CARNOT MURDERED.

The President of the French Republic Cruelly Assassinated.

STABBED BY AN ITALIAN.

France in Mourning—Loud Cries for Revenge—Crowds Threaten the Italian Consulate.

LYONS, France, June 24.—The most intense excitement has been caused everywhere in France by the assassination of President Carnot.

The president was visiting Lyons in connection with the international exhibition. Upon his arrival he was tendered a reception at the prefecture, after which he visited the exhibition. After spending some time at the exhibition he proceeded to the Palais de Commerce, where a banquet was given in his honor.

At 9:45 o'clock tonight President Carnot started for the theater, where a gala performance was to be given in honor of his presence in the city. Several carriages were in the procession, the first one being occupied by the president. Carnot's carriage was driven slowly along in front of the Palais de Commerce, and then turned into Rue de la Republique, still following the route in the Cours.

When half way down the street, which was lined with enthusiastic crowds of people who were loudly cheering, a man rushed out of the crowd and sprang upon the step of the President's landau.

Just at this moment M. Carnot was waving his right hand and saluting with his left in his left hand in response to the ovation that was being given him by the crowd. The people close to the carriage saw that the man standing on the step had a knife in his hand. By the glare of the electric lights they saw the bright blade gleaming in the air as the assassin's arm descended, and then President Carnot was seen to fall back in his seat, his face deathly pale. One of his hands was pressed to his heart, where the steel had entered the body.

Instantly cries of "Le president est assassine," "Vive la Patrie," were heard on every side and the crowd in the vicinity of the carriage swelled to enormous proportions, every member of it seemingly intent upon killing the assassin. He was grasped by a dozen hands and his life would have then and there paid the penalty of his crime had it not been for several sergeants de ville, who seized him and attempted to draw him away from his captors.

At length the police succeeded in driving the howling mob back a foot or so from their prisoner. The news spread with lightning rapidity and mounted guards were sent to the aid of the police.

With drawn swords in their hands the guards rode down into the crowd and the center of the mob was reached. Then a cordon was formed around the exhausted policemen and their captive, and their march to the police station began.

Meantime physicians were immediately summoned to the president, who had at once been conveyed to the prefecture. A careful examination was made of the wound, and the doctors declared the condition of M. Carnot hopeless.

The news of the assassination caused a great sensation at the Grand Theater. All were waiting with impatience the arrival of the President.

Suddenly a man entered the theater, crying at the top of his voice: "The president has been assassinated."

The most intense excitement followed this abrupt announcement. Women screamed and several fainted. Many men without waiting for their hats ran out of the building in order to reconfirm the news. They found all the streets leading to the palace filled with excited throngs, and in a few minutes they were convinced of the report of the attempt on the life of the president was true.

After examining the president's wounds all the physicians in attendance upon him agreed that an operation was necessary, Wharenton Dr. Oliper pierced the wound. While this was being done M. Carnot came to his senses and said feebly, but distinctly, "How you are hurting me." The doctor, however, continued to attend to the wound, the outflow of blood of which had stopped. They knew, though that the president's condition was extremely grave, as they more than suspected that internal hemorrhage had commenced.

The assassin is an Italian named Cesare Giovanni Santo. He is a beardless young man, 20 or 25 years old. When arrested he was attired in a brown suit and wore a peaked cap that matched the suit in color. As he marched under police guard from the Rue della Republique to the station, he held his head down, but his eyes glanced furtively around as though he was seeking an opportunity to escape. To have made such an attempt, however, would have been the height of folly, unless he desired to commit suicide, for there was not the slightest doubt but he got away from the protection of the police he would have been torn limb from limb by the crowd, whose every action showed they were thirsty for his blood.

Santo, who speaks French badly, when questioned by Prefect Lepin at the police station in Rue Moliere, said he had lived at Gatie, department of Varault, for the past six months and had only come to Lyons today. He gave his age at 22. His replies were given coolly, but without any signs of bravado. He refused, however, to answer many of the questions put to him regarding his motive for stabbing the president, declaring that upon this subject he would speak only before a jury. When he was searched by the police, a book was found in one of his pockets in which it was written that he had been born in the province of Milan, Italy.

