Guiteau's Witnesses.

WASHINGTON, 3.—Scoville, counsel for Guiteau, will submit to the court to-morrow an affidavit setting forth that a number of witnesses for the prosecution, whose names were on the list furnished the defense, have not been put upon the stand; that he has reason to believe, or at least the presumption exists, that these witnesses, since they were originally selected and summoned by the prosecution, have changed their minds with regard to the case, and that the District Attorney has not put them on the stand because he knows their testimony now would be favorable to the prisoner. Some half of the witnesses, he alleges, changed their [illegible] mental condition after they were subpœnaed, and it is fair to presume a similar change took place in the opinion of witnesses whom the prosecution called, but afterward decided not to examine. If so their testimony may be available for the purposes of the defense and they should be put upon the stand. Submitting this affidavit, Scoville will move that all witnesses on the list of the prosecution who have not been called by that side, be now summoned for the defense and examined in behalf of the prisoner.

Cutting Off the Supplies.

A new arrangement has been made by which Guiteau is to subsist upon ordinary prison fare. Heretofore, when meals have been sent to the prisoner from outside, it was a strict rule from the jail officials not to touch them in any way. Had anything happened to the prisoner the jail officials could not have been held accountable. Scoville has now thrown the responsibility of food and visitors upon the warden of the jail. He no longer issues passes or requests to the officers to admit parties to the jail. Guiteau is not to receive his letters any more and is not to be supplied with newspapers.

Odious Comparison.

It is understood the defense in the Guiteau case will shortly introduce a new feature. The so-called cranks numbering between 40 and 50 arrested here since Guiteau shot the President, and most of them sent to the St. Elizabeth Insane Asylum on physicians' certificates will be introduced. The physicians in each case will, it is said, be subpœned for the purpose of comparing those cases with Guiteau.

Guiteau's Admirers.

Guiteau's vanity and love of notoriety has been well fed the last few days. He has had a great number of callers at the jail, the majority of whom seem to have a silly admiration for this atrocious wretch.

The Choctaw Protest.

Ex-Governor Overton, here for the purpose of protesting against the ratification of the act of the Choctaw general council of 1881, granting the right of way to the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad company, called upon the Secretary of the Interior to-day, made a brief argument and filed a formal protest. Overton says to-day's interview with the Secretary was merely a preliminary one and that the subject will be further argued by himself and other delegates who have arrived in the city. A meeting of the representatives of the Cherokee, Creek, Choctaw and Chickasaw nations was held to-night at which the whole matter was discussed and a practical agreement reached as to the manner in which they will proceed to oppose the act above referred to. The delegates intend to visit Secretary Kirkwood in a body and endeavor to convince him that the grant was secured by the nation's irregular practices. The representatives of the Choctaw nation who arrived to-day are said to be prepared to establish this fact. The matter will be formally presented to President Arthur by the delegates, after which an attempt will be made to thoroughly explain their grievances before the Senate committee on railroads. Overton intends doing everthing in his power to induce Congress to exclude white intruders from the lands of the Chickasaws and Choctaws. Delegates now in this city, besides ex-Governor Orton, are D. O. Fisher, J. P. Fulson, Benj. Smallwood and F. Walker.

Reception at the White House.

Rarely has so brilliant a New Year been seen here. The clear, cold weather was all that could be desired, and the streets were perfectly dry, which is seldom the case at this time of the year, even when the sun shines as brightly as to-day. In addition to these favorable conditions, an added interest was awakened in regard to the first public reception of the new President at the White House. The spectacle was unusually magnificent, and amid the distinguished throng of high civil and military officers, richly dressed ladies and gorgeously attired members of the diplomatic corps, President Arthur's handsome form, dignified carriage and graceful ease of manner appeared to great advantage and produced a most favorable impression.

Who is There to Name for Logan?

There is a report that the scheme of Logan to place Grant on the retired list is not so much in the interest of Logan and other prominent Grant followers who have an ambition of their own, irrespective of the "old man." In other words, the principal Grant shriekers are tiring of their joke. They have begun to regard him as an Old Man of the Sea. They cannot shake him off until the old man is willing to be shaken. It is stated on pretty fair gossip authority that Grant told Logan and the rest if he is placed on the retired list as a general he will abandon all future political aspirations. As Logan principally is running the Grant hoolers, he has an ideal he may become Presidential candidate.

