

FAIRBANKS AT BRIGHAM CITY.

Distinguished Visitor Appeals for Support for the Republican Ticket.

GREAT INTEREST MANIFESTED.

What He Said on the American Home—Senator Dilliver Refers to Woman's Suffrage.

(Special to the "News.")
Brigham City, Oct. 7.—The vice presidential train, which left Ogden at 8 o'clock this morning arrived here at 8:45, bringing Senator Fairbanks, the Republican candidate for vice president, Senator Dilliver and Congressman Smith of Iowa, Senator Smoot and others of the party; also Republican state Chairman Spry and his committee which included leading Republicans of the state. At Brigham City the party was met by carriages, and conveyed to the Opera House, where the citizens were assembling for an early morning meeting.

When the assemblage was called to order by State Chairman Spry, at 9:15, the Opera House was well filled with an enthusiastic audience. Mr. Spry named John Frank W. Fishburn of Brigham City as chairman of the meeting.

SENATOR FAIRBANKS.
Senator Charles W. Fairbanks was introduced as the first speaker, and was received with prolonged applause. He immediately gained the sympathy of the audience by his direct and familiar reference to the local industrial situation. Pointing out the different effects of Democratic and Republican policies in government, as demonstrated by experience, Mr. Fairbanks asked the audience to consider well that they might act wisely. He said he was certain that if calm and wise judgment prevailed, the Republican ticket would be chosen in Utah in an overwhelming majority. Speaking further, he condemned any resort to personal abuse, saying that it was the right of all to hold their opinions without fear of being maligned. He pointed out that the chief question of this election, to be passed upon by voters at the ballot box, was whether the prosperous policy of the past seven and a half years was to be reversed by returning to a Democratic administration or was to be continued by the retention of a Republican administration. Senator Fairbanks was very emphatic in declaring that it was necessary for this state to support President Roosevelt by sending to Washington a Republican congressional delegation and by having a full Republican administration to hold up the hands of the president.

CONGRESSMAN SMITH.
Congressman Walter L. Smith of Council Bluffs, Ia., was the next speaker. He took up the theme of Republican prosperity and Democratic misfortune, made many comparisons and gave statistics. His remarks were cheered by a chorus of approval from the voters of the state to stand not only by Roosevelt and Fairbanks, but by the whole Republican ticket, that President Roosevelt would have the support that would continue his successful administration. Mr. Smith called special attention to Congressman Howell's good record and standing in Congress, and urged that it was to the best interest of the state and nation that he be re-elected in Utah.

SENATOR DILLIVER.
Senator Jonathan P. Dilliver came next after a musical selection by the military band. He called attention to local industries, and the application of Republican doctrine in building them up. In his remarks he paid a high compliment to the founders of this commonwealth. He made an apt illustration of the fact that there had been sent to the east from Brigham City this year 65 carloads of fine peaches, by showing that in order for the fruit industry of this state to be prosperous and to extend, there must be a market where the people had money to buy the fruit. Such markets, he said, were provided in this country only through the beneficent results of Republican policies applied nationally and locally. He also called attention to the sugar and wool industries of the state, protected and fostered by Republican tariff regulations.

AN INCIDENT.
Senator Dilliver made a specially happy hit when a baby cried out, and its mother arose to leave the hall. He said he did not wish any mother to take her baby out on his account, and asked her to remain. "Those of us who have families know how it is," said he, "and as for those who haven't, it's none of their business." In the outburst of laughter which followed, the mother sat down, and baby was quiet the remainder of the meeting. Senator Dilliver closed his speech with a vigorous exhortation to vote the entire Republican ticket, and support President Roosevelt's administration the next year by placing in office those who could work with him.

GENERAL HANDSHAKE.
At the close of the meeting, Senator Fairbanks shook hands with many of the people. At 10 o'clock the train left for the south, a number of Brigham City Republican leaders joining the party.

The train last evening was a pleasant circumstance, leaving the weather and roads in perfect condition this morning. This is the second time a vice presidential candidate on the Republican ticket has visited Brigham City and the people feel well favored. These candidates are President Roosevelt and Senator Fairbanks, one both on the same ticket for president and vice president respectively.

Brigham City, Utah, Oct. 7.—Senator Fairbanks spoke here at 8 o'clock today. He came up from Ogden in his special train after remaining at that place all night. He was accompanied by Senator Dilliver of Iowa, Congressman Smith of Iowa, and a large contingent of Utah's leading Republicans who occupied a Pullman of their own. The meeting was held in the opera house and all the distinguished men mentioned occupied seats on the stage.

