

MILWAUKEE TO BUY SAN PEDRO

$25,000,000 Increase to be Made
In Stock of C. M. & St. P.

ENTER COOS BAY EMPLOY.

Several Members of San Pedro Engineering Department Leave For Oregon.

Dame rumor is again busy regarding the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake railroad, which was incorporated in Salt Lake three years ago at which time the promise was made that it would be completed in about two years' time.

This time the rumor is to the effect that the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul is about to purchase Senator Clark's rights to the road for the consideration of $25,000,000. The story comes in the form of an Associated Press dispatch, which is as follows:

THE LATEST STORY.

It was announced on good authority today, says the Chicago Daily News, that a $25,000,000 increase is to be made in the capital stock of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road. This additional stock will be issued to stockholders at par. It is supposed that the increased capitalization is for the purpose of acquiring Senator Clark's rights in a road which is planned for construction between Salt Lake and Los Angeles. The St. Paul lines with the Gould roads give this combination a route to Salt Lake, and the connection with Senator Clark's project will give the St. Paul an outlet to the Pacific coast.

LEAVE FOR COOS BAY.

Locally the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake road is doing nothing. The surveying parties were disbanded some months ago and none remain at the headquarters in the McCormick block save the high priced men. Among the latest to leave the employ of the road are R. D. Perkins and George H. Berlin of the engineer's department, who left Salt Lake three days ago to accept positions in the engineer's department of the Great Central (Coos Bay-Salt Lake road). In addition several members of the survey corps are also now working for the Coos Bay proposition.

HAWGWOOD HERE TONIGHT.

Much interest is being manifested in the arrival of Chief Engineer H. Hawgwood of the San Pedro road who comes in from Los Angeles tonight on the C. W. No. 4. His visit is thought to be fraught with considerable significance, and as one gentleman who has been watching the situation said this morning, "it will mean either the institution of active work at this end of the line, or else a further abandonment of the forces here who are drawing their pay and are just resting on their oars awaiting the order from headquarters to go ahead."

WHAT THEY SAY AT BANGOR.

The Bangor Exchange, a breezy weekly that has just started up by a Portland newspaperman at Bangor Ore., the terminus of the Coos Bay road and the terminus of the railroad project, among other things it quotes Rev. J. J. Walter, the newly appointed colonization agent for the Great Central, as saying that there is considerable significance to be attached to the fact that the San Pedro engineers are now working on the Coos Bay proposition. In another part of the paper it is asserted that Clark has abandoned the project of building the San Pedro road on account of pressure that was brought to bear by E. H. Harriman and he is now turning his attention to the Coos Bay road, with Gould at his back, as was alleged to be the case in the San Pedro scheme.

DRIVING TO U. P.

Shippers at Price Getting Tired of Waiting for Cars.

The Price correspondent of the Deseret News writes regarding the car famine in Utah as follows:

Local freight is moving slowly along the line of the Rio Grande Western, being such a demand for cars for moving through freight that merchandise shipments are considerably delayed. Some shippers of livestock from eastern Utah are driving to the Union Pacific.

SPIKE AND RAIL.

No. 4 last night went out on the Rio Grande Western in the form of a train of 12 cars.

Track has been laid on the Leanington cut-off to a point about five miles west of Garfield beach.

A. H. Leander, freight claim agent of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois, is in Salt Lake on his honeymoon.

Local railroadmen estimate that the shipments of Utah potatoes out of the state this fall will exceed 1,000 carloads.

B. F. Coons has been appointed commercial agent for the Rock Island at Los Angeles, vice C. E. Smith, assigned to other duties.

The Rio Grande runs a starlight excursion from Bitter to Panguitch on the occasion of the opening of a new stage hall.

The sign painter is now changing E. Drake's title on the Rock Island entrance, from traveling to district passenger agent.

Chief Engineer Berry of the Union Pacific, who went up with the Bancroft party to view the Pocatello shops, has returned to Omaha.

Local railroadmen report that the station at Ogden is the moving of livestock out of Idaho or Utah remains practically unchanged.

The Short Line excursion tomorrow morning at 9:30 on the occasion of the High School football match in Ogden, promises to be a hummer.

The first snow of the season was reported on the Oregon Short Line yesterday in the form of five inches at Humphrey, a station on the Montana division.

General Agent Hoyt Sherman of the Colorado Southern is beginning to get his eye trained on the Utah potato shipment. Quite a large percentage of the Utah crop goes to Texas every year.

