ANOTHER TRIBUNE FALSEHOOD.

The Tribune prints a story credited to the Caldwell Tribune to the effect that, according to a rumor, the Deseret News has secured the controlling interest in the Capital News of Boise, Idaho.

A representative of the Salt Lake sheet was informed several days ago, on inquiry over the telephone, that the rumor was without foundation, but that does not prevent its unscrupulous scribes from asserting that they have "verified" it.

The story is false. The "News" has not obtained the controlling interest or any portion of the stock of the Capital News, or any other Idaho paper.

The trouble with political investigations of the record of political tools is that truth is never brought out by them. This has been proved time and again in numerous instances all over the country.

under the guise of commercial interest, a practical Austrian supremacy throughout the Balkans. If a conflict breaks out, it will not be between Russia and Austria, but between Russia and Turkey, the latter being accused of favoring the Austrian plans under German influence.

ON THE SIDE OF RIGHT.

There is not, in American history since the days of George Washington, a more prominent character than Abraham Lincoln, whose birthday was celebrated a short time ago all over the country.

It has been observed that no man was ever fought by political opponents so vehemently as Lincoln was. The speeches and newspapers and general fury were simply horrible.

Without entering any further into that question, we merely observe that time has worked a wonderful change. Today the memory of Abraham Lincoln is revered by all parties and factions.

Next year, the first centennial of his birth, will see a general outpouring of panegyric. Time has vindicated Lincoln, while his enemies, loud-mouthed though they were, are almost forgotten.

It is best to be on the side of right, even when right is unpopular.

SPEAKS FOR LIBERTY.

A few days ago we mentioned in these columns the commotion caused in certain religious circles in Paterson, N. J., by the presence in that city of a couple of "Mormon" boys.

There are some people in this city who are greatly worked up because a couple of Mormon elders who seem to be very inoffensive chaps, have come to this city to preach their peculiar doctrine.

Let them preach all they like. It's a free country and nobody is compelled to attend their preaching or to believe in their doctrines.

If that over zealous officer, Mr. Policeman Conyers, had not already seen the handwriting on the wall, he will be able to describe it, if he gives his orbs a vigorous rubbing.

THE ADVICE OF OUR CONTEMPORARY IS AS SOUND AS THAT OF GEMMELL OF OLD. ITS CONTENTION THAT THE SMOOT INVESTIGATION PROVED THAT THE PRACTICE OF POLY-GAMY HAS BEEN ABANDONED BY THE CHURCH IS UNASSAILABLE.

AS TO PROHIBITION.

The extraordinary spread of prohibition in the States is a cause for general congratulation.

But is absolute prohibition the wisest course? Does it prohibit? This paper stands for any honest and just measures that tend to diminish the evils of intemperance.

Others argue that there is a sounder basis for the protests of all American citizens regardless of the economic losses which prohibition would cause; that basis is the principle of personal liberty.

WE CANNOT FULLY ENDORSE THESE ARGUMENTS; YET THEY REPRESENT SOMETHING

real and vital in a government in which the rights of the minority are jealously guarded by constitutions. A State dispensary system modeled after the plan that prevails in Gethenburg, Sweden, would not be open to these objections.

Governor Pennypacker is very busy defending the acts of the board of which he was chairman and which had in its control the building of the Pennsylvania capitol. That seems natural.

At San Francisco yesterday a grading foreman killed a cook because his eggs were not well cooked. Now he is under arrest, but claims self-defense.

Governor Pennypacker seems to think that chairs are worth a thousand dollars apiece and bootblack stands twice that much. There are those in the Quaker State whose views differ—hence the charges of conspiracy now on trial.

A SERMON FOR WORKERS
[For the "News" by H. J. Haggood.]
Neither the employer nor the employee should allow himself to underestimate the value, an asset it might be termed, of appearing as well dressed as circumstances and kind of service will permit.

When the term "well dressed" is used, however, it is not done in the sense of being foppishly or flashily attired, but rather of being garbed in a good suit, though not necessarily an expensive one, clean linen, and polished shoes.

The employer who does not appear cleanly and tidy in personal appearance, cannot expect the respect of his employees, for they look more or less to the head of their concern as a model. Let the employee note that his employer is unkempt, and it cannot fail to have a bad effect on him.

The proposition of appearing as well dressed as possible applies to the unemployed as well as to the employed, and in the former case brings forcibly to one's attention the recent comment of one of Boston's most popular and successful men, who said:

"If I were out of employment, with only a dollar in my pocket, I would spend that dollar in an hour. I would divide most of it between a bath, a shave and a shine, and with the remainder I might get the best dinner I could. I might have to carry a hod for my next meal, but never would I miss one opportunity—to make myself presentable for a better position. A salesman stands a better chance to get business, from a personal point of view, if he looks well-kept and comfortable. Somehow prospective customers resent anything that suggests shabbiness and gives their patronage to neatly dressed and prosperous looking salesmen."

THE BOSTON MAN'S STATEMENT IS ABSOLUTELY A CORRECT PRESENTATION OF FACTS. PERSONAL APPEARANCE MEANS MORE THAN ALL THE PRINTER'S INK IN CREATION CAN DESCRIBE.

JUST FOR FUN.

"Back soon?"
"Depends on his lawyer."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Lawyer—Was your friend an accessory before the fact?
Witness—Sure, sir, but most sorry he wor after the fact, sir.—Ballroom American.

Friend (in whisper)—The toastmaster wants you to get off a good joke.
The Bashful Man—Beg pardon—er—I didn't know I was on it.—Chicago Daily News.

"The poor we have always with us," said Kindaman, in hopes of getting a contribution. "That's better than handing them against us," responded Flint-heart, with intent to dodge the same.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

English as She is Spoke.

An amusing dialogue occurred yesterday between Judge Willis, K. C., and a plaintiff who sued a man for the value of a quantity of goods supplied.

His honor said he had received a letter from the defendant, who said he could only offer half a crown a month. "That," continued his honor, "will take six years to get rid of the debt."

Plaintiff (emphatically)—I would willingly forgive a poor man, but when you find he is a swancker, and doing every one in the neighborhood, it puts your back up. (Laughter.) We have to cut things very fine in order to get a shilling or two, and then these gentry come "swanking" about the country as if they were angels. (Laughter.) I am told by others that he has nothing more than a "duck-shower." (Laughter.)

His Honor—A what shover? (Loud laughter.)

Plaintiff—Duck-shower. Your honor, a man who gets things on the bounce and the nod. (Renewed laughter.)

His Honor—You mean a man who gets people to let him have things on credit by representations that are not correct? Is that what you mean to convey by your big phrases—duck-shower and so forth? (Laughter.)

Plaintiff—That's it—duck-shower and swancker. (Renewed laughter.)

An order to pay 5 shillings monthly was made.—London Daily News.