APPEALS FOR SUPPORT.

Senator Fairbanks made an appeal for the support of the Republican ticket, contending that only by keeping that party in power could the highest degree of prosperity be maintained. He made no reference to the differences existing among Republicans in this state and he also failed to refer to the question of polygamy. The anti-Mormon wing of the party are, however, quoting a sentence from the senator's speech as evidence last night, as in support of their position. The passage is as follows:

LAST NIGHT'S REMARK.

"In the final analysis the American home is the unit of the Republic's strength. Thus, some women preside over another, where there is gathered about the hearthstone faithful hearts filled with love of the American flag and with admiration for the institutions of our fathers which have been committed to our highest and most loyal keeping."

PLEA FOR CONGRESSMAN HOWELL.

The senator's speech here was cordially applied as were the speeches of Mr. Smith and Senator Dilliver, who followed in the order named. Mr. Smith said that there is trustworthy assurance that the Democratic party has really permanently returned to sanity as claimed for it. He made a plea for the re-election of Congressman Howell, who is a candidate on the regular ticket. Senator Dilliver referred in his speech to the fact that female suffrage prevails in this state.

FEMALE SUFFRAGE.

"For my part," he said, "I think the Republican party has everything to gain and nothing to lose by the system. I trust the intuitive sense of the women to catch and appreciate the wisdom of Republican policies for those policies make for the improvement of the home as no other policies can."

AT FARMINGTON.

Senator Fairbanks Praises People For Local Industries.

(Special to the "News.")
Farmington, Oct. 7.—Senator Fairbanks' train reached here at 11 o'clock today. A large crowd, including many children, met at the station, which was profusely decorated with the Stars and Stripes.

Senator Smoot introduced Senator Fairbanks, who quickly found favor with the people by his happy reference to their local industries. He pointed out the safe and responsible policies of the Republican party, and the wise administration of Republican officials, paid a warm tribute to President Roosevelt, and urged the people to maintain good times by electing the Republican candidates.

Senator Dilliver next spoke, and pointed out the good work done by the women in bringing back the country under Republican rule. He pointed out that the arguments for Republican success were in the home, and felt that the best interests of Utah, if followed, would make it unanimous for the Republican ticket.

Bouquets were presented by the ladies of Farmington to Senators Fairbanks and Dilliver, and amid cheers the train pulled out for Salt Lake City.

"It was almost a miracle. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me of a terrible breaking out all over the body. I am very grateful." Miss Julia Filbridge, West Cornwall, Conn.

GARBLED AS USUAL.

Tribune's Misrepresentation of Hon. Moses Thatcher's Speech.

Special Correspondence.
Salt Lake City, Oct. 7.—The article in this morning's Tribune with regard to Hon. Moses Thatcher's speech at Hyrum was shown to two leading business men from Hyrum and they say they were present at the meeting, and that the report is a base misrepresentation of nearly everything that Mr. Thatcher said, and what little part of what he did say is misconstrued and shamefully falsified.

Mr. Thatcher began his speech by reading from a quotation from the Logan Republican, which placed him in a wrong light in regard to his political status at the time of his aspiring to the senatorship. He said "I will tell you something that perhaps will surprise many, nevertheless it is true. In the year 1896 I was released from my Apostleship, and did not aspire to the senatorship till 1897." Among the many other things Mr. Thatcher said was that he had the highest regard for the First Presidency and the Apostles and had no feeling of hatred or animosity towards any of them.

nominee for Congress on the Dubois ticket, held forth in the same place, but the audience was small. His treatment of the "Mormon" question was vile, and defamatory, and the people showed their displeasure by leaving the hall in a body during his harangue. The annual peace meeting, under the auspices of the National Ladies' Relief society and the Young Ladies' Mutual improvement association will be held at the L. D. S. church next Sunday at 2 o'clock, to which the public in general and the city officials in particular are invited. The respective ministers have been asked to participate in the program.

YESSEN IN LUCK.

Witnesses Leave and Alleged Burglar Is Discharged.

Upon motion of Dist. Atty. Smith, the case of the State of Utah against John Yessen, charged with burglary, has been dismissed by Judge Lewis in the criminal division of the district court. The attorney for the state said that the principal witnesses in the case had departed from the state and the case could not be tried without them. He accordingly requested that the case be dismissed and the defendant charged. Yessen was charged with burglarizing a room at 66 Commercial street on the night of July 22, 1904.

Suit on Agreement.

