BREVITIES.

One oyster lays 2,000,000 eggs.
London has 10,000 public writers.
The finest peel of bellies is said to be Newport about bathing time.
John B. Gough has made $200,000 by lecturing.
P. Alexander, the cattle king of Illinois, owns 75,000 head of cattle.
Prince Napoleon employs six cooks, and spends about $20,000 a year on his table.
A French paper calls the editor of the London Horace Grisly.
A bachelor, according to the latest definition, is a man who has lost the opportunity of making a woman miserable.
A fish called the Grouper has lately been discovered on the coast of Florida, which is pronounced equal to the cod-fish.
The most popular age with a lady is her carriage; hardly one of them who has obtained this age but is willing to knowledge it.
A wag has truly said, that if some kinds could come out of their coffins and read the inscriptions on their tombstones they would think they had got into the wrong grave.
Russia works energetically sometimes. She is now building a railroad from Kursk to Tagonrog, and has workmen upon the line to finish quickly.
The corporation of Liverpool has just opened and the public a large tank of great dimensions, at the small cost of $25,000, and inaugurated by a series of swimming matches for the day.
A good woman bottled up a lot of nice sewers and labelled them "Put up Mrs. C." Her boy Johnny discovered them, soon ate the contents of the bottle, and wrote on the bottom of the label, "Put down by Johnny".
A self-conceit makes a man de-ceivable, no matter what gracious traits he may have. Sidney Smith once said to the brilliant Jefferey, "If I could be surprised into the same kind of modesty, you would charm everybody."
"I say, Pompey," said one freedman quaintly, "discharge has tried lots of fines and things for a prize, but he could draw anything at all." Well, Caesar, I'd like you to try a cart; de chances are a thousand to one that you could draw that."
A schoolmaster while on his morning passage the door of a neighbour, was exclaiming a log for a pig tough. "Why," said the schoolmaster, "Mr. S., have you not furniture enough yet?" "Yes," said the man, enough for my own family, but I expect to board the schoolmaster this winter, and am making preparations." "Why, Bridget," said a lady who wished to rally her servant girl for the consequence of the company, upon the antastic ornamenting of a huge pie, did you do this? You're quite an artist. Pray how did you do it?" Indeed, mum, it was myself that did it," replied Bridget; "isn't it pretty?"
"Did it with your false teeth, mum?" M. Gerard has discovered, says the Living Journal, a very curious fact. If a metallic ring made of wire, the diameter of which varies regularly, so that one side of the ring is very thin, and the other side relatively very thick, be suspended over an electro-magnet, it will revolve. The author was in this fact the germs of a new system of electric telegraphy.
The joke practical does not always end as harmless as in the case of Nathaniel Appleton, of Vermont, who found on riding up to the house of his rival that his rival's horse was watched at the gate. Unhitching him, and giving him a very smart stroke with a rawhide, he walked in and discovered whose horse that was, cantering down the street. It need not be said that he found the coast clear at once.
A good story is told of Dr. Holmes, having been called upon and considerably bored by a gentleman who devoted himself to lecturing in New England without much ability for doing so. "What are you about this particular time?" The answer was lecturing, as usual. I hold forth this evening at Roxbury." The Professor, clapping his hands together, exclaimed, "I am glad of it; I never saw those Roxbury people."
On one occasion I discovered, says Captain Lyon, an alligator's nest with thirty-nine eggs. It is the custom of the caymans to select some sunny, sandy beach, in which they bury their eggs, piling a large heap of sand above them. They then leave their offspring to be hatched by the heat of the sun; although, as the Indians informed me, they keep a register in their heads, and return at the expiration of thirty days, when their newly-produced little ones are ready to be taken on their mother's back, and receive their first lesson in swimming. The idea that the alligator devours her young, if she cannot catch them, is denied by the Indians, who, on the contrary, declare it to be very fond of them. I should like to have seen in what way the maternal solicitude of one of these cruel creatures is shown, for a nursing alligator must be a great curiosity.
The eggs are about the size of those of domestic ducks, but bearing a highly translucent surface. At each end they are encircled by the middle, which appears to have a divided membrane of a duck's egg, but has a slight flavor of musk, and the white is nearly of the consistency of jelly.
