WHEN?

If I were told, that I must die tomorrow,
That the next sun
Which sinks should bear past me all fear and sorrow
For any one,
All the fight fought all the short journey through
What should I do?
I do not think that I should shrink or falter,
But just go on,
Doing my work, nor change nor seek to alter
Aught that is gone;
But rise and move and love and smile and pray
For one more day.
And lying down at night for that last sleeping,
Say in that ear
Which harkens ever, "Lord within thy keeping
How should I fear?
And when tomorrow brings Thee nearer still,
Do thou Thy will."
I might not sleep for awe; but peaceful, tender,
My soul would lie
All the night long; and when the morning
splendor
Flushed o'er the sky,
I think that I could smile—could calmly say
"It is His day."
But if a wondrous hand from the blue yonder,
Held out a scroll,
On which my life was writ, I with wonder,
Beheld unroll
To a long century's end its mystic clue,
What should I do?
What could I do, oh, blessed Guide and Master,
Other than this;
Still go on as now, not slower, faster,
Nor fear to miss
The road, although so very long it be,
While led by Thee.
Step after step, feeling Thee close beside me,
Although unseen,
Through thorne, through flowers, whether the tempest hid Thee
Or heavens serene,
Assured Thy faithfulness cannot betray,
Thy love decay.
I may not know; my God no hand revealeth
Thy counsels wise;
Along the path a deepening shadow stealth,
No voice replies
To all my questioning thought, the time to tell,
And it is well.
Let me keep on, abiding and unfearing
Thy will always,
Through a long century's ripening fruition
Or a short day's,
Thou canst not come too soon; and I can wait
If Thou come late.
