AN INQUIRY.—Is it not better to purchase Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder and True Flavoring Extracts, Ginger, Orange, Vanilla, etc., that have stood the test of years, than adulterated, unhealthy articles because they are cheaper? Good, pure articles must have a fair valuation, and that Dr. Price's are unequalled in quality and purity no person who has used them will deny.

THIS evening "Married Life" by the company, followed by a grand aerostatic and vocal entertainment by the great Rickards and Lottie, Frank and Katie at the Theatre.

THOSE festive seasons, Christmas and New Year's, will soon be here, and wives and children will make urgent appeals to pater familias to remember the Christmas and New Year's gifts. In order to enable those who may have the means and the disposition to respond to such calls to know where they may spend their money to the best advantage, we direct attention to the advertisement of the well-known music, book and toy firm of Calder & Careless, in to-day's paper.

The gentleman who desires to present his better-half with a sewing machine should go to Calder & Careless; they are agents for the Wilson machine, which is acknowledged to be the very best and cheapest in the market, and they can be procured on wonderfully easy terms at this establishment.

If a musical instrument is wanted, piano, organ, fiddle, drum, jewelry, or anything else, Calder & Careless keep in stock instruments of the best makers in the world, and their terms are of such a character that when known it will be at once acknowledged that the view in framing them was purely pro bono publico.

If you want sheet music or musical stationery of any kind, go to the store of Calder & Careless, they have on hand the largest assortment in the Territory, and one trial will convince you that they sell the cheapest.

Old Bibles, the works of the standard poets of England or America, or toy books for children, be desired, go to Calder & Careless if you want the cheapest rates.

If you want ladies' work boxes, cabinets, music boxes, writing desks, or ornaments and toys beautiful and cheap, go to Calder & Careless.

But, above all, if you desire to make your boys happy, go and buy them one or more from their collection of, not toys, but working models, made of iron and steel, of steamboats, steam engines, of various kinds, carpenter's shops, etc., etc., decidedly the most beautiful collection of the kind ever seen in Utah. For further particulars read their advertisement, and go to their store.

"I AM LAST OF SIX!"—One rainy forenoon something less than a year ago, a pale, cadaverous youth walked into the store of C. N. Crittenton, No. 7, Sixth Avenue, and frequently by a cough, interrupted by a hacking tone, stated that he wanted a couple of bottles of Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar. "I am the last of six," he said, "the others all died of consumption, and I am going fast. I will try this new remedy, but I have no hope." He told it, and to some purpose. He took it, all twelve bottles, and is to-day in perfect health—lungs sound, cough gone, and not a sign of pulmonary disease remaining.

PIKE'S TOOTH-ACHE DROPS.—Cure in one minute.

PURITY, STRENGTH, ECONOMY.—These three requisites are combined in DOOLEY'S well-known YEAST POWDER. As each ingredient entering into its composition is free from any deleterious or injurious substances, the PURITY and STRENGTH of each article is guaranteed in the manufacture, and one pound of DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER will last a third longer in culinary department, than the majority of Baking Powders in market, it proves conclusively that it is the most economical. Convenient to have in the house, and universally produces light and elegant food. For sale by all grocers.

Be careful to obtain.

Cleanse the stomach, bowels and blood from all the acrid, corrupt and offensive accumulations which produce functional derangements, and you remove the cause of all diseases which afflict the human system. They are sold dealers in medicine.

DR. LANE'S CURE

St. George.—By dispatch from St. George, we learn that President Brigham Young and Geo. A. Smith visited and inspected the quarry and Temple yesterday, and that the health of both was good.

Three hundred tons of rock was laid on the walls of the St. George Temple last week.

After Him.—One of the police officers started over Jordan to-day after a man named Crawford, who is accused of wearing out a chair upon "Fritz," an East Temple street saloon keeper. The fracas occurred on Thursday night, since which time Fritz's cranium has been in such a demoralized condition as to necessitate his being confined to bed. The row was all about forty cents, which Fritz claimed the other was owing him for malt water.

Arrivals in England.—The Metropolitan Star of Nov. 17 has the following—

"The following Elders arrived at this port from Utah on Sunday morning, 15th inst., per the Globe steamer Wyoming, viz., Robert Easton, U. G. Fygar, Andrew E. Larsen, S. C. Hansen, John M. Hansen, E. J. Gustavsen, Hoge Hansen, Soren Petersen, John Davenport, and George Ball. The Elders left Salt Lake City Oct. 2, and embarked at New York Nov. 1. They had a prosperous journey and are in the enjoyment of excellent health."

A Collision.—This morning a sleigh of Brother Benjamin Ashworth, the First Ward, was driving a wagon across the line of the street railroad, on East Temple Street, and the street car, which was going along at a goodly speed at the time, collided with Ashworth's vehicle, dragging it about a rod, breaking the tongue into splinters and more or less injuring one of the wheels and an axle tree. The concussion the lad was thrown from his seat to the ground and went under the wagon, one of the mules stepping upon his arm, inflicting a slight hurt, but he is not otherwise injured.

