Columbia, S. C., March 25 .- The widow of Preston S. Brooks, who caned Charles Sumner in the United States Senate, died here last night.

Charles Sumner, senator from Massashusetts, was regarded as the most unsparing, most feared and most hated opponent of slavery in Congress when the Missouri compromise was repealed in 1854, and in the contest over the admission of Kansas, in 1856, in a speech on "The crime against Kansas," he sharply censured Senator Butler, of South Carolina. Two days afterward, on May 22, 1856, as Senator Sumner was seated at his desk in the Senate chamber, when the Senate was not in sesber, when the Schate was not in ses-sion, he was assaulted by Preston S. Brooks, a representative from South Carolina, and a nephew of Senator Butler. Brooks approached the seated senator from behind, and without warn-ing 'struck him repeatedly on the head with a heavy cana. Senator Sumper with a heavy case. Senator Summer strove to rise, and in so doing wrenched the desk from the floor, but the repeated blows rained on him rendered him un-conscious, and he fell. Friends of Army Appropriation Law.

Provision Causes Much Comment Among Military Attaches of Foreign Governments at Washington.

New York, March 25 .- A special to the Herald from Washington says:

The United States government is employing spies to obtain information relative to the plans of the insurgents in the Philippines.

Formal recognition of the employment of spies by the United States is made in the last army appropriation law. An appropriation of $2,400,000 is authorized for incidental expenses, among which is "hire of laborers in the quartermaster's department, including the hire of interpreters, spies or guides for the army." This provision has created much comment among military attaches of foreign governments in Washington. They admit the universal practice of using spies, but they say it is not customary abroad to acknowledge the fact as openly as the United States does. The war department declines to give any concerning the employment of facts sples, but it is admitted that Gen. Mac-Arthur has a secret service which has been invaluable to the military government in the Phillppines.
