What were the events which happened in the southern States | during the recent presidential election? The air was full of reports and statements of intimidation and wrongs toward the republican voters. It was not well to be so sensitive about the use of the army when it was known that rifle clubs had taken possession of the polls in the south. He (Sargent) regretted that the strong arm of the United States was not at Hamburg, S. C., last Spring, and regretted that there was not some power within striking distance when Eliza Pinkston's husband was killbeen prevented from voting, and hour. ference by the army. Thurman said Logan had intimated that those who favored the resolution were enemies of the army. He asserted that the army's worst enemfes were those who desired that it interfere in the elections. It was a duty distasteful to the soldiers, this interference. He referred to the condition of Rome under Cresar, as a despotism whose