Recaptured.—Stockton, Decem-ber 18.—Louis, alias Roper, one of the monte sharps who dragged the jailer and escaped from prison at Salt Lake, was recaptured here on the west-bound overland train last night by railroad detective E. T. Burke, and placed in jail to await a requisition from Utah.—S. F. Chronicle.

The Rickards at Ogden.—The talented Rickards Combinations will appear at Ogden on Wednesday, when the good people of that flourishing city will have the opportunity of witnessing the per-formances of this very able troupe. Mr. Rickards in his character songs and Tottie, Frank, and Katie in their wonderful triple trapeze and flying trapeze feats.

Recovered.—Yesterday we were honored with a call from E. W. Tullidge, Esq., whose late severe illness had caused serious apprehensions among his friends in this city. This talented gentleman had been suffering from brain fever, but he tells us that through the un-mitting care and ministrations of those friends who so generously came forward in his time of peril and sorest need, he is "himself again" and already at work on his book, "The Life of Brigham Young and the Representative Men and Women of Utah" which he expects to be able to publish about the first of next May.

Wants to Hear from His Brother.—William Tait, care of Dr. Grierson, Melrose, Roxburghshire, Scot-land, is anxious to gain some tid-ings of his brother, Robert Tait, who, he says, was a first-class mus-icman, was in H. M. Tilt regiment, formerly stationed in Canada, and who left that portion of Victoria's dominions for the United States about twenty years ago, subse-quently coming to Utah, where the inquirer says he settled. The writer of the letter states also that a friend of his, from the United States informed him last year, that his brother was alive and well, and he is exceedingly anxious to learn definitely whether such is really the case. This is the second letter of inquiry that Mr. Tait has written on the subject, the first of which was also noticed in the News, but there was no response, in the shape of information, thereto. We try again.

Books Received.

We are indebted to the Messrs Lippincott & Co., publishers, of Philadelphia, for a copy of their new and revised edition of Pres-cott's work, the history of "Philip the Second," in three volumes. The reign of this monarch presents far more than ordinarily attractive elements and materials for the able historian, as it occurred at a period which may be justly considered one of the great turning points in the history of modern Europe and of civilization itself. The mental bondage, under which the people of Europe had so long labor-ed was then being burst by the mighty influences of the Protestant Reformation, which shook the church of Rome to its foundation, and rendered it, for all time to come, comparatively powerless over the ruins and actions of the masses; and taken as a whole, the events which occurred during the reign of Philip—the most powerful mon-arch in Europe—cannot but be re-garded as among the most momen-tous in the entire history of civiliza-tion and of Christendom.

Philip was the son of the famous Charles the Fifth, Emperor of Ger-many, and King of Spain and the Netherlands, who, when Philip was twenty-eight years old, abdi-cated in his favor, so far as the sovereignty of Spain and the Neth-erlands was concerned, thus ren-dering that young prince not only ruler of the foremost power in Eu-rope, but of the most extensive dominion then under one scepter in the world.

Philip the Second was a most devout son of the church, or, in other words, an intensely bigoted Catholic, and his zeal for extending the power and influence of Catho-licism is said to have surpassed that which he manifested for in-creasing the power and enlarging the dominions of the Spanish crown. One saying attributed to him is that it was better not to reign at all than to reign over heret-ics, that is, those not of the Catholic faith. With a man of this turn of mind, possessing all unmitigated power, it is easy to understand that religious intol-erance and persecution would be in-evitable, for the influences of the Reformation were quickly felt in every country in Europe, Spain, and the Netherlands not excepted, and during the reign of this sov-ereign the Auto-de-fe flourished in the former, while in the latter the cruel and outrages practiced on the people by the authority of Philip were perhaps never sur-passed if ever equalled in the his-tory of the world. The struggles of the brave Netherlands for civil and religious freedom, under their noble leaders, foremost among whom was William the Silent, Prince of Orange, form one of the most thrilling chapters of history in all times. The principles promulga-ted by Luther early took deep root in Holland, and the course of the people, under the impulse excit-ed by their new faith, excited the wrath of Philip to the highest degree, and for their contumacy he had Dutch subjects were consigned to the tender mercies of ten thousand brutal soldiers, led by the Duke of Alva, one of the great-est generals of his age, and one of the most bloodthirsty and cruel men mentioned in history's pages. This wretch was viceroy of the Netherlands for six years, and dur-ing that period he inflicted the most unheard of atrocities upon the people, putting nearly 100,000 to death by executions, besides an unnumbered thousands killed in battles and sieges.

It was during the reign of Philip the Second that the so-called "army of invincible Armada" was sent to invade England, after the refusal of Elizabeth to accept the hand

Philip's marriage, he also waged wars with France, Turkey and Italy, and taken in their entirety the events of this reign have rendered it one of the most famous in the brilliant history of the Spain of centuries ago, the recital of which, in the hands of Prescott, forms one of the most authentic and popular historical works ever presented to the public. Speaking of the new and revised edition of this history, mechanically, only terms of praise can be used; it is both faultless. It is elegantly bound, printed in beautiful type, on fine stout paper, and contains steel portraits of Philip and the nobles of his court.

