

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. Miln says his church is to be the church of the future, and then he tells us in the same breath that there is no future.

A Boston young man attended a prayer meeting, and heard so many confessions of crime that he concluded it was no place for him. He felt as though he needed better society.

This is the age of paper; all kinds of articles are being made out of that material, and now a paper watch has been exhibited by a Dresden watchmaker. The parts are so made from paper as to permit the movement to be fully seen. The paper is prepared in such a manner as to render the watch as serviceable as those in general use.

The King of Belgium has decreed a prize, to be offered in 1885, for the best system of popularizing the study of geography. The competition for the prize is to be international. Competitors may send their works, either printed or in manuscript, and either in the French, Flemish, English, German, Italian, or Spanish language, to the minister of the interior, at Brussels, before January 11, 1885. It is necessary that the prize manuscript shall be published in the course of the year following that in which the prize shall have been awarded.

We learn from eastern papers that during the past year five hundred divorces were granted in Philadelphia, a fact which demonstrates most forcibly that there is considerable matrimonial misery in the City of Brotherly Love. In other parts of the State the number of nuptial knots united has been correspondingly great, and every county in Pennsylvania can show its share of marital unhappiness. That commonwealth now ranks as the great divorce State of the Union. Of course it is prominent in attacks upon "Mormonism."

The old reputation of India as "the sink of the precious metals" appears from an official paper recently published in Calcutta to be well maintained, notwithstanding the decline in the imports of silver. It seems that the net imports of the precious metals during the last twenty-five years—that is, the amount after deducting the quantities exported—have reached the enormous sum of 285½ millions sterling. Last year the registered imports of gold were nearly eighty per cent. greater than in the previous year, and the largest of any year since 1870-1. This is considered to indicate a return of prosperity and a consequent increased demand among the people for hoarding and for ornaments.

The Boston Transcript has the following reference to young Dallin of Springfield, in Utah County: "The bust of Voltaire, which many must have noticed at Chase's store, is the work of a very young sculptor, Mr. C. E. Dallin, who has made his way to Boston and into all the way from Utah, where his father is a mine owner. He first began to carve little figures in the clay drawn out of the mine, and, displaying some facility, was sent hither to cultivate in the studio of F. H. Bartlett. How well he has made use of his two years' study is told in this remarkable bust, so full of vivacious character and individuality, and in the terra-cotta statuette of a panther, which is also a familiar object about town."

The North American Review for March is received. It contains an other interesting paper from Desire Channoy, on the "Ruins of Central America," and an article signed by Eli H. Murray, but which exhibits the finger of a certain F. O. H., who is never so happy as when misrepresenting the people of Utah and falsifying their history. The chief object of the writer is apparently "to give some purchase" by which the Endowment House can be broken into and forcible entry obtained by officers of the law. What the only creature expects to accomplish by that it is difficult to discover. It would have as much effect upon "Mormonism" as forcible entry into the thing. The Governor has allowed his name to be attached to an article that contains many untruths and some very sensible suggestions. But if it pleases him it does not hurt us. We are used to this kind of thing, an article or two more or less "in the same vein" makes but little difference. "Go on with the music."

A mania of suicides is prevalent among both officers and men of the Havarian army. Less than three months ago a cavalry captain at Nymphenburg put a bullet through his brain, and a few weeks ago the commanding colonel of the Sixth Infantry regiment at Amberg fired a pistol shot into his heart. An artillery lieutenant at Munich and a young lieutenant of the Fourth Infantry at Nurnberg shot themselves with pistols; and news has just been received from Vienna that a Bavarian lieutenant colonel committed suicide in a bathing establishment, and at Munich a major has just followed this example. At the same time suicides are rapidly increasing in number among the rank and file. Two night sentinels in the Turkish barracks at Munich shot themselves with their rifles, and three sergeants have done the same respectively at Nurnberg, Landau and Ingolstadt. A telegram from Munich states that another officer has just committed suicide, making three cases in the week.

THE ANTI-POLYGAMY BILL.

UNDER the above caption the St. Louis Post-Dispatch has the annexed article which shows an uncommon understanding of the motives that prompted the movement which has led to the present legislation. If the latter-day Saints wished to escape from any difficulty for a while in relation to their family affairs, all they would need to do would be to turn over every office in the Territory to the "Gentiles," to be controlled by the small faction which has made the future. Then they could have as many wives as they might choose, or practice any kind of marital or non-marital relations, so far as their present enemies are concerned.

