

TELEGRAPHIC. INVADING GREEKS.

Reports Concerning Yesterday's Engagement on the Frontier.

MAY PRECIPITATE HOSTILITIES.

The Crisis Crisis Review By the Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Parliament.

LONDON, April 9.—A dispatch to the Daily News from Athens, dated 8 p. m. today, says: The invading Greek army, 1,000 men, are holding their own. The Greeks are proceeding to the frontier. The Greeks are proceeding to the frontier. The Greeks are proceeding to the frontier.

LONDON, April 9.—It is rumored here that three bands of insurgents, each numbering about 500 men, have appeared at different points in Macedonia. It is believed that these bands may force an outbreak of hostilities.

LONDON, April 9.—The Daily Chronicle's Athens correspondent telegraphed at midnight 8:37: The following is all that is known here from the frontier after the Greek and Turkish attacks. The commander of the frontier post at Thessalonica telegraphed to the British ambassador at Athens, that the Turkish army, which was held in check at the frontier, had broken through the Greek positions, and was advancing towards the town of Thessalonica.

The commander added that firing was still in progress. As, however, he was not only one company of reinforcements, he evidently did not consider the attack a grave one.

The correspondent of the Times at Athens says that at 5 o'clock this morning the frontier between Greece and Bulgaria, where the Turkish army, which was held in check at the frontier, had broken through the Greek positions, and was advancing towards the town of Thessalonica.

ATHENS, April 9.—12:30 a.m.—A private dispatch just received here from Thessalonica, says that the Turkish army, which was held in check at the frontier, had broken through the Greek positions, and was advancing towards the town of Thessalonica.
