FRAGMENTS.

DEMERY and Burke, with their company, hold forth in the Opera House this evening.

The Fourth Quorum of Elders held their regular meeting in the "Century-First Ward meeting" house, on Monday evening next, at 7:30.

The Howard Athenaeum Variety Co. hold forth on Monday and Tuesday evenings in the Theatre. Some of their "paper" is very amusing.

The performance of "Confession" by the Home Dramatic Club drew a small audience to the Theatre last evening, and many who attended seemed tired before the piece ended. It is of a class that does not bear the name of "drama" but is a very good thing.

It is noticed the fine holiday display at Z. C. M. I. yesterday, that of the crockery, glass and silverware was omitted. The goods of extensive variety and beautiful appearance are there, but the retail department is so situated in regard to space that it is impossible to give them a conspicuous exhibit, or otherwise Leo Clawson's holiday dressing up have been second to none. He is cramped for room.

LOCAL NEWS.

December Term.—The September term of the Third District Court closed to-day. The December term will commence at 11 a. m. on Monday, and will be occupied by civil cases.

The Fugitives.—The News office received a call this morning from Jack Burke and Jack Dempsey, the noted pugilists, accompanied by Mr. Monahan, who hold forth in the Opera House to-night with a company. They are very pleasant gentlemen to converse with, and have more the air of tourists than "knockers-out." They were around town seeing the sights during the day, and appeared to be entering the city with a very good opinion of the city.

Information Wanted.—Mrs. Fannie Arkwright, 1433 Park Street, St. Louis, Missouri, wishes to meet some information concerning one Cornelius Barrett, who was a first sergeant in Company I, 14th Infantry, and was stationed at Fort Douglas, Utah, in 1874. Barrett died in Washington while on leave of absence, and it is understood that he left some property regarding which nothing is known. Any person who could send information concerning Barrett to the above address would do a kindly action and confer a lasting favor.

Fatal R. R. Accident.—A fatal accident occurred on the Denver & Rio Grand, Railway yesterday morning, by which Engineer Weick and Fireman McDonald lost their lives. The train was proceeding at a high rate of speed around a curve near Bridgeport station, and almost without warning ran into a herd of cattle. The fireman had the engine under control, but the train, which was magnified rather than diminished the danger, for the engine did not cut through as in the absence of retardation it might have done, but was thrown from the track and overturned. The engine was jammed into the cab and crushed the two men horribly. Death was instantaneous in one case and nearly so in the other. This was all the serious damage that was done.

Theatre Next Week.—On Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week the Howard Athenaeum Company will give two performances in the Salt Lake Theatre. The organization comes well recommended for the ability of its members, and a good programme is offered. An exchange says of the company:

"Standing room only could be obtained at 8 o'clock last night, when the performance opened. The building was crowded. The attraction was the Howard Athenaeum, a company of the foremost, specially artists on the stage. The show was an excellent one throughout, and of the company it is hard to say who proved the most attractive. It is seldom that such a rare performance is seen. The American four, Messrs. Pettigall, Gale, Daly and Dalley, in their nonsensical absurdity, entitled "Senseless," a "Bonanza," were exceedingly funny. Chevalier El Faine, master shot of the world, assisted by his wife, gave wonderful exhibitions of rifle and pistol practice. James F. Hoey and others deserve mention."

Prof. Talmage's Lecture.—The lecture delivered by Brother James E. Talmage, last night, in the 20th Ward school house, under the auspices of the Institute, was listened to with marked attention by a crowded house. Although the lecture itself is somewhat classical, it is made interesting to the unscientific by means of lantern illustration. The object of the lecture was to show the principles and operating causes of the birth and growth of the earth.

The lecture of Professor Talmage should be heard, and the illustration, shrewdly seen to be appreciated. It is not only highly instructive but interesting to all, and should become popular. He showed that there was no conflict between true religion and science.

The members of the Institute signed their appreciation of the lecture by voting Brother Talmage a hearty vote of thanks; and leading members speak of it in terms of the highest praise.—[Com.]

