THE CASE OF DAUNT SCOTT.

I desire as one of many who have uttered similar sentiments in my hearing, to express my admiration of your considerate dealing with the Rev. Daunt Scott affair in your columns. George McDonald, Hailing from New York, Removed to Pest House.

Another case of "smallpox" was reported to the health authorities today, the victim being George McDonald, a 19-year-old youth who arrived in the city from New York several days ago. Not feeling well the young man called upon Dr. King this morning. The physician nearly scared the youth to death when told he had the smallpox. The landlady of the house where he was stopping became very wrathy upon learning the nature of her boarder's disease, and said it was like pusple's impudence to come to her place with the "smallpox." Hereafter she declares transients will have to bring a health certificate from some practicing physician before they can stop at her place McDonald is now enjoying the cool breezes of Parley's canyon. WHO WILL BUILD TO THE COAST?

Combination Which May Say "You Just Watch My Smokel"

LOS ANGELES VIA UVADA.

Union Pacific Will Control System From Omaha to the Pacific Coast. -Community of Interest.

When a railroad man wants to impress someone with the fact that be is likely to do something effective he uses an old but meaningful expression; "You just watch my smoke!"

Of late there has been much talk in Los Angeles about the early construction of a line of railway from that town to this beautiful city on the shores of America's inland sea. Coupled with this talk is a statement that Senator W. A. Clark of Montana had purchased a large block of stock of the Los Angeles Terminal Railway. Gossip upon this matter has now even reached San Francisco, which ever views with discornfort any indications of movements towards making of Los Angeles a rival sea port, and the Chronicle publishes an interview with Mr. Frederick K. Rule, manager of the Los Angeles Terminal Railway, in Los Angeles Terminal Railway, in which that gentleman is quoted as using these words: "We are certainly going to build the Salt Lake line," he said. "We have abundant capital for the purpose and will not be put to the necessity of floating bonds to pay the construction costs. United States Senster W. A. Clark of Montana has become a heavy stockholder in the Terminal and he with the other stock. erminal, and he, with the other stock-olders, will put up all the money necessary to see the undertaking accom-obshed. I may say that the Los Angeles Terminal Railway is only fulfilling the plans it has had in view since its organization, which have been delayed until the present time largely on account of the delay in the improvement of San Pedro harbor. None of the old stockholders of the ond have parted with any of their holdlogs of stock, Senator Clark's interest having been acquired by the purchase of unissued stock remaining in the treasury of the company. The company is capitalized for $3,000,000. Of this amount Senator Clark owns one-half. Surveyors are at work today surveying a line for the proposed road east-ward from Los Angeles. Our first obbective point is San Bernardine, a distance of sixty miles. From there the road will be built to Salt Lake. City. We shall not build to any western extension f the Union Pacific or Rio Grands Vestern. We shall not stop until we have reached Sait Lake City, where we can connect with all transcontinental lines having termini there. We want the business of all lines that are in Salt Lake or will ever get there, among which latter is the Burlington. Work on the surveys, which are in charge of Henry Hawgood, for many years with the engineering department of the Southern Pacific, will be pushed with all possible speed, and the actual construction work will begin within three There is a line of railway running from Omaha to Ogden which is includ-ed in a system known as the Union Pa-cific railway. From Ogden to Milford. Utah, is another piece of line which is included in a system known as the Ore-gon Short Line railway. From Milford to Uvada, located near the imaginary line dividing the States of Utah and Nevada, is a line of railway, whose construction is very recent, known as the Utah & Pacific. To all practical intents and purposes the first of these systems owns the second one, and the second owns the third; and all three out together form a line that is strung ut quite a distance—a good start, any-ay—towards the Pacific coast. Mr. A. W. McCune of this city is the public head and front of the Utah & Pacific, and it is a well known fact that for many years he has been closely conrected, in a business way, with Schatur Clark of Montana. Now, if Mr. Clark has bought into the Los Angeles Ter-Now, if Mr. Clark minal it may not be unreasonable to venture the suggestion that any line or from Los Angeles, which may be wilt by interests represented in of these gentlemen, will have for its connection the line or system repre-sented in the other. Besides, the Losi-tion of the three lines named is certainly an advantageous one, so far as is concerned the matter of distance to be overed in new construction and also as to route feasibility.

The "News" begs the indulgence of the Union Pacific-Oregon Short Line-Utah & Pacific combination while it outs into its mouth this old expres-

Figures Which Show the Extent of Railroading Here. In round numbers there are now about 37,500 locomotives in railway ser-vice in the United States. As to other equipment, the most authentic figures come up to June 30, 1899. The total number of cars of all classes in he service of the railways on June 30, 1899, was 1,375,916, an increase of 49,-30, 1899, was 1,375,916, an increase of 49,-742 being shown in this item. Of the total number, 33,550 are assigned to the passenger service, 1,295,510 to the freight service, and 45,556 to the direct service of the railways. It should be understood, however, that cars owned by private companies and firms used by railways are not included in the returns made to the commission. The reintended to indicate the density of equipment and the extent to which it is used. It appears that the railways of the United States used on the average 20 locomotives and 734 cars per 100 miles of line; that 52,878 passengers were carried, 1,474,765 passenger-miles accomplished at 1,474,765 passenger-miles plished, per freight locomotive. All of these items show an increase when compared with corresponding items for preceding year ending June 30, 1898.

J. Y. Callahan, general agent of the Nickel Plate road, with headquarters in Chicago, and J. W. Adams, Pacific coast agent for the same road, were this morning treated to a short organ recital at the Tabernacle by Prof. J. J. McChellan. The railroad men heard masterly renditions of the overture to "Martha," by Flotow, the intermezz from the "Cavalleria de Rusticana, by Mascagni national airs: Elsa's son from "Lohengrin," by Wagner, and, by request, the old, familiar "Home, Swee Home."