Investigation.

The Senate contingent fund investigating committee reassembles to-day. W. P. Brown, foreman of the treasury department cabinet workshop, presents a memorial, in which it is said, he gives the dates, the time occupied and the character of the work done by him upon Secretary Sherman's new house and stable, and also showing that some of the work had been charged to the different bureaus of the department.

Senator Sherman's friends have implicit confidence in the result of investigation into the disbursement contingent fund now in progress by the Senate committee. Said a prominent Ohioan to-day: I have known John Sherman in public and private life for over a quarter of a century, and you set it down he will never be convicted of petty larceny. His hands will be found clean, and no amount of investigation can hurt him.

Decreasing Debt.

The debt statement shows a decrease of the public debt during December, 1881, of $8,127,936.23; cash in the treasury, $253,377,980; gold certificates, $5,188,120; silver certificates, $88,875,230; certificates of deposits, outstanding, $9,690,000; refunding, $575,250; legal tenders, outstanding, $346,681,016; fractional currency, $7,075,026; decrease since June 30th, 1881, $75,107,094.

Coinage.

Coinage at the United States mints for December: Gold, 1,260,476 pieces, value $10,228,530; silver, [illegible] pieces, [illegible]

Exports and Imports.

The excess of exports of merchandise for 12 month ending November 30th, 1881, was $195,193,112. For 12 months ending November 30th, 1880, $182,638,759. Excess of imports of gold and silver coin and bullion for 12 months ending November 30th, 1880, $59,342,990.

The Ladies' Lapse Fund.

There is a flutter among those clerks, mostly women, in the Treasury department, who are carried on what is called the "lapse fund," as it has been discovered since Folger came in that that fund has been overdrawn, and it has been ordered that the employees on the "lapse fund" roll shall be dropped until the amount overdrawn shall be made up.

Guiteau's Trial Continued—Close of the Prosecution.

Guiteau—When I speak, I speak to fifty millions of people, not to a little crowd in this room. Marshal Henry, (rising and moving towards the dock) "keep quiet sir."

Guiteau—"I have got through, sir."

The marshal whispered some instructions to a bailiff sitting in the dock, a moment later the prisoner started up another harangue, and the bailiff put his hand upon his shoulder and attempted to quiet him; Guiteau snarled out; "Get away from me or I'll slap you in the mouth."

With this outburst he subsided.

John W. Guiteau was again put upon the stand and questioned in relation to Guiteau's letter to Senator, Don. Cameron.

Davidge—I object, your honor, to any attempt to introduce what has the prima facie appearance of manufactured testimony.

Guiteau—So do I.

After an argument upon the question of defense this witness was withdrawn.

Scoville again brought up the question of introducing new witnesses, and arguments were made pro and con. An agreement was finally made that the defense shall submit in writing to-morrow morning their motion, giving the names of witnesses and facts to be testified and supported by an affidavit giving a reason why such witnesses were introduced before. Adjourned until to-morrow.

Dr. Gray resumed after recess, and prosecution then announced the case closed for the government.

Scoville said he was taken by surprise by this sudden action.

Dr. Bowker, of Kansas City, testified that Mrs. Dunmyer told him in Leadville that she hesitated about getting a divorce because she was not sure but that he was insane.

Clark Mills, sculptor, took the stand for the purpose of identifying a plaster cast of Guiteau's head.

Judge Cox objected, as it would reopen the insanity question. The court so ruled and witness was withdrawn.

Judge Cox silenced Guiteau who was attempting to read a letter to himself.

Waging War.

