COLORADO ITEMS.

At Pueblo, October 25, Chris. Hauers was jailed on the charge of complicity in the theft of over $2,000 worth of refined silver bullion from the Pueblo Smelting Company's works. Several pounds of silver were found in his possession.

Andrew Mertz, the well-known contractor, of Pueblo, is dead. On Saturday he fell off the court house, which he has been building for Huerfano County, at Walsenburg, and broke his neck, but was still breathing until Monday. He was an enterprising German, the father of an excellent family, and had built many of the largest buildings in Pueblo.

There seems to be a determination in Denver to punish illegal voting, judging by the following notice which is published in a Denver paper:

$2,000 REWARD.

The Committee of One Hundred are authorized by a number of citizens and business men of this city to offer the sum of Two Thousand Dollars as a special reward for the apprehension and conviction of persons violating the election laws of this state or the United States, within the limits of the city of Denver, to be paid by the president of the Committee of One Hundred, in sums of One Hundred Dollars for each person convicted of selling, buying, or attempting to buy or sell a vote or votes, for false registry, or for any violation of the election laws.

The Committee of One Hundred hereby guarantee the payment of such sums on conviction of any person offending within two years from this date.

The Committee of One Hundred, by L. C. ELLSWORTH, President.

October 22, 1886.

Sheriff Metcalf, of Boulder, passed through Denver last Tuesday, having in charge a convict destined for the penitentiary, and an unfortunate lunatic. They were placed in the city jail, handcuffed together and kept there until train time. The lunatic could not feel the disgrace of being handcuffed to a thief and the latter is too old a timer to care for anything. The thief is "Doc" King, who goes to the penitentiary for robbery. He is known in Denver as a confidence man, coming from California. Denver became too hot for him, and he went to Boulder, only to fall into the clutches of the law. The insane man is Thomas Richardson, who was adjudged insane at the last term of the Boulder County Court.

A fatal accident occurred at the Albany Hotel in Denver a few days ago, by which Thomas Arkell, the engineer, was instantly killed. A few moments before its occurrence, Mr. Arkell came into the hotel corridor and directed the elevator boy to take him to the top of the shaft, as he wished to oil the machinery. It was done, and he stepped safely upon the small platform prepared for the use of the engineer when engaged in such work. He was engaged some fifteen minutes, when as the clerk, who was watching him, says he attempted to step on a cross bar on the side next to the hall; when he either became dizzy or missed his foot, hold and fell with a piercing shriek. Plunging down headlong he struck the third-floor railing, gave another scream, balanced for a second, and fell again, hitting the second railing with his head and still falling, struck his head and shoulders upon the office safe, from which he bounded on to the bookkeeper's desk, thence to the floor. It is supposed that his back was broken by the third railing, his skull fractured by the second, and his shoulders broken, and his skull again fractured by the safe. He must have been dead when he came to the floor, as he lay a bruised, bleeding and breathless mass when those who witnessed the frightful occurrence came to pick him up. Arkell was about 35 years of age and unmarried.

PACIFIC COAST NOTES.

CULLED FROM WESTERN EXCHANGES.

—The Helena & Red Mountain Railway is now completed to Rimini, Montana, and is now in operation to that point.

At Stockton, Cal., October 20, two herders, Peter Cunningham and Thos. Ackerson, quarreled in a bar-room. Ackerson received a fatal wound, inflicted by his antagonist with a pocket knife.

Willie, a twelve-year-old son of Harmon Lewis, Jr., of Corvallis, Oregon, was drowned in the Willamette river, October 19th. He fell in while trying to climb a slippery and steep bank.

On October 19th Leopold Lupke, a German, aged 28, a farm hand near Gervais, Oregon, committed suicide by shooting himself in the head with a pistol. He had been suffering from ague, and was penniless.

Near Tacoma, W. T., Oct. 20, John Kirkbright, a brakeman on the Northern Pacific, while walking along the tops of the cars, it being very dark and foggy, fell between them and was instantly killed. He leaves a family.

Traffic on the Canadian Pacific Railway in British Columbia is still impeded by the great slide. Passengers, baggage and mails are being transferred. An immense chasm has been formed by the sinking of the earth, leaving the rails hanging over.

A Portland, Oregon, assayer has made an analysis of water from some wells near Fort Stevens, which have been dug at the expense of the government for the use of the soldiers at the fort. The worst specimen, says the Portland News, contained one part of ammonia to every 100 parts, owing to decayed vegetation. This water also contains chlorine, which is caused by seepage from the ocean.

At the Kendall Mansion, Los Angeles, the other day, between 12 and 1 o'clock, Albert R. Plimpton suicided by taking strychnine. Plympton was a native of Massachusetts, and for several years was connected with the financial department of a large mercantile house in New York. He has had poor health for some time, and about three years ago went to California with the hope of recovering. He was 43 years old and unmarried. He was well educated, and of good family.

On October 20th an attempt was made to burn the Southern Pacific's bridge over the Los Angeles River, near Downey. The incendiaries, who are not known, piled up some railway ties on the bridge and set them on fire, but before the flames had done much damage the fire was extinguished by a gang of section men who chanced to be passing on a hand car. This is the second attempt to burn this bridge. It is supposed to have been the work of some residents along the river, who think that the embankments which form the approaches to the bridge act as a dam and cause the overflow of their lands.

A dispatch received in Portland, Oregon Oct. 20, from Albuquerque, N. M., states that Cecil Beebe has been arrested there and that the sheriff had started to Portland with him. Beebe was bookkeeper for G. Shindler & Co., furniture manufacturers at Portland, and was discharged in January, 1885. A subsequent investigation of the books showed that he had systematically robbed the firm for three years, never for a large single amount, but aggregating about $15,000. The money went for high living, the most expensive item being a woman who is still with him. About a year ago Beebe was arrested in Canada, but escaped extradition through a technicality. He is about 27 years of age, and is a member of one of the most respectable families of Oregon pioneers.

The only line to take for Des Moines Marshalltown, Cedar Rapids, Clinton, Dixon, Chicago, Milwaukee, and all points East. To the people of Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Washington and California it offers superior advantages not possible by any other line.

Among a few of the numerous points of superiority enjoyed by the patrons of this road between Omaha and Chicago, are its two trains a day of DAY COACHES which are the finest that human art and ingenuity can create; its PALACE SLEEPING CARS, which are models of comfort and elegance; its PARLOR DRAWING ROOM CARS, unsurpassed by any; and its widely celebrated PALATIAL DINING CARS, the equal of which can not be found elsewhere.

At Council Bluffs the trains of the Union Pacific Ry. connect in Union Depot with those of the Chicago & Northwestern Ry. In Chicago the trains of this line make close connection with those of all Eastern lines.

For Detroit, Columbus, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Pittsburg, Toronto, Montreal, Boston, New York Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, and all points in the East, ask the ticket agent for tickets via the
