Grant at Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, 26.—Gen. Grant had a grand reception here to-day. At a mass meeting this afternoon he addressed an enthusiastic audience. He said: I am here among you to-day at your request, as conveyed through the committee, not to say much myself, but to show my interest in the cause of the republican party at the approaching election. If I did not feel a deep interest in the success of this party, I would not be here. If I did not believe it was for the interest of all parties and all sections that we should succeed at this time, I would not be here. Among the democrats of the north, I have a great many warm personal friends, men whom I like personally as well as any friends I have under the sun, some of them—those whom I claim as my friends—patriotic, good men; and I believe it the democratic party was composed entirely in the North and South of such men, I would still be a republican. But I would not feel so much distress if the republican party was not successful. Even admitting that all the democrats in the Northern States were of the class that I speak of, but do not admit it, we would not be secure under a democratic administration. You all know the bulk of the democracy is in the Southern States, and that it will control if the democratic party gets in power, and it is just as impossible that the limited number of democrats of the North should control as it is that a dog's tail would wag the dog (laughter)—in all instances the dog will wag; and if they should get into power the tail would be so powerful that it would sweep down at one stroke all of your industries and prosperity, all of your banks and manufacturies and your industries of all sorts and descriptions. We don't want to see this; we know with all the energy of the northern people, we all know the North, with all its great intelligence, and its free schools, its energy and industry, could not be stricken not to rise again, but in rising it would suffer years of toil and disappointment we want to avoid, and to do this we want to elect Garfield and Arthur in November. (Applause.) You probably have heard, and probably will hear again before the election day, the democratic party arraigned as a party that has never advocated, certainly not in a quarter of a century, advocated or done a good act. I will not quite agree with these speakers now, but a few days ago I would.

But within a few days I read an extract from a speech made by a Southern orator whose audience was composed largely of colored men, and he told them they were laboring under a great mistake in supposing Lincoln had emancipated them. He reminded them of the fact that Lincoln's emancipation proclamation gave them (the rebels) 90 days in which to lay down their arms and save their property, but they fought right straight ahead. He says the proclamation did not emancipate them, and hence Lincoln was not entitled to the credit of it. He then introduced Stewart L Woodford.

The Democratic View of the Tariff.

CHICAGO, 26.—The Times' New York special says: It cannot be said that the democrats have made a noteworthy impression in the manufacturing districts in their fight against the tariff bugaboo. There are so many manufacturers whose coffers are enriched by protective tariff who are clamorous for even more protection, and whose workmen are so dependent upon them, believing their interests and the interests of the bosses to be identical, that the democrats are having uphill work. The rabid protectionist county of Trenton, New Jersey, whose democrats are naturally strong, is an instance. The single industry of pottery making gives employment there to 4,000 men. Pottery manufacturers say their business has grown up under the protective tariff. The moment the tariff is removed or lowered, 300 manufacturers of Liverpool would sweep and utterly overwhelm the 50 potteries of this country, three-fourths of which are in Trenton. As one said to-day: "We have taken pains to inform our men that we could not live without a protective tariff. We employ a very intelligent class of workers and think the simple presentation of the facts of the case is sufficient. Free trade would close us up. The duty on chinaware is forty or forty-five per cent. and fifty per cent. on decorated chinaware. We cannot compete with foreign cheap labor and cheap material, and free trade in pottery would throw many thousands of people out of employment. It is within bounds to say that four-fifths of the factory hands in New York, Connecticut and New Jersey have been supplied with the following placard: 'Republican platform—A tariff that will discriminate in favor of American labor; a protective tariff means the active sale for home made goods, and steady work for those who make them. The democratic platform, a tariff means either the closing of American manufactures or the reduction of wages to match the pauper labor of Europe. Mechanics, workingmen, clerks, which do you want?" In this connection impartial and independent observers say there is every prospect of a very close election, with the chances somewhat in favor of the republicans. When Hancock's boom was at its height, the democrats were confident of an easy victory in the October elections, and the tariff has shaken their faith in large majorities, and the most ardent of them do not claim more than 2,500 in New Haven, and a bare majority in the State. It is said that English, democratic candidate for governor, means to be elected if it costs a hundred thousand dollars.

Carnival of Blood.