NEW YORK, 3.—The Post's Washington special says: The Postoffice Department is waging a war against the Mormons, which is practical in its operations, and very likely to establish an anti-Mormon influence in the Territory. Most of the 275 postoffices in Utah in the small settlement are under a class where compensation to the postmasters is derived from his commission on his sale of stamps. Most of these postmasters have been democrats and Mormons, but in few cases have they been republicans and anti-Mormons. Recently the Postoffice department found that Mormons were making it a religious matter and were systematically "boycotting" republican postmasters, the residents going several miles to buy their stamps of democratic Mormons, rather than purchase at home where the postmaster was obnoxious on account of his religious views. The department found evidence of great concerted action of this sort between inhabitants on one side and the Mormon postmasters on the other. The latter have therefore been removed and anti-Mormon republicans substituted.

Congressman Barr said that in his judgment no measure could be adopted too radical for the suppression of polygamy in the country. The Ministerial Association of Harrisburg has drawn up a petition in the nature of an address, in which the people of Pennsylvania are requested to join the clergy in demanding the suppression of polygamy by congressional interference. It is claimed that this is the first organized committee of any clerical body to secure the aid of the government to rid the country of polygamy.

Stealing by Cablegram.

A clever and partly successful attempt at swindling by means of adroitly constructed telegraphic dispatches has just come to light in Havana. Telegrams purporting to be forwarded from Madrid through the agency of S. B. Spencer, were printed in the Havana papers on the morning of December 24, announcing that at the drawing of the National Lottery at Madrid, December 23, ticket No. 04,745 had drawn the capital prize of $500,000. On Saturday afternoon ticket 04,745 was presented at the fancy house of J. M. Bowes & Co., who declined to negotiate it until the genuineness of the telegram could be ascertained. They cabled their Madrid correspondents, and on Monday received a reply confirming the published dispatch. They thereupon negotiated the ticket, and the following day the payees returned J. Bowes & Co. $211,000 against the cable transfer to Paris. A member of the firm left Havana for New York on Thursday with the ticket, in order to send the same to Madrid under a notarial seal and [illegible] ed. On arrival here this morning he received telegrams from his house informing him that the dispatches establishing the genuineness of the report of the drawing were forged and the entire transaction a fraud. Subsequent dispatches informed him that a large part of the money had been recovered in Havana, and says he believes the 1,000,000 francs transferred to Paris has not passed into the possession of the swindlers. The firm telegraph from Havana that the principal operator has been arrested and safely lodged in prison, and they expect to recover the whole of the remaining $289,000.

Baldwin's Story.

TRENTON, 3.—The answer of Oscar L. Baldwin, late cashier of the Mechanics' Bank, to the application received for a permanent injunction restraining him from disposing of his property [illegible] has applied the bank's funds to his own use, was filed by his counsel, Cortlandt Parker, in the United States Court to-day. Baldwin denies that any part of the bank's money was ever improperly diverted to his own use, and explains in detail how the several funds which he is charged with transferring to his own use came into his possession. He tells in a very long narrative a true story of his life; how he began work in the bank as messenger, rose to be cashier, and finally in 1872, was induced by representation of Christopher Nugent, of Nugent & Co., morocco manufacturers, to extend his line of credit to the amount of $147,000; he says how he concealed this fact from the directors, and that Nugent, on learning this, used it to force him to continue loans until the time of the failure, when they amounted to $240,000. He says the directors were as careful and active in their inspections as those of other institutions; that Theodore F. Baldwin, teller of the bank, and the cashier's brother, had no knowledge of the Nugent loans, and was in no way connected with him; that it was only through Nugent's power over him, his fearing exposure, and his full belief in Nugent's statement that the deficiency would soon be made good; that he carried the load of concealment so long, and that he never knew what Nugent's expenses were, but only had charge of the receipts of the office which were sufficiently large to make him believe Nugent would be able to pay him in the end. In all his transactions Baldwin claims he was working only to save the bank; never realized any personal profit from them and expected to the last Nugent would make good his repeated promises to return the money he had obtained. He asks permission to aid in proving these facts by the books of the bank and papers in the receiver's possession, and quotes a letter addressed to the District Attorney, offering to give this aid without claiming any leniency on its account.

Fiendish Brutality.