It can be obtained at Dwyer's book store in this city.

District Court Proceedings.—Yesterday afternoon the demurrors to indictments against John Beegan, one for manslaughter and the other for larceny, were overruled. With regard to the second indictment the district attorney was instructed to elect which count he would proceed under.

This morning Nicholas Lawless pleaded not guilty to an indictment for murder.

In Peter Geddes, Warren Hussey et al defendants were allowed till Feb. 1, 1895 to plead, by consent of counsel. Court adjourned till Monday, Dec. 14th, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Rather a Bad Case.—To-day a respectable looking woman, who had turned the ripedge of three-score and fourteen years, called at the City Hall and made enquiries about her son, who, she said, was a shoemaker, who lived in the Tenth Ward and had been missing from Thursday. The police record showed that the man had been sent to jail for drunkenness. The information caused the old lady considerable distress of mind. She had come to this country several years ago by herself and had saved means out of her own earnings and sent for her prodigal son, and this was the method he was taking to repay her maternal kindness and sollicitude. If there was a spark of manhood about the fellow, surely he would behave himself better, if from no other incentive than to save his aged mother from distress.

Theatre.—Last evening "Time and the Hour" was excellently played by the company. Mr. Richards sang several songs in his own style, flashing with the "Blighted Benefactor," the latter elicited by the persistent and hearty applause he received over his "Take it, Bob," song. He is a clever character singer, and appeared to please the audience immensely. The trapeze exercises of Lottie Frank and Katie are done with such deliberation and ease that it seems as if anybody could hang, leap, and throw himself or herself around with similar facility. But he or she can't.

This evening the pleasing comedy of "Married Life," with Misses Walters, Cogswell, Clawson, and Napper, and Messrs. Graham, Thorne, Marden, Foster and Wilton in the cast, followed by Richards's specialties and the extraordinary trapeze feats, treble and flying Lottie, Frank and Katie.

Information Demurs.—A person who can give the information desired in the annexed communication will confer a favor by forwarding it to the address of the letter—

"LINCOLNTOWN, Lincoln County, North Carolina.

"Brigham Young, Esq.,
"Dear Sir—I have a son in Utah, and having all the anxiety of a mother's heart to know of his whereabouts, and knowing of no more suitable person than yourself to address on the subject I take this method of entreating you to use your good offices and endeavors as may suit you to ascertain where he is. My son's name is Wallace Haywood Hobbs, and he is near Lincolntown, Lincoln County, North Carolina. I think he is in Salt Lake. If convenient and you will attend to this and let me hear from you, you will place me under great obligations.

"Yours respectfully,
"SUEBAN HOBBS."

A Swindler.—A young fellow was arrested yesterday by the police charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, by passing a check on Walker Bros' bank, for the sum of two hundred and sixty dollars, signed A. H. Blake. He had obtained several meals from the restaurant of J. C. Bowman, and wanted the lady to advance him $7.00 on it, as he was going to redeem the check. He also told the lady his name was H. H. Blake. Yesterday he called on her and said he was too late for the train and wanted $10.00 on the check which she gave him. The lady anxious to settle her meat bill presented it to Mr. Short, butcher for payment on account. Mr. Short laid two $50 bills on the counter for change, when he belittled himself and drew the money back stepped down to Walker Bros' bank and found that the check was worthless. When the police arrested the man he gave his name as Charles Johnson, but when brought before Justice Pyper he said he was John Dwyer, a depositor. The Judge fined him $50.00, which he will work for the city.

A Letter.—An unnamed, lately reached the London post office which proved a perfect puzzle to the English authorities. The document. It was referred to the India office with no better success, as the authorities at the British Museum were equally at fault. A strong hint was given that the letters were discovered in a suburban district, and the letter was submitted to them. They at once pronounced the clue it was written in Telugu a language spoken by no fewer than 8,000,000 people in the Presidency of Madras. The letter was addressed to the Queen, and the absence of the word "from" explained by the words "from the Queen's letter." The letters addressed to the Viceroy of India, being, it seems, free postage in India. Americans are urged to pay a grateful tribute to the activity of the English post office in discovering, under great difficulties, those to whom they are addressed.

ANOTHER "OPEN LETTER."

Dear Public:

We have often observed how naturally, when you wish to purchase any article of comfort or necessity, you endeavor to procure it at the lowest possible price, cheapness generally constituting the most important point in favor of buying. This frequently proves mistaken economy, because low-priced goods must be made of inferior materials, consequently such goods invariably fail to give satisfaction; in perhaps every branch of trade is this fact more apparent than in Boots and Shoes. We are not advocating high prices, however, but take great pleasure in stating that the policy we have adopted of using only the best materials, and making none but good, "honest" warranted Boots and Shoes has gained us hosts of customers, who, as evidence they are satisfied that our goods are well made and truly cheap, always come again to send their friends. Any defect in workmanship is repaired free of charge. "In addition to the goods of our own make, we keep a constant assortment of the best qualities of imported Boots and Shoes, including Rubbers, etc., suitable for the season."