A special from Fort Robinson, Nebraska, says: The mail carrier brings news from Camp Sheridan of a horrible carnival of blood in a low den of iniquity near that post, in which two men were killed, two dangerously, perhaps fatally wounded, and several others bruised. Last Saturday night there was a large attendance of cow boys and soldiers in the place and half a dozen low women. Poor whiskey and lively dancing soon caused bad blood. It began by a drunken Mexican brandishing a revolver and threatening to shoot the bar-tender for swindling him. A dozen cow boys drew revolvers simultaneously. A shot was fired, and one of them, Ed. Collins, fell mortally wounded, having shot himself while drawing. The dance was resumed in 20 minutes after his body had been removed. Jim Joyce and a desperado named Page soon got into a rough and tumble fight over the proprietorship of a girl known as "Beaver-Tooth Nell." It ended by Page shooting Joyce fatally. Sergeant Green, of Company M, Fifth Cavalry, attempting to disarm Page, received a shot which necessitated the amputation of his leg. He will probably die. The leaders at once retaliated by emptying their revolvers into the Page crowd as they rushed out on the prairie. The women, scantily dressed, here returned from the rooms to which they had withdrawn, and ran screaming about the place, and the scene that followed baffles description. The melee ended in a rough and tumble fight between the cow boys and boys in blue, which would have resulted in a terrible loss of life but for the timely arrival of the military from the post. One of the females had an eye knocked out during the melee, while two cow boys, names unknown, were badly wounded. The murderer, Page, is now in the guard house, and the soldiers threaten to lynch him.

More of the Letter.

The Inter-Ocean's Washington special says: In vain is the effort to stem the tide of proof of connivance at the forgery of the Chinese letter. Democrats have claimed to be able to produce post marked letters similar to the one now suspected to be forged as much for a means of advertisement for a disreputable paper called Truth, as to smirch General Garfield. One Wm. Dickson, therefore, has boasted he can propuce a letter so postmarked in contradiction to Postmaster Ainger's card. As a result of this braggadocia the following card was issued to-day:

"If William Dickson will produce a letter bearing the postmark of the Washington City postoffice, of date January 8th, that is identical with that on the alleged Garfield Chinese letter, I will pay him $100 for his trouble. Let us have an end to nonsense, and come down to business."

It is needless to say Dickson has not appeared to claim the reward.

Victorio's Death.

A dispatch received at military headquarters to-day, gives the particulars of Col. Joaquin Terrasas' victory over Victorio's band of Indians. The Mexicans attacked Victorio in the Castillo Mountains, surrounding his fortified position and by a simultaneous attack capturing it. Victorio, 60 warriors, and 18 women and children were left dead on the field, 68 women and children, and two white captives were taken and 168 animals recovered with all the arms and plunder. Terrasas's loss is three killed and 12 wounded.

Thirty Indians escaped through being too late on the ground, but a competent force is pursuing. Colonel Buel, through whose hands the dispatch passed, says this is one of the results of our movements into Mexico and virtually ends the war with Victorio. I think I shall be able to head off the small party that has escaped. I reorganize for operations both east and west.

Two Southern States.

Specials give facts and figures to show that the republicans are sure to carry Tennessee by a handsome majority of the Gubernatorial vote and to gain at least one Congressmen. There are three candidates for Governor, two being democrats. The State will undoubtedly give a majority for the democratic electors. The above is the figuring of democrats themselves. The republicans claim more and say there are wholesale desertions from the democratic party, and claim the election of a republican United States Senator in that State as quite possible. Other dispatches indicate the possibility of electing two republican Congressmen in Kentucky.

No Fusion For Indiana.

The Inter-Ocean has private advices from Indiana of a scheme hatched out by Mr. English and his coadjutators to capture from the republicans a section of that State in November. The plan is to put on the democratic electoral ticket one day before the election the names of three of the greenback electors, and to force a greenback coalition in that way. The greenback State committee and and Delamatyr hotly refuse to enter into the scheme, and some of them denounce it as a trick.

OF COURSE.

Polygamy Referred to Again.

NEW YORK, 26.—The message received from the House of Bishops nominating Rev Dr. John Adams Paddock missionary bishop of Washington Territory, and the House of Deputies in secret session confirmed the nomination. The report by Rev. John Cotton Smith, from the committee on the state of the church, on the subject of polygamy, was presented, and with the following preamble and resolution, adopted.

Whereas, The work of the Church of Christ and the best interests of civilization are seriously impeded in one of the Territories of the United States by the existence of polygamy, recognized by a large portion of the community as a religious institution, and

Whereas, Polygamy is not only contrary to the laws of God, but is also forbidden under severe penalties by the Government of the United States by an act of Congress, which act has been declared Constitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States. Therefore, be it

Resolved, The House of Bishops concurring, that while there are peculiar difficulties in executing the law, owing to religious fanaticism, doubtless oftentimes sincere, by which the institution of polygamy is upheld, it is still the duty of every Christian citizen in this country, to use his influence to aid the United States Government to bring about as speedily as possible, a merciful but firm enforcement of the law in regard to polygamy and bigamy in the territory of the United States.

