you for sending me the copy of the magazine.

Sincerely "THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

"To Mr. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, Washington, D. C." "The fact of the matter is," Mr. Gompers declares, "that President Roosevelt, having made Injunction Judge Taft the candidate of the Re-publican party for provident and eacher bubican party for president and seeing that the 'labor vote' which so often has been coorralled, diverted, and per-verted by the politicians, is now aroused and determined to deliver its own vote: that the toilers will not be cajoled, deceived or brow-beaten, has become desperate and angry, and in his anger, by the worst exhibition of demagogism, tries to instill into the em-ployers and business men the fear that their property and business are in danger if a 'square deal.' implied by equality before the law and human freedom, is accorded to the workers with all other citizens. It is an exhibition of impotent rage and disappointment and an awful descent from the dignity of the high office of the president of the United States. No one but himself will be deceived as to the purpose of Mr. Roosevelt

"The workers and liberty-loving citizens are aroused as never before, since 1861.

BATTLE CRY FOR FREEDOM.

"The battle cry for freedom' is ain taken up. Then it was for the again taken up. Then it was for the Union and abolition of black slavery; today it is for the nation, equal rights and freedom for all.'

Mr. Gompers insists that the presi-dent "makes a direct and specific at-tack upon labor," in his letter to Senator Knox.

"The pretense that the attack is upon me is too thinly velled to deceived any one." he adds, "He strikes over my shoulder at the hearts of the great rank and file of the workers and other lib. arty loving citizens of the country. So far as I am concerned, I have neither the inclination nor the desre to bask in the sunlight of President Roosevelt's "benevolent assimilation" by which he placates some, by the big stick, brow-beats others, and by his sophistry hopes to feel the masses into support-lopes to fool the masses into support-ing injunction Judge Taft. "President Roosevelt says that Semi-tor Knox ins a peculiar right to dis-cuss the principles involved in injunc-tions because he as attorney general prosecuted a civil suit for damages to an injured workman. That Senator Knox was the special counsel of the Pecusylearies rates and of the United Pennsylvania rairoad and of the United States steel corporation would indeed qualify him to discuss the injunction abuse, but certainly only from the view point of the friends of corporations who profit by the abuse of the injunction writ as it brings advantage and profit io corporate greed and nower. "If the courts have not invaded hu man liberty, if they have not under-taken to protect corporate interests to the detriment of the people, why did President Rooseveit characterize Judge Grosscup's reversal of Judge Landls' $29,000,000 fine upon the Standard Oil trust as 'a gross miscarriage of jus

GOMPERS IN GOOD COMPANY.

Referring to dissenting opinions of Justice Harlan, Justice Moody and many distinguished jurists and legal authorities on the abuse of the injunction he declares that Mr. Roose-velt has "placed me in good company." "Of course," he says, "every one knows that the president has strongly urged every measure which he advo-cated and then accepted what his po-litical opponents in his own party choses to give him. It is general knowledge that he had a more liberal platform prepared for adoption by the Repub-lican convention at Chleago and then accepted what they doled out. All know that the nomination of Mr. Sherknow that the nomination of Mr. Sher-man for the vice presidency was con-cocted by Senator Burrows and Speak-er Cannon as a slap in the face to Mr. Roosevelt; but the president, because his injunction judge, Mr. Taft, has been nominated for the presidency, now not only swallows the whole pot pourt, but must needs directly and indirectly the directly in the face to the face attack me in the fight which my fellow workers and I are making in defense of equality before the law, of the men of labor with all other citizens, and for the establishment of human freedom. PEARRE INJUNCTION BILL.

Mr. Gompers asserts that the "Pearro injunction bill, which Mr. Roosevelt at tacks, has been before several Con-gresses without a word of criticism or comment from him," and scouts the suggestion that "Mr. Mitchell and oth-

DEATH OF F. M. LANGFORD.

Word was received in this city Saturday evening, that Frank M. Langford of this city had been found dead on his ranch on the Raft River, Ida., 30 miles from Albion. J. E. Langford, brother of the deceased, immediately left on the northbound midnight train, and in order to reach Raft River had to take a wagon drive of 60 miles. The widow is prostrated by the affliction. Frank Langford owned an 850 acre ranch for which he left in September, has he was in poor health, and nothing had been heard from him since that time, so it was not known how long he has been dead. He was 50 years old, and leaves a wife, Helen D. Lang-ford, with two brothers, Jeremiah and William, all residents of this city. The deceased was born in Texas, being brought to Salt Lake at the age of three. His parents who left the south with him both died en route, so he was adopted by Mrs. Margaret Moody of Salt Lake who was well known here during her liftetime. Mr. Lang-ford was married in 1886. The cause of his death is supposed to have been

"Queer, it is not, that since the [smelter case] decision the farm lands have decreased in value for the purpose of taxation? In other words, the lands are not so valuable as they were, and farming upon smelter smoke was more productive from the dollar and cent standpoint of the farmer than the tilling of the soll. While there has been a large increase in the value of property for taxable purposes in Salt Lake City, there has been a decrease in the property outside, and the farm lands are not worth as much as they were a year ago.
