

Local and Other Matters.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, AUGUST 13.

Personal.—C. W. Penrose, Esq., editor of the Ogden Junction, was in town last evening.

"Knights of the Cleaver."—A number of "Knights of the Cleaver" had an "out" at Calder's Farm yesterday, and spent a very pleasant time.

Match Game.—To-morrow afternoon the Wasatch B. B. Club will play a match game with the Rough and Readys, on the Sixth Ward base ball grounds. The game will commence at four o'clock.

Discharged.—The case of Kieser, the Bingham butcher, charged with stealing cattle, was concluded yesterday, before Justice Pyper. The prosecution failed to connect the accused with the larceny, and he was discharged.

Funeral of Mr. Kinsey.—The funeral of Mr. David H. Kinsey, who died the day before yesterday, took place to-day, with masonic honors, he having been a member of that fraternity. The cortege was a large one, the remains being followed to the grave by between twenty and thirty carriages filled with mourners.

Knitting.—To-day we were shown some specimens of work done by that useful machine, the Branson Knitter. They consisted of children's woollen shirts, leggings and shoes, also lamp mats and other fancy work, in variegated colors, all indicating the excellent character of the machine, and the extent of its capacity.

Artistic.—To-day we were shown one of the most tasteful specimens of artistic hair work we have ever seen. It consists of a wreath of flowers, copied from the genuine article, composed of the hair of the late deceased daughter of Miss Jean Clara Walters, which is of a rich lustrous brown. The wreath surrounds a photographic likeness of the young lady, the whole being encased in a neat oval frame. The hair work was done by Miss Julia E. Davis of this City.

About Rearing Babies.—Everybody is interested in this interesting business, and it will do nobody any harm and may do many people much good, if they will read an article upon this subject in another part of to-day's NEWS. The great difficulty hereabout in carrying out the suggestions in said article would be to provide and maintain the healthful and delightful temperature of 60 degrees. If this could be done, which however is practically impossible, the greatest cause of excessive infant mortality hereabout would be removed.

Teachers' Normal Institute.—The following resolutions were passed unanimously by the Normal Institute yesterday—

Be it Resolved: 1. That a vote of thanks is due and hereby tendered to the Territorial Superintendent, O. H. Riggs, as a testimony of the appreciation of his efforts in establishing the Normal Institute for the mutual benefit of the teachers of the Territory.

2. That we tender a like expression to Dr. J. R. Park, for the able manner in which he has conducted the exercises of the Institute, and for his untiring exertions to make said Institute all that its name implies—a school for school-teachers.

3. That many thanks are due and hereby given to the corps of teachers, for their indefatigable labors, and the clear and lucid manner in which they have presented the several subjects to the Assembly.

4. That the members of the choir are deserving a vote of thanks and the same is hereby presented for the excellent music they have discoursed during our session.

5. That we tender our earnest thanks to the members of the press who have given publication of the proceedings of the Institute, for the interest they have manifested in its success, and for the aid of their powerful influence in the cause of education.

6. That, for favors extended to members living in the country, the Railroad Companies of Utah are entitled to a vote of thanks, which is hereby tendered by the members of the Institute.

7. That the thanks of the Institute are due and hereby expressed to Mr. James Dwyer, for courtesies and favors shown to its members.

8. That thanks be given to those District Trustees who accorded to the teachers the means and privilege of attending this Normal Institute.

9. That this reunion has afforded us much gratification and benefit; and that we consider that a united feeling and a more hearty co-operation are needed among the teachers of Utah.

10. That a vote of thanks be tendered to Bishop E. Hunter and to Messrs. Taylor & Cutler for kindness extended to the teachers of the Normal Institute.

Committee.—Charles Wright, E. A. Box, O. F. Whitney, Emma Wells, L. A. Ashby.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, AUGUST 14.

Badly Frightened.—As scared as Corinne.

Rain.—It did try to rain last night.

Meetings.—Religious services at the New Tabernacle to-morrow afternoon, and in the various ward meeting houses in the evening.

Cheap Excursion.—The Ladies' Relief Society of the 17th Ward have a cheap excursion to Lake Point and a sail on the Lake, next Friday.

