

IS DIVORCED FROM HER TWO HUSBANDS

Eugenia Raymond Tonkin Succeeds in Untangling Matrimonial Puzzle.

OTHER DECREES ARE GRANTED

Supphen, Ingebrechtsen, Johnson and Farrer Unions Are Dissolved by Judge Morse in Session.

The novel spectacle of a wife appearing to corroborate her husband's story in his suit to obtain a divorce from her was witnessed in Judge Morse's divorce court yesterday afternoon. There was no charge of desertion or abandonment, or cruelty, or of any other misconduct on either side, yet when James Tonkin, who was suing Eugenia Raymond Tonkin for divorce, took the stand and said that he had left his wife a short time after he married her and wished to be divorced, the woman, Eugenia Raymond, corroborated his story and said she wished to be divorced also.

The testimony showed that Tonkin had married Eugenia Raymond at Murray, Oct. 3, 1907, and not until the following May did he discover that his wife had another husband living. Upon learning that this was the case, the pair separated and Tonkin brought suit for divorce.

Eugenia Raymond told the court that when she married Tonkin she believed her former husband, Joseph Raymond, to be dead. She married Raymond, she said, on Sept. 27, 1897, and he deserted her in six months. She never heard of him afterward and believed him to be dead.

Judge Morse granted Tonkin his divorce upon hearing the testimony of the woman, and Mrs. Raymond then took the stand in her own behalf, on application for a divorce from her husband, Joseph Raymond. Her story was corroborated by William Ingebrechtsen, and she was released from the bonds binding her to Raymond, and she was free to again marry Tonkin if she wished.

OTHER CASES.

Leu V. Supphen convinced the court that her husband, Charles Edward Supphen, had unjustifiably deserted her, compelling her to work for her support, and in five minutes' time she was granted a divorce. They were married Nov. 30, 1905.

Elzina A. Buckley also told a story of desertion by her husband, Hugh Gould Buckley, and her sister, Araminta Egbert, corroborated her statement. Judge Morse said he would grant the decree on showing of proper service.

Irene Ingebrechtsen was awarded a decree of divorce and $30 per month alimony from her husband, Burnett Ingebrechtsen. She testified that although her husband was able-bodied and capable of earning $2.50 per day, he had absolutely failed to contribute to her support. She also got an order for $0 attorneys' fees.

John G. L. Johnson was ordered to pay to his wife, Helga J. Johnson, $20 per month alimony pending the outcome of her divorce suit. The alimony was ordered to be paid from the proceeds of a West Second South street store on is to be given to one million men, and upon each man's keeping the secret will depend the success of a mammoth industrial combination.

The story is told in this week's issue of THE SATURDAY EVENING POST, under the title, Fifteen-Cent Cotton.

In the same issue is explained what the most expensive luxury in London is, and why the very poor can enjoy it more than the moderately well-off.

The Cost of Living in London is written by a New York woman, who explodes a few theories about English comfort and English cheapness of living.

After Botticelli is a story of a soulful girl and a young business man who didn't know whether a Botticelli was a cheese or a cello.

They are all—with other features—in THE SATURDAY EVENING POST of this week.

FUNERAL OF MR. JENNINGS.

Last Respects Paid at the Family Residence Yesterday.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Thomas W. Jennings were held at the family residence, 173 First avenue, yesterday, commencing at 2 o'clock. The obsequies were conducted by Bishop T. A. Clawson of the Eighteenth ward.

The speakers were Elder Orson F. Whitney and President John H. Winder. The theme of the first, named was the life and character of the deceased. His career was traced through boyhood days, early manhood and later years. Reference was made to the intimate friendship of Mr. Jennings in every phase of his existence, and he was characterized by the speaker as being a man strong in his convictions and of determined will, and one who served God irrespective of what anyone might say.

President Winder had known Mr. Jennings almost from the time of his birth, and had a high regard for him and for the family. The speaker had been closely associated with the father of the deceased in business capacities and in this manner had become intimately acquainted with the son. The latter was referred to as a man of high worth, whose death at life's prime was a distinct loss to the public, as well as to his family and friends.

The services were very largely attended, many persons not being able to gain entrance into the spacious rooms of the Jennings home. Music for the occasion was furnished by a quartet composed of Messrs. George D. Pyper, H. G. Whitney, J. D. Spencer and H. S. Ensign, the selections rendered being "Come ye Disconsolate," "Rest for the Weary Soul," and "When the Swallows Homeward Fly." Elder Jonathan Golden Kimball offered the invocation and Bishop George Romney pronounced the benediction. The grave in City cemetery was dedicated by President Nephi L. Morris.

