LOCAL BRIEFS.

The board of insane asylum commissioners held its regular monthly meeting in Provo today.

A Seventh North street citizen named Hines has in his possession a decrepit horse, which he has been ordered to shoot, by Dr. Beatty of the humane soa slege of sickness in which his life hung by a thread for a long time. He recovered, however, and yesterday af-ternoon he got out of the back yard of his master's State street saloon, and thereupon was inaugurated a genuine bear hunt. A policeman and a crowd chased the runaway up the stairs of a lodging house, when he turned and chased the crowd back, and was in the let of reducing a member of the into a flagellated sheet, when Otto Heller, the sausage maker, rushed up with a shet gun, which he discharged into Dewey's cerebellum, and Dewey's future usefulness was destroyed.

WITH THE JUSTICES.

The case of David McDonald, the man who it is alleged tried to evade the pay-ment of a liquor bill contracted at God-be. Pitts drug store, was tried before Justice McMaster today. It appeared in the evidence that McDonald had been running a bill for whisky at the said drug store for the past few years and drug store for the past few years, and was accustomed to taking friends into the drug store and purchasing the drinks for them, until the bill amounted o $10. When the drug company at-empted to collect it according to the estimony, McDonald refused to remit, laiming that a drug company could ot recover a bill that was accrued from the sale of liquor unless the quantity amounted to or exceeded five gailons. Judge McMaster, however, decided against him, and he will therefore have to depicte his capital to the amount of $10 and costs, which are about $7.

Ben Binley, the man who is charged with assaulting August Warr, appeared before Justice Pardee today and pleaded not guilty. In default of a $50 bond, he was committed to the county jail pending his hearing, which comes up tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

paper boy who remained behind in Manila, is now in Zamboanga, a town on the island of Mindanao, acting as secretary of the military government. To a member of the "News" staff he writes as follows under date of Feb. 7:

Your kind letter of November 21st, 1899, reached me at Manila just before I deserted the paths of peace to again follow the trail of the camp, where 'common old soldiers like myself seem Down here among the Mo hamedans we hear from the outside world about once in three months. The the papers come and we read what occurred in the world—"the old coun-try" during the month before last. Once in a while a Borneo steamer rushes through the Basilan straits. We few, who are the inhabitants of Zamboanga run down to the beach to see it pass When the Sandakan papers come t camp we read the lurid description of how the people stood at the rail and watched the blood-thirsty "natives" lining the beach. We do not pretend to keep within six months of what the world calls the "present" so you must not feel that I have been tardy in answering your letter. I have only been following the custom of the country. In the many changes resulting from a transfer of base from Manila to Min danao I have not had an opportunity to write before this,

And a thousand thanks to you for sending me the "News." Before I was quite without any source of information about the heart of God's country, but now this little bit of Utah dropped over the fence to a wayfaring mariner, breathes a sweet perfume-a memory of days "befo' de wah." I said "muriner

KICKED TO DEATH.

Arthur Maxwell, a Young Man, Killed

at Peoa, Summit County.

Word comes from Peoa, Summit county, Utah, that Arthur Maxwell the son of Arthur Maxwell, was killed at that place on the 7th inst., by the vio-lent kick of a horse. The young man was seventeen years of age and death resulted in seventeen hours after the injury was inflicted. The deceased was a highly respected young man and his shocking death is greatly regretted by his family and friends.

DEATH OF A CHILD. Its Father Now on a Mission in the

Northern States. [SPECIAL TO THE "NEWS."]

Draper, April 12 .- The death occurred here last night of the infant son of Elder J, W, W, Fitzgerald and Leah Day Fitzgerald. The little one was but ten months old and had been ill but five days. Its death was caused by bron-chial pneumonia and teething. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved mother, particularly on account of the ab-sence from home of Mr. Fitzgerald, who is now on a mission to the Northern States. Elder Fitzgerald's headquarters are at Chicago. He has been notified by wire of his child's death, but no word has yet been received from him.

Isaac Russell, the Salt Lake news- | pleasure and of all the sights in the world a coral topped sea bottom is the most inspiring. It is an entire vegetable kingdom worked out in stone and ar ranged more beautifully than the best cared for flower garden. There is red coral, white coral, black coral, brown coral, growing in all sorts of shapes and designs. Often the sea bottom for miles is only from two to three fathoms deep and the coral in these shallow places re-flects the sun's rays making it appear like another world over which you are ming.

Nature does not let the Utah folk see a margin of the picture she has painted over the face of the earth. The mountain scenery here is simply beyond the pale of description. It is not hol; I came down to Zamboanga picturing the heat at 100 or more in the shade the air filled with all the Egyptian plagues combined. But mosquitoes, heat-all the abominations of Manila, and for that matter America, are un-known. We have semi-weekly earth-quakes, however, they come from the north and are quite severe at times. And then there is the Juramentado who goes out to die spilling Christian blood. He dresses himself in white, says his The oresses miniser in white, says his prayers to Allah, takes an oath before the pagan pricet and starts out never to return. We have had two of them. After they get "amok" it makes little difference what sort of a person they run into. They will kill their own mother, wife, the priest who gave them the oath or even their Datto. Two of the oath or even their Datto. Two of them have pursued their bloody career through the towns of American occupation, one in Isabella and the other at Cotta-bato. The latter killed four peo-ple, including two of his wives, a ser-vant of the Datto and an old man.

He was frenzied and "amok he reached the Americans. The former went through all the red tape and came forth with his head shaved and dressed in spotless white, under which he had bound tough bark all over his body. He trusted to this to stop him from bleedind to death in case he was hit with a Krag and to protect him from the knives of those who might turn against him. However, he met a force of Moro soldiers on his way to the American garrison and before he had a chance to start his crusade his head was cleaved from his body by one blow of a kris in the hand of his own kinsman.

Company of Italians Coming With the Aroma of Their National Perfume.

The following is from the Denver

Times: The fragrant odor of garlic and a well-mixed scent of sardines and other cold lunch articles hung about the checkroom and news stand of the union depot yesterday afternoon. A party of Italian immigrants en route for Utah had possession of the room and had partaken of refreshments therein. This fact will doubtless linger in the memory of the news stand clerk until another dark complexioned contingent other dark complexioned contingent turns up in time to restock the place with their national perfume. When questioned as to their destination, they waved their hands with a gesture of deprecation and shook the head as an indication that they failed to sauve. However, a young woman of the com-pany, fearing that she might be lost in the shuffle, requested the courteous dethe shuffle, requested the courteous de
