Splendid Work Accomplished in Bettering and Beautifying Junction City and Suburbs.

ELECTS BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Court Notes—Frost Damages Fruit Crop—Men Back to Work in R. R. Shops—Ready Transfers.

Ogden, April 1.—Ogden's most prominent citizens attended the meeting of the Ogden Civic Improvement League, held at the Weber club last evening, and numerous expressions were made as to the splendid work accomplished by the league in the past, and as to the future of the Junction city. The prevailing sentiment at the meeting was for the Ogden Civic Improvement League, and many were the suggestions that were made and which will without doubt be carried out by the league and the park commissioners. The meeting was called to order by President J. C. Nye, who briefly outlined the work of the league, its objects and future work. He introduced as the first speaker Prof. F. M. Driggs, who talked upon "The Work of the League and Its Possibilities." In his remarks he said: "Pardon me if in the telling of what our civic organization has done, if I seem to give it more credit than it rightly deserves, but I would call your attention to a few of the things for which the league has directly or indirectly lent its good influence to accomplish. First of all perhaps was the passage of a law creating a board of park commissioners to have full charge of our city's breathing places, all parking, tree planting and the like. "Then the improvement of the grounds at the Union depot, grounds that for years had been both unsightly and unsanitary.

"The settlement of a long and very expensive litigation between Ogden City and the Ogden Water Works Co. This settlement, while not approved by everybody, saved our city more than $30,000 and gave to Ogden free water for practically all city purposes.

"Through the league's efforts the epidemic of 'civic improvement' has spread from house to house through out the entire city, adding wonderfully to the beauty and value of many homes and streets. Much street parking has been and is now being done, many fences have been removed, and in other ways the homes of our city have been made brighter and more beautiful.

"We suggested that Ogden City should have a more respectable patrol wagon. Our city fathers heard our plea.

"We protested against the granting of certain filings upon waters of Ogden river in Ogden canyon and asked that the river be not pumped dry. Mr. Bancroft had the applications withdrawn.

"In order to stimulate the movement toward civic improvement, we offered prizes for the best kept lawns in the city. It cost us $25, but it paid an hundred fold and more.

"We asked that signs in Ogden canyon be prohibited and that the dangerous places along the boulevard be fenced. Our requests were not denied.

"We found that by purchasing $50 worth of pipe we could restore the magnificent water fall in Ogden canyon. We bought the pipe."

was caused, it is said in official circles, by the lack of work for the men. The company still has on a side track several engines that are in good repair, which are not needed. There are a number of damaged engines and cars on the side track, which would provide employment for men for several weeks. The resumption of work today will only be for a few days and another shutdown will take place, it is stated, in a week or two.

COURT NOTES.

Ogden, April 1.—A short session of district court was held last evening by Judge Howell, and a number of routine matters were disposed of.

Inventory and appraisal in the estate of Steven Williams was filed with the clerk of the court yesterday. The estate is valued at $245.31.

In the case of C. H. Warren against J. F. Smith, a notice of appeal to the supreme court has been filed.

John Hutchinson has petitioned the district court for the appointment of himself as guardian of his three children, who are heirs to a $300 estate in Salt Lake county.

Before United States Commissioner Patton yesterday afternoon the bankruptcy case of Dan Regan company was held to ascertain whether any assets other than those listed existed. None was discovered, so the original value of about $12,000 was allowed to stand.

FROST DAMAGES.

Ogden, April 1.—The heavy snow storm which swept over Ogden and Weber county late Monday night and early Tuesday morning extended east as far as Granger and as far north as Montana. The storm did not do any damage to the railroad or the telegraph companies, but it is thought it will do great damage to the early crops.

A slight thaw during yesterday afternoon and heavy freezing heavy night will probably raise havoc with some of the early fruits which were in the bud in Weber and Boxelder counties. At a number of points throughout the northern part of the county a grain was up about three inches, but last night's cold spell did considerable damage. In the city, house plants and shrubbery that had been planted were killed.