Suit has been filed in the district court by N. E. Reynolds, administrator of the estate of Elizabeth M. Reynolds, deceased, and Marina A. Willes against F. S. Luff to compel the specific performance of an agreement of sale whereby plaintiffs were to sell to defendant a part of lot 1, block 65, plat 2, Salt Lake City survey for $1,000. It is alleged that defendant paid $25 on the purchase price of the land but has failed to pay the balance although plaintiffs have tendered him a deed to the property and requested that he fulfill his part of the agreement. Judgment is asked for specific performance and for $1,475 the balance due on the purchase price.

Kaiser's Health is Good.

Berlin, Oct. 6.—Emperor William's health is the subject of constant rumor, which, after persistent inquiry by the Associated Press, appears altogether without foundation. One report in particular was that the emperor, after opening the institute of technology at Dantzig, would go into retirement at Hubertusburg, a hunting lodge near Berlin, and that about Oct. 15 he would undergo another operation on his throat similar to that of a year ago.

His majesty's speech at Dantzig on the importance of technical instruction fills nearly a column in the newspapers. He spoke in a low, clear voice, which to those who heard him was a practical refutation of the report of a fresh growth in the vocal chords, and especially as before the operation of 1903 the emperor's voice was noticeably impaired.

The emperor, as he had previously announced he would, went to Hubertusburg this evening. Prof. Shady, the expert in wireless telegraphy, is a guest of his majesty.

Ira Davenport Dead.

He fell from one of the cars and was dragged more than 100 feet. Later Fankbore died.

Diminished Vitality.

Some people talk very flippantly about diminished vitality. They don't stop to think that vitality is the principle of life—that it is that little understood something on which every function of their bodies depends. Diminished vitality is early indicated by loss of appetite, strength and endurance, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the greatest vitalizer.

WAS CURED QUICKLY

Rheumatism in Two Severe Cases Mastered in a Few Weeks.

Public Interest Aroused by the Quickness and Completeness of the Cures, and the Remedy Used by Mr. Schroepel and Captain Balfour in Great Demand in the Vicinity of Their Homes.

In the winter of 1902-3 Mr. Schroepel was attacked by rheumatism of a most pronounced and incapacitating type. So severe was the attack that he was confined to bed and was unable to help himself. The doctor was called in and treated him but without success. He subsequently regained his health, however, by means which he described with great enthusiasm in response to an inquiry for particulars.

"After five or six weeks of helpless inactivity and pain," said he, "during which I was receiving visits at regular intervals from the doctor I felt as bad as ever and almost despaired of ever being well again. About this time my mother, an old lady, of 80 years, visited me and earnestly entreated me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for my ailment. She declared that she had been riding herself from their use in her advanced age, and she was confident they would help me. At her solicitation I gave up the doctor's treatment, reluctantly, however, and a member of the family was sent to the nearest drug store for a supply of the simple and inexpensive remedy which she so strongly recommended.

"And were you cured as the result of taking her advice?"
"Yes, quickly and thoroughly. Before the second box was finished I felt very manifest improvement in my condition, and within two weeks I was able not only to leave my bed but to commence the spring work on my farm, which had so long been neglected. I continued to use the pills, however, until eight boxes had been taken, although long before that I felt that every vestige of the disease had been eradicated from my system.

"Are there no traces of your former illness left?"

"Absolutely none. For a year and three months there has never been the slightest return to the old trouble, and that is the more remarkable because for years before every storm or spell of dark weather had caused serious and painful twinges. For this happy result I and my family freely praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Within the bounds of China township, St. Clair county, Michigan, there is no better known farmer than Mr. Henry Schroepel. His fine farm with its lawns and gardens is admired by scores of people who drive daily to and from the city of St. Clair, by way of the North road. Mr. Schroepel's birthplace is at the homestead where King School stands, within a mile of his place. He and the whole of his family for twenty-two years have been spent on these two farms. His cure has naturally therefore attracted a great deal of attention. One of Mr. Schroepel's neighbors, Capt. George Balfour, who, during the months of navigation has command of one of the merchant steamers running between Buffalo and Duluth, after hearing of the salutary results in Mr. Schroepel's case, decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for an attack of rheumatism from which he was himself suffering. He took eight or ten boxes and now declares himself free from this painful ailment. It is little wonder that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are much in favor and in evidence in almost every home in the community where Mr. Schroepel and Captain Balfour are so well and favorably known.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure not only rheumatism, but also all diseases of the blood, such as anæmia, scrofula, erysipelas, and diseases of the nerves, such as neuralgia, sciatica, and paralysis. They are sold by all druggists.
