

POLICE DRAGNET GATHERS IN VAGS

Officers Have a Busy Time Rounding Up Loafers Who Infest Low Saloons.

MULLEN HAS UNIQUE CLAIM.

One Alleged Vagrant Orders Jailer to Send for His Uncle, the Boss Of the "Americans."

Police Officers Phillips and Stains had a busy time of it last night rounding up alleged vagrants, and their dragnet brought in five. The men were accused of wandering about the streets at late and unusual hours of the night and having no visible means of earning a living. It was charged by the police that the gang has been hanging about saloons watching for opportunities to "roll" drunken miners who might have a few dollars on them.

The men arrested gave the names of Joe Allen, Ed Rosberry, John Evans, Jim Hoy and M. J. Mullen. The last named claimed that he is a nephew to Tom Kearns, millionaire, ex-senator and recognized boss of the "American" party. Last night, according to Jailer Wilkinson, Mullen declared he was Mr. Kearns's nephew and asked that the ex-senator be sent for. His request was denied because no good parties "Americans" party jailer would dare to annoy Mr. Kearns by calling him to the city jail. Each of the accused pleaded guilty to the charge of vagrancy and all were given "floaters" which will have until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning to leave the city and all were apparently glad to embrace the chance to get away.

HAMILTON PARDONED.

Victim of the Drug Habit Given a Chance to Leave Town.

Jim Hamilton, a "dope" fiend, who has been in jail many times on the charge of vagrancy, drunkenness and petty larceny, and who was recently sentenced to a term of 30 days on the rock pile for vagrancy, will be released from prison either this evening or tomorrow, as he is pardoned by the mayor. Hamilton was in the chain gang this morning but Jailer Wilkinson brought him back to headquarters. It is understood that the man wants to leave the city and the authorities are glad of the chance to get rid of him.

UTAH'S PROUD RECORD.

Youngest of Western States Shows Up Well in Rebuilding Fund.

Sut. D. H. Christensen of the Salt Lake City schools has received from the school reconstruction committee of San Francisco a detailed list of the amounts contributed by the various cities and states of the Union for the purpose of assisting to rebuild the schools of the stricken city after the earthquake. In the list Utah shows up with more contributed than the state of California itself.

DOMESTIC WORKS TOO MUCH.

At the request of Mrs. Thomas R. Cutler, Hedwig Cox, a domestic, was taken into custody yesterday afternoon because of her erratic actions. She had been in the Cutler home about two weeks and for the past two or three days had acted strangely, working most of the night and mumping to herself as she worked. She was placed in a cell at the county jail, that her condition might be inquired into by the county physician.

CELEBRITY CONVINCED THEM.

After Seeing Friends Wed, Witnessing Couple Do Likewise.

Four hearts with but a single thought, was the program at the office of the county clerk yesterday afternoon. Errol G. Good, of Lexington, Ky., and Marie E. Haglund of Logan went into the department of Cupid to secure a license to wed. They were accompanied by W. O. Hampton of Salt Lake and Helen Youngquist of St. Paul as witnesses. The ceremony was performed by J. U. Eldredge, Sr., and duly witnessed by the second married couple at the quarter was retiring, a hurried consultation was seen to take place in the corridors. In a moment the four turned back and the tables were turned—Mr. and Mrs. Good became witnesses to the ceremony which bound together Mr. Hampton and Miss Youngquist.

NELSON GIRL BREAKS PAROLE.

Grace Nelson, 19 years old, a former inmate of the Industrial school at Ogden, was recommitted to the institution yesterday by Judge Gowans. The girl was released on parole last winter, and in February she broke her parole, failing to report to the officials. It was soon discovered by the officers of the juvenile court that the girl was in a house of ill-repute, and Probation Officer Brown took her to the county jail. She told a pitiful tale, but it did not stand the light of investigation, and Miss Nelson was therefore taken back to the industrial school.

BOYS RUN OVER CHILD.

Helen, the 3-year-old daughter of H. F. Aller of the Salt Lake & Ogden railway, was run over last evening by a careless bicyclist, and as a result one of her ribs was fractured. The girl was playing on the sidewalk when two boys raced past on wheels. They went on after knocking the child to the pavement, seeming to care nothing for what they had done. Dr. Waite, who cared for the child, says it will be several weeks before she entirely recovers.

DINWOODEY AS SURETY.

Henry Dinwoodey is the new surety on the bond of A. W. Nelson. He replaces P. W. Madson, who is a member of a mutual society which forbids its members to go on the bonds of any person, and who allowed the use of his name in this case temporarily. The new bond was perfected yesterday afternoon by A. B. Irvine, and filed in the federal court. S. G. Thurman has been retained as chief counsel for A. W. Nelson, and will personally take charge of his defense.

TO NAME BUREAU CHIEF.

The Commercial club now has a traffic bureau in full swing. Its manager will be appointed, and it has its work pretty well out for it. The bureau was a long time in being formed. The club's board of governors and the traffic committee considered the matter informally for a number of months, and then gradually brought together a plan which has finally been adopted. The special committee to take charge of the bureau, and to be responsible for the appointment of a manager, consists of C. A. Quigley, Samuel Wetz, C. N. Strevell, B. F. Redman, W. S. McCarthy, H. B. Valentin, S. H. Greve, Joseph Georgegan and F. J. Fabian.

WARD ENTERTAINMENTS.

