

RIGHT OF WAY SUITS DECIDED.

Judge Hall Finds for the Plaintiff
In Both Cases.

TAX SALE WAS ILLEGAL.

Says Defendant Has Right of Way
Only on the East Side of Street
In Controversy.

Judge Hall this morning handed down decisions in the two cases brought by George A. Lowe et al., executors of the estate of Bolivar Roberts, deceased, against Spencer Clawson which involve the title to the right of way over the street known as Broadway, which runs north from First South between East Temple and State streets.

The court finds that the tax sale of Jan. 10, 1928, by which the defendant subsequently secured the title to the whole of said right of way, was illegal and that the defendant only has the legal title to the right of way to any of the buildings on the east of said street and that plaintiffs have the title to the right of way to and from the buildings on the west.

It is further decreed that defendant recover nothing from plaintiffs on account of the improvements on said right of way as set out in his counterclaim, but that plaintiff pay him one-half of the taxes on said property together with interest on the same at the rate of 8 per cent per annum.

In the second case the court enjoins defendant from using the roadway as a means of ingress and egress to any premises except those on the east of the roadway and plaintiff's title to a strip of said roadway eight inches in width on the west side of the same and upon which defendant has constructed a building overlapping the roadway to that extent.

VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT.

Owens Varney and Green Lose Suit
Against the Big Four.

In the injunction suit brought by Owens, Varney & Green against the Big Four Advertising company, Judge Hall today rendered a decree in favor of defendant and assessed its damages at $100. The action was brought by plaintiffs to restrain defendant from using the north and south walls of the building at 37 1/2 south East Temple street for advertising purposes on the ground that plaintiffs controlled the advertising spaces on said walls. The court found that defendant was entitled to the use of the walls and rendered a decree accordingly, assessing the company's damages by reason of said restraining order at $100.

CARDWELL TRIAL AT OGDEN

Other Criminal Matters Receiving the Attention of the Police.

(Special to the "News.")
Ogden, Utah, June 2.—The preliminary hearing in the case of the State of Utah vs Samuel J. Cardwell, charged with grand larceny, is on before Judge Howell today. He is the man whom it is alleged stole a number of sheep pelts from the hide house of Fred Hillman a few days ago. County Attorney Hahn and Attorney Webber of Salt Lake represent the state and John D. Murphy appears for the defendant. Fred Hillman testified that 29 sheep pelts were stolen from his place by Cardwell, that said pelts were of the value of $140 each. Joe Drysdale, buyer for Hillman, testified that he had purchased a lot of hides in Rock Springs, Wyo., and brought them to Ogden; that when they were prepared for shipment from Ogden to San Francisco, it was discovered that 39 of them were gone. J. H. Larsen, a blacksmith, whose place is near the hide house, said a man brought some sheep pelts to his shop a few days ago and asked the privilege of leaving them over night, which request was granted. James Wilson, a job wagon man, testified that he hauled the pelts away from the blacksmith shop at the request of the defendant. Sheriff Bailey related the circumstances of the defendant confessing to him that he had stolen the pelts, but said they were not worth so much as claimed; that if a proper value was placed on them, it would only constitute petty larceny, which he expressed a willingness to plead guilty. The case will probably be concluded this afternoon.

Charles Heist complains to the police that he was "rolled" at the rear of Meyer's saloon on Twenty-fourth street last night, and relieved of a small amount of money and pocketknife. ## HAD SECOND FIRE

Salt Lake Hardware Company Loses
Nearly $4,000.

A loss that is estimated to reach near $4,000 resulted from a fire that occurred yesterday in the warehouse of the Salt Lake Hardware company, located in the rear of the store on Second South street. How the blaze started is not definitely known, but the supposition is that someone threw a discarded cigar or cigarette into some excelsior packed about a lot of soda. The flames gained considerable headway before their presence was discovered by some employees of the electric plant in the center of the block. The fire department responded promptly to the alarm and soon had the fire under control, preventing a more extensive loss. Much difficulty was experienced in combating the fire owing to the smoke and the fumes from the burning acids, the latter being extremely dangerous to life if inhaled.

While the exact amount of damage is impossible of computation as yet, it is estimated that a total loss of about $4,000. This is the second loss by fire that the Salt Lake Hardware company has sustained within the past five months.

RECEPTION AND BANQUET.

M. I. Workers Have a Delightful Time at Barratt Hall.

Excellent Program, Delicious Refreshments and Well Chosen Toasts
The Order of the Evening.

