

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS

The date for the testimonial concert to be tendered to Miss Edna Evans, has been set for next Friday evening at the Salt Lake theater. Miss Evans leaves the country Monday for Europe to continue her musical studies, and her friends have prepared a fine program for her. Among the younger singers of the city none is more popular than Miss Evans, and a well filled house is to greet her next Friday. Arrangements have been made to leave gifts at all music stores, which may be exchanged at the theater box office during the next sale opens on Thursday evening. A very attractive program has been prepared, which includes the most prominent musicians of the city, as well as some of Miss Evans' younger friends. The program will be as follows:

Guest Spinning Song from "Marie".....Photo by Irene Kelly. Miss Hazel Barnes, Mr. John W. Summershays, Mr. Hugh W. Dougall, George Skelton and Squire Coop.

My Home & Ensign.....Granier.

Cantata solo, "Patriot Song from Les Huguenots".....Meyerbeer.

Miss Hazel Barnes, Mrs. Josephine Morrison, "If With All Your Hearts" from Elijah.....Mendelssohn.

Mr. John W. Summershays, Soprano solo aria from "Carmen".....Bizet.

Miss Edna Evans, Tenor and piano duet, "Humoresque".....Vieuxtemps.

George Skelton and Squire Coop.

The Popular Salt Lake Vocalist Who Leaves for Paris Next Week to Pursue Her Studies.

EDNA EVANS.

The Popular Salt Lake Vocalist Who Leaves for Paris Next Week to Pursue Her Studies.

Eisteddfod to be held in London a little later.

The Jewish Temple choir is now composed of Mrs. Corinne H. Hammerstein, Mrs. Edna Dwyer, Robert H. Eddison, and Charles Kent, with Miss Pearl Rothschild as organist.

New York letters state that a streak of bad luck has befallen Mr. St. T. Brines since he left Salt Lake. The Shubert Opera company that he was to join started off on the road considerably sooner than was intended and Mr. Brines was wired to hasten east. But as he had stopped with his wife to visit friends in Michigan, the messages failed to reach him. The company was not west, so another member was secured, and when Mr. Brines reached New York his replacement had been fired. However, his friends here are certain he will have no difficulty in finding another opening.

Medical America has the following paragraph of local interest. "While J. J. McClellan and E. P. Kimball organists of the Tabernacle at Salt Lake City, were on a vacation with the choir, Tracy Y. Cannon had entire charge of the daily organ recitals and conducted some notable programs. Among them was the most interesting work performed on Saturday, Aug. 14, when Mr. Cannon played the Prelude to "Lohengrin," "Traumerei," "Evening Star" from "Tannhauser," all by Wagner; Cradle Song, Schnecker, and Old Melody, Cannon."

Hold's band will continue to give public concerts every Saturday evening, while good weather lasts, on the balcony in front of the Amusement building, on Main street.

The manufacturers of talking machines are continually experimenting and improving. The latest in this line is the device of substituting for the horn, which not only does away with that attachment but also almost eliminates the scratching sound made by the needle.

Thus E. Giles of this city has gone to Vienna with Godowsky to remain until next year. Then he goes to Paris to study the organ under Widor until next fall when he will return home to open a studio here.

Miss Erma Stewart sings the offering at tomorrow's 11 a. m. service in the Catholic cathedral. The organist is J. H. Foss, who will be the organist-expert. The violin soloist will be Edward Fitzpatrick, who shortly is to leave for the Boston conservatory for two years' study. He is to give a concert next week, which will surely be largely attended.

Arthur Pederson leaves next Sunday for New York, where he has an extended engagement with the New York Philharmonic orchestra. He will also study piano and harmony under competent teachers, and on the whole the young man expects to make great progress the coming year.

Prof. Weitzel has arranged to teach the music work in the public schools for the fall term. He is much pleased to find the number of teachers unable to teach music smaller than ever before. Consequently he will have fewer obstacles to overcome.

SHARPS AND FLATS

Victor Herbert has promised to deliver the grand opera he is writing for Mr. Hammerstein by the middle of next February. Spanish local color will prevail, the scene being laid in Santa Barbara, California, at the period of 1849. The libretto was written by Mr. Readling of San Francisco.

Mr. Graham F. Putnam, the pianist, has returned to Salt Lake and opened a studio.

Edward P. Kimball, the organist of the First Methodist church for the last two years, has resigned his position. His new duties as organist at the Orpheum theater, requiring too much of his attention, did not meet the requirements of organist at the church. The Methodists are sorry to lose Mr. Kimball, for he has served them faithfully and well, having given satisfaction in every particular. At the Orpheum Mr. Kimball at the organ will supply the class of music usually furnished by organ and bassoon, making a decided addition to the orchestral instrumentation.

A portrait of Julian Strasen, the waltz king, forms the frontispiece to the August number of the London Musical Times, which devotes eight columns to a biographical sketch of this greatest master of classical dance music. The opening paragraph follows:

"From a musical point of view, Vienna is the true home of the waltz. These irresistible waltzes that first catch the ear, and then cast round the heart, till on a sudden they invade and will have the legs." A single Strasen is glad to tender congratulations to the Utah artist.