The governor expresses his gratification at the high standing of all organizations of the guard, as shown in the May table of percentages prepared by General Wedgwood. In this table the Signal corps is the honor organization for the month, with a general average of 87.00 per cent, the highest yet attained by a national guard organization. General Wedgwood's statement concludes with the following:

The strength of the guard on the date of the annual government inspection was 34 officers and 31 enlisted men, a total of 657. The guard is to be congratulated

BOY'S ARM BROKEN.

Five Dollars Reward for Identity of Drunken Man Who Did It.

After hunting most assiduously for a drunken roisterer, John P. Sorenson now offers $5 reward for information which will lead to the identification of the fellow who broke his son's arm at Saltair last Sunday.

On Sunday evening, Hyrum Sorenson, who is 15 years of age and had just graduated from the grade schools, was working at Saltair. Business being dull at the time mentioned, he put on a pair of roller skates and proceeded to enjoy himself. At this juncture a man who had skates strapped to his feet, and a big skate on generally, bore down on the lad. The drunken man could not command his balance, and he clutched frantically for the boy. He connected, and the next instant there was a grand collapse of all hands. When the couple were untangled, Hyrum was nursing a badly broken arm. To the stranger who tenderly cared for the lad, the sincere thanks of the family are extended, and persons who witnessed the incident are requested to communicate with Mr. Sorenson, at 673 sixth avenue.

DAVIS SHOE CO.

GREEK LECTURE HALL

One Will Be Built On Site Adjoining The Present Greek Church.

To the church recently built by the Greek community of Salt Lake is now to be added a lecture hall, with a reading room as an adjunct. The inspiration for this new move, as that for the first, comes from a group of Greek citizens who have taken out their American naturalization papers and are working among their own people to uplift their social life through the use of education and of religious influence.

The new lecture hall will be a center of gatherings which can take up a systematic study of American institutions, according to the ideas of its backers, and of the Constitution governing the country. Exercises for the laying of the corner stone are now being arranged, this event to take place about June 26.

Nikolas P. Stakos, in speaking this morning of the proposed building, said: "We are putting up this building for the same reason that we joined with other Salt Lakeers in helping to send the high school cadets to San Francisco, and set money to the earthquake fund in 1906. We don't want to be known as 'foreigners' any longer than we have to be. In coming to America we came to become part of the country, and not to leave it, and we regard our duties to it the same as others who look upon it as their home. In this building we shall teach our people American institutions, and have a reading room where they will find good books to read, instead of spending their time in low dives which bait everyone regardless of his nationality."

"We do not understand why the big corporations hiring labor seem to discriminate against the Greeks in favor of others. There are now 400 of our community out of work, and they are being fed at the church. If it were not for that, the church would be out of debt, and would have a good sized sum in its treasury. In spite of these conditions, we have decided to build the reading room and lecture hall, and it will be finished before the end of summer."

TELEPHONE MEN TO MEET.

President Henry T. Scott of the Union Iron works of San Francisco, and president of the Pacific Coast Telephone & Telegraph company, arrived yesterday afternoon from the west, in a private car, with President H. S. King of the Bank of California, Secy. F. W. Eaton, and Director F. G. Drum of the telephone company. They are here to consult with President T. N. Vall of the American Telephone & Telegraph company, with reference to matters of mutual interest, as Mr. Vall will not go to California before returning east.

PORTLAND COMMERCIAL CLUB.

George E. Merrill Returns from Sound Country After Visiting Building.

President George E. Merrill of the Western Retail Lumberman's association visited Spokane, Tacoma and Seattle on his recent northwestern trip, taking in the reception of the United States fleet at Seattle. While the reception was not as extended as the displays at San Diego and San Francisco, it was elaborate enough to please the most ardent patriot. At Portland, Mr. Merrill was the guest of the lumbered and the Portland Commercial club, the latter entertaining him at its first dinner. In the new building. This is an eight-story block, the club occupying the four upper floors, leaving the four lower floors for offices and business purposes. The rental income is sufficient to pay all expense of maintaining the entire building, along with the current expense of the club in its new quarters. So the club is subject to no outlay whatever. The members told Mr. Merrill they considered this plan much wiser than putting up a building devoted entirely to club purposes. The interior finish is in beautiful stained in colors, and the club people express much interest in the Salt Lake Commercial club, but at the same time the opinion with the Are 100 of providing offices in the building by which the expense of maintenance may be wholly met, is far more satisfactory, and far less burdensome to the membership than a structure designed entirely for club use. Mr. Merrill agrees with the Portland clubmen that Salt Lake would do well to consider this.

ADAM SPEIRS FUNERAL

Impressive Services Were Held in the Tenth Ward Meetinghouse Yesterday Afternoon.