THE PAROWAN MURDER.

The Habeas Corpus Proceeding.

Thompson and Orton Released on Bail.

LATEST DETAILS FROM BEAVER.

Special dispatch to the News.

BEAVER, Utah, Dec. 18, 1888.

The application of William Thompson for a writ of habeas corpus came before Judge Boreman last evening. The defendant was in the custody of Sheriff Adams, of Iron County. On the return of the sheriff, it appeared that the complaint on which defendant was arrested and the warrant issued, did not charge any offense, and the Court held that he had no legal authority to hold Thompson.

Boreman heard the case as a committing magistrate. From the evidence of Thompson and William Orton, both United States deputies and defendants in the Parowan case, the Court, it was shown that an indictment had been found against Dalton for unlawful cohabitation; that Thompson, as deputy marshal, had a warrant for his arrest. Dalton went to Parowan for that purpose; that at Page's house, in Parowan, Thompson and Orton saw Dalton passing on horseback, with a boy in front, driving cows, twenty-five or thirty feet distant from the horses. Thompson testified that they called to him several times, whereupon Dalton lifted the child off his horse and the deputies saw Dalton commenced to run west. Thompson fired, shooting Dalton through the chest, the bullet lodging in the vertebra. After Dalton fell, Thompson said to Orton, "I did not intend to shoot him, but intended to fire over him."

It appearing there was an indictment against Dalton for unlawful cohabitation and Thompson being a U. S. deputy with a warrant for his arrest, the case went to the jury. It was held by the jury that there was no malice, and he could not be held for murder, and the defendant, as a matter of right, was entitled to bail. He was admitted to bail in the sum of $10,000, to wait the action of the grand jury, and Orton in $500.

Eleven members of the grand jury, armed with guns and refreshments, went in hot haste to the assistance of Thompson against the consent and advice of Boreman. It is understood that it is the intention of the grand jury to indict Thompson, but he will be held to await the action of the grand jury of the March term (1887), when the jury will be drawn from the regular list and not picked and packed by the defendant. Witnesses that saw the killing are now before the grand jury. Reliable reports say they give an entirely different phase of the killing to that given by Thompson and Orton.

Marshal Dyer to-day received a dispatch from U. S. Attorney Chas. W. Zane, at Beaver, as follows:

"The Judge was opposed to it, but the sheriff of Iron County and his friends wished the matter submitted to this grand jury, and I requested the Court to do so."

The Youthful Thieves Again.—Justice Pyper was again confronted this morning by a row of half-a-dozen youthful offenders, ranging from 12 to 17 years of age. Their names were Dan Henry, Wm. Padlock, Fred Bubbles, Nelson Curtis, Arthur Curtis and Samuel Chatterden. They were all in a dilapidated condition, with unwashed faces, ragged clothing and unkempt hair. The youngest of the number Dan Henry, was without coat, hat or shoes, having only an old pair of stockings on his feet. His parents are both dead, and he lives—when he is home—with an aged grandmother. After the proceedings were over, Justice Pyper, who was over the case, obtained by the Marshal and provided with shoes and clothing.

The first accusation against the boys was for stealing a gold brooch, a collar button, and some papers from the house of Mrs. J. W. M. Perry, on the west side of the Jordan River. Young Henry confessed the whole affair, and the others corroborated his statements. These were to the effect that at the time of the robbery in November, the boys were in the house of Mrs. M. Perry, and were there when the brooch and button were stolen. They were all charged with the same offense.

The next accusation was against the two Curtis boys, Dan and Fred. They were charged with breaking into Mr. John Clark's cellar and making away with a quantity of canned fruit. Bubbles and Padlock were the ones who went inside while the other two kept a lookout. A plea of guilty was made to this charge.

In summing up the two cases, Judge Pyper expressed strong regret that such a state of things existed. He then took the culprit in succession, and by closely examining them and explaining the wrongfulness of their course succeeded in making an impression upon them. Each of the boys promised that henceforth he would lead an honest life, and sellence was given to each of them. However, that if they engaged in any more stealing, the suspended judgment would fall upon them to the full extent—129 days in jail—and they were allowed to depart.

