THE ENGLISH EDUCATION BILL

At End of Lords' Debate on it All Hope of Compromise Appeared Gone.

NO IMPORTANT CONCESSIONS.

Present Measure May be Dropped and Another Introduced Next Session.

London, Dec. 4.—When the house of lords rose, past midnight last night, having concluded the debate on the report stage of the education bill, all hopes of a compromise appeared to be lost and the opinion prevailed, at least among the members of the opposition, that the government would drop the present bill and introduce another at the next session of parliament.

No important concessions have been made by the opposition peers, but, on the contrary, an amendment to clause 4, which provides that the local education authority "may" afford extended facilities for special religious instruction, was carried by 131 votes to 45, on a motion made by Lord Lansdowne. This amendment, in the words of the Marquis of Ripon, lord of the privy seal, introduced a vital and extreme change to which it was absolutely impossible for the government to accede, and the bishop of Hereford, the only consistent supporter of the government among the bishops, described it as a wrecking amendment which would not be looked at by the house of commons.

The matter is so complicated that it is difficult of explanation, but the practical effect of Lord Lansdowne's amendment would be to increase the advantages that clause 4 offers to those who desire denominational education.

The house last night again presented an imposing and brilliant appearance. The floor was crowded with peers, the galleries were lined with peeresses, while members of the ministry and of the house of commons crowded the steps of the throne. Several minor modifications of the bill also were carried, but from the point of view of the government the measure is now rather worse than when it left the committee stage in the house of lords.

The third reading of the bill has been fixed for next Thursday, and it will be returned to the house of commons the following Monday. In the meantime the government probably will call a cabinet council to decide upon what attitude to take in the matter.

The Chronicle, a strong and consistent Liberal paper, is still hopeful that a compromise is not impossible. It is inclined to think that the house of lords will not insist upon its amendments when they are again rejected in the house of commons.

The Daily News, another Liberal paper, says there is no course for the government except to restore the education bill to its original form and leave the house of lords to surrender or take the consequences.

The Conservative newspapers publish editorials this morning in which they say they regard the bill as practically dead.

WHAT SOCIALISM IS.

Prof. J. L. Laughlin Declares it is the Philosophy of Failure.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—During an exposition of the labor question, Prof. J. Laurence Laughlin of the University of Chicago, told the members of the Citizens' Industrial Association of America, whose guest he was at a banquet last night, that Socialism is the philosophy of failure. He declared further that in allying themselves with it men admitted themselves failures and asked society to do for them what they had been unable to accomplish for themselves.

Prof. Laughlin took up the labor question with ungloved hands and first made a plea for fair play in behalf of the employe. He asserted that better conditions could be derived by reduction of the tariff on raw materials, and that this would redound to the benefit of the employer and employe, affording better markets abroad and cheaper products for home consumption. Labor and capital must work in conjunction.

Other speakers at the banquet were C. W. Post, president of the association, and J. W. Vancleave of St. Louis. The latter who responded to the toast "The President of the United States" compared President Roosevelt to President Andrew Jackson. He was extolled for his conduct in steering a middle course in labor questions and applying the law to "capitalistic trusts and labor trusts." In conclusion he said:

"Gentlemen, I do not renominate Theodore Roosevelt for president in 1908; he is already renominated in the hearts of the American people."

It Takes Nerve

Everything depends upon your nerves. It is nerve force that causes the brain to direct the motion of your body; it is nerve force that causes your heart to pulsate, and send the blood through your veins; it is nerve force that causes your stomach to digest food, your kidneys to filter the blood, and the liver to secrete bile.

In fact, nerve force is the power that runs your body, so if you feel worn-out, irritable, nervous, cannot sleep, or eat well, have pain or misery anywhere, your nerves are weak, and your system run-down. To restore this vitality take Dr. Miles' Nervine which will strengthen and build up the nerves. You cannot be healthy without strong nerves.

"For eighteen years Dr. Miles' Nervine and Anti-Pain Pills have been my close companions. Early in married life, while raising children, my nerves became all worn-out—could not sleep; had no appetite; indigestion very bad, and had such awful dizzy spells. Then I began using Dr. Miles' Nervine, and at once I began to improve, and soon found myself in perfect health."

Why It Succeeds.

Because it's for One Thing Only, and Salt Lake City People Appreciate This.

Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success. Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only.

They cure sick kidneys.

They cure backache, every kidney ill.

Here is Salt Lake City evidence to prove it.

William Cass, living at 154 West Sixth South Street, Salt Lake City, Utah, says: "I have never found anything equal to Doan's Kidney Pills for curing kidney trouble and backache and I have tried many other remedies said to be good for such ailments. Since the value of Doan's Kidney Pills was proven to me whenever I have felt the least sign of backache or kidney trouble I have procured a box at F. J. Hill Drug Co., store. They have never failed to give me perfect satisfaction and I take pleasure in recommending them to others afflicted with backache or kidney complaint."