Dead Corinne.—Now that the ridiculous Indian scare conspiracy has failed so ignobly, Corinne is as flat as a pancake, as dead as a door-nail. Toll the passing bell and hang out the crape.

On the Way Home.—Yesterday President George A. Smith received a dispatch, dated at Omaha, from his son, Elder John Henry Smith, on his way home from England, which stated that he was well and would reach this city on Sunday (to-morrow) night.

Corinne the Hairless.—

Henceforth the men of shining skull
Will have a special crow to pull
With heroes of Corinne.

'Twould almost raise a bald pate's hair,
And cause a pious one to swear,
To besalute everywhere
With "Come you from Corinne?"

Narrow Escape.—Last evening Dr. F. D. Benedict had a narrow escape from serious injury, in front of his office. He was in the act of mounting his horse, and had got one foot in the stirrup and a hold on the saddle, when the animal commenced kicking and plunging furiously, finally throwing the Doctor aside clear of him, and running off at full speed. Had the gentleman's foot not got clear of the stirrup, he might have fared badly. As it was he was not hurt.

Personal.—We had the pleasure of a very pleasant visit to-day from Prof. Jules Marcon, of Cambridge, Mass., chief geologist of the Wheeler exploring expedition. The Professor is a genial gentleman, and is much interested in witnessing the evidences of the rapid advancement that Utah has made, he having been here when she was in her infancy, in 1853, when he passed through this part of the country, being then a member of a government surveying party.

A Good Resolve.—Last night a mass meeting of the residents of the Seventh Ward was held in the School-house, to take into consideration the advisability of continuing the work, to completion, on the new Assembly Rooms building. It was stated that between $2,000 and $3,000 had lately been spent on it, in erecting the walls, roofing it, etc., and it was unanimously resolved to continue the work with ceaseless effort until the fine structure was sufficiently advanced to admit of meetings being held in it. We are pleased to note the amount of public spirit manifested in the matter by the Seventh Ward bishop and people.

"When Johnny Comes Marching Home."—This morning the troops sent from Camp Douglas to the front of the Corinne scare arrived in this City, after having performed a useless errand. They looked as if they might be thinking that they would prefer that kind of a joke played on them by the "ringites" to come not oftener than once in a great while. The whole affair has developed, in some of its phases, one of the most palpable farces ever perpetrated among civilized or uncivilized people in any age. The consummate rascality of its instigators, originators and conductors is beneath the contempt of every person who has any right to the appellation of man; but it is not the first evidence by many of their contemptible cupidity.

Home Again.—Our enterprising townsman, Mr. C. R. Savage, reached home this morning from California. He obtained a number of very fine views of San Francisco Bay, and of various interesting points on the Central Pacific Railroad.

On the home trip he traveled in company with the editorial excursion party, which visited this city a short time since. The members of that company of excursionists still speak with pleasure of their visit here, asserting that the brightest spot in their whole trip was the three days visit to this city and vicinity, not only on account of seeing for themselves a people and portion of the country whose fame is world wide, but also because nowhere had they been treated with more cordial hospitality than by this community.

Educational Excursion.—Yesterday morning the participants in the excursion commenced to flock to the Utah Western depot at an early hour, loaded with all the appurtenances of a picnic excursion, and left, accompanied by the lively strains of a string band, shortly after seven o'clock. A beautiful day favored the excursionists, and amongst such a select company, it did not take a long time to become familiar.

Clinton's landing was reached in due course of time, and the company went aboard the General Garfield, under the most promising auspices. The view upon the islands and surrounding mountain shores from on board the steamer is romantic beyond description, and furnishes the spectators entertainment for hours, until the string band, on the upper deck, wooed the passengers gradually into the meshes of the dance. Time sped on rapidly, while, between the various amusements, soundings were taken by Professors Park and Bishop, which led, in the most remarkable instances, to the following results. There were made forty-five soundings altogether, running over a distance of about forty miles, the least depth being 18 feet, the greatest depth 40 feet. The bottom in general proved to be very level, and was mostly rocky, with patches of white, grey and black sand. In the deepest soundings was found a fine muddy sediment. The first sounding for temperature was made W. N. W. of White Rock Bay, about ten miles from there, considered to be the deepest place in the lake. The thermometer indicated 118 deg. in the sun and 96 deg. in the shade; surface temperature 78 deg., at the bottom (39 ft.) 77 deg. The second sounding, west side of Antelope Island, about seven miles from the south end, 40 feet deep, rock bottom, temperature of air 87 deg., surface temperature 77 deg., bottom 77½ deg.

