

THOUGHTS OF HOME.

I wonder if the sun shines just as brightly To-day, across the green and level hills; I wonder if the robins sing as sweetly The foliage droops o'er the putting hill.
As when, long years ago, I freely swept Along the path known but to boyhood's years.
And gathered daisies which were long since separated.
The colors washed away by floods of tears.
Full well I know where grew the sweetest flowers Where deepest shades at mid-day I might find;
Gone, gone, alas! forever are those hours, taught but the memory of them left behind.
The fare that crowded joyously at coming of the glad morning in the eastern skies, The busy bee industriously humming, From morning's dawn till evening's latest sigh.
Full clear the air has gone so sweetly thrilling
As when I heard her voice long years ago.
Still toll the busy bee with laboring thrum,
The moments as they come and go as they go.
And even now, in midst of midnight slumbers, Those happy childhood scenes upon my mind
And in my dreams I strike the free wild cunties.
Which only from my native land.

Irrigation.
What Colorado needs most is a thorough system of irrigation. The future greatness of the territory depends upon its agricultural resources, and these alone can be developed by irrigation. Many are still skeptical about the reliability of this course of raising crops, and as a foundation for their unbelief, point to the many failures. Whatever failures have occurred in the past, a special model was given for exhibition for the best sewing machine, another for the best sewing machine,
done on the Wilson machine.
This sweeps the entire board. Not only has the Wilson Sewing Machine been named the most capable and efficient sweeping machine in the world, but its work on both dry goods and leather, is superior to that of all other machines.
This is a fact of which all the leading sewing machines of both continents have been named a thoroughly competent committee for three months, is the most complete triumph ever won by sewing machine.
The above is taken from the Cleveland Leader, of August 19.
You have registered five medals—two for gold and three for silver—for the Wilson Sewing Machine.
The meaning of this is explained to be that the Wilson Sewing Machine has received the gold medal as the best mechanical workmanship. Besides this, a special model was given for exhibition for the best sewing machine,
another for the best sewing machine,
done on the Wilson machine.
This sweeps the entire board. Not only
has the Wilson Sewing Machine been
named the most capable and efficient
sweeping machine in the world, but its work
on both dry goods and leather, is superior to that of all other machines.
This is a fact of which all the

petent committee for three months, is

Some statistics of January, just published, show that by far the larger portion of women who lose their reason are widows, while a very small fraction of those who go mad are single. In view of this fact, we cannot but feel that the wife who temporarily becomes a widow to pursue and effect her legal rights in a case which threatens which is ruin to her husband, can regard these statistics with the serene consideration to which they are entitled, and then deliberately accept the proposition to become a widow. It will be well to state, especially in view of the statistics which show that a single widow, who loses her reason, is a greater danger to her family than a single man.

WILSON

Five Medals
AT THE WORLD'S FAIR at VIENNA.

Three separate dispatches from Vienna continue to dispel all doubt as to what sewing machine has won the first honors of the great Exposition. The first was a special dispatch from the New York Times, in which the Wilson Sewing Machine of Cleveland, Ohio, was named as among the exhibitors which received "gold medals for merit," the highest class of premiums awarded at the Exposition.

The second was the regular Associated Press report, compiled from a long special to the New York Herald, in which the Wilson Sewing Machine of Cleveland,
which received "gold medals for merit,"
the highest class of premiums awarded at
the Exposition.

The third was a private cable-gram received yesterday from Vienna by Mr.
Wilson himself, which was as follows:
"Vienna, August 19.
You have registered five medals—two for
gold and three for silver—for
the Wilson Sewing Machine.