Manager Langford of Salt Lake Beach is doing some experimenting on the retaining wall proposition himself. Yesterday he dispatched a force of men to the beach who are now working on the scheme on a small scale.

The Rio Grande Western announces a rate of a single fare for the round trip to Ogden on the occasion of the Weber county fair. The rate went into effect this morning and will be good until Sunday.

J. J. Cotter, trainmaster of the first division of the Denver and Rio Grande, has been removed to the fourth or narrow gauge division. The first division handles the heaviest traffic on the system, while the fourth operates very light business.

The railroads are now contemplating changing the demurrage schedule. Heretofore the limit has been 48 hours with no count on Sunday or a holiday. Henceforth, if the plan goes through, local consignees must unload within twenty-four hours.

Mr. Welby has a very satisfactory contract with the McCone interests and will not return, even if rumors that have been circulating in Salt Lake and Denver had some other foundation than the assertion of a discharged employee of the Rio Grande Western.

WILL REFUND FINES.

Gamblers to be Handed an Amount Reaching Nearly $500.

In Judge Tanner's court yesterday afternoon, Assistant City Attorney Schuler made a motion that the court reconsider the forfeiture of the fines of the keepers of gambling houses, the amount paid in by the gamblers for the privilege of running another month amounted to nearly $500. The court made the order requested by the attorney, after which a motion was made to have the cases against the gamblers dismissed. The clerk said the money already paid in could have been kept, but as the order was made to close all the joints it was thought unfair to keep the money and shut the places up. Now that the money is to be refunded, it may be taken as an indication that the police department is determined to keep all the houses closed.

AS TO HAWAIIANS.

County Attorney Hands Down a Written Opinion on the Question.

In accordance with a verbal opinion rendered at the time the question arose, County Attorney Christensen yesterday handed County Clerk James a written opinion on the question of the marriage of a full blood Hawaiian and a white person. The opinion holds that a Hawaiian is a member of the Mongolian race and, as marriage between a Mongolian and a white person is prohibited by the statutes of this state, a Hawaiian is prohibited from marrying a white person.

The point was raised by the county clerk several weeks ago when a Hawaiian residing at Murray, accompanied by a white girl, applied for a marriage license. The clerk refused the license and immediately sought an opinion from the county attorney, who at that time held that the act of the clerk was perfectly proper. The Hawaiian and his intended bride did not take well to the county clerk's action and sought the assistance of an attorney who demanded that the license be issued.

NEW ARMY UNIFORM.

Chaplain Axton the Proud Possessor of One of the Latest.

Chaplain Axton is out with his new uniform, built according to the recently devised rules gotten up after much mental wear and tear by an army chaplain who has long been in the military affair so long imposed upon the suffering chaplains, but the regulation army blouse, with the insignia of the branch of the service on the collar, and the shoulder straps with much smaller cross in the center. The collar insignia is regimental for the infantry and cavalry, with a neat eagle with spread wings and "U. S. A." above it. The pants are black broadcloth with broad black mohair stripe down the sides. While the black felt hat still remains, army chaplains feel sure of getting permission to wear the regular army cap when desired. It is not so long since chaplains were compelled to wear a sort of antique twelfth century garb that was a perpetual eye sore to them; and old chaplain Jackson of Fort Bay road, with Gould at his back, as was alleged to be the case in the San Pedro scheme.

ATTEMPT AT BURGLARY.

House Entered Thursday Morning on Second West Street.

On Thursday morning, near the hour of 2 o'clock, a bold burglar made an attempt to rob the home of Mrs. A. Clough at 538 South Second West but was frightened away before he secured anything of value. Before his presence was discovered he had ransacked the entire house in his search for cash. It was about 2 o'clock when mothers of the household discovered the presence of an intruder and sounded the alarm. Before the fellow could be captured he had beaten a hasty retreat. It is the making of a chaplain look at the last ten days, or rather nights, and the residents in that vicinity are becoming mighty tired of these early morning visits and are making every warm reception in the shape of a few slugs from the old shot gun.

HELD TO DISTRICT COURT.

Evidence Strong and Convincing Against These Two Procureesses.

In Judge Tanner's court this afternoon the preliminary hearing of Jennie M. Johnson and Pearl Hinkley, alias Minnie Perrie, charged with attempting to induce two young girls to go to moon and enter houses of ill-fame, was concluded. The hearing was being given, and the girls, Della Smith and Clara Anderson, testified against the women. Their testimony was of such a shocking nature that the court room was ordered cleared of all spectators. After hearing all the evidence Judge Tanner ordered the defendants held to await the action of the district court.

CROWDED FOR SPACE.