Whitney Hall—The amateurs of the Eighteenth ward resurrected the once famous comedy of "Jane" before a big audience last evening. The present generation of theater-goers has almost forgotten this clever comedy, and the audience last night went into convulsions over its funny episodes. It was originally presented at the Salt Lake Theatre by Johnstone Bennett, 12 or 15 years ago. The young performers last night astonished the audience by the ease of their acting and their general excellence throughout. The cast was made up of Elliott Clawson, Thaddeus Hammond, Will James, George Glade, Clyde Edmunds, Gwen Knowlton, May Alder, Nora Noal and Margaret Cummings, the direction being in the hands of Ivy Cleghorn and Vera Noal. The piece secured an undoubted success, and the audience applauded heartily when it was announced that it would be repeated on the evening of Monday the 13th, for the benefit of Mr. Hammond, one of the cast, who leaves shortly on a mission to Germany.

COURT NEWS.

DECREE FOR MAUD MAUS. Upon recommendation of Referee Howard King, who took testimony in the case, Mrs. Maud Maus was yesterday granted a decree of divorce from her husband, Theodore Maus. In her testimony Mrs. Maus said her husband had treated her cruelly, and on one occasion kidnapped her six-year-old son, which she recovered by habeas corpus proceedings. The decree carried with it the custody of the child.

During the half year just closed, Judge Armstrong of the criminal division of the Third district court, has sentenced 50 people to terms in the state penitentiary. This beats the record of the entire year of 1907.

DECIDES "HOUSE CASE."

Judge Ritchie has rendered a decision in the "house moving" case which occupies several days of his attention a few weeks ago. The decision is in favor of Annie Butcher, and against Polly Matthews and Isaac, George and Joseph Butcher, who moved a house belonging to the plaintiff. Mrs. Butcher sued for the value of the house, and in the trial of the case her husband appeared against her, he having ordered his brothers to move the house. When the moving was done, Mrs. Butcher admitted she "used language" toward the men doing the work, the like of which might not be printed. The judgment is for $125, but Polly Matthews found not to have been responsible in the matter, is exonerated.

ENTHUSED OVER CANADA

Former Salt Laker Talks About Prosperous Conditions Existing In Alberta.

After an absence of six years, during which time he settled on a homestead near Tabor, Alberta, J. J. Walton has returned to visit a few weeks with his aged parents who reside at Alpine in Utah county. Mr. Walton is enthusiastic over the Canadian region which he now calls his home and says Americans have been coming in during the past few years by the thousands. He recites, as evidence of the prosperous conditions existing there, that when he landed in the town of Tabor there were not to exceed 20 persons in the place; whereas now the population is estimated to be at least 2,500 and thousands of acres of land, in a wild state a few years ago, has been broken up and placed in cultivation. "The prospects for a bounteous harvest are excellent. In fact, the outlook never did look so bright as this year," declared Mr. Walton, "and that necessarily means that we are going to have continuation of the prosperous time which have existed for sometime past. "The crops last year were splendid. The yield of wheat from the dry farms averaged about 30 bushels to the acre and farmers disposed of their crops at 50 cents per bushel. The field of oats was about 44 bushels to the acre and sold in field at $1.50 per 100 pounds. "The Canadians are a very hospitable people and are ever ready to extend the hand of welcome to Americans. They realize that as a rule they are good farmers and good citizens; they usually bring money with them and labor towards the improvement and building up of the country. "The Canadian land laws are very liberal too. To obtain title to a homestead all the persons filing on the land has to pay the government a fee of $10, which is done at the time the filing is made. Actual residence for six months each year for three successive years with the cultivation of 15 acres of ground each year is required; whereupon the settler is entitled to a patent to the land." Mr. Walton was formerly an instructor in the Latter-day Saints' university in this city. A son, J. W. Walton, is in the employ of the Burlington Route here.

CHARGES CRUELTY TO ANIMALS

Yesterday afternoon Dr. T. B. Bentley swore to a complaint in Justice Dana T. Smith's court, charging Earl Crowther with cruelty to animals. Crowther is a driver of one of the sprinkling wagons for the city, and it is alleged that Crowther cruelly treated his team on State and South Temple streets yesterday afternoon. A number of persons say they saw the man beat the horses unmercifully, and they are willing to testify against him. The man has been in trouble before, it is said, on a similar charge.

WOULD PAY IN HEAVEN.

Delusion of Alex McCarty Lands Him In Padded Cell.

Alex McCarty, alias Angus McArthur, is confined in the county jail and will be examined as to his mental condition. The man was taken into custody yesterday at the instance of the manager of Keith-O'Brien's, after he had ordered a large fortune, which he directed to be sent C. O. D. to heaven. The clerks believed the purchaser to be acting in good faith until near the close of his shipping order. When he had selected goods to the amount of several hundred dollars, McCarty informed those waiting on him that he had recently inherited a large fortune from an uncle. He had ordered the money to be sent to heaven, and payment would there be made for his goods.

FOOD INSPECTOR BUSY.

John Peterson, state food and dairy inspector, has sworn out a complaint against E. C. Bagley, charging him with maintaining unsanitary conditions in a slaughter house, situated at the mouth of Big Cottonwood canyon. The complaint alleges that the unsanitary conditions have existed at the place mentioned since the 1st of May. The case will be heard before Justice Dana T. Smith.

ONE-PIECE LINGERIE GOWN. Some of the embroidered muslin frocks are so simple that the price asked—and paid—for them seems excessive until the fact that they are hand-made is taken into consideration. Mingling with the embroidery of the slightly trained skirts are conventional designs worked out in narrow lace insertions, matching those heading the flounces, which are tucked widely or narrowly, according to fancy. Pin-tucking is employed to gather the top fulness of the skirt into the shaped girdle of lace madelaine and insertion, and its trimming scheme is reproduced in the blouse, which may be further enriched with a yoke of fllet, Irish or point de Venise. Japanese sleeves have by no means gone out of favor, for the long shoulder and wide arm size are used in many of the most costly lingerie gowns.
