IT.

Bullders Have Tired of Petty Grievances and Conclude to Await An Understanding.

The builders and contractors of this ity appear to have tired of the constant trouble they have been having with the labor unions and a number of them have decided to suspend operations indefinitely, on and after Monday next, or until there is some under standing between organized labor and employers whereby there will be no more wrangling, or some certainty of uninterrupted work. For some tim past contractors have been greatly worried by the uncertain actions of various unions, the basis of difficulty genrally being the presence of non-union labor. Members of one union would pull off suddenly from a job, while other anions would keep on working, and the latter, of course, would be hampered by the failure to prosecute the particular line of work that had coused, so that the action of one union would affect the actions of half a dozen would affect the actions of the a do-others and cause general confusion. But what has brought things to a head and precipitated a crisis, was the strike of the hod carriers' union because of the employment of non-union labor. The contractors say preference would naturally be given to union labor, but there are not nearly enough laborers there are not hearry chough indoctive to go 'round and so work is given to all comers in order to keep the wheels of construction moving. This the hod carriers' union recents, and their striking has involved in more or less disconnected way members of the carpendal striking and other unions. The er' stone cutters' and other unions. The cault has been weariness and vexation of spirit. As the matter threatened to grow worse rather than better, a num-ber of contractors and builders have decided to dig up the hatchet and take an active hand in the war themselves. In furtherance of this they have pre-pared the following explanatory card:

CARD TO THE PUBLIC. The public may be interested in know. ing why so large a number of contrac-tors and builders of this city have de-termined to suspend all labor on existintil such time as they can be assured hat they will be able to fill their obli-

For months past we have had trouble with men employed. For reasons un-known to us they would be called off work on which they were engaged. No complaint has been made as to the hours, scale of wages, or as to conditions; yet we have beer harassed, and all our work has been so uncertain that The Second Adventists have set up a large tent at Elgith West and Second on new contracts. Your readers know that we are compelled to give bonds for the fulfillment of each contract within the fulfillment of each contract within the time specified, failing in which we are subject to pecuniary loss. It, therefore, must follow that if the men engaged in various trades connected with building are so dissatisfied that they annot be relied on to stay with us and aid us in filling our agreements, it would be folly for us to make contracts involving the completion of work within specified dates. Moreover, every con-tract is based upon the scale of wages obtaining at the time the contract is made. Any increase in wages would involve us in serious loss on contracts already entered into, and the competition is so great among contractors and the margin of profit is so small, that we can ill afford to take any chances,

We have already stated that no com-plaint has been made to us by men who have ben called off from work, and for that reason we cannot say there is any desire for an increase in wages; but that is not unlikely to be a cause sooner or later, and it is better for us that w have this subject, as well as others that cause dissatisfaction among the men, settled definitely and at once, so that we may go ahead with reasonable as

As it is, nearly every important building contract in the city is crippled one way or another, and we have concluded it will be best for our interests, best for the building public and best also for the men to stop all work until such time as we can learn the grievances of the tradesmen and can settle upon a basis that will give us reasonable assurance for making new contracts.

We have no fault to find with the men except the feeling that we should be told why they are called off from their work and given an opportunity of re-moving any valid causes for complaint, If they exist. We do not think the will assert that in the past we have not conceded everything possible asked of us, and it must be apparent we cannot yield to complaints that know nothing of.

As a matter of fact, many of those ontemplating building have put it off ecause of the uncertainty of getting work done, because of the growing cos and because of the timidity of contract ors, in view of existing conditions, in bidding on work. We think it safe to assert that there is 33 1-3 per cent less work this year than would have been contracted for had the existing unfacrable features of the business not

As before stated, we find no fault with any one, but feel our position is warrantable, reasonable and will really best for all the interests involved.

Secy. Mills of the Bullding Trades council says that there has not been a single demand for increased wages or reduced hours since the card system was adopted, and hence the contractors have no right to allege that they are in danger of losing on their contracts. He added that in every case where men had been called off from a job there had been some violation of the rules mutually understood by the unions and ne employers. Mr. McIntyre, of the Building Trade: council executive committee, pronounces the contractors' statement mislead ing and claims that all the trouble was the result of a violation of agreements by the employers. Mr. McIntyre de-clined to go into details, saying that the council would reach an understand-ing with the contractors and avoid any serious breach.

TRADES COUNCIL MUM.

After the meeting of the Building Trades council adjourned last midnight the officials were requested to reply to the conractors. But they had no statement to make, and refused to give any information as to their policy.

The large jobs to be affected by the lockout will be the First Presbyterian church, the University club. Holmes' terrace. Eighteenth ward school house, Holy Cross hospital, All Hallows co-lege, the Judge building on Third Sout street, and the residence of John Hen Smith. The Atlas block and Strevel Paterson buildings have not yet bee started. It is pertinent to note that contracts now generally contain strike clause, relieving the contractor or responsibility where difficulty with the unions prevents completion of a contract within the time desired.

DON'T WANT ANNEXATION Lesidents of Farmers Ward Vote Unanimously Against It.

By a unanimous vote the residents of Farmers ward decided last evening that they did not desire to have that precinct annexed to Salt Lake City. There were about 150 taxpayers present at the meeting held in the Central schoolhouse on State street last evening to discuss the question of annexation. The arguments made were all against the proposition, the supporters of the plan being absent. Even those who signed the call for the meeting expressed themcall for the meeting expressed themselves as being opposed to annexation.
It was argued that the people of the ward have a better water suppply than they could get if annexed to the city and their schools and roads are good, so they concluded that nothing could be gained by the proposed movement.
Amos Gabbott presided at the meeting

A larger supply of cattle is looked for this week, but all the packing houses will be in operation and a better demand is expected. Of the increased receipts a large proportion will, it is expected, be stockers and feeders of which the supply last week was small.

week was small. Of the cattle received last week, nearly 14,600 were butcher stuff, and the remainder stockers and feeders. Good cattle sold rather evenly all week fluctuating not more than 10 cents. Medium steers fluctuated about 25 cents up and down and up again. cattle with good finish commanded the best prices. Top prices were better than the week previous, the quality also being higher. On Monday top was $4.95, Tuesday $5.95, Wednesday $5.10, Thursday $5.00, Friday $5.10. The supply of stockers and feeders was about equal to the demand. A better demand is expected this week as the ratiroads are now all in condition to the demand improved. Business was resumed today in the quarantine division, the receipts up to noon being 45 loads. The demand was good with prices satisfactory.

During the early part of last week

all the markets were overwhelmed by heavy receipts of hogs, and a heavy slump in prices resulted. The break from Saturday of the previous week, to Wednesday of last week, was 40 to 50 cents. #### "THE OLD SCRATCH? How the Evil One Came to be Popularly Known as "The Old Scratch." One of the many familiar names of satanic majesty is "The Old ich." It is undoubtedly due to the fact that scratching is so disagreeable that people thought it no worse than the evil one. A scalp full of dandruff keeps one scratching all the time; not only disagreeable but considered very inclegant in polite society—as it should be-because one ought to keep the scalp so clean that it would not itch. To cure the scalp of dandruft effectively, use Newbro's Herpicide. It kills the germ that creates the dandruff, which is preliminary to failing hair, and, finally, baldness.