A Newspaper Fight.

The war between the Express and Herald deepens. The Express to-night prints the following editorial in a double column:

The Evening Express will begin to-morrow the publication of the opening chapters of the life and escapades of James Gordon Bennett. These chapters will be rich reading.

John Kelly's friends allege that the Herald's opposition to Grace is because Kelly declined to nominate Isaac Bell, a relative of the editor, in Grace's place.

The Herald joins in the fight with the following: The Express last Wednesday referred to Bennett as a man whose biography would be unfit for publication in the worst sheet in the country. We venture to remonstrate with the Express, not for Bennett's sake, who seems quite equal to taking care of himself, but we should be sorry to write itself down an ass, the worst sheet in the country.

The Herald's reply to the threats of the biography in the Express has been a broad side of editorial paragraphs, saying, go ahead, old man.

Southern Census.

NEW ORLEANS, 26.—Supervisor of Registration, Cavanac, and his clerks, Henry Autz, F. L. Fischer and Geo. W. Flynn, charged with illegally registering voters, were examined before U. S. Commissioner Lane to-day. After hearing the testimony, the parties were sent before the United States Circuit Court under $5,000 bail. As the work of registration continues, it is stated they will be arrested again to-morrow. Affidavits are being made against all persons who have registered since the 22d inst., charging them with illegally registering. There being no judge of the United States court there, a restraining order against Cavanac cannot be obtained. Cavanac denies that he threatened to use force to prevent arrests and interference by the United States authorities.

Cavanac says the statement made that he is registering white voters and refusing to register colored voters is untrue. No distinction is made.

Railroad Magnates.

The Southern Pacific Railroad party, composed of Chas. Crocker, President of the Southern Pacific and Vice President of the Central Pacific Railroads, Thos. W. Pierce and R. S. Spofford, of the Galveston and San Antonio Railroad, George Crocker and Col. James Gamble, General Superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Company's lines on the Pacific Coast, left to-day via the Morgan line for Galveston and San Antonio. Mr. Crocker is looking for an outlet to the Gulf for his road, which he states will certainly be completed within two years and possibly earlier.

Frauds in Colorado.

DENVER, 26.—The registration in this city shows immense frauds. The total number registered is 18,085, being twice the number of actual voters, the total number being only 6,000. In one ward 140 democrats are said to have been registered from a single lot, and since the registration began, one democrat has vouched for 631 voters. Prominent democrats from the east are said to have done the work with the assistance of an organized gang of ward workers from Cincinnati. Advices received at the republican headquarters are that the democrats are colonizing voters from Wyoming and New Mexico. There is great excitement among the republicans, these frauds being entirely unexpected.

One of the Witnesses.

Dr. W. M. Rowan, one of the witnesses in the Berry affair, arrived here this morning. He pronounces the statement that two companies of militia had gone to the reservation to aid the sheriff in making arrests, untrue, and says it would have been foolhardy, as the Indians were on the alert and knew every movement of the State officials. He further says they had orders to send a detail to escort the messenger with the $75,000 U te money to the agency, but the order was recalled before he left; so he thinks the money was returned to Washington, and says Berry was en route to Denver, and that accounts of the trouble have been greatly exaggerated.

Gold Shipment.

PHILADELPHIA, 26.—The Ledger, referring to the recent heavy shipment of gold from Europe to America, says: This sustained the course of Exchanges with Europe and is a full vindication of those who claimed that the return of gold in 1879 had more than an exceptional significance and meant a general change in favor of this country. It is a grave question what the future consequences are to the industries and finances of France and Germany—states whose resources have seldom before been drawn upon so to go off the continent altogether. It is an easier task to restore disturbed balances accruing between European states than between them and a country so remote as the United States.

Garfield Visited.

MENTOR, 26.—General Garfield received some 600 Trumbull County people to-day (his constituents), and made them a hearty speech of welcome. He said I know not what awaits me in the future; I never discount it so far as relates to myself. I never allow myself to be elated with what may be, nor depressed with what may not be; but I do say this: I cannot conceive the time can ever come when the friendship of these men that are gathered here to-day can be anything but dear to me, and of the greatest possible value in strengthening my heart and hope.

A Protest.

CINCINNATI, 26.—At the close of business to-day on Change, the members were called to order by request. A letter recently published in the Louisville Courier-Journal, purporting to be written by a Cincinnati merchant, and saying Cincinnati merchants were hostile to the South and did not want Southern trade, was read. After some discussion a resolution was adopted condemning in the strongest manner the letter just read and providing for the appointment of a committee of five to ascertain its author.
