Pe-ru-na a Compound.

In any medical compound as much depends upon the manner in which it is compounded as upon the ingredients used.

First, there must be a due proportion of the ingredients. Each drug in the pharmacopeia has its special action. To combine any drug with other drugs that have slightly different action, the combination must be made with strict reference to the use for which the compound is intended. The drugs may be well selected as to their efficacy, but the compound ENTIRELY SPOILED BY THE PROPORTION in which they are combined.

In compounding a catarrh remedy Dr. Hartman has had many years' experience. In the use of the various ingredients which compose the catarrh remedy, Peruna, he has learned, little by little, how to harmonize the action of each ingredient, how to combine them into a stable compound, how to arrange them into such nice proportions as to blend the taste, the operation and the chemical peculiarities of each several ingredient in order to produce a pharmaceutical product beyond the criticism of doctors, pharmacists or chemists.

WEREPEAT, THAT AS MUCH DE-PENDS ON THE WAY IN WHICH THE DRUGS ARE COMBINED AS DEPENDS UPON THE DRUGS THEMSELVES.

The compound must present astability which is not affected by changes of temperature, not affected by exposure to the air, not affected by age. It must be so combined that it will remain just the same whether used in the logging or mining camps of the northwest or the coffee plantations of the tropics.

A complete list of the ingredients of Peruna would not enable any druggist or physician to reproduce Peruna. It is the skill and sagacity by which these ingredients are brought together that give Peruna much of its peculiar claims as an efficacious catarrh remedy.

However much virtue each ingredient of Peruna may possess, the value of the compound depends largely upon the manner and proportion in which they are combined.

him to drop the package. He complied with the request and immediately started on the run for home. Sisan did not appreciate the seri-ousness of his joke until it was too late. He was then puzzled as to what to do with the package and finally took it home and hid it. The holdup was reported to Marshal Mauss of Murray who, with Deputy Sheriff Burdette, found the parcel on Sisan's premises and placed the man under arrest. In view of the explanation given by Sis-an, he will most likely be charged with drunkenness, and the robbery charge will not be pressed against him.

New Corporation to be Formed to Readjust Affairs of Companies.

Official announcement is made that the reorganization committee of the United States Independent Telephone company, of Rochester, and the Independent Telephone Securities Company has completed its plan for a readjustment of the companies' affairs. These are the concerns from which local people purchased the bonds and stock of the Utah independ-ent Telephone company, and the ikeli-hood is that if the deal had beed delayed hood is that if the deal had beed delayed till now, the home syndicate would have found it impossible to make the negotia-tion. Actions will be brought for the foreclosure of the nortgages of both companies. Under this plan there will be issued $2,20,000 of these bonds, which will be se-cured by pledge of all the securities now owned by the United States Independent Telephone company and now subject to its mortgage, except the stock of the New York Independent Telephone company, and also by all the stock and bonds of the Independent Telephone company, of

KNOWLEDGE OF ROBBERY.

Manner in Which Ex-"American' Party Organ Shared Information.

The exact manner in which the discredited "American" party organ shared in the guilty knowledge that a $10,000 robbery had occurred in Salt Lake, which it had left out of public print, is best shown by the transcript of testimony of the Sheets hearing, af-ter the McWhirter robbery. On page of the official transcript the follow ing narrative of Alexander McWhirter is recorded: seemed to be about 9 o'clock or half past nine when a reporter came into the room, or this room, and went up to the chief without ever looking up to the chief without ever looking once at us, and read to the chief an ac-count of the robbery, a fairly correct account of the robbery, and asked the chief for a contradiction. Diarrhoea Remedy Cured Him. It is with pleasure that I give you this unsolocited testimonial. About a year ago when I had a severe case of measles I got caught out in a hard rain and the mea-sles settled in my stomach and bowels. I had an awful time and had it not been for the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I could not have possibly lived but a few hours longer, but thanks to this remedy I am now strong and well. "WOLFISH" TACTICS. George Morgan, who has been buying butter for 17 years, declares that the trade standards and ethics of the a little short of "wolfish," and that he coks for an organized movemen within a very few weeks to fight it by refusing its butter at any price and shipping in Kansas and Colorado but-ter, which can be brought here at a saving of from 3 to 5 cents, with 3 ½ cents per pound freight added to each pound of 16 ounces, instead of 13, 14 and 15, and with only 8 per cent of water, instead of about 16, with which he local supply is declared to 'waterlogged." the

TROUBLE IS HIGHER UP.