Those Warnock Notes.—Our readers will remember that several months ago we gave an account of proceedings to seize some of the farmers in this region. That is a number of agriculturists had given their notes as security for machines purchased by them through Mr. Warnock. Some of these promissory notes were afterward given up to the machine manufacturers, one of them being the Johnston Harvester Company. Mr. Warnock afterwards collected money on these notes, giving receipts therefor.

Mr. J. H. Layton, of Davis County, was one of those who were dealt with in this matter. Like others, he settled the full amount of his indebtedness with Mr. Warnock, but did not take the precaution of retaining possession of the promissory note he had given, supposing the receipts, full to be all-sufficient. Subsequently he was sued by the Johnston company, and a decision was rendered by Judge Zane this morning in favor of Mr. Layton. The evidence introduced indicated that Mr. Warnock acted as agent for the company, and as such had collected the money, and the Court held that as the defendant had made the payments in good faith to Mr. Warnock, he was relieved from further liability.

Contest Settled.

The will of Mother Stringham, who died at Holden, Millard Co., not long since, and which has been contested by her son, George Stringham, came up for hearing before Probate Judge Thomas C. Callister, at Fillmore, on Wednesday last. After listening to arguments on both sides, the Court denied the prayer of the petitioner, and confirmed the former probate of the will.

Court Notes.—Proceedings in the Third District Court to-day: Johnston Harvester Company vs. John H. Layton; Court finds for defendant; plaintiff allowed until March 1st, 1887, to file statement on motion for new trial.

J. W. Rands et al. vs. Edward Brain; motion entered to return costs and fix the proper allowance to the respective parties.

Samuel Levy vs. Salt Lake City; motion to return costs set for Tuesday, the 21st.

John A. Groesbeck vs. George A. Messers; motion to amend complaint against the defendant, the 21st.

Salt Lake City vs. Peter Tomney; motion for new trial set for Wednesday, the 23d.

John E. Dooley et al., trustees, vs. Utah Eastern Railway Company et al.; tried before Court and submitted.

Court then adjourned sine die.

J. P. Sorenson Discharged.—The further investigation of the case of the United States vs. John P. Sorenson, charged with unlawful cohabitation, was taken up before Commissioner McKay this afternoon. Mrs. Christina Henderson, of Big Cottonwood, who was unable to attend on the former occasion, was present, though she was in a very feeble condition. Her four-weeks' child, also, was ill, but fearing, from the remarks made when she failed to appear before, that she would be punished if she did not come to-day, she ventured, notwithstanding the weather and bad roads.

Mrs. Christine Henderson testified—I have only one sister, Eva, married to Mr. Sorenson; he is not married to any other; none of my sisters have been stopping at my house recently; no other lady stayed at my house until just before the marriage came; I have never heard of Mr. Sorenson having any other wife than my sister Eva.

Mrs. Eva Sorenson was called, but not being present, the defendant went out to notify her. When she came she testified, in answer to Mr. Dickson's inquiries—I was in the St. George Temple when Mr. Sorenson was sealed to his dead wife; he was not sealed to any other wife at that time; he has no other wife that I know of.

To the Commissioner—Mr. Sorenson did not have two wives at the Valley House when he was proprietor there. This closed the case for the prosecution, and Commissioner McKay ordered the defendant discharged.

Bare Faced Persecution.—The bare-faced persecution of the Salt Lake Tribune, the organ of sound common sense, in its attempt to apologize for the bloody deed of Deputy U. S. Marshal Thompson at Parowan, maintains its record of shamelessness and perfidy. In yesterday morning's (Dec. 17th) issue it issued a circular to its subscribers, in which it apologized for the bloody deed of Deputy U. S. Marshal Thompson at Parowan, maintains its record of shamelessness and perfidy. "At 2:30 the News received the following telegram from Parowan: Ed. Dalton, who has been indicted for unlawful cohabitation, is riding through the streets of Parowan at 11 a. m. to-day, when he was met by Thompson and William Orton. Thompson had a pistol. He ordered Dalton to stop, immediately fired on Dalton, and fell from his horse and was carried into his house, where he expired at 12:30 p. m. to-day."

