This action was taken after a consideration of the Iowa election laws. This afternoon the committee members called upon Gen. Henderson and requested him to reconsider his withdrawal. He declined to do so, saying his decision was final. Before adjourning, the committee made the following statement:

"It is with deep regret that we find ourselves compelled to reconvene the delegates of this district for the purpose of nominating a candidate to represent this district in the national house. This is especially true when we realize that the speaker of the house is caused by the refusal of our present member to accept the nomination heretofore tendered him unanimously by a convention called. In his declaration of intent, he has shown an able, capable leader of great worth and national prominence, such as can be attained only by one of sturdy character, unusual natural ability and ripened experience in the field of statesmanship. We regret that we were unable to secure his services. While thus compelled to resign, we feel that the selection of his successor will be without merit, or that there will result any danger as to the result to the Republicans of this district in the coming election."

Dog Prevents a Train Wreck.

Boulder, Colo., Sept. 18.—But for the sagacity of Robert Wallace's dog a C. & S. freight train would no doubt have been wrecked between Marshall and Boulder. Persistent barking of the dog awakened Mr. Wallace, who scolded the dog for disturbing his rest, and went back to bed.

Durban, Natal, Sept. 18.—Uneasiness is felt here in consequence of reports of unrest in Zululand, where trouble appears to have commenced. The Times of Natal says the feeling in Zululand between Boers and natives demands active government intervention. Disunity is reigning in the province and is regarded as dangerous.

The Monetary Situation.

London, Sept. 18.—In its financial article this morning the Standard says: The feature of the foreign exchange market was an effort on the part of New York to purchase a large amount of exchange for the last two months of the year, the object doubtless being to cover recent extensive borrowings in Europe. With practically no supplies of gold available, the American demands for the metal were scarcely put to the test, but it is the impression in good quarters that whatever New York may secure in the open market care will likely be taken to avoid any large withdrawal from the Bank of England which might inconveniently raise money rates in London.
