REPUBLICANS CARRY MAINE BY BIG PLURALITY

Portiand, Me., Sept. 12.—The Republi-cans of Maine were successful in the state election yesterday, their candidate for governor, Wm. T. Cobb, of Rockland, be-ing elected by a plurality which probably will be as high as $0.000, This estimate is massed upon returns tabulated today from 350 cities, towns and plantations out of a lotal of $22, which give Cobb 71.-85, and Cyrus W Davis of Waterville, Demoerat. 45.162. The probable plurality is about 5.50 smaller than that by which the Republi-can ticket was ancessful in Maine four years ago. The Democrats are claining that the vote Indicates an increase in their party's strength in the state. On the other hand, the Republican tenders had declared that they expected only from 5.000 to 20.000 plurality. All the present oupressmen, who are Republicans, were in-elected by pluralities ranging from 5.-000 to 5.000.

In addition to this the Russian troops defending these trenches threw hand grenades, or shells, among the storm-ers. The effect was territying and many of the Japanese were wounded. The attempt to seize this till, which was an important vantage ground to either army, was not successful. One Japanese battation, which fought its way into the trenches, exbausted its ammunition. It attempted to cut its way out with the bayonet, but it was almost exterminated.

was the hercest of the whole battle. The Russlans were determined to re-take Helyingial hill, which was neces-sary for the protection of the relifrond. All day long two or three Russian bat-teries had enveloped the trenches on the hill with a continuous and rapid fire, shrap tel and common shells burst-ing along the summit and western slope. The trenches were deep and the single Japaitese regiment occupying them stuck to its position and with-stood and requised two or three in-fanity assaults. Toward dusk the Rus-slang attacked in great force, and for two hours there followed steady and hard briantry fighting. During most of this time the combatants were so close to each other that the arithery could not be used. Throughout that night the tenure of the hill hung in the bal-ance. The Russians made two assaults and once the Japaitese were driven from the trenches down on to the near-er slope. They refused to yield and re-turned to the struggle, and finally suc-ceeded in driving the Russians away. The slaughter in this fighting was great on both sides. Geneva, Sept. 1 .- Every year Switzerland exacts a heavy toll of human life from those who leave the crowded naunts of men to penetrate the mysteries of the mountains, but this season the death roll of the Alps has been an unusually heavy one, the fatal accidents that have been reported thus for numbering over a hundred. -The injudicious pursuits of the much over-rated edelweiss brought death to many. Why this fuzzy, ugly flower, which can easily be grown in a London garden, should exercise such a singur inscination over Swiss tourists that by will risk maiming and sudden all to obtain it, is one of those things ast understanding. Wearing dainty dish-heeled shoes, Mass Mary Wilmot i English woman, started with a of Swiss companions to climb the Rochers de Paray in search of the fate ful flowers. After necending some dis-tance, they lost their way and when her friends had retraced their steps to seek a sofer path. But there is no percention to the buowledge that no consolation in the knowledge that folly leads to such dire penalties.

LURED TO DEATH BY FLOWERS.

An Italian lad from Caux started off alone to hum edelweiss on the Rochers de Naye above Montreux. He did not return, and for two weeks search partics scoured crevasses and couldrs in value for any trace of him. Then his hat was discovered on the edge of a precipice too deep for exploration by any ordinary length of cord. It was only after a sheer descent of nearly $00 feet that one of the searchers, lowered from above by a rope, found straight from the shoulder, knocked the guide down and flod wildly in the direc-tion of the valley. In his hasty flight he fell into a cre-vasse, from which he was eventually rescued by the guide from whom he had fled, assisted by a party of elimbers to whom the guide had explained that an American tourist had just gone rav-ing mad owing to the heat. The pro-fessor had a sprained ankle and the guide had a black eys, but after ex-planations, apologies and a liberal tip, they parted in psace and harmony. he mutilated remains of the unfortunate lad in a crevasse at the bottom of the Dent de Corjon. FIFTH DAY OF BATTLE.

The morning of Sept. 3, the fifth day of the battle, was an anxious time at the headquarters of Gen. Kuroki. CIVILIANS FLEE.

Hundreds of Chinese, men, women and children, all heavily laden down with their pozsessions, were seen fleeing from the villages on the plain and disappearing B1 long lines over the eastern hills. Up to the present time an ordinary engagement between Russians and Japagiese, with a few batteries throwing shells back and forth has not sufficed to drive these enter-prising Manchurkans from their homes. They have about the scene of fighting, playing the part of scavengers. They strip the battlefields of every vestige of debris, rob the wounded and take the clothing from the dead. They have oven been seen between the firing lines gathering cartridges. This morning their exodus was taken to indicate that they expected even greater dangers. CORRESPONDENTS SENT BACK.

Some of the newspaper correspondents and military attaches who were assigned to Gen. Kurokt's headquarters rode forward to division headquarters. Here they were requested to and the reason given was that it was too dangerous for them. This request to go back led to sumises that the Japanese were considering the possibile ities of retreat, and that they did not want to be encumbered with unnecessary persons. Most of the villages had been turned into hospitals and hundreds of wound-ed were seen, who told fearful stories of the night fighting.