The reception and banquet tendered to the stake officers of the Mutual Improvement associations at Barratt hall last night, was certainly "a feast of reason and a flow of soul." The assemblage was a brilliant one and the program prepared for their delectation was one which gave entire satisfaction to all present. The gathering was made up of Mutual Improvement workers who mingled together with delightful informality and who, when the time came to disperse, were a unit in tendency to the general business under those auspices the reception was given a hearty vote of thanks for having made possible such an enjoyable evening.

It was 8:30 when President Joseph F. Smith called the assemblage to order and announced the hymn, "O ye mountains high," which was sung with spirit by the congregation. Prayer was offered by President Anthony H. Lund. President Smith, as master of ceremonies, then made an address of welcome in which he said:

"I feel that no words of mine can convey to you this evening the welcome we feel to give you. We greet you warmly and heartily. We are pleased to be associated with you. We hope to have a good time together and to form lasting friendships and acquaintances which may last for a long time to come. We who are authorized and called to a divine calling ought to be united to welcome each other and to extend to each other the hand of friendship, a friendship which never should be broken. We are brethren and sisters, children of one Common Parent, and so in these relations we did you welcome to this reception and banquet. God bless you and accept of our heartfelt greetings and may we continue to meet together from year to year."

Miss Ruth Wilson then rendered the solo, "O Dry Those Tears," after which the "Inimitable, Inexpressible orator and eloquentist," B. S. Young, was introduced, and conversed with the young ladies in a most enjoyable and amusing manner. By Misses Mabel Poulton, Eva Hudson, Annie Owen and Helene Walsh, who gave as an encore, "I Couldn't Say No, Sir, Could You?" Mr. John Robinson sang, "A Soldier and a Man," and Miss Grace Morris gave two very excellent readings. The Utah nightingale, Miss Emma Ramsey, was on the program, but much to the disappointment of the audience, she and the young lady was too ill to appear.

At this point the assembled guests were ushered into the banquet hall in which a most enjoyable and elaborate banquet awaited them, the blessing on which was asked by President John R. Winder. The menu was as follows:

Potato Salad, Saratoga Chips, Ham, Tongue, Pickles, Cheese, Bread and Butter, Assorted Cake, Fruit, Ice Cream, Pineapple.

During the evening an orchestra rendered beautiful music and under the able direction of Toastmaster B. H. Roberts, who was witty and apt in his introductions, toasts were responded to as follows: This part of the program being especially enjoyable, "Brianna Young," Emma Goddard, "The Home," Mrs. Libbie S. Pratt, "Enjoyment," Mathonah Thomas, "Our Associations," Lizzie Smith, "Building," "Class Young," John W. Herrick, "Unification," Helen W. Woodruff and B. S. Young. At 11:45 the congregation dispersed after the singing of "America," by the assembly, and benediction by Patriarch John Smith.

County Physician Mayo today filed his report for the month of May with the board of county commissioners. The report shows that there are 17 cases of smallpox under quarantine in the county at the present time, most of them being in Sugar precinct which is now having an epidemic of the disease. There are also six cases of diphtheria and three cases of scarlet fever under quarantine.

QUARANTINE REGULATIONS

Said to Have Been Violated by Several Residents of Sugar.

Some of the residents of Sugar House ward have violated quarantine regulations and have been found in the city by health officials and as a result the places where they have been staying have been placed under quarantine. The daughter of W. P. Jones, 1250 East Twelfth South, was afflicted with smallpox and the house placed under quarantine on Sunday. This morning J. L. Jones, the 12-year-old son, was found in the city by Inspector W. J. Korth. The boy was staying with his sister, Mrs. J. P. Rydman, at 728 West Second South street, and in all probability has exposed his sister's family to the disease.

Inspector Korth at once placed the Rydman residence under quarantine as a safe-guard against the spread of the disease and the boy will be compelled to remain there until it is seen whether

Looking For.

In his defense against the charge of causing the death of Miss Anna D. Hill, Dr. E. S. Payne stated that while he was treating that young lady in his office on the fateful day, a woman called and immediately left. Since that time diligent search has resulted in failure to find the much-wanted witness; but on Saturday last the doctor recognized in a woman brought into the county jail the very person he was looking for. Upon being reminded of her presence at Dr. Payne's office on the fateful day, the woman admitted the fact and said she had gone there to obtain a face wash, but seeing Miss Hill lying on the couch, she retired, promising to return later. The woman who is sought by Dr. Payne is Hattie Lyon, alias Hattie Green, arrested for shoplifting.

Paul; the valedictory address by President Joseph Schmale; the presentation of diplomas and certificates by President Anthony H. Lund of the board of trustees; and the address to the graduates by President Joseph F. Smith.

A match game of basketball will be played at the pavilion by student teams.