On This Account State Fair Entries Are Being Culled.

On account of the smallness of the exhibition room at the state fair, the directory itself forced to cull entries, and S. E. Sears remarked this morning that many of the articles entered could not be given room because of the brevity of space. It is the expectation of the management to have two or three other large buildings erected when sufficient money has been secured by legislative appropriation, so that all the exhibits offered at the fair can be shown. The entries entered today 14 horses, and the entries in the live stock department are piling up fast. All entries must be made by Monday night next.

DIED AT STATE PRISON.

J. J. Thompson Succumbs to the Ravages of Consumption.

There was a pathetic death yesterday at the state prison where J. J. Thompson died of consumption which had been wrecking his frame for some two years. He was a sad and curious story. Thompson came from Pennsylvania where, as a convict, he took hold of him, but he was unable to keep at work because of his disease, became penniless, and then took to stealing to maintain life. The life of a tramp and the consequent exposure only made him worse, and finally Thompson became too weak to steal. With death staring him in the face the unfortunate man concluded he would compel the state to take care of him in his last hours, and deliberately walking into the house of Mrs. A. L. Johnson on Fourth South street, in this city, he helped himself to a gold ring. He knew he would be caught, and made no effort to escape from Mrs. Johnson when she grabbed him. Officers Chase and Gillespie took Thompson to jail, and he would have been turned loose as it was evident he was at death's door, but he forestalled this by pleading guilty to housebreaking, and was sentenced to one year. He was very glad to reach the state prison where he was sat once put in the hospital. Thompson will be buried in the prison cemetery. He has no friends that are known of.

TO PAVE THE ALLEY.

Abutters Want Work Done on That West of Commercial Street.

The alley through block 70, Salt Lake City, is an object of anxious contemplation by a number of abutters anxious to see the ordinance relative to paving the alley carried out. The grade is considerably above that of the properties on either side, and when the wet weather comes, the place becomes a bog which drains down into the business premises on the west, and makes things unpleasant for the dizzy denizens on the Commercial street side. The alley would have been paved long ago but for the temporary injunction granted on petition of a small minority of abutters at the upper end, who are regarded as obstructionists by the others. And it is not believed that the alley will be paved until the injunction is removed. The petition, among other things alleged over assessment for the improvement but it is argued that this ought not to bar the work, and that the petitioners should do well to seek the relief they allege they want, in some other less annoying way.

DIPHTHERIA IN MILLARD COUNTY.

Secretary Beatty of the state board of health has been notified that diphtheria in epidemic form, and the people are very much alarmed. The disease was spread by thoughtless parents, allowing their infected children to keep on attending school, and the result was a general spread of the terrible disease. Deseret has quarantined against diphtheria. The trouble was started, as it is believed, from the camps of graders on the Leanington double track, running into the city. The secretary has instructed the county board to take all possible measures to stamp out the disease.

CALIFORNIA BOOMING.

uch the Word Brought to This City By George Francis Train.

George Francis Train, Jr. of San Francisco is a guest at the Knutsford. Mr. Train is well known in this city, where he does a large business. He was run over and badly hurt on East Temple street two years ago and only the other day he was caught in a big Northern Pacific smashup and considerably bruised. Mr. Train says the sky was so darkened in Seattle by the smoke from the forest fires that it was necessary to light up the city, the same as at night, and the smoke drifted out of the double track tunnel between Oakland and San Francisco, which will with a tunnel is a case of you always know where you are, while with a bridge you don't.

AMUSEMENTS.

The heavy drain on the pockets of the Grand patrons, caused by the success of "Hello Bill," was rather too much for "The Stowaway," and that rattling sensation did not draw the expected throng last night. The attendance was heavy above, however, though below it could only be ranked as fair. The play has been seen before, and it only needs now to be said that the feature of the play is the blowing by "real" cracksmen, still remains its main episode and as usual came in for the main share of applause. The company interpreting it, may be ranked as on the average grade. "The Stowaway" runs the remainder of the week with a Saturday matinee and will no doubt please the juvenile taste.

BIG VICTORY FOR STEEL TRUST.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 26.—Justice Van Syckle of the court of errors and appeals today filed a written opinion in the United States Steel corporation case that was recently decided by the court in the corporation's favor. The case before the court was the suit instituted by Mrs. Mariani Berger.

The opinion filed today sustains the constitutionality of the act of last winter under which the corporation undertook to convert $200,000,000 worth of preferred stock into a like amount of bonds. The opinion also holds that the procedure followed by the corporation carrying out the conversion plan was fully authorized by the general corporation act.