Here is the telegram referred to and the only one on the subject that appeared in our issue of the 16th:

PAROWAN, U. T., Dec. 16, 1888. Editor Desert News: Edward M. Dalton, who has been indicted for unlawful cohabitation, is riding through the streets here, this morning, about eleven o'clock, when he was met by Thompson and William Orton. Thompson had a pistol. He ordered Dalton to stop, immediately fired on Dalton, and fell from his horse and was taken to a house. He was found to be dead, and was carried to the hospital.

Let the reader compare the two and the unscrupulousness of the falsifier will be at once apparent. The object of mutilating the telegrams was to make it appear that the reports from the scene of the tragedy were conflicting and unreliable, as was shown by the remarks of the truth-economizer of the Tribune, who asserted that our dispatch stated the shooting was done with a pistol, while subsequent telegrams asserted it was done with a rifle—a very immaterial error if it even had been made.

Edward Magee in Jail.—Mr. Magee is a resident of Bingham Canon, and was before Justice Pyper this morning on a complaint charging him with selling liquor without a license. He waived examination, and bail pending the investigation of the case by the grand jury in February next was fixed at $500. He made efforts among licensed saloon keepers in this city and also at Bingham, but failed to find securities and was committed to the custody of Sheriff Burt. "As the accused was strongly averse to being confined in the county prison, arrangements were made to have him occupy a room in the city jail.

The number of arrests and sure cases made by Sheriff Burt for this class of offenses during the past three months has created a panic among the dispensers of liquor, several of whom have found that their boasts that they would do as they pleased in this matter have been made in vain, notwithstanding the difficulties in the way of the officers, especially in a faraway place like Bingham.

In the present case the Sheriff, having good reason to believe that Mr. Magee, who has an establishment for dispensing ginger ale and similar beverages, was also disposing of liquors without having obtained a license investigation, he called at Mr. Magee's and offered to purchase some liquor, but just as the proprietor of the place was about to hand it out he was seized by the Sheriff.

The Sheriff and his men, who were with him, then proceeded to the place where the liquor was being sold, and there they found the liquor. The Sheriff and his men, who were with him, then proceeded to the place where the liquor was being sold, and there they found the liquor.

me pleasure to teach them.

A little explanatory note sent by them will give the reader an idea of who are a. Their tickets will be immediately furnished them. (You will be interested to furnish them such notes as they will need, which will save cost them more than fifty cents in a term.)

Nearly 300 names have been enrolled in the list for Stephens' various singing classes during the last three days. He continues to enlist members again to-day and to-morrow, and the classes open next week in the following order: Tuesday, 4 p. m., an advanced children's class; Tuesday night, 7:30 adult class for beginners; Wednesday, 4 p. m., children's class for beginners; Thursday, 4 p. m., children's second grade class; Thursday night, adult advanced chorus class. Those desiring to join, or who are about to do so, should govern themselves accordingly. The prospects are bright for coming music leaders.

The Florences.—A welcome made heartily by remembrances will doubtless be awaiting Mr. and Mrs. Florence when they make their first appearance together in our city at the Salt Lake Theatre next Thursday evening, in their successful comedy "The Mighty Dollar." And though it will be seen here for the first time, it has been played successfully for the past twelve years throughout England, Scotland, Germany, Ireland and America. Of its success in England the following criticism from Mr. George Augustus Sala, of the London News, one of England's most famous critics, says:

"As many of the American actors who have of late appeared in the English theatre, Mr. and Mrs. Florence are pleasant to record the increasing favor which the public in London bestow upon Mr. and Mrs. Florence, who, in their play 'The Mighty Dollar,' created such a marked sensation throughout the United States, and are now having so successful a run at the Salt Lake Theatre."
