Elder Andrew Jensen, assistant Church historian, leaves tonight for the north on a visit to the Blackfoot, Banck, Bingham, Fremont, Union and Pocatello, Idaho, and to the interest of Church records and for the purpose of holding what is known as record conventions. He will return about the middle of September.

Reports from Strawberry valley state that the artillerymen are holding successful drills, and enjoying the experience. Color Sergeant P. E. Barnum of the Twenty-ninth infantry has arrived at Fort Douglas from Fort Bliss, Tex., and reports for duty here. He was recently promoted from D company, stationed at Fort Bliss. E company of the Twenty-ninth has bought a billiard and pool table.

A decision has been received by Revenue Collector Callister from Commissioner of Revenue Yerkes, of Washington, D. C., holding that a physician who furnishes patients with distilled spirits, wine or malted liquor to which no drug or medicinal ingredient has been added involves himself in special tax liability under the internal revenue laws and is subject to pay a tax of 25 cents per gallon.

Sidney LeSieur, who was arrested in connection with the Opal mine fraud, was taken before Commissioner Twomey yesterday afternoon for arraignment. He took until Aug. 15 to plead, and his bond was fixed at $2,000. LeSieur is confident that he will be able to get bondsmen and ultimately to prove that he has been greatly wronged by being accused of his father's crimes. Nothing but advertising matter, however, was struck by a street car last evening, while crossing the tracks at Second South and Third East streets on his wheel. He was thrown to the ground, and accompanied with bruises. The car was quickly stopped, and the sufferer assisted to the Wasatch drug store, where Dr. Wilcox attended to him, and he was sent home. The professor did not notice the car approaching.

A few days ago someone with a penchant for other people's trunks, stole one from in front of the Rogers Clear company's premises, 170 South West Temple street. Instead of being packed with clean Havana, the trunk contained nothing but advertising matter, good to no one, of course, but the owner. Now Mr. Goldsmith, the traveling man to whom the property belonged, is wondering what has become of it, as none of his associates were aware of the missing article has been found.

Chief of Police Lynch wants to find Miss Elise Brandt, formerly of Zurich, Switzerland. He has received through the chief of the metropolitan police at Washington a letter from the Swiss minister, in which he says the missing girl is believed to have been here for a "Mormon" convert. From the contents of the letter it is believed that she is wanted for a very urgent reason by her own people. Anybody knowing of Miss Brandt's whereabouts will confer a favor upon the police department by communicating with the chief.

Mrs. W. W. Taylor, wife of Lieut. Taylor of the Twelfth infantry, has been taken to St. Mark's hospital for treatment. She was taken ill shortly after the arrival of the regiment at the island, and has had to be brought home. She will remain in the states for a year at least, but her husband must return to his command across the ocean early in September. Lieut. Taylor reports a very pleasant passage over the Pacific, especially at Honolulu. The permanent home of the regiment is at Guimaras, just opposite the island of Iloilo. Captain Harbison was taken ill after landing, but is now doing better.

Some of the doubting Thomases in the packing house business were claiming today that the railroads, at the behests of the eastern packers, would charge as much for shipping live stock into this market from Idaho and Montana points as they would charge for shipping to the river. But this allegation was met with the statement that livestock can be easily driven in on foot, at much less cost than such railroad charges. There was no need to be entertained. A claim that packing house products would be shipped from the river to Idaho and Montana points cheaper than from Salt Lake City, was regarded with some skepticism.

Yesterday's organ recital was a classical one, and included the Prize Song from the Meistersinger; a Prayer, by Guilmant; a Capriccio by Lemaire; the ever popular Herouse from Jocelyn, a Choral by Mendelssohn, and the military Wedding March from Lohengrin. The program and the manner of its presentation were very acceptable to the audience, as the applause indicated. During the recital the telephone exchange continued their experiments in electronic acoustics—this time, on the ground floor, with a view to ascertaining the best locations for the phones to catch the music. There was another recital tomorrow at 5:30 p. m., with a popular program, and tourists are especially invited.

OLD SALT LAKER DEAD.

W. D. Thomas, a Veteran of '49, Succumbs to a Long Affliction.

The death of W. D. Thomas, an old-time prospector and miner, occurred yesterday at his residence, 195 West Eighth South street, from dropsy. For the past 15 years Mr. Thomas has suffered from paralysis, an affliction which doubtless did much to hasten his taking off. He was 70 years of age, and had been a resident of this city for many years. He was a native of Ohio, and had been attracted by the gold discoveries in California. On reaching Salt Lake, however, he gave up the idea of continuing further and became a permanent resident of this state. For a number of years he engaged in various pursuits, but on the opening of the Utah mines, he turned his attention to that direction, leasing and operating mines, which have become very productive. About 15 years ago he met with an accident, resulting in the paralysis of his right side. Since that time he has never enjoyed the use of his right leg or arm, and has been compelled to retire from active work and pass the life of an invalid.

Supl. Nelson Solicits Reports from Trustees Throughout the State.

Blanks for reports on the free text book system have been sent out to all the school trustees of the state by State Supl. of Schools Nelson, and their reply will be awaited with interest by those anxious to know the result of the first year's work on the free text book system. The reports of the trustees will be made to the county superintendents, and they in turn will report to the state superintendent. When the reports are received, the success of the free text book system in the state will then be known, as the law creating the system went into effect a year ago. It has been a great success in other states, and it will be a success here in Utah.

Loss of Appetite

Is commonly gradual; one dish after another is set aside till few remain. These are not eaten with much relish, and are often so light as not to afford much nourishment.

Loss of appetite is one of the first indications that the system is running down, and there is nothing else so good for it as Hood's Sarsaparilla—the best of all tonics.
