A great many people through ig-norance will conclude that the state-ments of the Sun and the Post are similar. They imagine that "Mor-monism" and "polygamy" are sy-nonymous. They think that mak-ing "Mormon" converts is tanta-mount to "advising member to come tages, and the physicians have sti-pulsted that before the removal is made, that a track must be laid from the depot in Long Branch to the door of the cottage. They do not wish to take any risks; there might be inclement weather on the arrival there, during which it would be impossible to move the President out of the depot, and the doctors will not risk it. The run there it is expetted will be made in about six hours. The railroad people believe that making the time 40 miles an hour will make the easiest riding. A pilot engine will lead the train and stop all moving trains, so as to guard against noise. All appear-ances to night indicate that the removal will probably be made at dawn on Monday morning, if the weather should be favorable. The President himself thinks he is in a condition to stand the trip, and so do his physicians. At midnight the President's sleep continues, and his pulse is down to 100. A VISIT TO CALIFORNIA.