Last Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Easton entertained for Miss Beatrice Anderson, sister of Mrs. Westley Early, who has been visiting her relatives here since last May. Miss Anderson left for Chicago the day following, on her way home to Los Angeles, stopping at the Seattle fair for a week and San Francisco for a few days.

Miss Anderson has only been a member of the Utah colony a few months, but she has many friends in every one here, and the news of general that she must leave for the rest, the poor health of her mother, Mrs. Anderson, forms the reason for her departure before the holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Easton assembled as many of the Utah people as possible to meet and say farewell to the young lady the evening before her going.

The remaining $8 per cent will be reckoned by Italian, French, German, Russian and Scandinavian singers, conductors, managers, coaches, stage directors, choristers and ballet-dancers. These foreign artists are notoriously averse to spending or investing their money in this country. They will have nothing to do with American securities. Allow for the doubling of this enormous salary, and within five years it will increase to a total of $5,000,000. Less than 2 per cent of this sum will go to American singers, although America will be represented in our opera houses by such high-priced artists as Geraldine Farrar, Mary Garden, Olga Fremstad, Lillian Nordica, Louise Homer, Jane Norla, Rieanna Martin, Allan Hinckley and Herbert Witherspoon. The orchestra players, who manage to save it that no money gets into foreign pockets that might get into theirs, walk off with 10 per cent of this sum. The other 2 per cent will go in administrative salaries.

"The remaining $8 per cent will be

reckoned by Italian, French, German,

Russian and Scandinavian singers,

conductors, managers, coaches, stage

directors, choristers and ballet-dancers.

These foreign artists are

notoriously averse to spending or

investing their money in this country.

They will have nothing to do with

American securities. Allow for the doubling of this enormous salary,

and within five years it will increase

to a total of $5,000,000. Less than 2

per cent of this sum will go to

American singers, although America will be represented in our opera houses by

such high-priced artists as Geraldine

Farrar, Mary Garden, Olga Fremstad,

Lillian Nordica, Louise Homer, Jane

Norla, Rieanna Martin, Allan Hinckley

and Herbert Witherspoon. The orchestra players, who manage to save it that no money gets into foreign

pockets that might get into theirs,

walk off with 10 per cent of this sum.

The other 2 per cent will go in administrative salaries.

"The remaining $8 per cent will be

reckoned by Italian, French, German,

Russian and Scandinavian singers,

conductors, managers, coaches, stage

directors, choristers and ballet-dancers.

These foreign artists are

notoriously averse to spending or

investing their money in this country.

They will have nothing to do with

American securities. Allow for the

doubling of this enormous salary,

and within five years it will increase

to a total of $5,000,000. Less than 2

per cent of this sum will go to

American singers, although America will

be represented in our opera houses by

such high-priced artists as Geraldine

Farrar, Mary Garden, Olga Fremstad,

Lillian Nordica, Louise Homer, Jane

Norla, Rieanna Martin, Allan Hinckley

and Herbert Witherspoon. The

orchestra players, who manage to

save it that no money gets into foreign

pockets that might get into theirs,

walk off with 10 per cent of this sum.

The other 2 per cent will go in administrative salaries.

"The remaining $8 per cent will be

reckoned by Italian, French, German,

Russian and Scandinavian singers,

conductors, managers, coaches, stage

directors, choristers and ballet-dancers.

These foreign artists are

notoriously averse to spending or

investing their money in this country.

They will have nothing to do with

American securities. Allow for the

doubling of this enormous salary,

and within five years it will increase

to a total of $5,000,000. Less than 2

per cent of this sum will go to

American singers, although America will

be represented in our opera houses by

such high-priced artists as Geraldine

Farrar, Mary Garden, Olga Fremstad,

Lillian Nordica, Louise Homer, Jane

Norla, Rieanna Martin, Allan Hinckley

and Herbert Witherspoon. The

orchestra players, who manage to

save it that no money gets into foreign

pockets that might get into theirs,

walk off with 10 per cent of this sum.

The other 2 per cent will go in administrative salaries.

"The remaining $8 per cent will be

reckoned by Italian, French, German,

Russian and Scandinavian singers,

conductors, managers, coaches, stage

directors, choristers and ballet-dancers.

These foreign artists are

notoriously averse to spending or

investing their money in this country.

They will have nothing to do with

American securities. Allow for the

doubling of this enormous salary,

and within five years it will increase

to a total of $5,000,000. Less than 2

per cent of this sum will go to

American singers, although America will

be represented in our opera houses by

such high-priced artists as Geraldine

Farrar, Mary Garden, Olga Fremstad,

Lillian Nordica, Louise Homer, Jane

Norla, Rieanna Martin, Allan Hinckley

and Herbert Witherspoon. The

orchestra players, who manage to

save it that no money gets into foreign

pockets that might get into theirs,

walk off with 10 per cent of this sum.

The other 2 per cent will go in administrative salaries.

"The remaining $8 per cent will be

reckoned by Italian, French, German,

Russian and Scandinavian singers,

conductors, managers, coaches, stage

directors, choristers and ballet-dancers.

These foreign artists are

notoriously averse to spending or

investing their money in this country.

They will have nothing to do with

American securities. Allow for the

doubling of this enormous salary,

and within five years it will increase

to a total of $5,000,000. Less than 2

per cent of this sum will go to

American singers, although America will