Impressive services were held yesterday afternoon over the remains of Elder Adam Speirs. The funeral was held at the Tenth ward meetinghouse, the building being completely filled with relatives and friends, who met to pay honor and respect to a good man. Among the speakers were some who had been associated with the deceased

THE LATE ADAM SPEIRS.

In civil affairs, and who testified that in all of his public career not one dishonest or dishonorable thing had for a moment been countenanced by him. Others had labored side by side with him in church work, and these spoke of his faith and faithfulness as a disciple of the Master, and from all that was said it was clearly shown that Adam Speirs was a man who clearly saw the right and adhered to it closely.

The principal speaker of the occasion was Elder John Henry Smith, who had known Elder Speirs since his boyhood days. Later they were associates in municipal affairs, and the speaker dwelt upon the wise and impartial manner in which Alderman Speirs performed his public duties.

Elder Jesse Steele of Provo, was a boyhood companion of Elder Speirs, when a friendship was formed never severed in later years. Mr. Steele said that his friend as a youth was as pure in word, thought and deed as anyone he had ever known, and the same virtues went with him through life.

Elder Brian S. Hinckley spoke of the deceased as having been for many years a father to the people of the Tenth ward and a friend to all. Especially was the late bishop's kindly nature manifest in times of sickness and sorrow, on which occasions he administered comfort and alleviation to the afflicted.

Other speakers were Elders Joseph Keddington, Joshua H. Paul, George Buckle, James T. Strong and Charles W. Symons. Elders Paul and Buckle represented, respectively, the families of the late Bishops Pettigrew and Proctor, with whom Elder Speirs had been associated as counselor.

The musical exercises of the occasion were very beautiful, consisting of solos by George D. Pyper, Joseph Pol, Mrs. Maud Harris Strong, Mrs. R. Salt, quartets by Joseph Pol, Robert Eldred, Albert E. Brady and Raynor Neas, and a selection by the choir. The invocation was offered by Elder Alvin H. Schultess, and Elder George Albert Smith pronounced the benediction. The grave in the City cemetery was dedicated by Elder Joseph E. Taylor.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH RELIEVED.

Perhaps No Medicine in the World Has Relieved More Cases of Catarrh of the Stomach Than Pe-ru-na.

The Symptoms of Stomach Catarrh Are Heaviness After Eating, Belching Gas, Sourness of the Stomach, Sluggish Bowels.

ALDERMAN GEO. W. WEICK, DENVER, COL.

SAYS:—"I HAVE USED PERUNA FOR CATARRH OF THE STOMACH AND IT HAS HELPED ME WONDERFULLY."

SOME OTHER STARTLING TESTIMONIALS.

ALDERMAN GEORGE W. WEICK, 1474 South Seventh Street, Denver, Col., Alderman Eleventh Ward, writes: "I have used Peruna for catarrh of the stomach and it has helped me wonderfully."

Chronic Stomach Trouble.

MR. SAMUEL A. SEAL, Route 2, Treadway, Tenn., writes: "It gives me great pleasure to testify to the great good your medicine, Peruna, has done for me in a chronic case of catarrh of the stomach. I was confined to my bed for some time, and could not sit up. I had tried everything that I could find recommended for catarrh, without any benefit. I tried the best physicians in Hancock County, with little or no benefit. I then tried two of the best physicians in Hawkins County, and found they were doing me no good. I was gradually growing worse."

"Then a friend of mine, passing by, handed me one of your pamphlets, and seeing how Peruna was recommended for catarrh, I sent to Rogersville, Tennessee, next morning, a distance of about fifteen miles, and procured some of your Peruna, and began taking same according to directions, and after taking it a few days I began to get better. 'I continued using it until I was able to go to work on the farm again, and now I am in very good health and do work on my farm.'

People who Object to Liquid Medicines Should Buy Peruna Tablets

Catarrh of Head and Stomach.

Mr. Frank Richter, of 809 East Second Street, Winona, Minn., writes: "As a remedy for catarrh I take pleasure in recommending Peruna for catarrh of the stomach. I know what it is to be afflicted with this awful disease, and consider it my duty to say a word in behalf of the remedy which gave me such relief. 'Peruna cured me, and I know it will cure any one else who suffers from this disease. It gives me great pleasure to testify to the curative effects of this medicine.'

"Peruna is a well tested and frequently used remedy, and for catarrh of the stomach it is unsurpassed."

"My catarrh was principally located in my head and stomach. I tried several remedies without success. I tried several doctors, but they were unable to cure me. I read of Peruna in the papers, and five bottles cured me."

Almost from the first dose Peruna will relieve symptoms of stomach catarrh. Peruna at once sharpens the appetite, increases the digestive powers, and gives renewed strength."
