UTAH METHODIST MISSION

Fire in Mountains—Child Coughs Up
Nail from Throat—District and Police Court Notes.

Ogden, Aug. 25.—The session of the city council last evening was brief and only a number of routine matters were considered. The principal item was the reconsidering of the council's action upon the matter of the central heating plant, which was before the council about two weeks ago. Councilman Flygare made a motion that the bids which were received for the building of the central heating plant for the buildings on city hall square be taken from the table and referred to the buildings and grounds committee. It was so ordered.

The property owners in Mountain View cemetery petitioned the council to complete the sidewalk work which has been started on Twenty-second street, between Harrison avenue and Ogden boulevard. The petition was referred to the sidewalk committee.

The plat of the Wallace subdivision at Twenty-sixth street and Harrison avenue, which was submitted about a week ago, was adopted.

The sum of $300 was appropriated for the city attorney to employ assistance in his office on account of the extra amount of work that has been assigned by the number of actions that are pending in the courts.

An invitation to attend the sessions of the American League of Municipalities which meets in Omaha, was accepted.

FIRE IN MOUNTAINS.

All day yesterday, all night and this forenoon a brush fire raged on the side of the mountain back of Ogden, doing great damage to the range and endangering the power and transmission lines of the Telluride Power company and the Utah Light & Railway company. Men were stationed along the line of the Telluride company to protect its poles from burning.

Several times the hose wagons from the two stations were sent to the foot of the mountain to protect private property which was endangered. The sight at night was grand though very costly. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is believed that the fires were started by boys of canyon picnic parties.

COUGHS UP NAIL FROM THROAT.

Earl Stowe Stowell, the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Stowell, residing at 2903 Washington avenue, coughed up a single nail which had been lodged in his throat for 12 days. On Aug. 12, the youngster put some nails in his mouth, and accidentally swallowed one. A physician was hastily summoned and everything possible was done to trace the nail. It was the opinion of the doctor in attendance that the nail had passed through the throat and lodged in the stomach.

For several days the little fellow suffered with great pain in his throat during the days and nights and many times he was subject to fits of coughing. Everything possible was done to relieve the boy's suffering but to no avail. Yesterday he was seized with a violent fit of coughing. His mother placed the boy with his face to the floor and the nail was released from its position in the boy's throat and was coughed up. The relief that the child received after coughing up the nail was visible. The boy will fully recover from the effects.

LOCKED IN STEEL VAULT.

While playing in the office of City Constable Clara Steele yesterday afternoon Clara Steele who was with Vera McBride, both very small girls, they became frightened of Gypsies and the Steele girl ran into a big vault and asked the McBride girl to close the door which the latter did. As soon as the door was closed the lock snapped and for about half an hour the Steele girl was held a prisoner until assistance was summoned and the steel door was opened. The girl was all right when released but was a little bit frightened.

In the police court this forenoon Frank Boucher was sent up for 50 days for stealing a lady's skirt from the store of Horrocks Brothers.

Charles Bautain, a negro, for stealing a suit of clothes was also sent to the city rock pile for 50 days.