CINCINNATI, 3.—The Commercial's Ashland, Ky., dispatch says: The men arrested for the Gibbon's murder are William Neal, Ellis Craft and Geo. Ellis, all white. Geo. Ellis confessed to the constable, saying Craft and Neal awakened him on the night of the murder and urged him to go with them to Gibbon's. He went reluctantly. They entered by the window and Neal and Craft outraged the two girls. Emma Thomas recognized Neal and said she would tell her mother. Robert, the boy, was about to give the alarm when Craft struck him on the head with an axe, killing him instantly. Craft then told Annie her time to die had come, and amid the piteous cries of the child for mercy, he struck her on the head and killed her instantly. Neal then killed Emma Thomas in the same way. Craft and Neal at first denied Ellis' story, but Neal confessed this afternoon and Ellis and Neal waived examination. Ellis and Neal are married. Craft is single. They all were present at the funeral and one drove the hearse at the funeral and another was pall bearer. Crowds have been gathering all day at Catletsburg, and threats of lynching are common.

The Gazette's Ashland special says: Ellis' strange conduct excited the suspicions of the citizens who told Detective Laflin. Laflin then sent for Ellis and talked with him in his room at the hotel. This morning, in jail Ellis denied that Craft and Neal were guilty, but subsequently reasserted his first statement, saying he was compelled to retract by the prisoners who were in the same cell. The bodies of the victims were exhumed to-day and the wounds examined. It was found they corresponded exactly with the statement of Ellis as to position of the parties when the blows were struck. Ellis has made all preparations for death and expects it. Detective Laflin thinks Ellis was the chief actor in the tragedy, and that his confession is due to fears that the others would give information first.

Business.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, 3.—One million two hundred thousand dollars were spent in improvements in this city the past year. The wholesale business has increased 33 per cent. The railroad business has more than doubled. The Union Pacific sent 74,750 cases of through freight west, and 28,896 east. The ticket sales at the Union Pacific depot alone aggregated $771,949, exclusive of the sales at the local offices of the various companies.

Railroad Suit.

ST. LOUIS, 3.—Rev. Richard Cain, a colored bishop of Texas and Louisiana, and his wife, Laura Cain, have brought suit in the United States circuit court at San Antonio, Texas, against the Galveston, Houston & Louisiana Railroad Co., for $20,000 damages, for being refused the privilege of riding in a first-class coach, after the company had sold them first-class tickets.

Snow Slide.

DENVER, 2.—The Republican's Silverton special says: Edward F. Ryan, Michael Ryan and Richard Adkins, employed on the Paradise tunnel, on Saturday, 10 miles from here, were buried 100 feet deep in a snow slide. Parties have left Silverton to try and recover the bodies.

FOREIGN.

Destruction of the Ring.

ROME, 2.—The Opinion says: King Humbert, when receiving the New Year's congratulations of Senators and members of the Chamber of Deputies, said, with evident allusion to Bismarck's reported designs on behalf of the Vatican, that Italy was resolved to respect all governments and had no reasons to believe any one had been wanting in respect to her, but it was well to make known she was firmly decided not to admit the slightest discussion of certain questions touching internal order. The King also dwelt upon the necessity of the completion of military organization. The King's words produced a great impression.

Stirring Up the Police.

ST. PETERSBURG, 3.—It is understood that at the beginning of the Russian New Year, the state police department will be withdrawn from the control of the minister of the interior and placed under the special direction of General Scherevine. A more vigorous administration is looked.

Bank Failure.

PARIS, 3.—The Bourse says: The banking firm of J. J. Piganau, of Bordeaux, which failed yesterday, was really a company formed by a combination of bankers, with a capital of 5,000,000 francs, of which 3,000,000 were lost. Other liabilities unknown. The failure was caused by that of the Charriot, of Calcutta and Bordeaux.

Ireland.

DUBLIN, 3.—A correspondent reviewing the events of 1881 in Ireland says: The year closed in confusion, contention and war of races and classes; commercial credit is broken, the spirit of the country is sunk in deep depression. The scare produced by the large importations of American cattle has abated. The result of the year's trade shows a decrease of 30 per cent. in the imports. The Irish cattle trade, however, has improved, and farmers in this branch feel encouraged.

Six thousand persons are present at the landlords' meeting to-day, which is the most influential ever held. Earl Donoghue, Marquis of Hadafort, King Harmin and all the principal representatives of the landed interests are in attendance.