"You talk of the poor laboring man and call him when he gets angry an anarchist, said Morgan in expressing himself on the situation, "but you will never have peace in the labor world while you have wolfish tactics on the part of people who sell them what they have to have to keep alive. I don't blame the laboring man for kicking over the traces these days. The real trouble is higher up and it with the fellow who has something to sell, and wants to tack on unrea-sonable profits whenever he negotiates

The feeling is that as soon as the butter price is successfully fixed at a 40 cent or 50 cent standard the milk and cream prices will be moved up by the same people to proportionate RAISE DEFENDED. The manager of the Elgin creamery defends such a raise to the "News in a declaration that a pint of milk contains as much food as a similar weight of beef, and ought to sell for as much. The line of argument is that one combination having worked to boost the prices out of reason for such a necessity as beef, it is right for another commodity to be boosted to this level. James Leary, who is interested in the North Salt Lake packing yards expresses the hope that that institu-tion will bring relief from the present meat tariffs, and help to build up the western live stock industry by afford-ing a ready market, till there is plenty of meat always near at hand to supply the local market. As to the butter situation, the movement to discredit and break the trust if possible is being pushed with de-termination. Among other things claimed in developing the necessity for such a move is that the Salt Lake butter trust ships its Salt Lake butter to coast points and to Denver, and sells it there, with freight added, at a sens it there, with freight added, at a less price than it sells it in Salt Lake. It is well known that meat retails in Provo, Ogden, Murray, Denver, Butte and Anaconda at from 25 to 50 per cent cheaper than in Salt Lake. and Anaconda at from 25 to 50 cent cheaper than in Salt Lake.

JOHN W. HALL DROWNED.

Former Resident of Gentile Valley Meets Death in Candian River.

Word was received here today to the effect that John W. Hall, formerly a resident of Gentile valley. Idaho, a resident of Gentile valley, Idaho, was drowned near Taber, Canada, on the night of Saturday, Aug. 17, and up to last accounts his body had not been recovered. In the early part of the day men-tioned Mr. Hall, accompanied by Jas. Edwards, were ferried over Belly river and went to measure some hay a few miles distant. At 9:30 in the evening they returned to the ferry, only to find the boat on the op-posite side of the river. Mr. Hall decided to swim the stream to get posite side of the river. Mr. Hall decided to swim the stream to get the boat. Divesting himself of his clothing, excepting under wear, he waded and swam to a sandbar in mid-stream, where he rested a short time and then plunged into the main chan-nel, which at that point is about 200 yards wide and very deep. His com-panion soon heard cries for help, but as the hight was very dark, the drowning man could not be seen, and Mr. Edwards was powerless to lend Mr. Edwards was powerless to lend The shouts of the latter, however, brought men to the opposite shore, but by that time nothing could be seen or heard of Mr. Hall. All night a search was instituted for the missing man, and for several days the hunt was kept up, but without avail, for at the last information received Hall's body had not been found He left a wife and three or four smal children

ORIGIN OF SKYSCRAPER

Architect Fitzpatrick Seems to Have Best Claim to Invention.

Chicago, Aug. 24.-The recent death of W. L. Jenney, one of Chicago's leading architects, seems to have precipi-tated the engineering and architectural professions into a more or less acrimo-nious discussion as to the origination of nious discussion as to the origination of the steel frame skyscraper construction. There is no question but that Mr. Jen-ngy actually built the first tall build-ing in Chicago, the Home Insurance building, but others claim that Archi-tects Burnham and Root had planned, thought not erected, that mode of con-struction prior to that time, and still other candidates for the nonor have presented their claims. Of them all thought hot elected, that time, and still other candidates for the monor have presented their claims. Of them all, Architect Buffington, of Minneapolls, seems to have the best foundation for his contention, as he is the only pos-sessor of a United States patent on that construction, and has actually filed suits against owners of some tall build-ings for having infringed his idea. Lat-est developments, however, bring out that his claims are combated by Archi-tect Fitzpatrick, of Washington, D. C., who asserts that the Buffington patent is invalid, because it was not that gen-tleman's own conception, he having "absorbed" it from Fitzpatrick, who was then, in 1888, his chief assistant, and who had elaborated the scheme of tall construction with an engineer nam-ed Strom. ed Strom.

The skyscraper certainly has solved many of our modern economic prob-lems, and whether the scheme of conlems, and whether the scheme of con-struction was the invention of any one individual, or, as contended by some, a natural evolution, a logical solution of the problems before them, a conclu-sion arrived at by many architects and engineers simultaneously, it seems that the architectural profession deserves the greater praise, though the matter is so essentially an engineering one, for its introduction and perfection.