The animal life of the lake appears to be represented only by the so called brine-shrimp (Artemia salina) of which the animal as larva, crystal and imago, was found.

The purpose of taking soundings, temperature, etc., has reference to two theories relating to the rise and fall of the waters of the Great Salt Lake; one maintaining that the increase and decrease are due to rainfall, the other, to volcanic agencies.

The soundings extended over a distance of forty miles, beginning at a point east of the south end of Stansbury's Island, thence northward along the east shore to a point between Stansbury's and Antelope Islands and the Promontory, thence in the direction of White Rock Bay, Antelope Island, along the western shore in a line with Black Bluffs and Lake Point, to within about seven miles west of the south end of the Island; comprising a series of forty soundings.

A complete list of the soundings will be forwarded to the Smithsonian Institute.

About half-past four o'clock black clouds in the west indicated a coming storm, and Captain Dauris headed the steamer southward. Notwithstanding the captain's endeavors to reach the landing before the storm, the steamer was overtaken about five miles off Clinton's, and the anchors had to be dropped. Soon the rocking of the boat not only created considerable sea sickness among the company, but also some anxiety with a few, but after the delay of an hour and a half, anchors were hoisted again, the ship headed for Clinton's and the spirits of the sick and nervous commenced to revive. Three hearty cheers by the company for Captain Dauris, at the landing, expressed better than any speech the appreciation of the party of his able manner in conducting the ship in a trying hour.

For about two hours the company enjoyed themselves at Clinton's Hotel, with dancing and in various ways, while "waiting for the wagon," and then all went, at half-past ten, on the cars of the Utah Western, homeward singing, and reposing, thus closing one of the pleasantest days that could be spent on an excursion.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, AUGUST 16.

Tabernacle Meeting.—Elder Orson Pratt preached yesterday afternoon, on the "Pre-existence of Man."

Don't Name It.—Paul said proudly, "I am a Roman." But who will have the temerity to acknowledge hereafter, "I am a Corinnite?" O no, we'll never mention it.

Saratoga Regatta.—Before us are tickets complimentary to the International Amateur Regatta, Lake Saratoga, Aug. 24, 25, and 26. Should be happy to be there.

What no Corinnite Will Ever Say.—

Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
That never to himself hath said,
This is my own, my native town?

Utah Cadetship.—We understand that John Burton, son of Bishop Robert T. Burton, of the 15th Ward of this city, goes to West Point Military Academy, as the Utah Cadet.

A Novelty.—There was a novelty on the streets of this city to-day—a lady peregrinating in male attire. Dr. Mary Walker, of Washington, D. C., is in town.

Base Ball.—In the game of base ball, played on Saturday, between the Wasatch and Rough and Ready Clubs, the former were the victors, scoring twenty-four to the other's ten.

Dissolved.—We understand that the hitherto well known law firm of Sutherland & Bates of this city no longer exists, those gentlemen having dissolved partnership.

Sickly.—The excessive heat of the last two weeks has been doing its sickly work, and now complaints are heard on every hand of the ill effects, chiefly serious derangements of the stomach and viscera, with the consequent general debility in the entire corporeal system.

Woman's Exponent for Aug. 15 contains "Kind Words," "Time is Precious," "R. S. Reports," "A Week Out of Town," "Our Time," "Letters from Abroad," "Pipsy Papers," "The Kindergarten," "Floral Hints," etc.

The Dishonesty of the Transaction.—Does not this driving of the Indians from their farm crops savor of absolute dishonesty? Is it not robbing them of their rights, of their property? Have they not a right to labor? Have they not also a right to enjoy the fruits of their labors?