It is stated that the year just closing has been a very successful one for the university. An increased attendance, improved facilities, a new building, and a stronger teaching force, have all contributed to the success of the year's work.

SUPERINTENDENT W. H. HENDERSON

Head of Utah Division O. S. L.
To Transfer to San Pedro.

GILLET FOR TRAFFIC MAN.

General Freight and Passenger Agent
To Supervise Business of the Clark
Road in Utah.

From a semi-official source it was learned this morning that in all probability when the transfer of the Oregon Short Line property south of Salt Lake to the San Pedro occurs that W. H. Henderson will be named as superintendent of the holdings in Utah for the San Pedro. Mr. Henderson, at present superintendent of the Utah division, Oregon Short Line, is thoroughly familiar with the requirements of the line and has all the data at his finger ends, to say nothing about him having a personal acquaintance with every man on the division. Just what will be done on the Short Line as to his successor is not at this time forthcoming, the inference being that there will be some changes as to the territory embraced by the Idaho and Montana divisions.

It was also stated that supervision of traffic for San Pedro, which this end of the line would be left in the hands of E. W. Gillett, general freight and passenger agent for the San Pedro, who will shortly establish headquarters in the Deseret News building.

It is expected that there will be no official announcements forthcoming in this direction, however, for another two weeks, when General Manager Wells may be in a position to talk on the subject.

SAN PEDRO OFFICES.

Two Floors Secured in Deseret News
Annex by That Company.

General Manager R. E. Wells of the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake road has secured two floors on the second and a portion of the third in the Deseret News annex for quarters for the railroad company. Just as soon as the furniture has been moved into the quarters vacated by the workmen the San Pedro force will occupy the new quarters. It is expected that this will occur within a few days. The annex is rapidly being transformed into a new office building in operation for more than a week while the metal stairway has been put in position as high up as the fourth floor. This move is considered to be a good omen for the fact that the company has secured fine proof quarters. The offices are located next to the Oregon Short Line headquarters and of necessity there will be considerable passing two by two while the rate sheets and other clerical work connected with the reorganization is under way.

CAMP'S LATEST.

Exhaustive Treatment of Track Construction and Maintenance.

W. M. Camp, editor of the Railway and Engineering Review, who is well known to a number of Salt Lake railroadmen, has just issued a most exhaustive treatise on track construction and maintenance from a practical standpoint. The book, which consists of 124 pages and 620 illustrations, is an ambitious effort, but its beauty lies in the fact that it is easy to read and contains a wealth of information for railway engineers and superintendents as it is for track foremen and the lesser officials employed on maintenance. Under the unpretentious title of "Notes on Track" Mr. Camp has treated the subject thoroughly from the standpoint of the engineer and brought everything right up to date in all, the book contains 12 chapters devoted to the various departments of maintenance, and every possible phase of track construction and track work is treated. The mere fact that the book contains over 3,000 headings and nearly 1,000 more separate references gives some idea of the undertaking. Such topics as creeping rails and track shoudering are given over a dozen pages each with a like number of illustrations, while other subjects have still more space devoted to them; for instance, switches and frogs occupy 83 pages. Engineers, superintendents, roadmasters, foremen, brigadiers, contractors, supply men, and all those employed in the departments treated, to say nothing of engineering students, will find the work to be a valuable addition to their libraries. Mr. Camp is to be congratulated upon his work.

SPIKE AND RAIL.

The Southern Pacific has in contemplation the erection of a large freight depot and two smaller freight depots at Oakland, Cal.

The Northern Pacific will shortly commence work on the erection of a new depot at Sand Point, Idaho.

Grading is now in progress from Centennial, Wyo., to Grand Encampment, Wyo., on the Laramie, Hahn's Peak & Pacific.

In all probability a third rail will be put in from Saltair Junction on the Leaning tower cut-off to Saltair, heard when the crowds from Tooele and Southern Utah will be taken direct to the beach without first being brought into Salt Lake. This will mean a great saving in time to say nothing of relieving the congestion of traffic on heavy days.

COMPLAIN OF PEST HOUSE.

Residents of Sugar Say it is Responsible for Smallpox.

The residents of Sugar ward are said to be up in arms over the present location of the pest house, as they claim it is directly responsible for the epidemic of smallpox now raging in that vicinity. They say they have repeatedly called the attention of the city council to the dangers there were thus exposed to, but their pleadings have been in vain, until now they are in the throes of that dreadful affliction. The health authorities have very little to say in the matter, although they are inclined to frown down the idea that the location of the isolation hospital is responsible. It is probable that steps will be taken by the residents of Sugar to have the pest house removed to a more isolated spot.
