

CONFERENCE OF CHURCH WORKERS

Teachers of the Young Hear Instructive Talks on Proper Methods.

BOOK OF MORMON TREATED

Elder A. W. Ivins Tells of His Study of the Work and Observation in Country Referred To.

The opening exercises in the general assembly on Wednesday afternoon were enlivened by musical numbers from the B. Y. university. Miss Edith Hindley sang "Ave Maria," and a quartet, consisting of Miss Hindley, Miss Margaret Bean, Mr. Charles Johnson, and Mr. Carl Nelson sang "Selva."

The convention then separated into departments. In the Church history section, Guy C. Wilson spoke of the essentials to be emphasized in church history. He thought that in the teaching of this subject, justice should be done to those who have opposed the Church at the same time that the events in our history are gone over. The discussion which followed was mainly along this line.

George F. Hickman, in the Book of Mormon section, presented the showing exercises to be emphasized in the study of this book: 1. A review of the coming forth of the book. 2. The testimony of the witnesses. 3. Story of the book. 4. Internal evidences. 5. Christ's mission to the western continent. 6. External evidences.

In the discussion which followed it was suggested that careful consideration be given to the chapters, not great men in Nephi's history, but the view of applying principles drawn from such study to the lives of the student.

The section in which was discussed Religion class was the chapter, not great men in Nephi's history, but the view of applying principles drawn from such study to the lives of the student.

The problems of missionary class work in Church schools formed the basis of a paper by Supt. Horace H. Cummings in the principal and missionary class teachers. The question of matron work was also discussed.

William H. Chamberlain in his paper, "The Essentials of Old Testament History," said that the aim of all studies in theology is the living of a fuller and more satisfying life. As we carefully consider through a year's course how God gradually unfolded Himself to Israel, our understanding of Him will be increased and our desire to co-operate with Him at the same time will grow. All our lessons should be subordinated to the aim of discovering what God is purposing in the event of life under consideration. A fuller life may also be lived by our students as they learn to comprehend.

THE BOOK OF MORMON. Elder Anthony W. Ivins occupied the whole time of the evening session in speaking about the Book of Mormon. He said his knowledge of the Book was largely the result of a careful study of the volume combined with his observations among the lands where the ancient inhabitants of this continent had lived. "His viewpoint," therefore, was his own, not having been influenced to any great extent by the study of other books or by the opinions of other men.

The speaker said that to him the Book of Mormon was a source of inspiration and knowledge of the gospel. It stands for the highest ideals. It tells how that faith in Jesus Christ was the foundation of all the Nephiite doctrine and practice. They believed in Him from the beginning of their history, long before He came to live among men in the flesh, and they accepted Him after He came.

The Book itself claims to be a special witness for Christ. On its title page, it is announced that the abridgement made by Mormon "is to show unto the remnant of the house of Israel what great things the Lord hath done for their fathers; and that they may know the covenants of the Lord, that they are not cast off forever; and also to the convincing of the Jew and gentile that Jesus is the Christ, the Eternal God, manifesting Himself unto all nations."

The Christianity of the Book of Mormon is plain and emphatic. Christians who base their belief on the Bible alone are in a conflict of opinions. For instance, the simple subject of baptism is understood and practiced widely different by the sects of Christendom; but the subject is made so plain in the Nephiite record that all doubt is removed. The Book gives us splendid ideals of character. What can be finer than the faith and integrity of Nephi; of the strength of Mosiah, who refused a kingdom; and established a democracy of government instead of a monarchy. These, said the speaker, had greatly inspired him, and they ought to be in the hearts of the children of the Church.

Wonderful prophecies, both of events that have already transpired and of some yet to come, are contained in the Book of Mormon. It was the opinion of the speaker that if we had the full interpretation of that beautiful parable of the olive tree, we would have an idea of a great part of the world's history.

Another feature of the Book which does not receive enough attention is the fact that the record was "written to the Laminites who are a remnant of the house of Israel." The plates were preserved that they might come back to the "remnant" and convert them to Christ, as the Jews had a testimony of Christ, so also should they.

We who know only of the scattered Indian tribes of the north cannot realize the extent and nature of the Indians in the south. There are great nations of them in Mexico, Central and South America; and many of them are civilized and partly civilized. These people must some day be reached.

QUESTIONS OF ETHNOLOGY. The ethnology of America's native races has puzzled students of this subject. The best authorities have concluded that the Indians are of Jewish origin, but exceptions to this general rule are continually being pointed out. Elder Ivins suggested an explanation to this that other people besides those recorded in the Book of Mormon—Norsemen, Mongolians, and others, might also have found their way across the waters and mixed with the native Indian races.

Did the Jaredites become extinct? The Book of Mormon tells us that after their great and final descent, only the Nephites and Coriantumr were left. It was a pleasing thought, however, that Coriantumr might have left posterity among the people of the future, with whom he lived "for the space of nine moons." Color was given to this supposition by the fact that there exists traditions among the natives of the land farthest south, where Countess have hundreds of ruined cities, large rivers, "lost seas" and "west seas," and correspond in many other ways with the description contained in the Book of Mormon. The speaker described some of the immense ruins of Yucatan, and called attention to the fact that there are no extensive ruins in South America the few that are, being those of the more recent Peruvian Incas.

The presentation of this last phase of the subject brought out a number of questions from the teachers, and on their request Elder Ivins will continue his talk this evening in Barrett hall.

The singers from the B. Y. University furnished the music for the evening.

TAMPERING WITH WIRES. Percy Garside and J. E. Wadwell, sheepherders, were taken into custody yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriffs Beckett and Stokes for tampering with the high tension wires of the Telephone Power company's line two miles north of Riverport. The men are charged with having thrown a wire over three circuits of the main 40,000 volts transmission system, causing the wires to burn up. When they were arraigned before Justice Cooper of Riverport they pleaded guilty and were bound over to the district court under $500 bonds.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED. by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a humming sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists.