Don't, Pray Don't.—Don't laugh at them—the poor frightened Corinnites. It's not a laughing matter, they say. Well, we won't—we'll be magnanimous, and respect the worst of all fears, imaginary fears.

Sickness.—There is at present a remarkable amount of sickness among young children in this City, summer complaint being prevalent in a large number of families. Up till a couple or three weeks ago the season had been remarkably healthy for the little ones. Parents should observe that their children do not eat food that is difficult of digestion, especially unripe fruit.

Bad Accident.—Yesterday a young man, a miner, whose name we have not obtained, in traveling from the Prince of Wales mine, Big Cottonwood, to Alta, noticed a small quantity of giant powder and a small piece of fuse on the ground, and, for amusement, undertook to touch off the powder, and now he is in St. Mark's Hospital, minus the larger portion of his left hand, which was blown off by the explosion. Giant powder is a dangerous playing thing.

If it is a Fair Question.—How many dollars did Corinne make out of her fright force? It is to be hoped enough to satisfy her, because she can't play that trick very often. It does not pay to cry "Wolf! Wolf!" without cause on too many occasions. Versatile inventive genius must be exercised in the business of obtaining money under false pretences, and a new artful dodge will be frequently necessary if the business is to be largely indulged in.

The Corinne Conspiracy.—The Corinne excitement is only one more adroit scheme for imposing upon the credulity and prejudices of the people of this country in regard to the Mormons. The charge that Mormons have sought to influence Indians, or that Indians have intended to slay and slaughter "Gentile" citizens of Corinne, is a preposterous slander upon both Mormons and Indians, and will be so proven. The authors of the latest conspiracy to disturb the peace and injure the interests of Utah ought to go to prison—every last one of them ought to go to the penitentiary.—Omaha Herald, Aug. 13.

Don't Get Excited.—A gentleman stated this morning that he arrived from York last night and that he intended to request that a body of troops be immediately dispatched to that point, because he had observed an Indian, a squaw and two paposes lurking around there. A bystander quieted his fears and caused him to set aside his resolve by telling him that the four individuals referred to were probably fugitives from the battle scare of Corinne, fleeing from their waving grain fields, and that York, though small, was growing, and did not need troops and an Indian scare to help it.

A Deplorable Accident.—About four o'clock on Saturday afternoon the roof of a back kitchen in the south part of West Temple street, Fourth Ward, took fire. A young woman named Cornelia Rolly, niece of Mr. Theodore Curtis, who lived there, attempted to extinguish the flames, when her clothing caught fire, and before she could be rescued from her terrible position everything was burned from her person save a woollen shirt, and the whole of her body was fearfully scorched. Dr. Fowler was promptly called in and rendered all the medical aid possible under the circumstances, but her injuries were past repair from that source, and she lingered till yesterday morning about two o'clock, when she expired, and her remains were interred yesterday afternoon.

Another Indian Scare.

The following was received this afternoon—

Corinne, 16.
Reports which have reached here to-day state that the Indians recently expelled from this valley for an attempted raid upon Corinne have not returned to their reservation, as ordered by government officers. Reliable parties returning from Cache Valley say that Potcatello, with his entire band, and several smaller companies of Indians are encamped near Logan, about twenty miles from here. They are at least 1,500 in number, and are being supported entirely by "Mormons" and are under the control of the "Mormon" Church. Considerable apprehension is felt by the people of this city, that another attack will be made. The citizens have been furnished with needle guns and other arms belonging to the government, and pickets are stationed around the city every night.

A Severe Hail Storm.

CEDAR CITY, Aug. 13.

Editor Deseret News:

A hail storm yesterday at Fort Hamilton, did serious damage; it destroyed about fifty acres of grain, besides damaging corn and potatoes. Some of the hail stones were as large as pigeon eggs.

HENRY LUNT.

DIED.

In this City, on the 11th inst., EMMA ULINA, daughter of A. F. and Johanna C. Elgren, aged 7 months.

In this City, August 12th, at 3 a. m., VERNIE VAUGHN, infant daughter of Walter K. and Marinda H. Conrad, aged 3 months and 6 days.