This, however, they are not likely to do, so the struggle will continue. The "Mormons" actually imagine that they have some rights under the Constitution and the laws of the United States and of this Territory, and have not yet arrived at a condition of willingness to relinquish those rights; hence the conflict. Time will prove whether their opinion is correct or not; meanwhile they will lawfully and peacefully contend for that which belongs to them; cheerfully conceding as they have always done every right which belongs to others. The Post Dispatch says:

"The time has come when Mormonism finds itself arrayed against the General Government, and naturally there can be but one outcome to the struggle. An agitation against polygamy has been drummed up throughout the land, and public feeling and opinion against the Mormons manufactured with remarkable success by long-range philanthropists in each of the great cities, and yet the anti-polygamy crusade and its origin, not in outraged morality, but in a keen business sense of the situation in Utah. The Mormons hold the best lands in the Territory, and the Mormons have nearly all the trade in their hands. It was these facts which struck the Gentile settlers with horror and filled them with shame and the twin relic rather than the twin relic itself. If there was no money in it, it is highly probable that the Mormons would be let alone for twenty years to come, but spoliation is now the order of the day. Their business must give way while they are fighting for it. Their lands will be wrested from them in time. And yet, the Mormons consciously believe that polygamy is no sin. They have made the institution part of their religion and point to Biblical precedents. We have the authority of Burns, that 'the wisest man the world ever saw, he dearly loved the ladies.' O. H. Halahad about nine hundred of them sealed to him at one time, and yet he managed to preserve the respect of society and win the favor of the Lord. The Mormons have an idea that what Solomon might be excused in Brigham Young and his followers, but despite all these arguments they are met by the moral sense of the rest of the republic, which says, 'We do not marry thus profusely, and therefore you must not do so either.' Of course the constitutionality of the bill will be tested in the Supreme Court, but it will probably stand. It is a wholesale scheme of prejudice, ignorance and disfranchisement to which the high moral ideas and elevated planes of thought is committed, and with which the Supreme bench will not interfere. The Utah ring has so far scored a victory. It is a pity that Congress can not pass laws regulating sins nearer home than Utah. The Mormons are solely responsible for the methods to the world. The more cautious and more virtuous Easterners manage to content themselves with one wife and hidden sin. If St. Louis or Chicago or Cincinnati are more virtuous than Salt Lake City the people have not found it out. If those who are in such a state of dismay at the frightful condition of affairs in Utah, are aiming to do the worse than brutal condition of women in eastern cities they might be induced to believe that charity begins at home. A little of the fervor of the anti-polygamy crusade brought home to the abuses at home would do this country more good than harrasing the Mormons for the best fit of the Utah ring. Still the latter-day Saints are in variance with the moral sentiment of the land. So long as they kept out of the range of progress they were safe to practice and preach their doctrines, but the day that the Pacific Railway reached their borders their institution was doomed. Twenty years ago the Republican party proclaimed against the 'twin relics of barbarism'—slavery and polygamy. Today the party has laid its hand on the throat of the surviving twin, and we will now see the outcome."

HOW THEY WOULD VIEW IT. We clip the following from the Shelby (Michigan) Independent as indicating how a good many people who have not joined the fanatics in the anti-Mormon crusade look at the hypocrisy of the pretended Puritans:

"If the spirits of the dead hover around the living, as some suppose, how kindly will the spirits of Solomon and all of the old and sainted patriarchs take the upbraiding, the ferocious, the frenzied, the wordy, how contortions, and gnashing of teeth and wrath of the American big game hunters against polygamy, that is now so demagogically hurled at the handful of 'latter-day Saints,' who practice it, away off in the distance and seclusion of the mountains of Utah? Would not old Solomon rather say to the Congressional and other libertines who are so howling and rending their neater garments and their 'hyphocrisies,' 'You strain at a gnat and swallow a camel?'"

A NEW SWINDLING SCHEME. FARMERS are marked as the prey of several classes of swindlers. They are supposed to be unsophisticated and not likely to see through the sophistry of sharpers as the people who dwell in towns and cities. And this is true to some extent. But it is also a fact that farmers who are caught in the traps set for their feet by traveling rogues, generally suffer because they step outside of legitimate grounds. They imagine that they are going to get something for nothing, or next to nothing, and so become the victims of oily-tongued rascals.

One of the latest dodges to victimize the simple granger, is the wagon-tongue patent-right scheme. It is worked in this way: Sharper No. 1 comes along, says he is doing a big business in wagon-tongue patents, and on his way home and will sell the right for that county for $250. The wary granger declines to be taken in, and the disappointed visitor says, "All right; but if you think better of it let me know," and insists on leaving his address. A few days later No. 2 comes along. He has heard that granger has the county right for the patent, and will give $400 for it. The farmer sees an opportunity to make $150 in a quiet way, and sells the right. No. 2 pays $10 to bind the bargain, and goes his way. The farmer sends his note for $250 to No. 1—and the circle is complete.

THE BEST WAY TO AVOID FALLING INTO SUCH SNARES AS THESE IS TO FIGHT SUCH STRATAGEMS AS THESE WITH REMARKABLE OFFERS OF ANY LEGITIMATE BUSINESS, CONDUCTED BY THOSE WHOSE PROBITY IS KNOWN, IS THE ONLY SAFE PATH OF TRADE. THE TRAVELING AGENT AND STROLLING VENDOR OF WONDERFUL BARGAINS SHOULD BE SEVERELY ALONE, BOTH BY FARMERS AND ALL PERSONS WHO DESIRE TO AVOID BEING BITTEN AND DECEASED.