At 12:45 o'clock this (Monday) morning President Carnot died.

Immediately after the death of President Carnot, Prime Minister Dupuy started on his return to Paris to officially announce the news to the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies.

After M. Carnot had been taken to the prefecture it became generally known that his assassin was an Italian and the feeling of deep indignation among the crowd found vent in the former attacks upon cafes kept by inoffensive natives of Italy. All such places in the vicinity of the Palais de Commerce were totally wrecked by the mob.

French flags, which were in abundance, were procured by the crowd, and with the cries of "Down with the foreigners; out with them," hundreds of people marched to the Rue de la Havre, in which street the Italian consulate is situated.

There is no doubt the consulate would have been attacked had it not been for the prompt action of the police, who stopped the crowd and compelled its members to disperse. The excitement continues at fever heat and it would take very little to precipitate bloody riots. Threats are made to take summary vengeance upon the countrymen of Santo, and the authorities, fearing that attempts will be made to put these threats into effect, sent reinforces to patrol the city and to prevent any outbreak.

Resignation of Acts Lands.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Representative Sweet of Idaho has reported from the House committee on irrigation of arid land the bill agreed on by Western members for a survey of the arid lands and estimates of the cost of reclamation. Among the surveys proposed are:

Idaho—The land and water in the Snake river valley and its tributaries.

Wyoming—To determine the irrigable lands and an outline of the different systems of irrigation in the valley of the North Platte and tributaries.

Utah—Duchesne and Green rivers and tributaries.

Arizona—Gila and Salt rivers and tributaries.

Symptoms for Kelly.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 25.—Kelly has succeeded in thoroughly arousing the sympathies of the mourning classes, and is "making hay while the sun shines."

He will get away from here with a neat sum. He spoke tonight at National Park and the Park Theater.

Lost His Memory.

KANSAS CITY, June 25.—A singular case of lapse of memory came to light here today. Last Thursday C. J. Hubbard, financial agent for Charles Francis Adams of Boston, went out riding in a buggy. Toward evening he returned, when it was found that he had been severely wounded about the face and head, and had lost all memory of where he had been, and how he was injured. In fact, he remembers nothing of his whereabouts from the time he got into the buggy until his return.

Kerchhoringer's Admirers.

MONTEREY, Ky., June 25.—Over 20,000 people assembled here today to hear Colonel Breckinridge. It was the largest meeting ever held in Owen county, the home of E. E. Settle, the opposing candidate. Colonel Breckinridge was greatly moved by the reception today and the demonstrations in the grove.

A New Prince.

NEW YORK, June 25.—The Herald's London special says: The Duchess of York gave birth to a boy at five minutes of 10 o'clock this evening.

For Beseches Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—A part of General Fry's army arrived via canal today. The remainder will arrive tomorrow. Dry bread and coffee is the cheerful prospect awaiting the army.

THE TARSNEY AFFAIR.

Populists in a Mass Meeting Condemn the Outrage.

DENVER, Col., June 25.—An immense mass meeting was held in Lincoln park yesterday afternoon to take action on the Tarsney affair. Fully 5,000 people were present, all of them being either employed or unemployed Populists. Speeches condemnatory of the episode were made by a number of Populist leaders, among them being Governor Waite and ex-Congressman Bethel. Resolutions condemning the act and its perpetrators were adopted.

Tarsney Recovering.

DENVER, June 24.—Adjutant General T. J. Tarsney, who received a coat of tar and feathers at the hands of his enemies saturday morning, is resting easier. The inflammation in his face is greatly reduced, but is still anything but comfortable. His body is somewhat recovered from the stiffness resulting from his treatment and long walk.

The strain upon his nerves was so great that he was greatly prostrated when he found himself among friends, but he has in a great degree recovered from the prostration. He is a man of considerable pride and spirit, and he suffers from humiliation perhaps as much as he does from physical pain.

