

various Bishops throughout the Territory; and exhorted them, their counselors and the teachers to seek to be led by the Holy Spirit, so that they might decide in all matters brought before them in righteousness.

Elder Geo. A. Smith again spoke in favor of the Juvenile Instructor, and strongly recommended it. He referred to his recent trip south, and pointed out the importance of strengthening the most southern settlements there; and spoke in favor of the telegraphic line.

Elder Erastus Snow endorsed the remarks of br. Smith with regard to the south, and spoke of the opening of the Colorado river for the transportation of freight from California.

Pres. D. H. Wells encouraged the brethren to pursue a self-sustaining course, and to carry out the counsel of President Young given last October Conference, to plant rye, and go to making our own hats and bonnets; and recommended those who will use tobacco to grow it themselves.

Elder O. Hyde made a few remarks instructing the brethren who might be going south to be well provided with arms, and thus be prepared to defend themselves against Indians.

Meeting was dismissed with prayer.

HOME ITEMS.

THEATRICAL.—There was an immense house on Saturday night, on the occasion of Mrs. Hayne's benefit. Her rendition of Camille we have expressed our appreciation of before. The whole of the characters were well sustained.

The Fool of the Family followed, and created an immense amount of laughter. Betty is a most excellent part, and in Mrs. Leslie's hands received due justice. She plays the character with much ability. Mr. Leslie's Gumption and Mr. Malben's Zeb were well rendered.

On Monday night the Stranger was performed to a good house. We have given our opinion of Julia Dean Hayne's Mrs. Haller and Mr. Waldron's Stranger before. Mr. McKenzie played Francis, with his usual care. Mr. Margetts was a capital Solomon and Mr. Bowring made a good Peter. Miss Triplett's singing deserves special notice. She sang with much feeling and effect; and only lacks more self-confidence to be a useful and very excellent public singer.

Po-ca-hon-tas followed, but went rather dull.

On Saturday evening next the Gentlemen of the Association are to be the recipients of a Benefit, when the splendid semi-opera of Guy Mannering will be performed, with Mrs. Hayne as the world-famed Meg Merrilees. Guy Mannering is one of the most popular, if not the most popular, pieces of its class that has ever been produced on the stage. The artistic blending of grave and gay, in the text and in the music, and the excellence of both, render it deservedly so. It abounds with the very finest specimens of musical composition, in solos, duets and choruses. The situations in the piece are highly dramatic and effective; the characters are well drawn and in the hands of a powerful cast; the scenery is beautiful; and the strange mixture of Scotch border life, gipsy wildness, and the desperate daring of smugglers, excite powerful feelings of interest which are kept alive till the denouement and close of the piece. Guy Mannering has been in active preparation for some time; and the songs and choruses are entrusted to the best musical talent of the city, embracing a very strong body of auxiliaries. We confidently expect a crowded house on the occasion.

KILLED BY INDIANS.—Mr. J. H. Woodman writes from Pahranagat Valley, March 19, that a Mr. George E. Rogers, a native of Kentucky, and some time a resident in Placerville, Cal., and in Carson and Austin, Nevada, was shot dead by Indians between Meadow and Pahranagat Valleys, on the 1st of March.

Judge Atchison and brothers brought in one of the Indians, and he was hung by the citizens of Pahranagat. The remains of Mr. Rogers were interred in the cemetery at Meadow Valley.

Four Indians are stated to have been concerned in the murder, and steps are being taken to capture the other three.

THE SMALL END OF THE HORN.—The latest move of the "regeneration" interest manifests itself in the shape of peripatetic dealers in small wares, who, with an impudence that nearly equals their contemptible meanness and corruption, try to introduce their "principles" with sheets of white buttons and knots of thread. A gentleman from the 6th Ward called upon us on Friday last and another from the 17th Ward the following day, complaining of these scamps, and the manner in which they insult ladies when they find there is no man present to give a gratuitous application of shoe-leather to "their latter-end." Ladies do not like to soil their hands with the dirty things; but they might treat them to a dose of hot water. It would have two effects;—help to clean them outside, and give them an effectual scare. Peddlers are generally a nuisance anywhere, but when they mix up "regeneration" with pins and needles, insult ladies, and pilfer chicken coops, it would be well to treat them as jack tar sometimes does the bumboat women who rob him while selling him bad sheath knives,—pitch them overboard for a swim. The gentleman named declared that a repetition of the visit will incur more than a scare; they may get hurt.