THE BENEFITS OF HAVING GOATS WITH SHEEP are generally acknowledged. It is said that the sheep are made healthier by their presence. But the farmers of New Jersey use goats to protect their sheep from dogs. Two goats can drive away a dozen dogs, and two are about all each farmer puts in with his sheep. As soon as a dog enters the field at night, the goats attack him, and their barking propensities are too much for the canine, who soon finds himself rolling over and over. And a few repetitions of this treatment causes the dog to quit the field, limping and yelping.

BY TELEGRAPH. FOR WEEKEND UNION TELEGRAPH LINE. AMERICAN. LATEST DISPATCHES. THE OMAHA STRIKE. OMAHA, 20.—The relieving of troops, called for by the strike, commenced this evening, with two companies returned home. Four companies of United States troops are en route to Omaha to-morrow morning. Grading was carried on with a full force and no threats or interruptions.

THE WILLOW SPRINGS DISTILLERY hands filed the plans of such employment as struck with new men. The Smelting Works refused to take back such of the men as quit voluntarily, and has reinforced the day and night shifts to nearly its full strength with new men.

A FREE FIGHT. DENVER, Col., 20.—A New York Free Press dispatch says: To-night a free fight occurred among the crowd assembled at the Opera House to witness a wrestling match between Leaville and Denver men. The latter won, but was severely injured, and the decision of the referee unfair, and pulling pistols threatened his life. Several police mounted the stage, and during the melee the referee was severely injured, and another badly injured.

A $14,000 THEFT. Frank Boyington, acting city clerk, a defaulter to the extent of $14,000.

THE TROY STRIKE. TROY, 20.—The striking moulder returned to work this morning, but the managers of the foundry, refusing a conference to the union committee the men again went out.

MORE STRIKERS. FLUSHING, L. I., 20.—The employees of the Glen Cove station refused to work this morning, but the managers of the foundry, refusing a conference to the union committee the men again went out.

ASSASSINATION. SAN FRANCISCO, 21.—A Tucson dispatch says: The body of Frank Sullivan was found beside the railroad track, not far from the depot this morning, killed with rifle bullets and buckshot. He was seen at the depot last night on the arrival of the west-bound train in company with the slanton, one of the cowboy gang who had been in the city for a desperate fight last fall at Tombstone.

By the train arrived, heavily armed, a party escorting the body of Morgan Egan, recently assassinated at Tombstone, four of the party were seen to follow Sullivan down the track, shot were heard soon after and the quarrel did not return this morning. Four armed men flagged and boarded the freight train nine miles east of the town. The deceased was a brother of the famous scout, Texas Jack.

FOREIGN. News from Honolulu. HONOLULU, 15.—King Kalakaua is on a visit to Maui. He is actively engaged in promoting the culture of clove, tobacco, and ramie. The culture of these products will, it is expected, be also by some bounty given by the next legislature. Great hopes are raised in the islands in connection with the treatment of leprosy. A leprosy victim, who was sent to the island of Molokai, now that a branch hospital has been established there, where the disease can get sight of their friends, they come forward voluntarily to be treated. All hidden leprosy have come forth from their retreats, and new treatment and management have produced excellent results.

PLANTERS are uneasy about the supply of labor, as the immigration of Chinese has ceased, and the Norwegian and Portuguese emigrants are so prone to breach of contracts and to causelessly injure the good name of the islands, that planters want no more of them. Attention is now turned to India and Japan for recruits of laborers and people. A prohibitory liquor law is much discussed. A public loan for internal improvement is the prevailing topic among the politicians. A loan of $2,000,000 is as large a sum as can be judiciously expended for the next two or three years. This can be readily obtained on the government bond at home. Material for a marine railway in Honolulu has arrived and work well on the way. The total exports from the kingdom in 1881 were $77,472,837. Total imports $454,797,864; imports of American goods for 1881, $359,031,084.

health has fixed 20 days as the minimum of quarantine for vessels bringing small-pox. Government telegraphed the other colonies that the disease is practically eradicated in New South Wales. The trial of Easer, late minister of mines, in the Waddell-Mathieson conspiracy to defraud the shareholders of Millburn Creek mines out of $4,700 commenced on the 21st. The case is proceeding, it is expected it will terminate to-day.

AN ACT RELATING TO JURY ATTENDANCE, BONDS AND CERTIFICATES OF WITNESSES.

Be it enacted by the Governor and Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Utah: That the clerk of the several District Courts are hereby required to keep an attendance roll, in which shall be noted every day's attendance of each juror required to attend the court in criminal cases.

SEC. 2. The foreman of the Grand Jury for any term of court shall certify the clerk of the District Court of the District for which such jury is summoned, the number of days attendance of each witness who appears before said grand jury.

SEC. 3. Upon the receipt of said certificate from the foreman of the grand jury, the clerk shall make up the amount due each witness for attendance mileage, which shall be calculated from the mileage in which such witness was subpoenaed, and give a certificate therefor under the seal of said court.

SEC. 4. It shall be the duty of all officers or other persons serving subpoenas on witnesses to attend any of the District Courts, in their returns on such subpoenas to recite the precinct in which such service was made.