CONDEMNED BY ALL.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Col., June 25.—The outrage perpetrated upon the person of General Tarsney is condemned by every one in Cripple Creek. The militiamen are highly indignant, and the miners are wild with rage.

The miners say there are more anarchists in Colorado Springs than there ever were on Hull Hill, but they take satisfaction in the fact that the true character of the men who came here representing law and order has been proved by themselves.

If the sheriff does not bring the perpetrators to light there is a probability that the miners will take some peaceable measures to do so.

SERBIA'S RIOT.

A Polish Woman Deposited by a Soldier.

ALLIAN, Pa., June 24.—A serious riot occurred here tonight. Superintendent Robinson, of the Robinson & Pittsburg company and Sheriff Guerley were stoned, and a Polish woman was bayoneted by a soldier.

The sheriff was cut over the eye with a rock and struck with a club in the back. Mr. Robinson has a bad cut in the chin, but otherwise is not badly hurt.

The Polish woman was the most seriously injured, but she will recover. Robinson and Guerley brought a load of special police. The miners thought they were marching men. The women were in front and the men were stationed behind. The women stopped the train and were urged on by the men.

When the soldiers arrived the Polish woman who was hurt was in an ugly mood and refused to move fast enough. The men of the mob scattered like chaff before the approach of the soldiers.

CRIMES AND ACCIDENTS.

Chicago's Record for the Past Twenty-four Hours.

Murder, Drowning, Saloon Brawls, Suicides, Etc., Constitute the Awful List.

CHICAGO, June 25.—The following is a brief resume of accidents and crimes in this city for the past twenty-four hours:

Mrs. Carrie Dunigan, wife of an ex-police officer, was almost murdered by her husband in front of their home. He fired point blank but not inflicted wounds which it is believed will prove fatal. The tragedy is attributed to domestic differences. Dunigan escaped.

Edward Otis was drowned in the Calumet river at Riverdale last night while bathing. The body was recovered.

In a free fight on the banks of the Desplaines river, near River Forest, Theodore Vetters was stabbed fatally.

Passengers on a College Grove avenue cable train were startled by seeing two men in a desperate struggle on the promenade. Policemen separated the combat and when the men were separated both were found to be badly hurt. The combatants were Joseph La Rochelle and August Bender, the latter the assailant. It is claimed La Rochelle had attempted his wife's affections. Both men were locked up pending an investigation.

Flossie Stutts, aged 9, the daughter of a fireman, while playing in the engine room fell into the elevatory tower, a distance of fifty feet, and was instantly killed. The mother, who accompanied the child, was with great difficulty restrained from throwing herself from the tower.

August Dubois, his wife and six children were poisoned by eating ice cream. It is thought the three youngest children will die. The poisoned articles were purchased from an Italian merchant.

Peter Pedersen died at the county hospital from injuries received in a saloon brawl over the question of pay for the drinks. He was shot in the head by Adolph Hessemin, the proprietor of the saloon.

While at work on a new building, Fred Dudmire, a carpenter, was overcome by the heat and fell to the ground, a distance of twenty feet; he died soon after reaching the hospital.

James Davis sat on the Wisconsin Central railroad tracks in a drunken neglect as the east-bound train approached. The engineer blew his whistle, but too late, and Davis awoke to find his leg cut off above the knee. He died at the hospital soon after.

John Vicks, a Pole, was drowned in the lake at the foot of North Water street while bathing. He leaves a widow and nine children.

While John Williamson was driving last night his horse took fright and ran away. Williamson was thrown out on his head and probably fatally hurt.

Christopher Guggenson, a brakeman on the Fort Wayne, was instantly killed while making a coupling. He was caught between the draw-beam and squeezed to death.

KILLED BY A LOCUST.

The Sting of the Insect Proved Fatal to a Young Lady.

