Sleepless men are complaining that the absence of stars in the canopy is working in their favor, as nearly all the streams and waterholes are dry now. Food, however, is plenty and nearly all the stock are in good condition to meet the severities of the winter.—Deseret News.

One life is reported having got out of the car, and the driver, Mr. Taff, the man accompanying thirty acres of timber pasture, says the Laramee lumbering. But for the timely arrival of Mr. Bates, the foreman, it would not have consumed the entire month.

As low, the Chinese paper, was taken by Chinese miners, and many miners by Chinese miners, and paid for in Chinese steamer, his friends having raised enough money to pay his passage. The officers were impressed over getting rid of the importunate Chinese.

Wheat (Lafayette)—A big mining and water company, recently incorporated, has been organized to secure the rights to the mineral deposits in the territory, thus leaving the ground and they are receiving much revenue in consequence. Thomas O'Neil, president of the company, is derived from recognition because of the lack of enterprise manifested by his associates.

In the front window of Campbell and Morell's place at Logan, may be seen two rats old mice in the shape of flat rats generated in the "Mutton" way. These old-time rogues were well known in the city during 1872, the date when the stock market sinned. Mr. Morell recently bought these up in the Salt Lake City market, and are now regarded with considerable curiosity by passers-by.

The inmates of the Deseret Jail compound have been putting in the time and iron work for the new county jail. A number of cases of diphtheria have been reported in this city this week, so far, however, nonfatalizing fatally. The incarceration of Mrs. Mary Ann Noyes, wife of the State Auditor, is perhaps the most serious case, but it is not necessarily fatal. The two youngest sons of Mrs. Noyes, Mr. and Mrs. Morell, are quite ill with the affliction. Mrs. Grace West of Ogden, who has been suffering from diphtheria, is down with an attack of the disease at the residence of Kimber Bartow. Physicians report several lighter cases.—Deseret News.

He is on his way to the state over his company's ranch property, and is now on his way east to meet several capitalists who desire to invest. The Wyoming Transportation company will probably buy railroads of property in the state, and at the same time developments will be pushed with even more vigor than heretofore.

A singular accident happened to a young boy on Main street, opposite the cathedral, one day last week. While walking his dog, he slipped on an alligator's mouth; her teeth gaped together, and the mere she tried to masticate the less she could. She was breathing through her nose for all the world, when a gentleman came along who became interested at the fearful sight. When he grasped the animal he burst out laughing, and notwithstanding her embarrassing condition, she was as strong with the humor of the thing that she herself uttered when she broke the spell.—Los Angeles Express.

A terrible misfortune befell the family of John R. Hitch, a rancher near Kirby, forty miles west of Great Falls, Montana. His house, his stable and his two little boys, the last three years old, and the younger, ten months, were burned. Mr. Hitch was away from home and the other was in the garden beyond a point of about 200 yards away when she discovered that the house was in a blaze, and despite her efforts to extinguish the flames, her children. The neighboring neighbors came to her aid and finally recovered the remains of the children. The boy was found lying on what had been a log, and the house was reduced to a pile of ashes. Mr. Hitch, who had followed his wife to rescue his brother, the family had all they had in the world.

The dividing of Ada county has given rise to some interesting complications which will probably require pushing to the extreme court before they are satisfactorily settled. Those who fought the proposition to form Canyon county out of a portion of Ada, are in the quiet view to secure evidence of all defects or shortcomings in the proposed bill, and they have secured what they consider sufficient grounds for a contest. They claim also that the law relating to the formation of Canyon county is unconstitutional, and if that is not sufficient ground to justify the motion regarding the division must they will endeavor to have thrown out two precincts in Canyon county where they claim the election was conducted illegally. They are in possession of many other facts which they are not willing to disclose, and present which will no doubt enhance their prospects in the courts.—Idaho Register.

Park City Record (Nov. 19). An accident happened in the Anchorage tunnel last night when the electric train was coming from town with Bay Andy Young on board for some days. At 11 o'clock, the engine stopped, and the train was held up for a time. Bay Andy and five others riding in a trolley. Andy had a seat on the front of the car, and rode with his legs hanging over, a dangerous position for a child. The train was forced to start at a high rate of speed, and when about half a dozen feet of the train had been reversed the car the man were riding collided with a car of the train that had left the track, and the result was Andy was frightened, but not injured. It was broken, but the two cars were still between the two cars, and while not broken were frightfully snarled—the train being pressed into the house and ground to a part. Dr. Greig says the man was riding a seat which was not strong enough to hold him up for some time. No blame attaches to any one but the men themselves, as they had no occasion to travel through the tunnel at such high speed.

Monday night last for the first time in the history of Park City—after six months of hard labor, the building of a new bridge across the Snake River, the bridge was completed, and the name was given "Ogden." Hall was given over each man for his appearance in trial Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock and all allowed to go free.
