Two Youngsters Who Started to Walk To Tooele Create a Stir.

Two boys aged seven and 11 started out for a stroll to Tooele yesterday morning without letting their parents know about it, and were found by searchers late in the evening a dozen miles beyond the Jordan, wearily walking back to the city. It appears that the boy of 11 years wanted to surprise his father, former State Engineer A. F. Doremus, by dropping in on him at his work in Tooele city. As it was to be a sur-Together the boys took the western trail down the San Pedro tracks right after breakfast, with the idea of lunching with Doremus, Sr., at noon. When they failed to come to lunch at when they failed to come to lunch at the appointed hour their mothers be-gian to grow excited, and finally called the police to their assistance, furnish-ing a complete description of the youngsters which was builtened to all members of the force. In the after-noon a clue came from the San Pedro yards that two boos had here seen yards that two boys had been seen walking westward on the tracks in the walking westward on the tracks in the morning. A handcar party was ac-cordingly organized and sent in pur-suit. When a dozen miles out and about to give up the search, they saw the youngsters far on ahead, with their faces turned homeward. The party took them aboard and returned to the city with them, where they were turned over to beds in their respective homes instead of having a night of it in the sagebrush as would otherwise in the sagebrush, as would otherwise have been their fate.