NEW BERN, N. Y., June 25.—In spite of the reported statement of Entomologist J. A. Lintner to the contrary, the fact appears to be that the sting of a seventeen-year locust is poisonous and produces death. An apparently well authenticated case in support to this claim is reported. The victim is Miss Carrie Hennes, sixteen years old, whose home was at Gray Court, Orange county. On account of the excessive hot weather Miss Holmes wore a low necked dress to school last Thursday. She was seated at her desk and was sitting on the back by one of several locusts that had entered the school room through an open window. She thought first that she had been stung by a bee or by a yellow jacket; soon afterwards, however, the spot began to swell and she commenced to suffer excruciating pain. She also became faint and practically lost the power of locomotion. She had to be taken home in a carriage. A physician was summoned, who administered to her the proper remedies for the bites of poisonous insects. Notwithstanding all that was done, Miss Holmes continued to grow worse until Friday morning, when she died in great agony.

Improved Steamship Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—A morning paper says that the aggressive policy of the Canadian Pacific combination, which has taken away much freight and passenger patronage from the Occidental and Oriental Steamship company, has forced the latter corporation to prepare to improve its service greatly. The steamer Oceanic, the fastest China liner, will not return to Asia, but will proceed to Liverpool, where her cabins will be refitted and her engines replaced by powerful machines which will drive the vessel at the rate of 18 or 19 knots an hour. The steamers Coptic and Belgic will follow Oceanic to undergo similar alterations. In November the fine steamer Coptic will be brought hither to replace the Oceanic. The Coptic now runs between New Zealand and London. The three O. and O. steamers mentioned are chartered from the White Star Steamship company.

In speed and superb accommodations these vessels will be made to equal the beautiful Empresses of the Canadian Pacific fleet.

The Plague in Asia.

VICTORIA, B. C., June 24.—The steamer Nile, thirteen days from Yokohama, has arrived. Advices report 317 deaths from the plague in Hong Kong from May 1st to June 7th, 240 being under treatment. The total amount of cases since the outbreak is about 1,200.

The new cases at Hong Kong average thirty a day with a mortal death rate.

The sanitary authorities attribute the outbreak not to bad sewerage but to filth in the houses, which is piled there in vast loads.

A British officer and three men are reported as attacked by the plague. The authorities believe that they have got a grip on the plague. In Canton, though the plague claims less victims than for some time, it is causing much loss of life.

During the past few months many misfit doctors and specialists have tried to prejudice the public against the new and wonderful treatment used by Drs. Shores & Shores, saying it was an experiment, that the cure would not last and all sic. The following case of Mr. C. W. Sharp will convince the most skeptical.

MR. C. W. SHARP, 340 SIXTH ST.

For ten years Mr. Sharp had suffered from catarrh of the head, throat and stomach, he was in that ten years treated by partially a hundred so-called specialists, no one seeming to understand his case, treating him for every disease but the right one. When he came to Drs. Shores & Shores, he described his case as follows:

"For ten years I was one of the most wretched sufferers why pencil could imagine. I had been troubled with catarrh so long I had been given up by physicians as being incurable.

Large polypi (or tumors) had formed in my nose, making it impossible for me to breathe through my nose and for four years I had to breathe through my mouth, making my sleep disturbed and restless.

"You can imagine, dear reader, the inconveniences and suffering of being unable to breathe through the nose on account of an impediment in the nostrils, so long I could hardly see it broke in season in the morning tired and worn out and have to do a day's work. Do you realize the suffering of having dyspepsia, being unable to eat when you are hungry, because you are far worse after eating than before.

"Can you realize your feelings when every doctor has said your case was incurable after they had tried in vain in an effort to effect a cure on a case they knew nothing about.

"Then after you have suffered ten years, without any hope of ever being cured can you imagine the happiness you will experience by being cured, being able to breathe through your nostrils after four years.

"Drs. Shores & Shores, in the Harmon block, have cured me, taking at least a dozen polypi out of my nose, and the small specimens had lifted for three months to find out what was the matter with me.

"Now under the new treatment used by Drs. Shores & Shores I know I am cured. I can now breathe through my nose, sleep well, eat well and feel like a new man. In fact, I am willing to go before any physician in Salt Lake and show them this remarkable cure."

This demonstrates the difference between real and the imitation, when failure and misfit fail go to the home of the specialists in the Harmon block, Drs. Shores & Shores.
